

POSTMASTER WILL PROMOTE SALES OF U. S. CERTIFICATES

Treasury Department Starts Nation-Wide Work and Save Movement.

Citizens are to be asked to get behind the nation-wide work and save movement in a material way, according to an announcement made by Postmaster Hugh P. Dunnahoo. In this movement, which is part of the campaign for wise spending, saving and safe investment, each citizen of the community is to be urged to invest in at least one of the 1920 Treasury Savings certificates of the $100 denomination, which always will be worth more than it costs. Postmaster Hugh P. Dunnahoo declared he was confident the citizens of this community would maintain the record they have of investing in government securities.

In making this announcement of the launching of this movement Postmaster Hugh P. Dunnahoo explained the benefits to investors of the Treasury Savings certificates. He said:

"Purchasing one of these certificates may be likened to planting a crop and then simply watching it grow with the assurance that it will yield a certain amount. Unlike other crops, however, it is not necessary to cultivate, irrigate or put a fence around this crop. Its growth is certain and the government insures the crop against loss.

Pleasant Small Investors. "This new government security is particularly attractive to the small investor because of its many good terms, especially the registration feature. It is registered immediately on purchase, thus offering protection against loss, fire or theft. It cannot depreciate in value. It is backed by the entire resources of the nation, and increases in value each month you hold it.

Treasury Savings certificates are short term notes, maturing January 1, 1925. They yield a substantial income, actually more than 4 1/4 per cent interest if held to maturity. They are a liquid investment, redeemable upon demand for more than you paid for them, and they have valuable tax exemption privileges.

The Postmaster said he would accept either cash or bank drafts in payment for registered securities which will be delivered in two or three days. The price of Treasury Savings certificates for the month of April is $83 for the $100 denomination and $830 for the $1,000 denomination.

Minneapolis Orchestra Will Appear Here

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, which will entertain South Bend music lovers with two concerts at the Oliver theater May 11, under the auspices of the South Bend conservatory, has enjoyed an almost spectacular growth since its organization, 15 years ago.

It has been said that whenever virgin soil produces a rich growth the world is astonished. But there is nothing surprising about it, the extraordinary growth is merely the result of certain rare combinations of seed, soil and cultivation. The exceptional growth of the Minneapolis orchestra has been cited as an apt illustration of the statement. The seed was the money put into the formulating organization by three or four wealthy Minneapolis residents who believed that a great city should have a great orchestra. Into the soil of public spirit and love of music went the seed. The cultivation has been the work of Emil Oberholfer, whose genius was just beginning to reveal itself when he was made conductor of the orchestra.

The fact that such a brilliantly successful organization should have arisen in a midwestern American city rather than in one of the older musical capitals is both interesting and surprising. Minnesota has so long furnished the country with quantities of staple products that little besides these material commodities was expected. Yet the state has the distinction of sending to the art centers of the country an orchestra equal in artistic stature to any grown in the East. Emil Oberholfer's leading has a freshness and vitality that delights his audiences who have grown weary of pedantic tendencies in orchestral work.

Country Schools Are Closed for Vacation Period

"No more pencils, no more books, no more teacher's angry looks," "No more Latin, no more French, no more sittin' on a hard wood bench," "Why don't they learn us somethin'?"

Limericks and others similar to the aforementioned filled the Friday afternoon in the rural districts of the county as youngsters of all ages, loaded up with armfuls of books, pencil boxes and written paper, trod happily home through the mud, a carefree lot with the tribulations and anxieties of the past eight months over. For the county schools closed Friday afternoon for the summer vacation and "Skins" and his pals were already dreaming and meditating over the prospect of "some swell fishin'" and maybe that old swimming hole ain't goin' to be peachy, Oh, boy!

Little girls, all dressed up in their gingham finery picked their way feelingly through the muddy roads for everybody was all dressed up for the occasion. Some schools in the county held appropriate exercises while others "just met informally" but the routine and tedious necessity of studying things of the past, to be forgotten until that dreadful day of next fall comes around again when all will dig out the old psalmals and school books and gratefully back "to see the new teacher anyway."

