

MRS. BEARDSLEY GIVES ADDRESS

Members of Franchise League
Hear Distinguished Visitor at Lawn Party.

"Woman's place is in the home part of the time," said Mrs. A. H. Beardsley of Elkhart, chairman of the 11th district. Woman's Franchise league, who was the principal speaker at the Woman's Franchise league garden party held at Tippecanoe place, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

For eight years, Mrs. Beardsley has been prominent in suffrage circles, being vice-president of the organization. Before the war she was a member of a committee of six which interviewed President Wilson.

In part, Mrs. Beardsley said: "The trouble with the protected women is that they are becoming house-women. They have no outside interest, hence they might be called 'in growing'. A woman needs some outside interest to talk over with her husband, something besides his business affairs, or her domestic troubles. She owes it to herself, besides owing it to society, which would be greatly benefited by her presence and active work in it. A woman should not let herself go to seed.

"But if women are going to vote they must learn the rules and regulations of the political game. They must be broad, study the big questions of the day, in order to be ready for the next campaign. They must realize their great importance, realize that they will represent one-half of the voting power, and that power must be intelligent, because the status of women measures up to the status of the community. Women should inform themselves on the school system, children's welfare, and the housing question, so that they will not join a political party just because 'father' or 'uncle' is a member.

To Study Citizenship.
"Citizenship schools are to be organized all over the state. In Elkhart as many women as possible will go to Indianapolis to study citizenship extensively, so that they may teach the women who will in turn teach and organize in every precinct. All women must be reached, especially the foreign element.

It is very important that everyone understands that the Woman's Franchise league is absolutely non-partisan. We must get the ratification before we vote. Fifteen states have already ratified the amendment, and only one has refused to ratify it. Since there is no time limit, suffrage is bound to come. In the meantime let us study civics, politics, all the greatest questions of the day, and in that way make ready."

Following the address by Mrs. Beardsley, resolutions were read and adopted:

Adopt Resolutions.
Resolved, The Franchise league stands squarely back of the government, civil, state, and national.

Resolved, That we are with the government, civil, state and national in its fight against the high cost of living and social unrest. We pledge our best effort to economize and eliminate waste, and to co-operate under the law for the best interests of all.

Resolved, We hereby call for women volunteers and urge every woman interested to co-operate in efforts to establish a branch of the Franchise league in each precinct of every ward in the city of South Bend, or work through established organizations, such as civic centers.

Resolved, The Franchise league of South Bend is non-partisan and therefore is open to every woman of every class and creed, we cordially invite every woman of South Bend to become a member of this league.

A charming musical program was given by Miss Josephine Decker and Mrs. J. Rode. Miss Helen Guilfoyle accompanied on the piano. Tea was served on the lawn, Mrs. Lafayette Le Van Porter and Mrs. Charles Huff presiding at the tea table. Mrs. J. L. Gardner was chairman of the refreshment committee, and the members of the committee on arrangements were: Mrs. E. F. Johnstone, Miss Alice Jenkins, and Mrs. Richard Eibel, Mrs. L. S. Pickens, Mrs. Philip Nizar and Mrs. Louis Rostler were on the publicity committee. Mrs. Robert Shanklin serving as chairman of the telephone committee.

Seventy-five guests were present. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. John Rose, former chairman of the 11th district, Mrs. Polk, Mrs. Wilbur Temple, and Mrs. Ada Smith, all of Elkhart, and Mrs. Milton Griffith, of Hinsdale, Ill.

Mrs. Charles Arthur Carlisle, president of the South Bend Woman's Franchise league, entertained Mrs. Beardsley and Mrs. Richard Eibel at a 1 o'clock luncheon, prior to the garden fete.

The National committee of the American Federation of Labor has inaugurated a campaign in South Bend for the purpose of organizing an Iron and Steel Workers Union. Meetings will be held Tuesday night of each week until the committee feels that they have organized a sufficiently strong union. It is urged by the committee that all iron and steel workers attend these meetings.

