

EBERT IS SWORN IN AS PRESIDENT

New Head of German Republic
Takes Oath at Wiemer
Before Large Crowd.

WEIMAR, Aug. 21 (Delayed).—Frederich Ebert took the oath as imperial president at the National theater today. A large crowd had gathered in the square before the theater, where a guard of honor was drawn up with the Landjaeger band playing.

Herr Ebert arrived in automobile at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and was received at the main entrance of the theater by the vice president and secretaries, who conducted him to where Konstantin Fehrenbach, president of the national assembly, was awaiting him. The organ played as Herr Fehrenbach led the president to the center of the flower bedecked hall, where the president's tribune is situated. The members of the imperial council and assembly rose to welcome Herr Ebert, but the places reserved for the German national and independent socialists were empty.

Recites Oath.
Herr Fehrenbach handed the president the document containing the oath, the formula of which Herr Ebert recited with a firm voice.

Herr Ebert then said to the president:
"You came from the people and therefore you will ever be a faithful friend of the working people, to whom you have devoted your life work. You will also ever be a shield to the fatherland which you have done your best to serve and for the sake of which you have made a terrible and most painful sacrifice, seeing that of four sons you sent to the colors two have not returned."

SNUGGS ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT HUDSON LAKE

Edward Snuggs' feature orchestra of Kalamazoo, will play the music at the Hudson Lake casino for the next two weeks, according to an announcement made Friday night by W. J. Smith, manager of the dancing pavilion.

Snuggs was formerly the slide-trumpet player and tenor soloist of the Fisher brothers' orchestra, and has recently organized an orchestra of his own. It is called a feature orchestra on account of the large number of novel stunts which are introduced during the playing of the dance numbers.

South Bend folks drive out to the casino in large numbers every Wednesday night. The Snuggs orchestra will appear at the casino next Wednesday and the following Wednesday.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 23.—According to German merchants here, as quoted in El Universal, a million marks worth of drugs and hardware will be sent to Mexico City by German firms as soon as shipping facilities are available. The orders for these goods were placed as soon as the blockade against Germany was lifted.

CARING FOR THE AGED.

Old people, like little children, need the interest and care of their own family and generally speaking can be best cared for in their own home. With advancing years, both body and mind show lowered resistance and diminished vigor. When the mode of living is adapted to these changes the happiness and usefulness of the aged is greatly prolonged.

They are keenly sensitive to the cold and should have warm underclothing and extra wraps when needed. They should be provided with warm night clothes, stockings, hot water bottles, light but warm covers, and a sufficient thick mattress. Many covers will not supply the deficiency of a thin mattress. Old people usually want their rooms very warm but it is better to keep the temperature about 70. Remember ventilation is very important, and it is quite possible to keep the room warm and yet well ventilated. The aged must be guarded from chill, exposure, crowds and communicable diseases. Their food should be simple, hot and divided into four or five meals a day.

While old people should be encouraged to continue moderate activities and to take regular exercise it is bad for them to undertake sudden muscular exertions or to place themselves in an insecure position, since their bones are brittle and heal with difficulty. However, it is a questionable kindness to try to manage old people too much, to deprive them of all freedom of action. In fact at times it is better to let them follow their own inclination even if you feel it is not for their good.

Perhaps the saddest of all changes that occur in the aged is their gradual loss in power to respond to new demands. They cannot understand new points of view and in consequence feel that the world has gone on without them. How often we hear the cry "Things aren't like they used to be when I was young." Clearly this gulf between the generations must be bridged by the understanding and sympathy of the younger and more flexible minds.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
K. M. O. writes: What is the best thing to do in a case of severe nose-bleed?

Answer: Let the patient sit erect in a chair with the head hanging backward. Loosen the collar and put cold compresses to the nose and the back of the neck. Make pressure on the upper lip with the finger or by means of placing a roll of paper or cotton between the upper lip and the gum. If the bleeding persists put a teaspoonful of salt or vinegar to a cupful of water and have the patient sniff it up the nose. If the bleeding still persists send for a doctor. In the meanwhile place a small piece of cotton or gauze in the nostril from which the bleeding comes and shove it up for about an inch. This may be done gently with a pencil.

I. B. C. writes: Is dust harmful?

Answer: Dust does not carry disease germs to any appreciable extent, but air in motion is harmful in that it irritates the lining membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs; at times even causing wounds through which disease germs enter. Dust containing sharp gritty particles, as in cutting hard rock is especially dangerous. This causes a chronic irritation of the air passages, in which the germs of tuberculosis frequently lodge. Tuberculosis is especially prevalent among stone cutters, felt workers and others working at dusty trades.

HOOSIERS

A Glance Over
Indiana

EDINBURG HAS A WHISTLE on its canning factory direct from the battle fields of France. While Ernest Law was in the engineering forces he made a whistle for his engine from a 4-75 French shell. It produced such a queer shriek that he brought it home and put it on the canning factory.

PRICES OF FOODSTUFFS OF Gary took a decided drop Friday when prices were nearly cut in two by the city market master. Tomatoes formerly selling for $2.25 per bushel were sold for $1.25 while eggs were cut down to 45 cents a dozen. Ducks and geese sold for 25 cents a pound instead of 35 cents as was formerly charged.

MUNCIE WILL HAVE SOME of the advantages of a big city when the new proposed belt line is completed. The Big Four has decided to build a belt around the city in order that freight need not go through the center of the city.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS featured the Friday's session of the Indiana Firemen's association meeting held at Muncie. Fort Wayne was chosen as the city for the 1920 convention.

ARMY TRAINING PROVED OF value to Harry Bridwell, on the Indianapolis police force when a telephone call came from an excited woman that she had found a hand grenade "all in good order," in a relative's effects which had been sent to her. Patrolmen refused to remove it but Bridwell was detailed and removed the detonator and now the woman has a harmless souvenir.

BECAUSE NOBLE PANG, A Chinaman of Indianapolis, slept in a dark, damp cellar, on a rough plank for a bed and a cigar box for a pillow, an investigation committee adjudged him insane.

Stockmen Tell Committee To "Let Packers Alone"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Federal regulation of the packing industry, proposed in the Kenyon and Kendrick bills now on hearing before the senate agriculture committee, found neither friends nor advocates in the long list of witnesses who aired their views Friday. Though those testifying came from points all the way between Missouri and Georgia, and their occupations ranged from farmer through feeders, stockers and retail butchers to dealers in produce, and while their opinions as to the reasons and responsibility of high cost of living were diverse and occasionally most forcibly put, the packers, all insisted, must be let alone. Interference with them, the tenor of the statements ran, would be dangerous to the consumer and everybody else.

"We've had governmental control of railroads and telephones and telegraphs, until we're plumb worn out, and we don't want any more," W. P. Carpenter, stock feeder of Traklo, Mo., assured the committee. "I'm in favor of the men who can produce the cheapest going ahead as far as he can. That's the way to cut down the cost of living."

Thomas Dunn, a St. Louis meat dealer, accepted an unusual view of the situation when he said, "people want to pay high prices, because they think they're getting better stuff."

"These hearings will help get the fool ideas out of their heads," he said, while the committee laughed. "That's the only good they'll do." In answer to Sen. Capper of Kansas, J. P. Lynn and a group of other feeders said they had lost some money on cattle this spring. "But that's not the packers' fault," J. A. Christianson, a third man from the same district, said. "Any man can make a mistake and pay too much."
