

DISMISS CASE FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Couple Makes Affidavits That Relative Was Never Robbed.

John Magelinski and wife swore in circuit court affidavits a short time ago that John's brother, Joe, who caused Steve Reno and Tom Elence to be sentenced to the state prison for from 5 to 14 years for robbing him, had never been robbed as was alleged. On the strength of the affidavits, Reno and Elence were granted a new trial by Special Judge Eli Seebirt and Wednesday morning Deputy Pros. George Schock dismissed the case against the men for lack of evidence.

At the first trial Reno and Elence were found guilty of robbing Joe Magelinski, as the latter had alleged, the three men had been bootlegging and a quarrel over spoils terminated in Magelinski accusing the men of robbing him. These findings together with the affidavits filed destroyed the evidence that the state had used in convicting the men at the first hearing and Wednesday morning Deputy Pros. Schock dismissed the case.

Elence and Reno have been confined to the state prison for nearly a year.
