

THEATERS

Stage and Screen.

AT THE LASALLE.

There isn't any two ways about it. Dorothy Gish is in a class all by herself when it comes to screen pantomime comedy. Her acting in "I'll Get Him Yet" a rather different comedy which is offered LaSalle patrons today, is indeed refreshing and she reveals many tricks that are new and amusing. The story is of a very rich little maid who is in love with the only man that doesn't seem to run after her. How true love stops at nothing and how difficulties are finally overcome by this resourceful young maiden forms the basis for the story's lively action. Young Richard Barthelmess who has played leading roles in support of Marguerite Clark, Mary Pickford and other favorites among the stage beauties, is again prominently featured.

Tomorrow's picture is "Girls" with Marguerite Clark starred.

AT THE CASTLE.

"The Spite Bride" a drama of youthful impulse, full of tears, thrills, smiles, love and adventure, is shown at the Castle today with pretty Olive Thomas in the title role. Never before has this star been so alluring, vivacious and utterly captivating; never has she been cast in a better role than that of the shy little dancing girl who won a millionaire husband, after being made the victim of a scheming chum. Other players prominent in the cast are Robert Ellis as the hero, and Jack Mulhall and Claire DuBrey as the chum.

Tomorrow, "I'll Get Him Yet" features Dorothy Gish.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Chief Little Elk and company of Indian entertainers which includes two girl vocalists, top the present vaudeville bill with a novelty offering. Harper and Blanks, a colored duo who sing, talk and dance live up to their billing of "pep, ginger and joy." Jane Courthroe and company please with a domestic skit called "Our Family" in which truths are combined with humor. Larry and Layton, amuse old and young with their laughable antics on and off roller skates. Degnon and Clifton, call their clever acrobatic number "Taking Things Easy." They do, including the applause.

AT THE OLIVER.

The doors of the Oliver theater, South Bend, will be thrown open on Saturday, Aug. 23, for the first time this season for the performance, matinee and night of a new satirical comedy called, "On The Hiring Line," under the direction of George C. Tyler, one of the premier producers of the American stage. The new play after its performance here goes to the Blackstone theater, Chicago, for a long engagement. "On The Hiring Line" is the joint work of Harvey J. O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, both skillful dramatic authors who have written many successful plays. Together they collaborated on "Polygamy," "The Argyle Case," "The Dummy" and "Mr. Lazarus." Mr. O'Higgins is a well known writer on an infinite variety of subjects. As a magazine publicist and fictionist he has written a great number of special articles and short stories, among which may be mentioned his famous series of articles on political corruption written in conjunction with Judge Ben B. Lindsey. Miss Ford is the author of "The Greatest Thing In The World" in which Mrs. Le Moyne was starred. She dramatized "Audrey" in which Eleanor Robson was starred and "A Gentleman of France" in which Kylie Bell was so successful. In conjunction with Joseph Medill Patterson she wrote "The Fourth Estate" and "The Little Brother of The Rich."

