English Laborers Threaten a General Strike for Nationalization Purposes.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The general industrial unrest in Great Britain which has seethed ever since the armistice seems at the present hour to have reached a point which menaces the commerce of the country with at least temporary disaster. It is considered possible that it may mean the downfall of the Lloyd-George government.

The strikes of the past month have been serious enough, but they are merely symptomatic of an epidemic of dissatisfaction which appears to prevail throughout the ranks of organized labor. Half a million Lancashire cotton operatives were idle for more than three weeks. Two hundred thousand Yorkshire miners have been on strike since July 20. The Liverpool dockers have paralyzed shipping there for two weeks, holding up hundreds of ships of all sizes. The bakers have decided to strike on Saturday and now the London police are about to go out on their second strike.

Fear Triple Alliance.

The worst movement of all from the government standpoint is the threat of "direct action" by the triple alliance of railway men, miners and transport workers. These powerful unions are taking a secret ballot to decide whether they shall use the weapon of a general strike to enforce their political program of the nationalization of mines and railways, abolition of conscription and withdrawal from all participation in Russian affairs.

MAKINO SPEAKS OF BENEFITS OF LEAGUE

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Baron Nobuaki Makino, head of the Japanese peace delegation, before leaving for Mar-selles Thursday on his return to Japan, according to the Temps, spoke of the benefits derived by the various nations from association at the peace conference.

The conference, he said, enabled the different nations to know each other better and to understand each other better, bringing about a closer relationship and greater mutual esteem which he declared to be "the true foundation of society and a guarantee of a real and lasting peace."

Much work, perseverance and tact, Baron Makino said, will be needed to solve the problems the world now faces.

PHONE COMPANIES FILE PETITIONS

Ask State Public Service Commission to Continue Installation Charges.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 1.—Seventy-five independent telephone companies in Indiana Thursday filed petitions with the state public service commission for permission to continue in effect the installation and service charges inaugurated by the federal wire control board Dec. 1, 1919. The petitions were identical and all were filed by Max Hosen, secretary of the Indiana Independent Telephone association.

It is understood the committee will consider the petition in a favorable light in the event it is shown that the revenue produced by the charges will tend to lower the exchange rates.

Denies Petition.

During the day the commission denied a petition of the Western Union Telegraph company for permission to continue in effect the 20 percent increase in rates collected under government control. The commission's denial means that the old rate will be effective from midnight tonight. The Postal Telegraph company did not file a petition.

"COULDN'T HAVE DONE IT WITHOUT PEGGEN."

SO SAYS MRS. F. CRAVEN OF OAK STREET IN REGARD TO DOUBLE TASK.

SHE BECOMES ENERGETIC

Docs the House-Cleaning at Her Own Home and Then for Her Mother, Too—Previously in Poor Condition—Says Peggen Is Worth Weight in Gold.

The completion of a double task of house-cleaning, one in her own home and the other for her mother, found Mrs. F. Craven a tired but happy woman. Mrs. Craven lives at 924 Oak street, and her husband is one of South Bend's master bakers.

At the conclusion of her big undertaking, Mrs. Craven was happy because she was experiencing the sense of purely physical and healthy tiredness, as contrasted with the mental and nervous exhaustion, as well as physical, she had felt so frequently during the past year or so, due to the previous state of her health.

It was a new sensation to her to be just tired, without nerves unstrung, to sit down and rest comfortably, to enjoy a hearty meal and finally a night's sound and refreshing slumber.

Women will appreciate Mrs. Craven's statements more than men, because the chief thing that men have learned about house-cleaning is that it's a good time to have business engagements or find some other excuse for staying away from home.

Mrs. Craven's story was not given in any spirit of boastfulness. On the other hand, it was brought out merely in an incidental manner. She was describing the benefits she has received from Peggen and spoke of what she had done by way of illustrating the extent of her improvement.

"For a year or more I had been having frequent and severe headaches," says Mrs. Craven. "I also had pains in my right side and through the small of my back. I had a dry hacking cough. My tongue was coated and I had a bad taste. I was nervous and restless, got very little sleep and lost weight continually. My troubles were due to disordered condition of kidneys and liver. I was so rundown generally that I could not get around to do my house work."

"The benefit that I got from Peggen makes me consider this medicine worth its weight in gold. The pains in my back and side have stopped. So have the headaches. I am not bothered with the coughing any longer. My kidneys are regulated, my nerves are steady and I sleep soundly at night. I gained five pounds in weight after taking Peggen."

"I have done my own house-cleaning and my mother's and I never could have done this work if it had not been for Peggen. I feel so good I like to work and while I get tired, it's an altogether different kind of tiredness—the healthy kind."

People desiring information about Peggen may obtain it at Striebel & Steinle's (The Public Drug Co.; Red Cross Pharmacy, Mishawaka and at other first-class drug stores anywhere.

