SCREEN CLASSIC AT TEMPLE TODAY

A wireless apparatus, cleverly concealed behind a revolving fire-place, is one of the many novel surprises in "The Man Who Stayed at Home," the thrilling drama of the secret service which will be shown at the Temple theater today. Director Herbert Blanche made a special trip to Washington for permission to set up a regulation plant. This picture has made a tremendous hit everywhere it has shown. The story tells of the hazards and dangers of the United States secret service, and is replete with mystery, intrigue, adventure and romance.

YANKEE AIRPLANES SENT TO ORIENT FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSE

HONG KONG, April 22.—Sixteen aviators and mechanics, mostly Americans have arrived here and 11 American airplanes are on their way from New York to the Orient to establish the first commercial aviation enterprise in China. It is announced that this aerial service will connect Hong Kong, Canton and the Portuguese colony of Macao. Later, it is stated, the company plans to extend its activities to Manila and Tokyo, touching at centers on the Chinese coast.

The airplanes to be used in this service are understood to have been built originally for the United States navy and have been equipped with Liberty motors but have been remodeled and are said here to be capable of making continuous flights of 650 miles carrying 14 passengers. Walter Bonner, a veteran of the United States Naval Flying Corps, is to be general superintendent of the new company which has been financed through the efforts of C. E. W. Ricau, a Macao capitalist.

It is practically impossible to popularize corn flour in Greece, says Consul General Alexander W. Weddell of Athens, partly owing to the fact that the bakers produce all the bread they eat in the country, even baking that which is kneaded and prepared at home by the housewives.

EVANGELIST TELLS AUDIENCE TO GET READY FOR DEATH

Delivers Impressive Lecture in Big Tabernacle Thursday Night.

Don Cochran will hold services for women at the First Christian, First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches.

Favors Boy Scout.

Mr. Jones declared himself in favor of the Boy Scout movement here and announced that a special father and son night will be arranged in the near future under the auspices of the Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A.

In opening his sermon he declared that the fear of God and of the hereafter was the need of America today. "Not that you can gain salvation without the love of God but the realization of death and the consequences of a Godless death has brought many sinners to their knees and then love of God."

On Scaring People. "You talk about scaring people to God," telling deathbed stories. The realization of God does not mean a soul for Jesus. No preacher ever stood in the pulpit and told deathbed stories comparable with those told by the Son of God Himself. From his mouth came the parable of the miserably dead of the rich man and the death of Lazarus. You are going to have a deathbed story of your own some day and you who have scorned religion will see how brave and courageous you are when you go to a Godless death.

"The trouble is that the world is trying to make death a dream. We don't want to think of it as the horrible reality it is, as the wages of sin."

"Death cares nothing about age, your family, your needs or your wishes. It is good for any man to sit down and face the solemn fact of death. Did you ever see a funeral procession going down the street and stop and think that some day, maybe tomorrow, you will be leading such a procession. It makes a difference."

Worship Success. "The time has come for you men who have time for everything but God to sit down and think of what your worldly successes will amount to when one day you sit at the judgment seat of God."

"The wise man always prepares for the eventual. The man who knows that some day he is going to die and believing in God and a heaven and a hell doesn't prepare is a fool."

"I'm risky about lots of things. If I had not been a Christian I think I would have been a gambler. I like to take chances but I refuse absolutely to risk my immortal soul by sin. That is one game I propose to play safe."

Comes Unexpected. "As a rule death comes unexpectedly. If I could name the person in this house tonight who would be the first to go, some man's heart would still with sorrow and still, knowing that you will have to go some day and may be the next to die you continue to take chances with eternal damnation."

"Death is inevitable and Jesus Christ is the one preparation for the hereafter, for death, judgment and eternity."

"If you go out from here tonight and go out to eternity some time later without having made your peace with God don't forget that you had this chance for preparation."

Friday's program includes, in addition to the morning prayer service, Charles B. Sax store, Mrs. Loren Jones, 8:30 o'clock; party conference, 10:30 o'clock; Studebaker plant two, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bouche, 12:30 o'clock; Studebaker offices, Mrs. Loren Jones, at 12:30 o'clock; tabernacle sermon, Bob Jones, 3 o'clock; J. M. S. Bldg., office women, Mrs. Loren Jones, 3:30 o'clock; song service and sermon, Bob Jones, at 7:30 o'clock.