CHARGES HUSBAND CONTINUALLY SWORE

William C. Copeland nagged, scolded, swore at his wife and continually used profane language in addition to pushing her in an angry and harsh manner, according to a petition for divorce filed in the superior court Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Cora Copeland. The defendant is further charged with failure to support his family and repeatedly told the plaintiff that he did not love her and that he was going to get a divorce. According to the complaint the cruel treatment seriously affected the health of the plaintiff and caused her to suffer. She asks permission to use her former name, Cora Hedges.

Morris Goldenberg is charged with cruel and inhuman treatment of his wife, Tillie Goldenberg, according to a suit for divorce filed Thursday. The defendant is accused of using "an iron poker, silverware and articles of furniture" to practice his cruelties. The sum of $2,000 is asked as alimony.

WOULD COLLECT BILL. The Tribune Publishing Co. has brought suit against James F. Cole and the town of Lakeville to collect $70 and interest which is alleged to be due the plaintiffs as a printing bill.

Lynchburg Woman Says Tanlac Made Life Worth Living

MRS. MARY E. ROACH of Lynchburg, Va.

"Tanlac has been the favorite medicine in my cabinet for three years," said Mrs. M. E. Roach, of 402 Clay street, Lynchburg, Virginia, in an interview, recently.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," explained Mrs. Roach, "I had been suffering from indigestion, rheumatism and other troubles for nine years and could find nothing to help me. If I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy I would blurt up with sour gas and almost smother. My heart would palpitate frightfully and when these spells came on me I was so dizzy and weak I could hardly stand up. I often had to stop and rest while doing my housework. I was badly constipated and hardly ever free of headache. I also suffered with rheumatism in my fingers and especially in cloudy, rainy or snowy weather my pain was almost unbearable. My kidneys and liver were out of order and I had the worst kind of pains in my back, legs and shoulders. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me more harm than good, as I always suffered afterwards and had become so run down, weak and miserable that I sometimes felt like life was hardly worth living.

"One day I read a testimonial for Tanlac that seemed so sincere that I decided to see if the medicine would help me. Well, the first bottle did me so much good that I got another, then another and so on until my troubles all disappeared. As I said, that was three years ago, and I have been able to keep myself in good health ever since by taking a few doses of Tanlac now and then as I feel the need of it. Tanlac has built me up and given me strength and energy so that my housework is easy for me. It makes life worth living, for it keeps me with a good appetite, helps me to digest my food properly, and, by relieving me of all suffering and nervousness, enables me to sleep soundly every night. I shall always praise Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in South Bend at The Central Drug Store and in Mishawaka at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON PROPOSALS OF GOVERNMENT AGENT

Several Mill Owners Have Met Demands of Striking Employees, is Report.

With the expressed opinion of both labor union leaders and contractors that it is possible that no action will be taken on the government proposals to end the present labor strike presented by Fred L. Feick, commissioner from the department of labor, expected relief conditions have failed to materialize and the strained situation continues. Both factions in statements made Friday signify their intention to stand pat on the original demands with the open or closed shop controversy the big barrier in the road to a settlement.

Mill Owners Sign. However it has been learned that several mill owners have reached an understanding with their employees and the latter have returned to work. These include the Smogor Lumber Co., the Michigan Ave. Lumber Co., the Novelty Planing Mill and the Arts and Craft studio. The demands of the workers which have been complied with by the aforementioned employers are, 80 cents an hour as the minimum wage scale, nine hours a day with time and a half for overtime.

Few Carpenters Out. As a result of a mandate issued by the Carpenters' District council to the effect that union carpenters would refuse to handle material from mills that had not met the demands of the mill men, carpenters in the employ of the Indiana Lumber Co., walked out. Efforts to substantiate a rumor several days ago were fruitless, Business Agent Pickens of the Carpenters' union refusing to discuss the situation saying "he had nothing to say." The carpenters say they will continue the strike until some satisfactory settlement is reached.

ment of the demands are made with the employees. Electrical workers employed by the Comstock construction Co., have ceased work pending settlement of difficulties but it is understood that an understanding will soon be reached.
