

FEW PATROLMEN ON NIGHT FORCE

Members of Department Complain About Present Organization at Police Station.

Defects in the administration of the police department are causing comment even among the members of the department themselves, outside of the "ranking heads," who are satisfied with things as they are.

The latest suggestion from those outside the city administration who are attempting to dictate the police policy for the city—that South Bend should take a lesson from the New York department and have more men on beats and less men at the station has caused unfavorable comment.

About the only man who is detailed to the station who could be spared, is Gasoline Sgt. Kemerley, said one veteran police official Sunday. The official was perfectly willing to talk, but did not wish his name used, as he hopes to finish out his term he will have to serve under Chief Kline.

Three Patrol Drivers. The gasoline "segment" makes three drivers who are available for duty in the day time, although Kemerley is particular about driving anybody but Chief Kline or his friends, and would hardly deign to lower himself to drive the wagon out after a drunk or larceny thief.

Sgt. Kemerley's duties seem to be to carry the key to the gasoline pump, and to select which garage the police automobiles will be taken when they are in need of repairs. Sgt. Kemerley is the official gasoline dictator of the department. An example of his administration of the gas is found in a recent case where fifteen gallons of gas were drawn out and expended in a period when the police automobiles made two official trips totaling three miles. More gas is used, presumably, by the two police machines than is used by the entire fire department.

This was found recently in an investigation made by Mayor Carson. Shortage at Night.

At night, when the majority of the arrests are made and most of the calls for the patrol come in, the services of Sgt. Kemerley or some driver he could replace in the daytime, could be used handily, said the police official interviewed Sunday.

One wagon man, one driver, and one minute-man are all that are allowed at the station at night, except the desk sergeant who must remain in his office at all times. For an hour at night, and for three hours and a half in the early morning, there is only one man besides the driver detailed to the station, the other station man being on the "don-watch."

When the wagon is out on a call, this condition leaves the night desk sergeant with nobody to send in case a call for men comes in. Frequently there are three or more calls at about the same time, raising a delay in getting men on the job.

Burglars, hold-up men and other crooks are safe from interference or apprehension by men from the station if the patrol is out on a call.

The captains of police, however, are not supposed to leave the telephone booth on the main floor of the city hall. This lack of activity of the captains is due to orders of their superiors.

A TERRIBLE VOICE.

I've never seen a burlesque show. I don't drink coffee, tea nor beer. And, as for whiskey—oh, my dear! Emphatically not!

