

ADMISSION OF STATEMENT IS COURT RULING

Jury to Hear Relevant Parts of First Admission of August Schultz.

would be the authorities in connection with the murder. The finding by the jury yesterday is somewhat similar to the statements made by Mrs. Stella Schultz, wife of the defendant, to H. B. Stout, Pennsylvania railroad detective of Plymouth, Ind., shortly before Schultz's arrest here more than a year ago by the railroad detective.

Tells of Holdups.
The admission tells of the Wright and Danforth living at Schultz's home here, and of the finding by the police of a box of cartridges of the same caliber used in the revolver with which Muesel and Chrobot were murdered and William Muesel wounded and secreted in the defendant's trunk after his arrest by Detective Stout.

Holdups by Schultz and Wright in various cities in Indiana and Michigan are also told of in the alleged admission of the defendant. The admission is to be allowed to go in as evidence on the theory that the circumstances of the defendant's admission of the facts of the case will probably have an opportunity to hear and see the state's star witness, Mrs. Schultz, the defendant's wife. Mrs. Schultz was to have been placed on the stand yesterday, but the arguments of the defense attorneys prevented this. Special Counsel Samuel P. Schwartz and Vitis G. Jones from placing any more state witnesses on the stand.

Spectators yesterday, however, did not lose hope of hearing testimony until court adjourned last night. After the adjournment, the courtroom remained occupied throughout the day, and those who were able to gain standing room only held their positions against the walls in the out aisles. Spectators who were not too timid to venture within the courtroom and did so and placed themselves in vantage positions to hear and see all that was going on.

Court Warns Spectators.
The crowds for the most part have been unusually quiet, and Judge Montgomery was forced to take counsel only once to let the crowd know that quiet is very desirable on the court upon the part of the spectators. After the judge had warned the restless ones that all those who wanted to leave the court room must do so immediately or remain in quiet until adjournment, the drop of a pin could have been heard.

Women were again prominent in numbers among the spectators at both the morning and afternoon sessions yesterday. They sat through the unimpassioned arguments of the attorneys. Schultz's two sisters, who have attended every session of the trial since the first hearing, remained by their brother's side. Mrs. William Muesel, wife of Mr. Muesel, who was wounded at the time his brother and Chrobot were killed, occupied a chair inside the attorneys' rail. Other female members of the Muesel family were in the gallery. Spectators in yesterday's sessions.

The defendant still remains the center of attraction. All eyes in the courtroom follow him as he is brought in and taken out by two deputy sheriffs. Schultz continues to present a well-groomed appearance, although his tail form appears to stoop more than at the beginning of the trial. He sits unmoved at the side of his attorney, J. W. McNerny, and watches his other counsel, W. A. McNerny, conduct his battle for life.

"Contributions from the public will be accepted and the Legion will glad to have any and all patriotic citizens make use of our organization in this annual tribute to our fallen. The Legion, will receive, disburse and account for all moneys tendered for the purpose, but Commander Galbraith does not feel that the contribution from the American Legion should be less than the amount called for and that contributions from the public should not be allowed to reduce the amount contributed by members of the Legion. A sore throat is a good breeding place for diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can easily depend upon TONSILINE. Give TONSILINE upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance to get that in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the germ can better defend the throat if attacked by diphtheria germs. ### SELECT BURIAL SITE NEAR BURROUGHS HOME

By Associated Press.
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 30.—A large boulder, upon which John Burroughs played as a boy and sat in study of nature as a man, will form the headstone of the grave where his body is to be interred next Sunday, on the 84th anniversary of his birth.
The burial plot, selected Wednesday by relatives of the great naturalist who died suddenly yesterday, while returning to his home near here on a passenger train is high in the Catskill mountains at Roxbury. A landscape expert accompanied a funeral director there Wednesday to plan a little park around the grave.
A few feet from the burial ground stands the old house in which Burroughs was born. A little distance away is "Woodchuck hole," the summer camp of the naturalist.

