

CENTENNIAL WILL BE CELEBRATED

Birthday Observance of Indiana University Will be Featured.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 22.—Celebration of the centennial anniversary of Indiana university at Bloomington during the week of May 10 to June 4 will be one of the most elaborate of the university's activities. Program for the 100th birthday observance indicates varied features and exercises for the celebration. On Sunday, May 26, the Rev. Allan B. Philpott, '99, pastor of the Central Christian church at Indianapolis, will deliver the baccalaureate address.

"All university day" has been planned for Monday with a university circus, parade of students and similar features. On that day the senior class exercises including the swing-out in cap and gown, smoking the peace pipe, planting the class tree and vine and senior play will be given. Tuesday will be Alumni day and election of officers of the Alumni trustee will be conducted. In the afternoon Indiana and Notre Dame baseball teams will clash on Jordan field. The university pageant will be given in the late afternoon.

On Wednesday the pageant will be repeated and the remainder of the day will be devoted to class and organization reunions and the Alumni dinner in the evening. Visiting Alumni will parade on Thursday and Indiana and Purdue university baseball teams will play during the afternoon. Final presentation of the pageant will be on that day.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood will deliver the commencement address on Friday morning. Three former presidents of the university, Dr. David Starr Jordan, Dr. John M. Coulter and Dr. Joseph Swain, will speak during the exercises.

PRaises Women's Work.

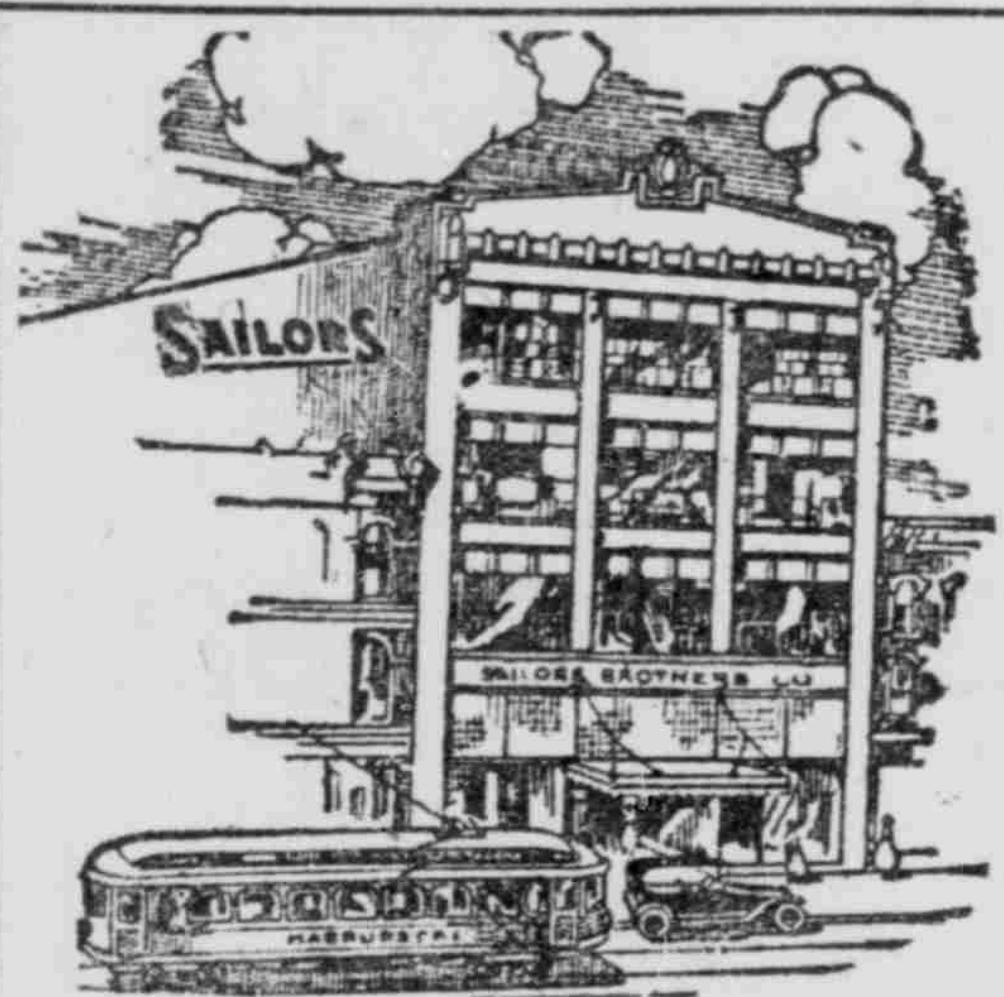

Women proved their efficiency in the taking of the recent census. Tributes to their reliability wherever employed have been numerous and from the 10th district of Missouri John A. Burne, supervisor, makes a typical report. Mr. Burne says: "Out of a total force of 623 persons under my supervision in the district (city of St. Louis), 296 were women. Furthermore, I take this opportunity to say that as a whole their work was very conscientiously and satisfactorily done."

Defeat of the suffrage bill in Delaware was characterized as a "protest of local pride against the pressure brought to bear by national suffragists and political leaders from the outside." It is odd how often shame wears the cloak of the haughty.
