

ICE CREAM EATER ON BISBEE JURY

Court Bailiffs Having Difficult
Time Supplying Dainty to Venieman.

BY M. D. TRACY.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
TOMBSTONE, Ariz., April 12.—"I gotta have another of them cornucopias," impatiently remarked an elderly gentleman to the keeper of Tombstone's only soda fountain, located in Tombstone's combination drug store, cabaret, concert hall, news stand and cigar emporium.

"If that old fellow don't quit chasing me over here after cornucopias he's got to founder himself," the elderly gentleman went on.

It was a half hour carrying out the court's instructions with regard to the care of the Bisbee "deportation" jury.

"You gentlemen are to see that every want of these jurors is filled," was what Judge Sam. Patten had told the three bailiffs the night he ordered the cowboy jury locked up for the remainder of the historic trial in which it is sitting.

These orders were a signal for every juror to satisfy the least whim he had developed in long, dreary months of riding ranges and facing the wind, sun and sand of the desert.

With one man the chief demand had been for talcum after a shave. Another is forcing the county to furnish him with a luxurious hand-saw, which contains olive oil as a relief from the brand purchasable at the crossroads grocery.

But with one juror the demand is for ice cream cones. Who the dissipating member of the jury is no one can tell, but that does not alter the fact that all Tombstone knows his falling for vanilla ice cream.

Just before court convenes in the morning a bailiff makes a hurry call at the soda fountain.

"One of them vanilla cornucopias," he says.

"At noon he appears again. And twice in the evening—before and after the movie show—it's 'ice cream cones for one,' and the bailiff disappears behind the swinging doors of the court room.

FIVE WAYS OF MAKING DELICIOUS USES OF RHUBARB.

Rhubarb is one of the cooked plants that is unusually refreshing because of its acid quality. And for the same reason it is not especially desirable as a food for children. It needs considerable sweetening, and can be used as a dessert in the shape of pie or cooked plainly, and also as a spicy accompaniment to cold meats.

Rhubarb Patties.
2 cupsful of diced rhubarb.
1-4 cupful of water.
1 cupful of sugar.
2 tablespoonfuls of crumbs.
1 teaspoonful of butter.

Cook the rhubarb for 10 minutes in the water, then add yolk of egg and other ingredients, cook 5 minutes longer and set aside to cool. Make the patty shells by rolling pie crust to thickness of 1-8 inch, and baking on the outside of patty pans in a hot oven for 10 minutes. Fill with rhubarb and top with meringue made with the whipped white of egg to which powdered sugar and any flavoring desired is added.

Rhubarb Pie.
2 cupsful of diced rhubarb.
1-4 cupful of crumbs.
2 tablespoonfuls of raisins.
Salt, nutmeg.

Scrape the rhubarb and cut in half-inch pieces, then scald with boiling water and drain. Line a pie plate with crust, then place the ingredients and a top crust. Place in a hot oven for the first 15 minutes, then reduce the heat and bake about 25 minutes longer.

Spiced Rhubarb.
This is a delicious preserve, which if properly stored will keep for a long time, developing a richer flavor for it.

2 pounds of rhubarb.
1 pound of figs.
2 pounds of sugar.
1 lemon.
1 teaspoonful of ginger.
1-4 teaspoonful of cloves.

Do not peel the rhubarb, merely wash and cut into one-inch pieces. Wash and chop the figs fine and out with rhubarb and half of sugar in preserving kettle and let stand over night. Then boil until clear, and add rest of sugar, the lemon juice and grated rind and spices. Simmer until thick, then pour into hot sterilized jars and seal.

Baked Rhubarb.
2 cupsful of dried rhubarb.
2-4 cupful of sugar.
2 banana.

Place the dried rhubarb in a buttered baking dish with alternate layers of sliced bananas. Add sugar and butter, then bake covered in a slow oven for two hours.

Rhubarb Jelly.
4 cupsful of diced rhubarb.
4 oranges.
8 cupsful of sugar.
1-2 lemon.

1 tablespoonful of grated orange rind.

Mix the diced rhubarb with the pulp and juice of the oranges, juice of the half-lemon, orange rind and sugar. Simmer slowly until the mixture "jells." This can be tested by trying a few drops on a cold plate until it "jells."

RED CROSS MEDICAL STAFF AT BUDAPEST AND VIENNA IS FIT

PARIS, April 11.—Announcement was made at American Red Cross headquarters here today of the names of the personnel attached to the Red Cross unit in Vienna and Budapest. The work of the unit consists of the distribution of hospital supplies, mostly drugs and needed anesthetics, among the hospitals of the two cities and of condensed milk.

The unit headed by Lt. Col. S. R. Moffat of Brooklyn, N. Y., includes Maj. John W. Van Denburg, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Captains Allen Andrews, Whitehall, Va.; Howard Armstrong, Buffalo, N. Y.; James C. Pedlow, New York city; Edwin Smithson, Great Neck, N. Y.; and E. E. Walsh, Amherst, Mass.; Lieutenants Donald Cameron, Brookhaven, Miss.; John Langston, Cleburne, Texas; George T. Brown, New York city; Herbert H. Carpenter, Sumner, Ind.; Kent Winton, Turney, Napa, Ind.; and C. R. Worman, Taft, Calif.

BURNED TO CRISP.
MUNCIE, Ind., April 12.—Mrs. Joshua True, 42 years old, is dead as the result of burns received Sunday morning when she threw coal oil on embers in the kitchen range at her home. Her body was burned to a crisp. The husband and four children survive.

