

TWO U. S. WARSHIPS ON WAY TO MEXICO

JONES FLAYS
LAX MORALITY
OF WOMEN

Evangelist Tells 6,000 Women About Evils of This Age.

The most serious of all the serious problems confronting the world today is the great change which is taking place in the womanhood of the world, declared Bob Jones, before an audience of more than 6,000 women in his sermon, Friday night, the women only. "Men are losing their respect for women and the percentage of good women in the world is on the decrease. Twice as many men are reading the Bible and saying prayers as women," he said in beginning his address on "The Moral Woman," which he placed the present day tendencies toward laxity and immorality.

For three-quarters of an hour preceding the sermon the 6,000 women present joined in the song service conducted by Loren Jones following which the ushers, who had assisted in sealing the audience, rendered a "Good Night, Ladies," and made and took their leave. A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. Norman Kelb and Mrs. Walter Fassnacht.

That a second and last meeting for women only would be held on Thursday, May 6, at which time Bob Jones will talk on "The Women in the Church" was mentioned in the announcements made preceding the services. On next Sunday afternoon Rev. Jones will talk to men only on "The Sins of Men," during which time services will be held for women simultaneously in the First M. E. and First Christian churches.

Next Monday night will be Sunday school night at which time all Sunday school members are expected to participate in a mammoth parade which will be led by a squad of policemen and accompanied by a band. No one will be seated in the audience that night until the Sunday school delegation has been accommodated.

Taking for his text: I Timothy, 5:9, "But She That Liveth in Pleasure is Dead While She Liveth," Bob Jones delivered a stirring denunciation of the modern woman, where they were forced by the dense clouds of smoke which filled the house.

Fire which started in a box of rubbish in the basement of the Nicholas R. Feltes residence, 127 W. North Shore dr., at 11:20 o'clock Friday night and burned its way between walls to the second floor of the house, caused a damage of $5,000. Lieut. Alfred of the chemical company rescued three people from the second story balcony where they were forced by the dense clouds of smoke which filled the house.

The type of woman I am going to discuss, said Bob Jones, "is the most adaptable woman under the shining sun. She can adapt herself to any style in the world. If it is stylish to be fat, she will get fat if she has to eat up everything in town and if it is stylish to be thin she will grow thin, as she has to starve herself to death."

PLAYS Modern Dress.

Rev. Jones followed with a tirade against the modern dress. "Some mothers take their poor ignorant daughters and consecrate them on the altar of fashion and the modish. Their life goes out before they are grown. You women need not expect men to be clean until you dress decently. One hears a great deal about the street masquerade; let women put on more clothes."

You know there are men in this country who are driven to bankruptcy by extravagant wives. If a woman's worldliness and damnable extravagance sends her husband to the penitentiary she ought to be behind the bars in his place; and he ought to be hanged for being a fool," he declared.

The craze for admiration, Rev. Jones described as one of the pernicious characteristics of the modern woman. "Whenever women reach the point where they long to be admired they are on the brink of ruin and the verge of disgrace and damnation," he declared.

"The modern woman is inclined to be possessed of contempt. 'She runs the home, the business, the church and is going to run the government, and should heed that she doesn't run them into hell.'

Women Lack Ideas.

"The modern woman is lax in her ideals. She believes in the old standard but instead of lifting men up to the old standard of purity set by American women she has degraded herself to the standard of men. Our type of woman is a novel reader. She craves the sex novel of lurid type and so long as she loves a crooked hero in a novel she is crooked in her heart whether she is or not."

"The woman I am talking about is unfit to marry," he continued. "In the first place, because she despises restraint and shirks the burdens of wifehood and motherhood. There is another type of woman who is apt to marry the one who has a secret past hidden in her heart and has thrown away the key. afraid that her husband will find it. If nothing ever happened in your life which you must keep from your mother or the man you marry, happy girl," he exclaimed.

"The modern woman is leading lives for pleasure, he declared, and followed with a denunciation of the three outstanding sinful pleasures—the theater, card playing and dancing.

PLAYS Stage Vulgarity.

