

U. S TROOPS READY FOR STRIKE DUTY

Plan to Send Detail of Illinois Soldiers into Chicago District.

Present Demands.

The announcement followed that of H. E. Reading, chairman of the newly organized engineers' association, that committees of three on each of the roads would confer with the general managers of their respective lines and present their demands to them.

"Our contracts with the brotherhoods cover all the men now on strike," Seely Snyder, of the general managers said. "If the strikers want contracts they have only to return to their unions. We will recognize no outlaw organization."

Plans for the senate investigation of the strike were completed today by Chairman Cummings, of the senate interstate commerce committee. The inquiry will begin on Tuesday and will be conducted by the full committee with John Grinnau, A. P. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and officers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, on which the strike originated, as the first witnesses.

Two railroads entering Chicago lifted all freight restrictions and promised 100 per cent operation in the next 48 hours.

B. B. Greer, vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, said that the road would have full crews working before Sunday night and that switchmen now at work would have the congestion fairly relieved within 12 hours.

First Movement.

The first general movement back to work was announced after a conference between A. E. Lloyd, superintendent of the New York Central lines; W. W. Kierby, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and W. Bannister, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The freight embargo was ordered lifted at all depots of the New York Central lines.

Movement of perishable products was started at once with the transfer of 50 carloads of meat, and the trucks were cleared to make way for coal shipments that have been kept out of the city by the yard tie-up.

The strike has increased the volume of mail, according to John P. Hubbard, first assistant postmaster at Chicago, who said that 60 per cent more mail was handled than before the walkout. About 1,400 tons of mail is being handled daily with the aid of trucks.

INSURANCE COMPANY TO PROBE ROBBERY OF GOSHEN RESIDENT

Special to The News-Times: GOSHEN, Ind., April 10.—An insurance company in which Haines Ebert, of this city, carried burglary protection today sent a secret operative here for the purpose of gathering evidence in connection with the robbery of the Ebert home last Wednesday night, when diamonds and other jewelry valued at $10,000, disappeared. Finger prints left about the Ebert home were taken today by the detective and numerous tracks in the yard inspected.

Police here say there is no direct clue and very little prospect of recovering the jewels or arresting the thieves.

George M. Swank, an employee of the Goshen postoffice, delivered a letter in the neighborhood of the Ebert home about the time the theft is believed to have been committed and he saw two men on the porch of the residence next to the Ebert house who are thought to have been members of the gang. He gave the authorities a detailed description of the suspects.

POLICE ARREST HORSE SATURDAY FOR BITING

Foremost among the arrests made in South Bend, Saturday night was the arrest of a horse. The animal taken into custody near the corner of Michigan st. and Jefferson Blvd., was brought as far as the police station door. W. M. Smith, 1402 S. Michigan st. came along as an accused witness. The horse had bitten Mr. Smith, who had a deep gash cut in his forehead.

The animal had been biting at all pedestrians along the street. Being hitched to a farm wagon, the horse was thought to be a rustic creature unused to city ways. Hence the arrest.

GOSHEN WILL HAVE SEPARATE STATIONS

Special to The News-Times: GOSHEN, Ind., April 10.—Effective April 15, Goshen will again have separate passenger stations for the New York Central and Big Four railroads. Under the United States railroad administration, the Big Four station was closed and the New York Central station, about one block away, used for Big Four traffic. One ticket office was maintained for the two roads and one baggage agent had charge of all the baggage.

With the return of the railroads to private owners it was decided to reopen the Big Four station. The combined station arrangement was not satisfactory to the general traveling public, as Big Four trains ran into the abandoned Big Four station instead of into the New York Central and endless confusion resulted.

MILK PRODUCERS TO ESTABLISH CREAMERY

Special to The News-Times: GOSHEN, IND., April 10.—Dissatisfied with prices paid by milk by the Goshen Milk Condensing company, 150 milk producers, residing in the vicinity of Goshen and New Paris, met here today and effected an organization for the purpose of establishing a co-operative creamery.

It is asserted the Goshen Milk Condensing company is paying these farmers but six cents per quart for their milk. "Milk in Goshen is retail at 12 cents a quart."

At the meeting today, Charles M. Eubank, of the Waukegan co-operative creamery, and M. L. Shearer, county agricultural agent, delivered addresses.

A committee was named to draft by-laws and constitution. Lawrence Leier of New Paris, a member of the lower branch of the Indiana general assembly, made a member of the committee.

"The strike situation was reported serious at New York," the announcement continued. "Very little produce was lighted across New Jersey Friday on Saturday."

"At Chicago the supply of various commodities was reduced about fifty percent with the possible exception of potatoes. Most roads were refusing shipments, particularly in adjacent territory."

These demands are made part of the proposed renewal of the working agreement drawn up by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen. Other requests are for a 44-hour week and wage increase averaging 50 per cent. Packing plant managers declare these terms cannot be granted.

LIVELY RUNAWAY IN LOOP DISTRICT

Ornamental Lamp Post Stops Team and Averts Damage. Kline Knows Nothing.

Ripping an ornamental lamp post from its moorings on the Jefferson st. side of the Brandon-Durrell Co. and badly damaging a Studebaker automobile which George F. Hull, a local cigar merchant had purchased earlier in the day, a runaway team of horses caused considerable excitement Saturday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock when the loop district was crowded with pedestrians.

