

School Figures Show 78,144 Residents Here

NEW SCHOOL HEAD SAYS POPULATION GROWS RAPIDLY

Gain of 24,460 in Nine Years is Seen by Comparison of Enumeration Results.

Going up!
Pear not, consumer. This is not a story of foodstuff prices.
Population.

South Bend now has 78,144 residents.

At least that is what a population survey based upon school enumeration shows from figures given out by Sup't of Schools W. W. Borden. This shows a gain of 24,460 in the past nine years, the 1910 census of the city (official) being 53,684.

Total Enrollment 14,208.

The total enrollment in the South Bend schools taken June 20 was 14,208. Of this number 7,768 were in the city schools and 3,500 parochial. It is customary in making estimates of population from school enumeration to multiply the total school enrollment by five and one-half. Many school superintendents use six, but Mr. Borden said that he has found five and one-half percent to be more accurate.

Mr. Borden's report showed that the total enrollment of the South Bend schools at the end of June was 11,295, as compared with the report of the school census enumerated which showed 18,511. This means that there are 4,103 persons of school age not attending school. Most of them however, have been graduated, school age being recognized as up to 21 years and the average age of graduation is 18 years.

STANSBURY WILL ORDER ACTION TO CURB AGREEMENTS

Indiana Statute of 1907 Provides Heavy Penalty For Combinations.

The September grand jury may be asked to investigate alleged price fixing contracts, combinations and understandings by means of which prices of food and other commodities may be held up in St. Joseph county.

Atty. Gen. Stansbury of Indiana is preparing a letter to be sent to Pros. Samuel P. Schwartz and every other county prosecutor in Indiana, directing attention to the state law against price fixing agreements and understandings. Following receipt of this letter, which is to be sent out next week, the prosecutor is expected to employ the broad powers given in the law of 1907 to uncover any violations of the anti-trust act in St. Joseph county.

Prosecuting attorneys are independent of the attorney general in most matters but the latter has power to direct them to enforce the provisions of the anti-trust law, hence the initiative of Mr. Stansbury.

Any concerted rise in prices of any commodity which upon its face indicates a price fixing agreement provides the basis for an investigation, which once under way, may be carried on with specifically accorded broad powers. The attorney general believes that combinations and understandings exist in violation of the law of 1907 and admits that the problem is to get sufficient evidence to make a good case in court.

Action against illegal price fixers must be instituted in the name of the state of Indiana, on the relation of a tax-payer or by the prosecutor directly. The prosecutor may request an examination of the defendant and the latter is required to answer under oath. The costs of the case, if not assessed against the defendant in the judgment, are borne by the state. An appropriation of $20,000 is available for investigations and prosecutions under this act.

Factories Buy Tickets.
Merchants and manufacturers have purchased tickets on a large scale since they were placed on sale last week. The business men have bought for their employees what is called an industrial ticket. This ticket admits the holder to all night performances with a reduced price.

Stad baker corporation has purchased over three hundred of the tickets which they have placed in the hands of their employees. Up-town merchants have bought freely.

English Woman Tonight.

Miss Ada Ward of London, England, is the attraction offered this evening. Miss Ward spent many months with the "Tommies" on the front and in her lecture on "Getting Together" will tell of her experiences which were replete with thrilling adventures. The Orchestral sextet will preface the lecture with a short concert.

The entire program, which has been given previously in detail, is notable for the timeliness of its features, which include discussions of "The League of Nations," "Capital and Labor," "Government Ownership of Railroads," and "The Freedom of the Seas," and for its fine selection of musical features.

MISS WHITE LEADS LAKE FISHERMEN TO THEIR BIGGEST CATCH!

First honors to Miss Charlotte White, South Bend.

The largest fish ever taken out of Lake Wawasee has been landed and it tips the scales at 129 pounds.

Furthermore it measures seven feet and one inch long and is a sturgeon.