"There are some good actors and actresses," he declared, "but the stage is the only place where one doesn't have to have character to maintain standing. Some of you girls turn up your nose at my straight preaching; call me com-

They Saved the Baby and Then Swore Fervently

STUDEBAKERS TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

New Buildings at Plant Will Be Dedicated June 3.

South Bend citizens are to be given an opportunity to see with their own eyes what already has been done by the Studebaker corporation, and what is yet to be done by that manufacturing institution in the enlargement of its plant here.

The occasion will be the dedication of the buildings already erected at the plant at a cost of more than $10,000,000.

June 3 Is Date.

The date set for the dedication is June 3, and all that day South Bend citizens will be welcome to view the great automobile manufacturing plant, and what has been accomplished by the corporation in carrying out its expansion program, and to join with the employees of the corporation in enjoying the entertainment which is to be provided at Springbrook park on the afternoon of the dedication day.

There are to be impressive ceremonies at the plant during the morning, according to representative plans for the day. The plant will close down at 11 o'clock on the morning of June 3 in order to give the employees an opportunity to go home and prepare for the afternoon's festivities.

It is understood, will be welcomed to visit the plant from eight o'clock in the morning on throughout the day. Guides in sufficient numbers to adequately care for the crowds will be provided, and everything of interest inside the plant will be shown and explained.

To Form Parade.

At 1 p.m. a complete parade of all the workers will form in line in front of the corporation's administration building on S. Main st., and from there they will march to Springbrook park. A band will head the parade, and at the park there will be pale games and varied forms of entertainment.

An effort is being made by those in charge of the arrangements to secure two of the best possible ball gowns obtainable for the occasion.

June 3, the day of the dedication, will probably be designated as

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR).

FIREMAN RESCUES THREE PEOPLE IN MIDNIGHT BLAZE

Home of C. N. Feltes, North Shore Drive, is Gutted by Spectacular Fire.

Fire which started in a box of rubbish in the basement of the Nicholas R. Feltes residence, 127 W. North Shore dr., at 11:20 o'clock Friday night and burned its way between walls to the second floor of the house, caused a damage of $5,000. Lieut. Alfred of the chemical company rescued three people from the second story balcony where they were forced by the dense clouds of smoke which filled the house.

Mr. Feltes had been kept awake by a child with an aching tooth, and during one of his trips down stairs to the medicine chest, thought he detected the odor of smoke. He made two trips to the furnace to see if it was smoking, but overlooked the box or rubbish.

Fire Spreads.

The fire ate itself quickly to the second floor where the family were asleep. They were, beside Mr. Feltes, his two children, Helen and Norman, his sister and Miss Helen Schabell. When they started to go

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR).

POLISH ARMY MEN RETURN TO HOMES WITH MANY HONORS

South Bend Youths Who Fought in France and Poland Arrive.

Five South Bend homes were gladdened Friday night and assurances were given of making others immeasurably happy in the near future when five South Bend members of Gen. Haller's Polish army unceremoniously arrived home after a 28 months' absence in the service of the new Polish republic. Others are following on army transports.

The first detachment of the South Bend legions to return home are Casper Prentek, 717 Phillips st.; Wladyslaw Radoch, 1105 Prairie st.; Peter Szczepak, 805 Phillips st.; Stanislaw Czarcier, 1809 W. Division st., and Stanislaus Podolak.

The first arrivals were dinner at Kable's restaurant by the members of the committee, who were instrumental in recruiting members of the expedition, a coming homecoming celebration and a banquet hosted by the Legion.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his partner, Detective Bill Delinski, from possible death at the hands of a vengeful automobile thief about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Hamilton's quickness at the draw beat that of Luther Burgoine, 17-32 Portage av., by matter of a split second, and as a result Burgoine and a Leland companion, Arthur Clark, 18, 701 Leland av., are only faintly the charges of grand larceny of murder.

Young Burgoine and Clark have been in the practice of stealing the Lexington automobile of C. J. Jackson, 820 Ashland av., and going for joy rides.

Detective Horace Hamilton's prowess with his revolver saved his