The Republican Party Faces Defeat

ALL SIGNS BOTH NATIONAL AND LOCAL POINT TO GREAT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY—INDIANA SEEMS SURE FOR BRYAN, KERN AND MARSHALL AND THERE WOULD BE NO SURPRISE IF LANDSLIDE DEVELOPED ON ELECTION DAY.

INCREASED MAJORITY IN PUTNAM

All Things Seem Propitious for Local Democrats to Poll the Largest Vote Since 1876.

The Republican party, with only a few days left to fight, is facing defeat both nationally and locally. They are struggling against the tide and they know it. Long ago they would have lost heart, but for the remembrance of the former large majorities in their favor which must be overcome. All the trend, they acknowledge, is for Bryan. In 1896, the wise ones tell us, Bryan polled more votes than McKinley, though they did not count in securing electors. Now all things look so much better than in 1896, with a solid Democracy behind him and a weakened Republican party before him, with new recruits to his ranks from all parties, that victory seems sure.

The latest cheering news is from New York where Bryan has been spending a few days. On Monday night he spoke in Madison Square Garden, the largest building obtainable there. Every nook and corner was occupied, and thousands on thousands were turned away. When Bryan appeared the cheering began and lasted for a quarter of an hour, the greatest ovation given any candidate since the nominations. Conservative estimates now give New York to Bryan.

Not only has Bryan's own presence helped the cause there, but Roosevelt's letters have made many votes for the Democratic candidate. Thousands of men have become disgusted with the Republican campaign, conducted as it is from the White House, and will vote against the party which allows such personal domination.

In Indiana the trend is continually toward Bryan and Marshall. The fight that has been made against Marshall by the Anti-Saloon League is beginning to react. The fact that the League has united with the Republican party, and is allowing personal letters to be sent out from Republican headquarters as campaign material, has led many to see the partisanship behind the whole movement. The character of Marshall, the honest, straight-forward man, without hypocrisy, paying his own expenses that he might be free from all pledges and open to do what is right, has won hearts and votes on all sides. The position of his opponent, willing to promise anything, willing to say one thing in private and another thing in public, has sent many thinking men to Marshall. The lies circulated in the campaign by Hanly and Watson and Bingham have but made Marshall more popular, and Indiana is now his.

In Putnam County all things point to a largely increased majority. Mr. Hostetter will be elected by a larger majority than four years ago, unless the signs fail, and the rest of the ticket will make gains. The unjust attack upon Mr. Hostetter has reacted, as all unjust attacks do. Men are remembering what he is, and that he has always reserved the right to vote as he thinks right, and refused to allow any dictation. He is "safe and sane" and will get the votes.

CRAWLEY-HOSLER

Miss Hazel Crawley laugher of Mr. and Mrs. George Crawley was married Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of her parents to Mr. Arnold Hosler of Princeton. Rev. J. W. Walker officiated. Following the ceremony they left for Princeton where their home is already furnished. Mr. Hosler is employed as Southern express agent in that city.

TAFT IS IN GREENCASTLE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE ADDRESSES NEAR 3500 PEOPLE AT THE MONON STATION AT 8:25 FRIDAY MORNING CROWD ABOUT HALF AS LARGE AS THE ONE WHICH HEARD MR. BRYAN ON SUNSET HILL.

HE SPOKE ABOUT FIVE MINUTES

Voice Was so Hoarse That Only Those Who Were Very Close to Him Could Hear—Avoided Issues in His Speech—It Was Just as Well for the Republicans That He Was Not Heard as There Was No Weight to his "Near Argument"—Much Cheering for Bryan.

Judge Taft, Republican candidate for President, spoke to a crowd estimated at from 3500 to 4000 people at the Monon station at 8:25 Friday morning. The crowd was about half as large as the one to hear Mr. Bryan on Sunset Hill.

Mr. Taft's throat is in such condition that he spoke only five minutes. He could be heard only about 30 feet from his train. Not a tenth of the people at the station got to hear what the Presidential candidate said. And it is just as well for the Republicans that this is true, for Mr. Taft's argument, or rather "near argument," was about the thinnest heard here in years.

Judge Taft, the Presidential candidate, said to the people of Putnam County this morning that the present financial panic was hatched by the Republican party and that he believed that the Republican party ought to have the raising of the chick.

Train Was a Little Late.