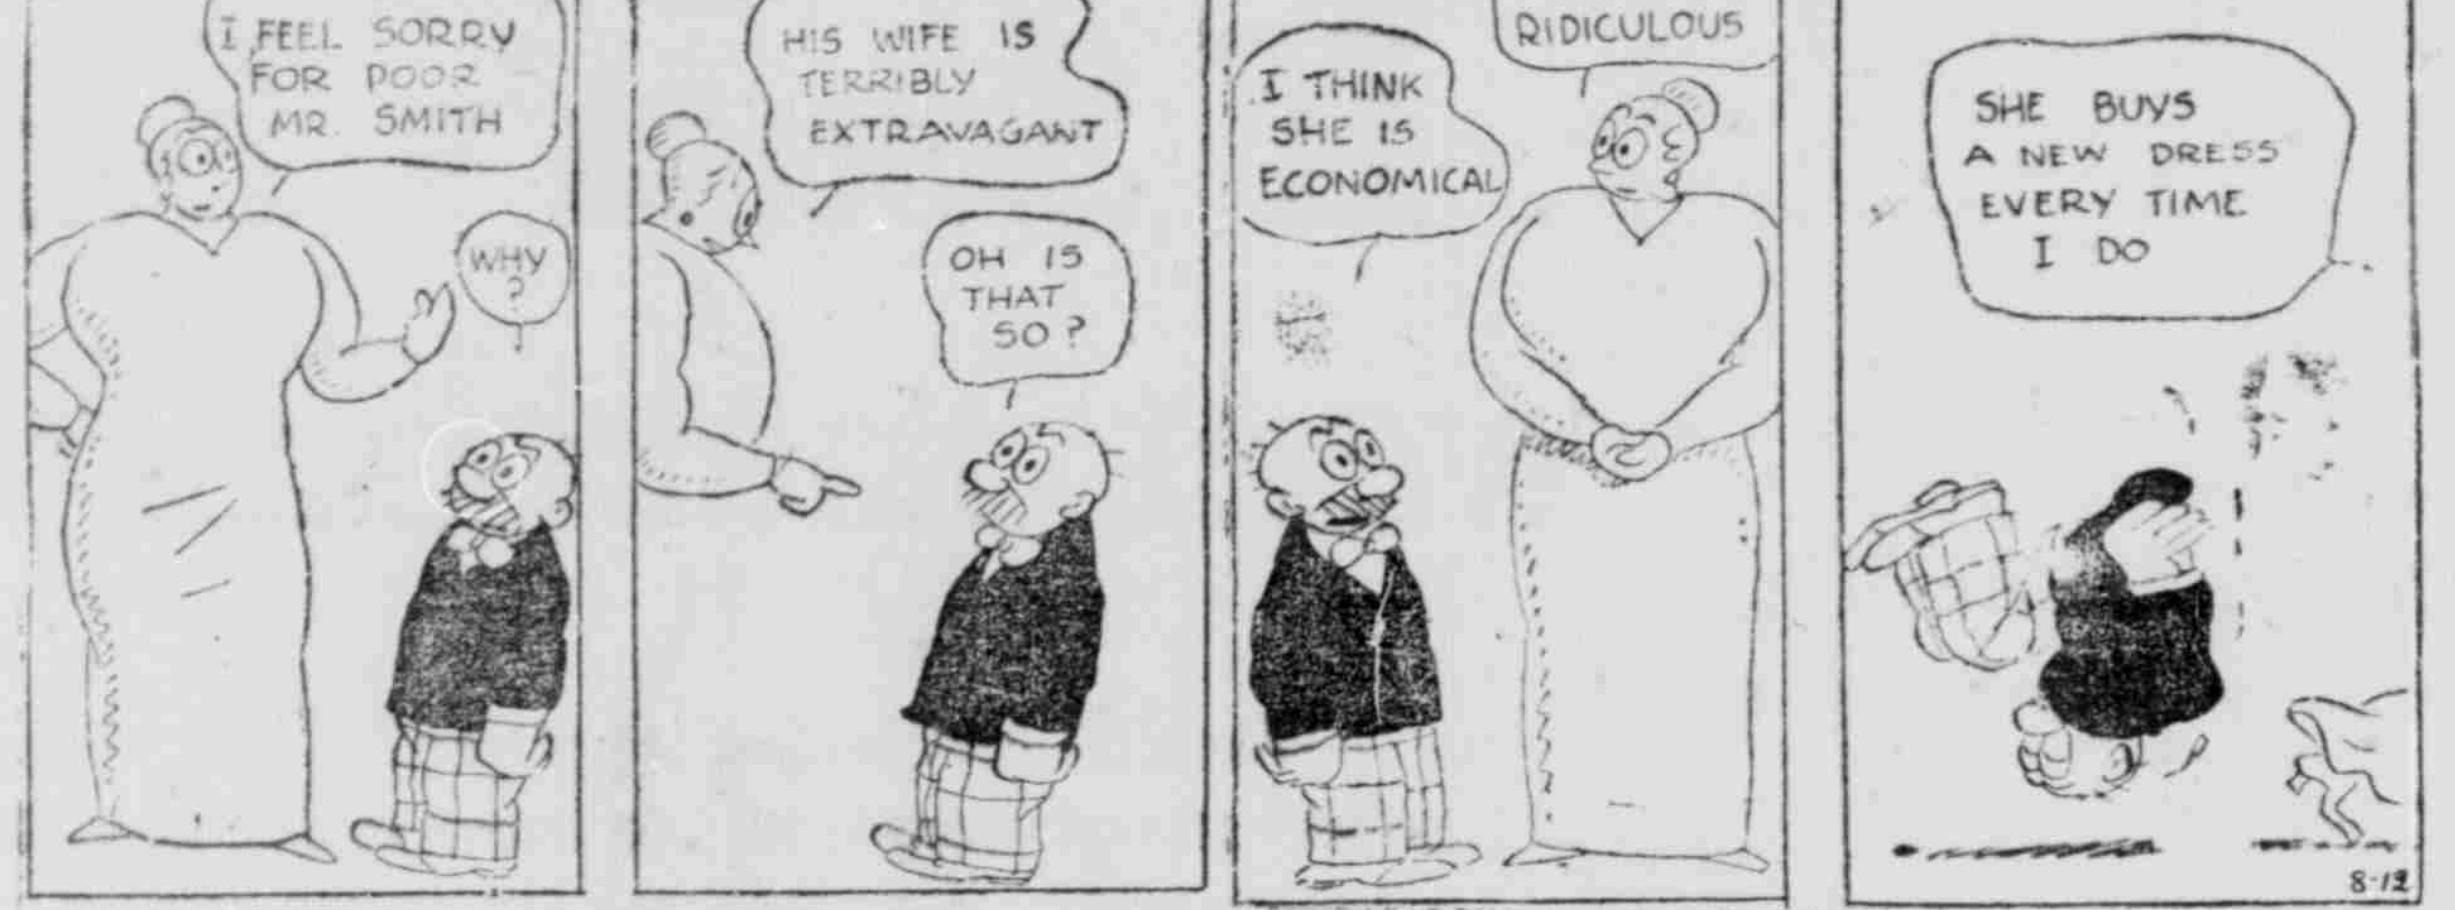

To land the monster fish a pair of water wings had to be twisted into its gills.

Miss White, who is the daughter of Bishop John Hagen White of South Bend, saw the sturgeon white out in a canoe.

Frank J. Remy, manufacturer of Indianapolis, and Anderson, known in this city for his ability at clay pigeon shooting, landed the fish.

But Miss White "saw it first" and

Let The Wedding Bells Ring Out

Prosecutor and Grand Jury to Probe for Price Fixing Evidence in This County

The total enrollment in the South Bend schools taken June 20 was 14,208. Of this number 7,768 were in the city schools and 3,500 parochial. It is customary in making estimates of population from school enumeration to multiply the total school enrollment by five and one-half. Many school superintendents use six, but Mr. Borden said that he has found five and one-half percent to be more accurate.

Mr. Borden's report showed that the total enrollment of the South Bend schools at the end of June was 11,295, as compared with the report of the school census enumerated which showed 18,511. This means that there are 4,103 persons of school age not attending school. Most of them however, have been graduated, school age being recognized as up to 21 years and the average age of graduation is 18 years.

MUSICIANS OPEN CHAUTAUQUA HERE

Orchestral Sextet Presents
First Program of Season.
Englishwoman to Speak.

The Redpath chautauqua opened its program here Tuesday afternoon when it presented the Orchestral sextet under the direction of Miss Irene Stolofsky, violinist, in a program of popular and classic selections. Besides the ensemble numbers which were a feature of the concert, the work of the various artists in solos, duets, trios and quartets was notable.

Indications following the first chautauqua program are that the big brown tent on W. Colfax av. will prove equally as popular as in former years. The weather was ideal for the occasion and was a decided relief from the sweltering heat of chautauqua week last year.

Factories Buy Tickets.