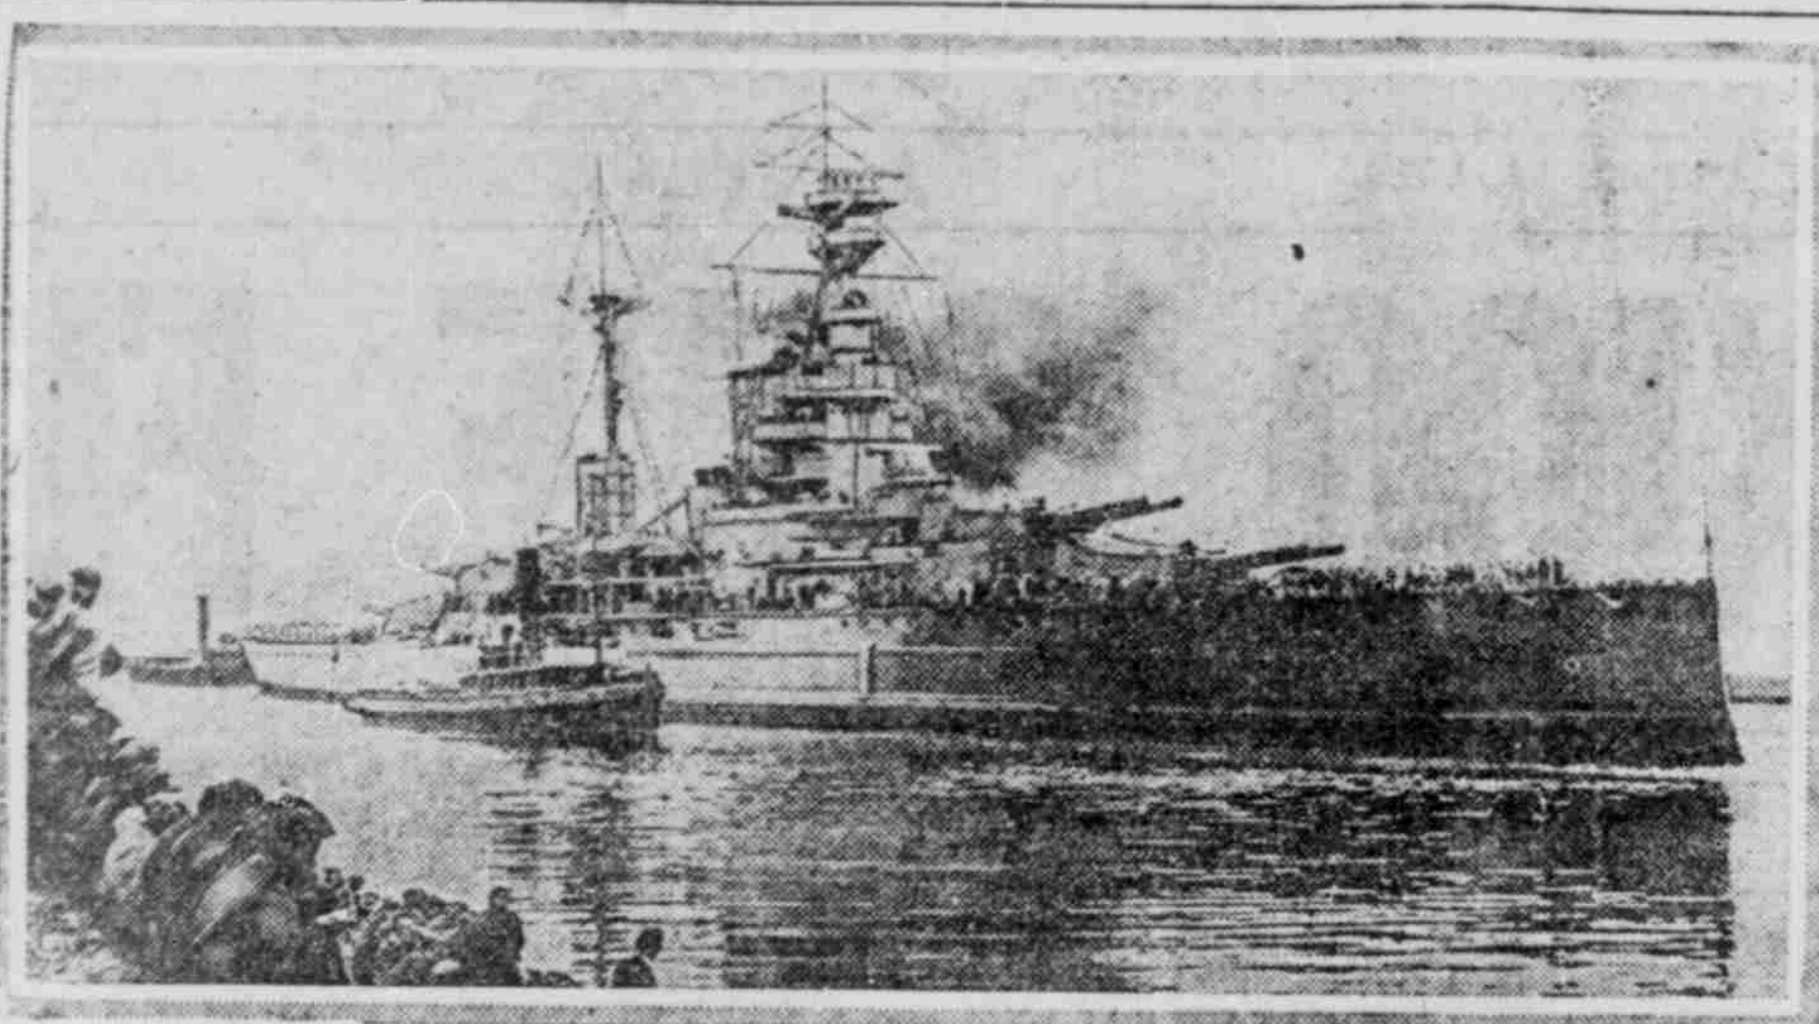

And yet there is a hidden foe, A dark, besetting evil that's Annoying me—it's purple spots. The only vice I've got.

RETURNS TO BROADWAY

After eight years in which New York has wondered what had become of Maurine Kassmussen, known as "The Harrison Fisher Girl," she has turned up in Los Angeles and has announced she is ready to "go back to the world." Suddenly appearing from out of the West eight years ago, she gave New York a glimpse of a new and striking type of beauty, created a sensation, and then dropped from sight as quickly as she had appeared. "It was a case of love," she said, in explaining her long seclusion. She then told how a lingering illness ended several weeks ago in the death of her husband. "Now I am going back to the world and Broadway," she said. "It is my only salvation."

ELBEL'S BAND CONCERT ATTRACTS MANY PEOPLE

Although threatened with unfavorable weather during the early part of the evening one of the largest crowds of the season turned out to hear a splendid concert program presented by Elbel's band at Leepers park Sunday evening.

The selections, "Atilia" and "High Jinks" were well received, while the "Hawaiian Patrol," "Kilauea," and the beautiful waltz, "Vie de Boheme," brought showers of applause. However, the selection of southern melodies carried the crowd by storm.