INDIANAPOLIS WOMAN SAYS "PEGGEN ACTS ALMOST LIKE MAGIC"

MEN ARE SIMPLY GROWN-UP BOYS

All Need the Watchful Care of Women to Keep Them Fit for Tasks

It is characteristic of good women to have a deeper feeling of gratitude over benefit conferred upon their husbands or children than upon themselves. They are more concerned over the aches, pains or inconveniences of other members of the family than about their own.

These remarks were made by a prominent South Bend druggist in speaking about the tremendous sale of Peggen, the new remedy being introduced here.

The eye of the wife is quick to detect signs of illness on the part of the husband. He may be disposed to conceal from her the fact that he is not feeling well, to save her from worry. But she sees. She quickly notes pallor, spirit of restlessness, of nervousness, apparent loss of weight.

None of these signs fail to come under the observation of the wife. She wants to know what is the matter. She proceeds to find out. If he's the kind who will tell what's the matter with him, she puts direct questions, but if he's the kind who says, "Oh, I'm all right; just off feed for a couple of days; be fine and dandy tomorrow"—it's he that kind, she tactfully goes about getting her information from him bit by bit until she knows what she needs to know. Then she gets busy to have him made fit.

It has been said that men, after all, are only grown-up boys. The man who does men's hard work, the man who can handle a big job without a hitch; the man who can plan and execute important undertakings; the American man who proved on Europe's battlefields that he is the world's best fighter—all these men need the tender care and watchfulness of women. Through generations during which men have been "mothered," so to speak, it has undoubtedly come to be part of men's nature to place their reliance upon women to keep them fit. Generally, the man who has no woman to look out for him is simply out of luck.

GETTING IN "TRIM"

Many ailments affecting different parts of the body are directly traceable to an unhealthy condition of the stomach, kidneys and liver. When these organs are cleared out and put in shape by a good remedy these distressing complications disappear.

The system readily assimilates Peggen because it contains nothing but pure natural juices from plant life, without alcohol or anything injurious. It is pleasant to the taste and effective in results.

MAN AND WIFE SECURE RELIEF

Mrs. Cenova Vastly Improved and Husband Now Able to Work Regularly.

Both Michael Cenova and his wife, Bertha, have had occasion to test the efficiency of Peggen and both have derived such benefit that they are glad to add their testimony to the vast accumulation of statements from thousands who have been helped by this new remedy.

Mr. Cenova is employed by the Singer Sewing Machine company. They live at 708 South Grant street, South Bend.

It happens in this case, as it has occurred in so many other families, that the complaints of the sufferers were not at all similar in character. The fact that Peggen reaches the trouble at its source and eliminates it, when symptoms and disorders are so much different, is proof of the wonderful value of this medicine in restoring general healthiness.

Mrs. Cenova, in describing the experience of herself and her husband, says:

"My husband formerly suffered with rheumatism. He had pains in his legs. On account of the painfulness he did not get near as much sleep as he needed. His knees got so stiff he could hardly bend them. At times he was not able to get around at all and had to lay off from work. On one occasion he was kept home for a solid week."

"I was so weak and rundown myself that I felt tired most of the time. I would get dizzy and there would be spots before my eyes. It was very hard for me to do my housework; I could hardly keep going."

"Both of us took Peggen. My husband has not had rheumatic pains since and he has not lost a day from his work."

"My own complaints have been ended and I can do my work easily because I am feeling fine. Both of us are glad to recommend Peggen very highly."

Peggen may be obtained at Striebel & Steinle's (The Public Drug Store); Red Cross Pharmacy, Mishawaka and other first class drug stores anywhere.

DOCTOR SAYS "PEGGEN HELPED ME AND ALSO NUMBER OF PATIENTS"

DR. JOHN ADAMS.

Dr. John Adams, 506 E. Fifth St., Dayton, Ohio, who was formerly professor of chemistry at the Cincinnati, Ohio, College of Medicine and Surgery, who has practiced medicine forty-two years, and who is one of the best informed physicians in America, says of Peggen:

"I tried Peggen because I have been overworked. I needed something to build up my nerves and strengthen my general system. Another doctor recommended that I try Peggen which I accordingly did. In a short time I felt stronger in every way. I was so pleased with the results of Peggen that I prescribed it to a number of my patients suffering with stomach, liver and kidney affections. In each and every case the results were entirely satisfactory. One young man who had been suffering severely with Colic, caused by fermentation of food, until at times he was almost drawn double, told me that he had not had a single return after the second day I started him on Peggen."

"In my opinion Peggen is the best general tonic I ever used, and I am glad to endorse it."

Peggen is composed of oils and juices of a vast number of leaves, roots and bark, each recognized for its value in treating stomach, liver and nerve diseases. Thousands recommend it.

For a hematuria, lumbago and neuralgia, try Peggen Liniment. It is made from mustard, red pepper, sassafras, menthol and ammonia. It penetrates but does not blister.

If constipated, take Peggen Laxative Tablets. They thoroughly cleanse the liver. They are different from anything you have ever tried—eaten like candy.