The special train carrying the candidate was a little late. It was scheduled to reach Greencastle at 8:15 but it was 8:25 before it pulled into the station. The crowd stood along the station platform and on both sides of the railroad from the station east to Jackson Street. The train pulled east clear past the crowd.

As the train pulled in the "smiling candidate" was seen standing on the rear platform. Standing beside him was Charley Zeis, whose smile was nearly as wide as the Presidential candidate himself. T. T. Moore also stood on the platform with Mr. Taft.

Crowd Greatly Disappointed.

The crowd was greatly disappointed in the meeting. In the first place only a few could get near the train. These few were especially disappointed when they heard what Mr. Taft said.

Judge Taft said the Republican Good Times caused a panic but insisted that the people elect him so that they can have some more Republican Good Times panics.

In the second place Mr. Taft's voice was so bad that he could scarcely be heard by those very near him. And in the third place the scheduled 25-minute talk lasted for just 5 minutes.

Several of the DePauw students who were down to hear the speech were the noise makers during the time the crowd was awaiting the arrival of the Taft train. These boys, many of them Democrats, found a good opportunity to rid themselves of their college spirit by giving yells for Mr. Taft.

Many Cheer for Bryan.

The crowd consisted largely of Democrats who were there to see the Republican candidate more out of curiosity than anything else. This was clearly demonstrated when the Taft train started to pull out. There was more cheering for Mr. Bryan at that time than for Mr. Taft.

What Mr. Taft Said.

Mr. Taft noticeably avoided all of the issues of the campaign in his speech. County Chairman Zeis went through the motions of introducing the speaker to the crowd, but there was so much noise that not a word of the introductory statements could be heard. Then "Sunrise" Bill smiled and started to speak. He said something about the big crowd and about DePauw university. Probably no one outside of the candidate himself knows just what he said as the noise continued as he was speaking of them.

Mr. Taft did not mention Bank Guarantee, Tariff, Campaign Contributions or Injunction, but noticeably avoided all of the issues of the campaign.

Admits There is a Panic.

Then Mr. Taft admitted that there is a panic. A Republican born panic. He said that the panic was of course felt here. The cause of the panic, said Mr. Taft, is that the country was enjoying too much prosperity. Business was too good, he said, and a panic resulted. Now, said the candidate, the only way business can be stimulated to its normal condition, is by gaining the confidence of the people.

Recommends Queer Remedy.

My election is the only thing which can restore that confidence he said. Mr. Bryan's election cannot do it. That was all Mr. Taft said.

He did not explain why Mr. Roosevelt and himself had let the confidence of the people slip. He did not explain why Mr. Roosevelt and himself had let the confidence of the people slip. He did not explain why Mr. Roosevelt and himself had let the confidence of the people slip.

And if prosperity of the Roosevelt-Taft variety causes panics, why, why should the people want confidence restored, for, if Taft is right, if confidence is restored business will flourish and when business is good panics will result.

SUNBEAMS FROM "SUN RISE"

T. T. Moore stood on the back platform of the Taft train. As the train came to a stop many in the crowd took off their hats to the candidate. Mr. Taft returned the courtesy and took off his. So did Mr. Zeis T. T. Moore, however, forgot to doff his bonnet in the excitement of the minute.

The noise of the exhaust from a freight engine which stood beside the Taft car caused much noise and noticeable annoyance to the candidate. Once Mr. Taft stopped speaking and looked around at the engine in a most disgusted "tone of voice." The engine, however, paid little attention to the candidate's look of scorn and continued to "blow off" for several seconds.

It was rumored on the streets that morning that the Tin-plate Mill officers have issued a statement to their employees stating that the mill will close down for four years in case Mr. Bryan is elected.

The Republican Drum Corps, with their banners stood right up against the end of the car. Their banners obstructed the view of many but that cut no ice with the drummer boys.

One of the conspicuous banners held up in front of the candidate as he spoke read "Somebody Lied." Surely it was not the intention of the creator of the sign on the banner to be personal.

Mr. Taft in his speech this morning stated that the panic was not felt in the West. Soon after Mr. Taft's train had gone Ezra Smythe, a prominent Greencastle railroad man, who was in California a few months ago, called at the office of the Herald and asked that the people of Putnam County be informed correctly regarding the panic and the West. Mr. Smythe said that the panic was felt in California even more than in the

ANOTHER FARM FIRE

A fire on the Jesse Hamrick farm near Clinton Falls threatened to do much damage early Friday afternoon. The fire got started in a pasture and after burning much fence threatened to get to the houses on the farm. Neighbors rushed to Mr. Hamrick's aid and finally the blaze was gotten under control. Several men who were in Greencastle who live near the Hamrick farm were called home by phone by the members of their families who feared the fire would get beyond control.