The cottage prayer meetings Friday will be held at the following homes:

Hunger has driven the prairie wolves of western Canada into small towns, where they menace persons going about after dark.

DECREASE OF MARK GROWING SERIOUS

BERLIN, April 22.—The stocking the toe of a slipper and the national banks of Germany are continuing to lose clients to the new safety deposit vaults which are being dug in Berlin's gardens.

The rapidly lowering value of the mark has caused people to pay for their purchases in silver or gold currency, no matter what nation it represents. The metal money is not put in the bank, but is hoarded in some secret hiding place.

The government has made illegal the sale of silver or gold coin to any one but one of the regular banks in order to stop the burying of Germany's metal reserve. Drastic measures have failed, and even the arrest of 500 money changers in the raids of a single day in Berlin have not discouraged the people who are digging a hole in the ground to provide for a rainy day.

JONES EPIGRAMS.

America needs a wholesome fear of hell. The fear of God is beginning of wisdom.

I don't want to tell deathbed stories to scare people to God. You are going to have a deathbed story of your own some day and you will see how brave and courageous you are when you mock religion in life and go to a Godless death.

It is good for any man to sit down and face the solemn fact of death. Did you ever see a funeral procession going down the street and stop to think that some day you will lead just such a procession. It makes a difference.

The wise man always prepares for the eventual. The man who knows some day he is going to die and doesn't prepare is a fool.

This is common sense reasoning. If your fire insurance had expired today you couldn't sleep tonight thinking about the risk you were running. Yet you are going through life unprepared for the death that is more uncertain and yet more certain than fire.

Death is inevitable; Jesus Christ is the preparation for death, judgment and eternity.

If you go out from here tonight and go out sometime later to an eternity without God don't forget that you had this opportunity for preparation.

SHERIFF FAILS TO FIND TRACE OF JOSEPH VIRGO

PAV PAW, Mich., April 22.—Breaking the silence she has maintained since her arrest in California several months ago, Mrs. Sarah Tabor, 80 years old, charged with the death of her daughter, Maude Tabor Virgo, 45 years old, today claimed as a lie the statement that she had said she "alone was responsible for my daughter's death, as the prosecution claims."

The state was given a setback today when the court upheld the objection of defense attorneys to the prosecution seeking to establish a motive.

The court held that it is not necessary to establish a motive in a manslaughter case.

Attempts by the prosecution to induce Joseph C. Virgo, husband of the dead woman to testify, have failed. According to G. H. Warner, assistant prosecutor, Virgo is said to be in Indiana, and refuses to appear as a witness.

The state announced today that it expected to close its case tomorrow with the testimony of Prof. A. S. Warth, pathologist at the University of Michigan.

CAILLAUX FOUND GUILTY BY SENATE

Former Premier Placed Own Ambitions Higher Than Those of Nation.

though the deliberations might degenerate into a free-for-all fight. It was a stormy scene, a juror's room in a criminal court building multiplied by 20.

The verdict may mean a sentence of five years' banishment for Caillaux, which may, however, be diminished to one year, according as extenuating circumstances are found. Incarceration in a fortress is another sentence which may be pronounced. Friday, when the high court reconvenes, it was the consensus of opinion that the sentence would be light and that the 25 months which Caillaux has spent in jail and a bastion would be taken into consideration.

Attorneys Disconsolate. The former premier's attorneys were disconsolate over the verdict and rushed in an automobile to the Neuilly Cantinarium to inform M. Caillaux of the verdict. The defendant and remained in the cantinarium through the day's sitting. Before they started away, however, M. Moutet said to the Associated Press:

"M. Caillaux was convicted not for what he has done, but for what he might do were he allowed to go free."

It seems probable that Caillaux will be condemned to pay the costs of the trial, amounting to more than $50,000. Among these is a bill for investigation in the United States, which is one of the prominent items. M. More-Glaffert, of Caillaux's counsel, saying it would reach $50,000.

The crowds around the palace dispersed somewhat sullenly, prodded by gendarmes. Cheers and hisses were about evenly divided, but there was no rioting. The closing scene was devoid even of fistuffs, except for some hair pulling between two stylish women.