T. J. Vind, the local organizer, without the active support of all the iron and steel workers nothing can be accomplished along the lines of an organization. The meetings will be held in the Central labor union hall.

POLICE ABANDON MODERN SYSTEM

Bertillon Records and Other Means of Identifying Criminals Is Abolished.

No action has been taken towards the appointment of sergeant of detectives to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Barnhart two weeks ago, according to the statement of Harry Josephson, clerk of the board of public safety, Wednesday.

There has been no chief of detectives under the administration of the police department of Chief Peter Kline, and Barnhart's resignation leaves the detective branch without a head.

This condition has resulted in the Bertillon system of identification and other modern police systems inaugurated by John Kuespert when he was chief of detectives under Chief Kerr practically being thrown into the scrap heap. Chief Kline and Asst. Chief Cassidy came into office opposed, or at least not strongly in favor of modern police methods.

Abandon Metropolitan System.
The systems started by Chief Kuespert were similar to those which are recommended for Chicago, in the report of the committee of aldermen who have been studying police methods in a number of middle-western and eastern cities.

Probably the most important of these systems was the Bertillon system of measurement and identification, which includes the finger print system. Sergt. Barnhart's resignation left the department with no one who understands the classification of finger-prints, and practically nothing has been done in this line for the past two years, as Barnhart was busy as head of the detective department, and had no clerk to take care of the Bertillon files.

Kuespert also inaugurated the system of classification of stolen automobiles which is being used in New York, Chicago, and nearly all of the larger cities of the United States. When a car was driven into a South Bend garage which was suspected of being stolen, it was possible for the police to identify the car by a quick reference to their files. This is impossible now, as this filing system has been allowed to become out of date and thus worthless.

Whether this system was given up because Chief Kline was generally opposed to modern police methods, or whether there is any truth in the supposition that the city administration is not particularly anxious that automobiles thieves shall be apprehended, the fact remains that the board of public safety doesn't consider the detective department of enough importance to give it a responsible head.

Had Special Clerk.
The Bertillon system under Chief Kuespert was kept up by a clerk, who gave all of his time to the work, and one of the heads of the detective department, who spent a considerable time classifying and systematizing the files.

Photographs and measurements taken here were exchanged with the police departments of other cities, and in this way it was possible to keep a line on criminals of all classes who might be operating here. Very few arrests now are followed by the prisoner being photographed and measured, as there is no one who is responsible for this kind of work.

WORKS BOARD ADOPTS PAVING RESOLUTION

Resolutions for the paving of North Shore dr. from Michigan st. to Leeper av. were adopted at the meeting of the board of works Wednesday night. Other resolutions adopted were: Asphalt pavement on S. Main st. from Broadway to Indiana av., and pavement on Keasey st.

The resolution for the paving of Marine st. was rescinded. The matter will be taken up again after January 1. A light was ordered at the corner of Walnut st. and Jefferson av., and resolutions for a number of water and sewer connections were approved.

MOTOR COP HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Officer Wright Hits a Heavy Truck While Pursuing a Speeder.

Charles Wright, motorcycle officer, had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday afternoon when his machine, which was going about 45 miles an hour in pursuit of a speeder, hit a heavily loaded truck at the corner of Mishawaka av. and Sixth st.

Wright was chasing a motorcyclist who was speeding east on Mishawaka av. Wright's speedometer was registering 45 miles an hour, and the speeder was going even faster, as Wright was not gaining any ground. At the corner of Sixth st. Wright saw a heavy truck coming out of Sixth av. He signalled and the truck stopped near the right hand curb.

The officer was unable to pass to the right, so swung to the left, and would have cleared the truck had not the driver become excited and started up. Wright struck the machine with sufficient force to knock two heavy tubs of ice cream out of the truck.

His machine was badly damaged, but Wright escaped without serious injury. Wright's co-worker, Officer Bert Olmstead, met with a similar accident Monday, which put his machine out of commission.

If people only realized the health-destroying power of an acid-stomach—of the many kinds of sickness and misery it causes—the lives it literally wrecks—they would guard against it as carefully as they do against a deadly plague.