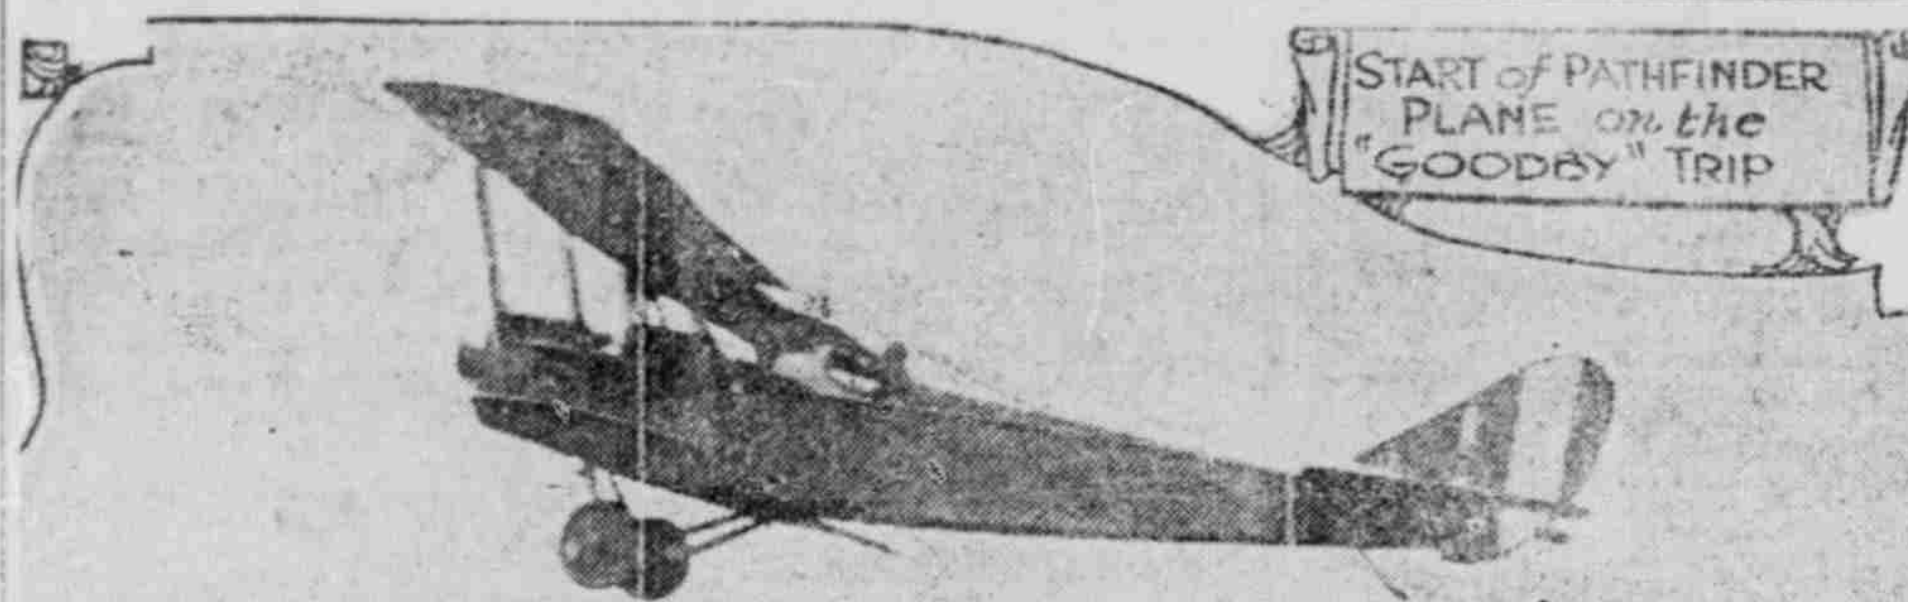

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

"The Romance of Tarzan" the seven part spectacular film drama presenting the concluding chapters of "Tarzan of the Apes" opened a two days' engagement at the Auditorium yesterday. While retaining all of the picturesque and refreshing novelty of theme that set the first production apart from other screen features of the day "The Romance of Tarzan" offers, in addition, a swift-moving plot in which excitement and suspense are deftly woven into natural sequence. Much is also made of the dramatic contrast between Tarzan's life as the white king of his jungle empire and his later adventures when plunged into the complex world of high society. Here the various threads of the narrative are deftly joined to produce an effect that cannot fail to hold the attention of every one who loves a good story, well told. A remarkably effective illusion of reality has been created in the atmospheric handling, while emotional acting of a high order is provided by Cleo Madison in the role of the siren who sets out to entrap Tarzan in her toils only to find that she loves him too well to carry out her unscrupulous plans. Elmo Lincoln again appeared as Tarzan and Enda Markey as the American girl. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in a two reel comedy "The Last of The Saxons" and the Topics of the Day are also on the bill.

FAIL TO MOBILIZE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 19.—Preparations for mobilization of ten companies of militia for use at Hammond as a result of the strike employees of the Standard Steel Car company, were abandoned Monday night after Adm. Gen. Harry B. Smith had received word from Hammond that an amicable settlement of the labor troubles seemed probable. It developed yesterday that Gov. Goodrich had been asked by the federal government through Sec'y of Labor Wilson to send troops to Hammond to protect the property of the United States housing bureau.

HOW TO STOP BEING NERVOUS

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Strengthen Weak Nerves and Increase Strength and Vigor.

According to a noted French scientist, the most effective remedy for nervousness, insomnia and ailments due to depleted nerve force is a form of organic phosphate known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate. It is described as a substance which is similar in composition to the phosphorus naturally found in brain and nerve cells and, being easily and quickly assimilated, the work of creating nerve force strength and vigor begins immediately it is taken into the human system. There are many reports of astonishing results from its use, some showing remarkable improvement even in stubborn cases of long standing nerve weakness. As there are many kinds of phosphates, care should be exercised to procure the genuine Bitro-Phosphate as sold by Wetrick's Original "Big Blue Medicine Store" in South Bend and all good drug stores. —Adv.

Oh you great

ELMO LINCOLN

What you did in this wonderful drama,

"The Romance of Tarzan"

yesterday was aplenty. Did you ever enjoy a better or more pleasing drama, and isn't ELMO LINCOLN a wonder? Yes, ELMO LINCOLN will start his new fifteen weeks serial FRIDAY the 29th. We have seen the first six chapters of this serial and we claim it's not only the greatest but the most sensational and daring serial ever made. Take our tip and see the first episode. Anyone missing this extra fine seven-reel photoplay. "THE ROMANCE OF TARZAN," today, is missing a rare treat, and oh what a big and happy crowd yesterday and last night to see this wonderful production, "The Romance of Tarzan." Did you see that big turn-away crowd last night? If so, avoid it tonight and come to the matinee or very early in the evening. Also today TOPICS OF THE DAY, from the Literary Digest, shown here every Monday and Tuesday, and they are surely fine.

TOMORROW—No one can make any more pleasing pictures than William Fox, who tomorrow presents that clever girl PEGGY HYLAND, in "COWARDICE COURT," a crackerjack good six-reel comedy-drama; Mutt and Jeff, always good; Pathe News of latest current events, and our favorite, Harold Lloyd, in "BILLIE BLAZES," some comedy and some fine show. EXTRA SPECIAL ATTENTION—We will not present any more serials on Thursdays, but on Fridays hereafter. Here is a good tip, and a 100 to 1 shot to win, that our popular BERT LYTELL has never been seen in a better five-reel comedy-drama than "EASY TO MAKE MONEY."

COMING THURSDAY—A screaming two-reel Mack Sennett comedy, "TRYING TO GET ALONG," and the GAUMONT WEEKLY of current events.