Merchants and manufacturers have purchased tickets on a large scale since they were placed on sale last week. The business men have bought for their employees what is called an industrial ticket. This ticket admits the holder to all night performances with a reduced price.

Stad baker corporation has purchased over three hundred of the tickets which they have placed in the hands of their employees. Up-town merchants have bought freely.

English Woman Tonight.

Miss Ada Ward of London, England, is the attraction offered this evening. Miss Ward spent many months with the "Tommies" on the front and in her lecture on "Getting Together" will tell of her experiences which were replete with thrilling adventures. The Orchestral sextet will preface the lecture with a short concert.

The entire program, which has been given previously in detail, is notable for the timeliness of its features, which include discussions of "The League of Nations," "Capital and Labor," "Government Ownership of Railroads," and "The Freedom of the Seas," and for its fine selection of musical features.

MISS WHITE LEADS LAKE FISHERMEN TO THEIR BIGGEST CATCH!

First honors to Miss Charlotte White, South Bend.

The largest fish ever taken out of Lake Wawasee has been landed and it tips the scales at 129 pounds.

Furthermore it measures seven feet and one inch long and is a sturgeon.

To land the monster fish a pair of water wings had to be twisted into its gills.

Miss White, who is the daughter of Bishop John Hagen White of South Bend, saw the sturgeon white out in a canoe.

Frank J. Remy, manufacturer of Indianapolis, and Anderson, known in this city for his ability at clay pigeon shooting, landed the fish.

But Miss White "saw it first" and general to file an information, the law says the court or the governor may give such direction. If the attorney general, any prosecuting attorney, any superior or circuit court judge, or the governor, has reason to believe the law is being violated, prosecutions may be started on the relation or on the direction of any of them. The prosecuting attorneys may act on their own relation, as may also the attorney general, and the prosecuting attorneys may be directed to act by the attorney general, the governor or the court.

'No Place Like Home,' Sings Jail 'Regular'

It is believed that this law furnishes public officials adequate power to get the facts and to proceed promptly.

DEATHS

MRS. SARAH BERGER.

Mrs. Sarah Berger, 86 years old, was found dead at her home, 508 W. Colfax av., Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Berger lived alone and was a neighbor who visited the home occasionally to care for her wants who discovered the dead body of Mrs. Berger on the kitchen door. She is survived by three sons, Charles H. of Minden, Neb., Louis of this city, and A. J. of Danville, Ill. Two daughters, Mrs. Ella Simons of Mishawaka and Mrs. William Toll of Peru, Ind., two sisters, Mrs. George Swank of Rochester, Ind., and Mrs. Emma Daywalt of Deadsville, Ind., 14 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. Mrs. Berger was born in Pennsylvania on Aug. 4, 1833 and came to this city 10 years ago. Her late husband died in 1907. Mrs. Berger was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

HARRY E. HOLDEN.

Harry E. Holden, 33 years old, died Tuesday morning at his residence, 808 S. Main st., following an illness of three weeks with complication of diseases. Mr. Holden was born in London, England, and came to South Bend four months ago. He is survived by his wife.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

DANIEL PIECHOROWSKI.

Daniel Piechorowski, nine months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Piechorowski, 616 N. Johnson st., died Monday evening.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

ESTHER PUZYNSKA.

Esther Puczynska, three months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Puczynska, 1815 Pulaski st., died Monday afternoon following a short illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Casimir's church. Rev. J. S. Goran, C. S. C., officiating. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

FUNERALS

MRS. WILLIAM A. FORD.

Private funeral services for Mrs. William A. Ford will be held at the residence, 117 E. Macdonald st., Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. James L. Gardiner of St. Paul's M. E. church and Dr. H. A. Robin of Greencastle will officiate. The body will be taken to Lafayette for burial at 10:30 o'clock.

Do Not Jurey.

The law provides for speeding up prosecutions, not only by the filing of information direct in court instead of waiting for grand jury action, but also by filing with the court a "certificate of importance" and the court shall thereupon make the proper order in trying the case.

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and papers, then the law provides that "a" pleading of such defendant failing to do so may be stricken from the files upon motion supported by affidavit and the allegations of the information as to such defendant in default shall be taken as confessed and judgment and decree shall be entered accordingly."

The penalty for conviction, or in case of a confession of judgment by refusing to answer questions and producing books and