Band concert patrons appreciate the removal of the band stand from Lafayette st. to its present location.

NEWS OF RAID TRAVELS FAST

City is Practically Closed Up After Midnight as Result of Arrests.

South Bend was as near "closed," as far as vice is concerned, late Saturday night and Sunday morning, as it has been for a long time. News of the raid on the alleged house of ill-fame of Mrs. Mattie Brown, 435 E. LaSalle av., which occurred at 12:45 o'clock, Sunday morning, traveled fast, and other places of a similar nature seemed to take the hint and closed up, temporarily at least.

In fact, some of the disorderly houses which have been flagrantly violating the law, appeared to "get the word" before the Brown raid was made. Places where wine, women and song are to be had, and which it is alleged have flourished under Chief Kline's administration, were for the most part dark after midnight.

Lights Turned Low. Lights were also out in several places where the click of the wheel, the rattling of the dice and the whisper of the paste-board is usually heard all night Saturday nights, with the exception of one or two places which are said to be immune from interference.

Drunks were not an uncommon sight on the downtown streets about midnight. One party of four men made themselves conspicuous by their apparently intoxicated condition. They had a considerable load which they carried internally, and also some bottled goods which they were taking home for a Sunday evening opener. One man staggered along under the load of a two-quart bottle.

AGED MAN VICTIM OF ASSAULT BY NEIGHBORS

Tony Brodzinski, an 80-year-old farmer living on the Hubbard rd., was the victim of a brutal attack by four neighbors as the result of an argument over damage done to the aged man's crops by the neighbors' livestock, according to the story told to George Schock, deputy prosecutor, who swore out warrants Saturday for the arrest of the four people on an assault and battery charge.

Brodzinski came into the prosecutor's office looking as if he had been a survivor of a railroad wreck. A crude bandage covered a large gash in his head, his clothes were torn in several places, and he was limping painfully as a result of the assault.

He asserted that some hogs belonging to Albert Graliewicz, who lives on the adjoining arm, got into his corn field, and when he attempted to drive them out he was attacked by four members of the Graliewicz household and the Graliewicz dog.

Warrants will be served Monday on Albert, Nellie and Felicia Graliewicz and T. Grudzen. They will be brought into justice of the peace court for trial.

LIMITED SUPPLY OF FOOD OFFERED

Allotment for South Bend Is Ready for Release at Once.

Uncle Sam is very desirous to help the public to take a fall out of the high cost of living, and is now opening his vast surplus of army stores for their benefit. Distribution, for the various articles, which are ready for release, will be made by allotment. Some of the allotments are very meager, as for instance, there are but 1,100 pounds of rice allotted to this city. This is equivalent to 11 orders as they come in 100 pound packages, which will not be broken for the purchaser. The same is true of canned cherries, tomatoes, beans and beans in bulk.

In order to secure the best results and to be certain that the food stuffs get into the hands of bona fide consumers, arrangements have been made at the post office to give them window service from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. continuously, beginning Monday morning. Letter carriers will have order blanks for their patrons but the orders must be filled at the post office. This service will be continued until the supply of food stuffs allotted has been exhausted.

Must Pay Cash. All orders from the consumers must be accompanied with the cash, which must include the total cost of the order and parcel post charges. These orders must be presented in duplicate. Consumers who file orders will keep a copy which has been verified and signed by the postmaster. Material, which the consumer claims is damaged or spoiled will be replaced by the Zone Surplus Property officer upon affidavit of the consumer, countersigned by the postmaster.

The quotations given herewith are net and do not include the postage required for shipment. As an illustration a 12 pound can of bacon is listed at $4.15 to which must be added the weight of the container for shipment, the two aggregating 17 pounds, which bring the gross cost of the bacon to $4.33, and brings the bacon to your door for 36 cents per pound. Or a case of 24-2 pound cans of baked beans is quoted at $14.40, to which must be added the weight of the container.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO CONVENE SEPTEMBER 30

R. W. Donmoyer of South Bend has been selected as one of the men who will comprise the federal grand jury which convenes Tuesday, Sept. 30, in Indianapolis. Ordinarily this jury would convene the first Tuesday in November but it has been called together a month earlier on account of a number of alleged baseball pool cases to be investigated as well as the cases of men suspected of hoarding food stuffs and with conspiring in restraint of trade for the purpose of increasing the selling prices of food.

HEAVY FINE FOR SECOND OFFENSE

Adam Koscielski, 2114 W. Division st., was convicted in city court Saturday, on the charge of having unlawful possession of liquor with the intent to sell it and was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to 60 days at the state penal farm.

Fred Nieman, Koscielski's bartender, who was arrested on the same charge, was found not guilty. It was the second offense for Koscielski.
