

THEATERS

"CLARENCE"

The Oliver theater on Saturday, matinee and night, will reveal "Clarence," the successful comedy by Booth Tarkington. George C. Tyler organized a special company for the Chicago engagement at the Blackstone theater where it has been playing the past ten weeks because the original production is the great success of the New York season, and no doubt it will remain at the Hudson theater for a year or more. "Clarence" is a humorous treatment of the returned soldier from a typical Tarkingtonian point of view, and is said to represent not only Mr. Tarkington's top-notch in playwriting, but also his highest flight in humor. The cast that presented "Clarence" at the Blackstone theater will be seen here intact, and includes Gregory Kelly, Robert Adams, Byron Beasley, Grace Finkins, Betty Murray, Ruth Gordon, Clara Blandick, Joe Wallace, James T. Ford, Guy D'Enery. Shortly after playing this city "Clarence" will play a week in Indianapolis. Mr. Tarkington's own home town, and shortly after will start for a transcontinental tour, and in June will play three weeks at the Columbia theater, San Francisco, one week of which will be during the session of the national democratic convention.

AUDITORIUM

Mary Pickford in one of her very best productions, "Daddy Long Legs" is the attraction at the Auditorium today and tomorrow. The piece is a picture of Jean Webster's well known story. Miss Pickford plays the part of Judy Abbott, the little asylum girl who got her chance to go to college through the generosity of a man who later fell in love with her. The first part of the picture is laid in the John Grier orphan asylum where life is one of pain and this story after another. Clad in the eternal striped gingham and forced to take the cuffs of an inhuman head matron who never smiles or says a kind word Judy becomes a twin sister to rebellion. Some of the most amusing situations are shown and the picture is a delight from start to finish. The Fox news, Mutt and Jeff and a Snub Pollard comedy will also be shown.

NIGHTIE NIGHT

"Nightie Night," an Adolph Klauer and Selwyn production, which is coming to the Oliver theater Thursday evening, April 15, after a phenomenally successful run at the Princess theater in New York and with the ideal original New York cast, headed by Francis Byrne.

"Nightie Night" is the work of Martha M. Stanley and Adelaide Matthews, who, six months ago, were unknown quantities in the dramatic sphere except to Mr. Klauer, who had been carefully cultivating their talent ever since his dramatic editor days. Today these authors are covered with glory, reflected from the biggest farce comedy success New York has seen since the golden days of "Baby Mine."

OLIVER

"In Search of a Sinner" Constance Talmadge's latest and best screen production which has been running at the Oliver theater since Sunday, closes with today's performances. Miss Talmadge is a clever comedienne and is most amusing in this picture.

ORPHEUM

"The League of Nations" a timely review with Claude West at the head of an excellent company is the feature of the Orpheum bill which is given final showing today. Other acts are Lillian Watson, petite singing comedienne, Keno, Keys and Melrose, a fun-making trio, Rose and Thorn, in character comedy sketches and Ella Lavall, the aerial gymnast.

Starting tomorrow, "Rolling Along" is the feature, while included are Johnny Keane, in songs and stories, Leach-Walling trio of tight

CUTICURA HEALS BABY'S HEAD

Face, Neck. Scratched And Cried. Was Disfigured.

"My baby brother had a crust on his head and the top of his head was a solid scale. His face and neck got red and irritated and water would run from little blisters, and baby would cry most all the time. He would scratch his face until the blood came. The eruption caused disfigurement."

"We bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and by the time they were gone, he was healed." (Signed) Miss Janice B. Dobson, Kolen, Ind.