CHICAGO EXPLOSION YET Baffles POLICE

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 30.—The mystery surrounding the explosion of a fireworks factory which cost at least six lives, rased several buildings and rocked a densely populated section of the city Tuesday, remained unsolved Wednesday night, despite every effort of the police and state officials.
The premises where the explosion took place were being used for the illicit manufacture of fireworks in violation of city ordinances, was the statement of several persons, who advanced the theory that workmen playing with toy torpedoes set off a secret magazine containing several tons of explosives.
The building in which the blast occurred was known in the neighborhood as a "house of mystery." It was a one-story brick structure, which appeared to have no windows and never exhibited signs of life.

WAGE CUT ASKED BY TRUNK LINE OF RAIL BOARD

New York Central Would Reduce Pay of 20,000 Unskilled Workers.

new makes it necessary to submit evidence to this board asking an adjustment of wages.
Before the railroad testimony was finished, B. M. Jewell, speaking for the employees, made a brief answer to the railroad's request, declaring it would be without precedence for the board to acquiesce in the New York Central's request.
"The employees waited 15 months for relief under rapid increase of costs of living," Mr. Jewell said. "We do not believe the present rates are unjust nor unreasonable, and we estimate it would take five years properly to reimburse the employees for the losses sustained during the time they waited for an increase last year."
"The burden of decreased cost should not be placed on the lowest paid employee—the common laborer. I think we should keep in mind that when the labor board established these wages the interstate commerce commission granted rates which would take care of them."
Business Slack Temporarily.
"In our opinion this business depression is only temporary. If the railroads are granted any relief they should pass on the benefit of those who pay the bill."
Mr. Aronson replied that the cost of living had showed a steady downward trend for nearly a year and that a similar trend in wages of other industries also was noticeable. Traffic rates, he said, could not be determined for any length of time and the present rates were wholly inadequate, he contended.
Reductions of 17 to 31 percent were proposed in various classes of unskilled labor on the New York Central and a comparison with the common labor in other industries was made by M. A. McCleary, statistician for the road. Maintenance of wages, he said, would be reduced from 45-48 1/2 to 33-35.
Farm labor figures were introduced, backed by S. L. Striving, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation of New York, and Frank M. Bradley, head of the New York State Federation of Agriculture. Wages in 1920 averaged from $50 to $85, according to Mr. Striving's figures, and now were down to $35 to $55. F. E. Warner, of South Haven, Mich., president of a large fruit exchange, said the $75 wage in 1920 was now about $50 and the day laborer's rate was 35 cents now, as compared to 50 in 1920.

JAPAN TO ERECT WIRELESS POST

Frustrated in Securing Island, Nipponese to Build on Own Territory.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Frustrated in their persistent efforts to oust the Americans from the possession of Russian island, the most powerful wireless station in the Orient, the Japanese have at last despaired and have undertaken the construction of a powerful station in Japan proper, according to official advisers reaching Washington.
Japanese naval engineers have begun the erection of a station at Oshima, in Sagami prefecture, some 500 miles south by east of the American station at Vladivostok. When completed it will be the Arlington or Japan and will be capable of communicating with all parts of the world.
Back of Japan's decision to build this new station is a record of several years' strenuous and futile effort to secure possession of the Russian island whirly which is now held and operated by American naval officers and some 35 men recruited from the Asiatic fleet. The seizure of Oshima could be traced back to the American seizure of this wireless station, according to naval officers. The ill-feeling that admittedly does exist was manifested not long since in the shooting to death of Lieut. William R. Langdon by a Japanese sentry.

CONFER TODAY ON WAGE PROPOSITION

Wage Scale of Carpenter and Mason Journeymen to be Discussed.

Controversy between building contractors of the city and workmen will be aired out this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when a representative gathering of labor leaders and workmen will be held in the council chamber of the city hall. There is a state-wide movement afoot to reduce the wage scale of carpenter and mason journeymen and an effort to reach an agreement upon the subject will be attempted today.
It is understood that the contractors would like to have the men accept a wage reduction of 15 to 20 percent but that any reduction whatsoever is opposed by the workmen. In view of the fact that there is little unemployment here, South Bend being more fortunate in this manner than most cities of the midwest, it is doubtful what the outcome of the meeting will be.
It was said that the meeting will be held at the suggestion of the Builders and Traders exchange. The meeting is open to the public.