The police are not yet aware of it. That people near the Brandon-Durrell company were not seriously injured is little short of miraculous. The team had crossed Michigan st. on Jefferson Blvd., going west at a fast clip, dragging a garbage wagon after them. They swerved to the left as they crossed Michigan st. and headed for one of the big ornamental steel posts on Jefferson Blvd. The two horses spread as they neared the post, going on either side, with the result that the heavy wagon tongue hit the post, knocking the horses down and stopping the wagon on the spot. Fifty persons were within ten feet of the post when the team stopped. The force of the impact tore the post off at the base.

Following Owner.

The team is reported to be owned by J. E. Solloway, a garbage collector of Portage rd. It is also said that the team started to run away Saturday morning but were stopped before they gained any headway. There was no weight on the team when they stopped.

Mr. Hull, with his wife and three friends had just turned off Michigan onto Jefferson Blvd., going east when the team started to run away. They were packed solid in the 100 block on E. Jefferson Blvd. and there was no way for him to avoid a smash-up by parking near the curb. He stopped the car quickly and got his wife out. Then the horses just missed hitting the car while the wagon, loaded with garbage, side-swiped it, breaking three spokes in the front wheel, demolishing the running board and both fenders and clipping a huge chunk out of the rear tire.

The garbage was strewn about Jefferson Blvd. for 50 feet.

Kline Knows Nothing.

Traffic Officer Frank Berger took care of the team, but has not as yet reported the accident at police headquarters. Chief of Police Kline said last night when asked about the accident, "I know nothing." Capt. James E. Schock, in charge of the police station at night, declared that he had no report of it.

DISCOVER FAMILY WITH SMALLPOX

Dr. Freyermuth Finds Ten Members of Galloway Family Ill.

By means of tracing the effort down to the cause late Saturday afternoon Dr. E. G. Freyermuth, city health officer, discovered a family of ten people who had had or were now sick with the smallpox.

Saturday morning he was called to investigate a case at 614 Ohio st., and there found Willis Galloway sick with the smallpox. He then went to the Galloway home at 622 Columbia st. where he found the ten members of that family had either had the disease or were now sick with it.

Wrong Diagnosis.

About two weeks ago a doctor was called by the Galloway family and he diagnosed the sickness as chickenpox. The son, Willie, who is married and lives with the Galloway family, his parents-in-law, at 614 Ohio st., visited his home and there contracted the disease.

At the Galloway home Dr. Freyermuth discovered that the disease had travelled from the grandmother down to the youngest child. The father and a son, Jesse, are the latest members of the family to come down with the sickness. The other eight members are now convalescing.

As a precaution Dr. Freyermuth urges that all members of the Galloway family and all persons who have come in contact with the Galloway family be vaccinated to prevent any further spread of the disease.

HERE ARE SOME HINTS ON THE PREPARATION OF FISH.

Fish is so plentiful and compared to meat which it equals in food value—so cheap, that it is a pity that in so many families fish should not be cooked with special care, nor served daily. These families regard fish as a sort of makeshift to be resorted to only once a week or even less frequently. Fish has many things in its favor in addition to its being a first aid to cutting down food costs. It can be prepared more quickly than meat, there is less waste per pound, and it can be served in many ways. Fish can be cooked, baked, broiled, stuffed and can be served cold as a salad either by itself or in combination with other vegetables.

To prepare a fish must be fresh, and should be dressed as soon after removal from water as possible. Wash the fish and rub the inside with salt. If the fish is frozen place it in cold water for a few minutes. Salt fish should be soaked in cold water to which a little vinegar has been added. Vinegar poured over fresh fish will help to make the scales serve easily. If the fish is to be boiled one-half cupful of vinegar added to the water in which it is cooked will greatly improve the flavor.

To prepare a fish for broiling, cut off the head and tail and split down the back. Remove the backbone, scrape the inside of the fish, and if the fish is small, cut it in two. Double broiler, place the fish on it with the flesh side down, and place over a clear fire. Broil until both sides are brown. Place on a platter sprinkled with salt and pepper, spread with butter and serve garnished with parsley or thin slices of lemon. Halibut, salmon, mackerel broil well, but do not broil too long. Fish are not suitable for broiling, as they dry too much.

To bake fish secure those that weigh not more than three or four pounds. Sprinkle with salt and place in a hot oven. Cover with a slice of onion and a sprinkle of lemon juice, then cover and set aside for one hour. Pour 1 tablespoonful of melted butter over the fish, place some thin slices of pork on the bottom of the pan and a few on top of the fish, and bake for 45 minutes. Serve garnished with parsley.

Fish may be lightly sautéed in the frying pan, or fried in deep fat like croquettes or cutlets. The quickest way, however is to heat a frying pan, place fat in it and when the fat is hot to boiling point, cook the slices of fish in it—if it is a large fish sliced, or if a small fish, like smelts or flounder, it can be fried whole. They should first be dipped in flour lightly and seasoned with salt and pepper, then placed in the hot frying pan and browned on both sides.

To boil fish, place the cleaned fish in cheese water, and place in boiling salted water. There should be enough water to keep the fish just covered, and if a large fish is used 3 tablespoonfuls of vinegar may be added to the water. Keep the water at boiling point, and allow about 6 minutes for each pound of fish. When ready, serve with hot melted butter to which a few drops of lemon juice have been added, and garnish with slices of hard-boiled eggs.