ALBERT B. STEINER, of St. Paul, Minn., who declares he is now able to do twice the work he could before taking Tanlac, and that his sister has gained sixteen pounds.

Talking about things that help people, I have just received a letter from my sister in Waterloo, Iowa, telling me she has gained sixteen pounds in weight by taking Tanlac," said A. B. Steiner, 460 E. Page street, St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"My sister was on a visit to me a short while ago, and as she was suffering from stomach trouble some one advised her to try Tanlac, which she did, and as I saw the great benefit she was getting from it I decided to try it myself, for I had been troubled with my stomach for the past two years. I had a very poor appetite, and the little I did manage to eat seemed to lodge right in the pit of my stomach and sour. I would bloat terribly after eating and have the worst sort of cramping pains in my stomach, and at times I had such bad attacks of heartburn I would nearly go mad. My back gave me a lot of trouble, and I had such intense pains in the small of my back I could hardly bend over. To add to my other troubles, about two months ago I began to suffer with rheumatism in my shoulder blades and arms, which got so bad I could hardly do my work and could not even put on my coat without assistance. I was so nervous I could get but little sleep and would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long, and would get up in the morning all tired out. I was so badly run-down and had lost so much weight I was so weak I could hardly get about at all.

"Well, while I have only taken five bottles of Tanlac in all my improvement is simply remarkable. I have such a good appetite I am hungry all the time, and my stomach is in such a splendid condition I can eat anything I want without suffering the least bit from it afterward. The pains have all gone out of my back and I never have the least sign of the rheumatism. In fact, I never have an ache or pain of any kind, sleep as sound as a log every night and have gained in weight and strength until I can do twice as much work as I could before I began taking Tanlac. Yes, sir; I can recommend Tanlac after what it has done for me, and I know it will do the same for others if they will only give it a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in South Bend at the Central Drug Store and in Mishawaka at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

UNITED STATES ARMY builder of MEN

TEN years ago it was necessary for the United States Army to argue men into its ranks.

But, today the Army like every other great university, points with pride to its graduates.

Four million of the nation's choicest young men were entrusted to the Army's care.

MOST of them are back in the ranks of industry today; and every parent in America, every employer, every teacher knows that they are better, abler men for their experience.

They stand straight upon their feet, a symbol of physical fitness.

They have learned how to execute orders, and how to give them.

THERE is, in their characters, a maturity beyond their years, a vision and a self-confidence that are fundamentals of success.

The months that they gave to the Army were not lost months; the records of the future will show more rapid progress for them because of the qualities which those months developed.

The Fourteen Arms of the Service

The Recruiting Sergeant can give you the information that will help you decide which branch fits you best. In all of them you will get the fine training as a soldier the United States offers all its men—in many branches you can get highly specialized training.

INFANTRY—The men who have made the name of "doughboy" feared and respected throughout the world welcome you to the comradeship. Fine fellows—good fun and good training in any school at the post you go to.

CAVALRY—When the horses are champing at the bit and the "yellow legs" mount up and the troop rides forth, there is a thrill that no old cavalryman can ever forget. Horse of your own—a good outdoor life and training for future success.

FIELD ARTILLERY—"Action Front" comes the command—then watch the boys with the red hat cord snap into it. A happy outfit—with the dash of mounted service added to interesting work that calls for head and hand. Motors if you wish.

CORPS OF ENGINEERS—Army engineering is known the world over for its excellence, and an enlistment in the Engineers can be the start of a young man's training in the various branches of Engineering and in any of the mechanical and building trades.

COAST ARTILLERY—Living on the sea coasts, guarding big cities with big guns, getting time for study and a wide and good technical training, the C. A. C. man is preparing for a useful life and good pay and is having a good time while he's learning. The C. A. C. also mans the mobile big gun regiments throughout the country.

AIR SERVICE (including BALLOON CORPS)—The man who gets the early edge in experience with aeroplanes and balloons has a chance to cash in big on his army training. For flying is only in its infancy and its going to be a profitable business for men with the right experience.

ORDNANCE DEPT.—The ordnance is appealing to the studious young American. To wide opportunities for study, it adds a business as well as a technical training.

SIGNAL CORPS—Whether its laying a wire from a reel-cart at a gallop or installing a wireless station that will flash its message half around the world, the Signal Corps is there and a man who knows radio telegraph and telephone work in the Signal Corps is always valuable.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT—Good experience, good pay and training in all branches of hospital work and in the Dental Corps. Excellent opportunity for future success. The Veterinary Corps teaches the care of horses as well as meat and milk inspection.

TANK CORPS—The man who knows gas motors and tractors or who wants to know them is invited to join the Tanks. Radio, machine gun and ordnance work are all part of the Tank Corps work.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS—The corps that feeds and clothes the Army offers a valuable training for future business. Interesting work for the man who lives horses in the Remount Service.

CONSTRUCTION DIVISION—Practical work in the many trades is part of the every day life of the Construction Division. Many opportunities to learn the trades of highly paid specialists.

CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE—For a man with a little knowledge of chemistry or for any ambitious young man who would like to get that knowledge, there is interesting work and rapid advancement in the C. W. S.

MOTOR TRANSPORT CORPS—A thorough practical training in motors and their accessories, and in driving as well, is given in the well-equipped schools of the Motor Transport Corps.
