

ORDERS RELEASE OF TWO CHILDREN

Judge Montgomery Declares
County Jail Is Unfit for Two-Year-Old.

Declaring the county jail unfit for such young tots, Dorothy and Bobby Miller, two and four years old, the children of Ora and Marie Miller, who have been the center of habeas corpus proceedings in superior court, were released from the county jail Tuesday by Judge Chester R. Montgomery. They have been confined behind the bars since Monday morning.

Both the children were taken from their home in New Carlisle after habeas corpus proceedings had been filed by their father. He said the mother was intending to move from the state with the children, and that she was an unfit person to care for them.

The case came up for hearing before Judge Montgomery Tuesday afternoon. He ordered the children released and gave the two parents equal right to the custody and companionship of the two small tots, pending the final outcome of the case before him in superior court Saturday morning.

Sheriff Calls.

When the sheriff called at the home of Mrs. Miller and said he had come for her two children, she made no attempt to refuse custody but said she would like to go with them as she feared for her youngsters to go away with strangers. She was permitted to accompany them and has remained with them during their stay in the jail.

At the trial Tuesday afternoon the defendant's attorney raised an objection to the wording of the complaint filed by Mr. Miller, after which an amended complaint was filed. Objections to the amended complaint were overruled by the court and a return of writ was filed by the defendant's attorney.

PRICES FLUCTUATE ON CITY MARKET

Prices again fluctuated at the city market Tuesday morning when some products were held for a higher price than at Saturday's market, and others for less than the former prices. Muskmelons formerly sold for 10, 15 and 20 cents dropped to 5, 10 and 15 cents, while eggs sold for 16 cents a dozen. Grapes, both blue and white sold for six cents a pound. Growers of Michigan grapes were on the market but stated that it would be a week before their products would be in their prime. Then the prices will be about $1.50 a bushel, they said.

A few bushels of Elberta freestone peaches were sold early in the morning at $4.50 a bushel. White clingstones were hard to dispose of at $2 a bushel. Tomatoes of good quality sold for $1.50 a bushel while good sweetcorn was 15 cents a dozen ears.

TO FURNISH MATERIAL.

The Highway Materials Co. has been awarded the contract of furnishing liquid asphalt for the Edwardsburg road from the city to the Stover school. This is to be furnished at three cents per square yard.

Aviator Flies on and off Newark Roof

Somewhat like Jules Verne's, the French aviator who alighted on the top of a department store in Paris in his biplane, Edward E. Ballough, formerly a Canadian aviator, descended the other day on the roof of one of the army quartermaster buildings in Newark, N. J. Ballough came down from a height of about 700 feet. The quartermaster building has a roof 80 feet wide and 978 feet long. There is a peak in the roof, on which the aviator landed in a Curtiss monoplane. He glided from one peak of the roof, stopping the plane about 100 feet from the end of the roof. In starting back, he left the roof about 60 feet from the other end.

Wounded Veterans Schooled at University of Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 27.—With 70 disabled soldiers now enrolled in the summer school of the University of Wisconsin, preparations are being made to instruct a much larger number of the same class of students this fall. The disabled veterans are studying under the auspices of the federal board of vocational training, about half expecting to stay for a year's work if their progress and physical fitness warrant while the others will receive two to four years' training.

Thirty-nine of the soldiers are residents of this state, 19 of Illinois, two of Mississippi, and one each of Indiana, Texas and Missouri. Others give various addresses, one being a Russian and one a Frenchman.

Fought to Avenge Brother. The Russian is Lou Lazar Resenkoff, recently discharged from the 149th field artillery, Rainbow division. When the war interrupted his studies at the University of Petrograd he was drafted into the Russian army and sent to the front. Later he was tried for treason and sent to Siberia whence his mother, with a dead man's pass and bribes, enabled him to escape to New York. He became a dancer in vaudeville and while playing at Danville, Ill., heard that his two brothers had been killed in the Russian revolution and enlisted to avenge their death. He saw 10 months' service in France during which he was gassed and wounded. Now he is completing the course in electrical engineering he started at Petrograd.

Has French Fellowship.

M. Rene Guet of Rennes, France, fought through the first two years of the war as a "simple soldier," was sent to the St. Cyr military academy at Paris for a year's training, and was seriously wounded shortly after his return to active service as a second lieutenant. As a reward for his sacrifices the French government granted him a travelling fellowship for study in America. He spent the last college year at the University of Illinois and is now pursuing studies in English and history here.

Nearly half of the veterans now studying at the university have finished the eighth grade, 17 have completed high school and 11 have had some college work. Farming interests interest the majority of them, with 37 studying various phases of this subject while 13 are studying mechanical industries, eight are in commercial work, two in medicine, two in chemistry, two in journalism, one in law and one in pharmacy. Special instruction in chemistry and mathematics has been arranged for those who need it and special tutoring in English is being considered.

The palaces of the former German emperor in Berlin at one time kept 500 housemaids and 1,800 liveried footmen in employment.

Miss Emily Hubeny Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"Being forced to perform outdoor work I was troubled with heat pimples over my hands, face and neck. The pimples were very hard and red and were in great blotches. I became a sufferer of severe itching and loss of sleep. Scratching burst the pimples and a coating of scales came over the irritated places that caused great disfigurement."

"This trouble lasted two months and then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I found that they relieved me and I used four cakes of Soap with three boxes of Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Emily Hubeny, Rolling Stone, Minn. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for all toilet uses. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with Talcum.