Be sure to read "The People's Column" on the Twelfth Page of the Star-Democrat. There is food for thought there.

Election Returns at Star-Democrat Office

PRINTING THE BALLOTS

COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP TICKETS WERE PRINTED IN THE STAR-DEMOCRAT OFFICE—TWICE THE NUMBER ACTUALLY NEEDED ARE ALWAYS MADE—BESIDE THERE ARE SIX SAMPLE BALLOTS FOR EACH PRECINCT.

THE TOTAL NUMBER IS 23,664

The Work Was Begun Monday Morning and Was Completed Wednesday—James Denny, Fay Hamilton and William Sutherland Are Superintending the Work.

The printing of the county and township ballots for the election to be held next Tuesday has been completed at the Star-Democrat office. In all 23,664 ballots were printed. Of these 11,730 are county ballots. Then there are the same number of township ballots. Beside these there are 204 sample ballots.

The number of ballots to be printed is computed from the number of votes cast for president in each precinct at the last general election. Twice the number of ballots are printed for each precinct as the total of the number of votes cast in that precinct for president at the last general election in 1904.

The printing of the ballots is superintended by the election commissioners. This board is composed of William Sutherland, Fay Hamilton and James Denny. This year Mr. Denny looked after the county ballots. He stood at the press and personally saw that each ballot was properly printed. He also counts them and puts them away in packages of 100 each. The commissioners also see that all disfigured ballots are destroyed.

While Mr. Denny was supervising the printing of the county ballots, Mr. Sutherland looked after the printing of the township ballots. No one was allowed in the press room, outside of the commissioners and the workmen, during the time the ballots were at press.

Paper Has Arranged to Secure Telegraphic and County Results at Office on Tuesday Night—Full News of the Election Will be Thrown on Large Screen Which Will be Hung On the Hurst Buggy Co. Building.

BUGGIES TO BE KEPT OFF STREET

The Star-Democrat has arranged to get the complete county, state and national election returns on the night of Tuesday, November 3. The returns will be thrown on a screen which will be hung on the Hurst Buggy Co. building opposite the Star-Democrat office.

Plans have been perfected whereby the Star-Democrat will get the complete returns by wire and also all county results as soon as they can be compiled. Special effort will be made to handle these returns in a prompt and satisfactory way.

Special equipment, specially adapted for handling election returns with a stereopticon, have been secured and all slides will throw plain and easily read pictures. The screen will be hung high so that it can be plainly seen by everybody. It is probable that Jackson Street in front of the Star-Democrat office will be roped off to prevent carriages and other rigs from interfering with the crowd which will be in front of the office to learn the returns.

HANLY IS NOW EXPOSED

Is Shown That Temperance Fight Was Made to Hide Mal-Administration of the State's Affairs.

FEARS DEMOCRAT INVESTIGATION

In a speech delivered Tuesday night at Indianapolis Ex-Mayor John Holtzman makes some charges against Governor Hanly that are well worth remembering and thinking over. The charges are from records in the state house and show the worst of mis-management, graft and incompetency. It is flatly charged that the Governor fears the election of a Democratic governor because he fears the investigation of his record and acts that would follow. Mr. Holtzman's charges as quoted by The News are as follows:

According to the report of the legislative committee, the estimate of the cost of the new deaf and dumb school was $325,000. Plans were prepared for a building to cost that amount. Accordingly, an appropriation of $315,000 was made. The report of the commission entrusted with the work shows that the total cost of the building contracted for would be $1,044,714. After the appropriation was made, the original architect was discharged, another one employed, and the plans changed so as to make the building cost over a million dollars, which was $750,000 in excess of the appropriation. The legislative committee on State educational, benevolent and correctional institutions for the year 1907 shows that the total cost of Purdue University, with its 1,658 students, was only $1,062,880. It is believed that the deaf and dumb school, with less than 400 students, will cost $1,250,000. The cost of this new school will be equal to the cost of Purdue University, or of the State University and State Normal School combined.

Here is a clear case of reckless extravagance. The State House cost only $2,000,000, and this school for the deaf and dumb, with an average daily enrollment of only 314, will cost $1,250,000. It deserves, not merely criticism, but the severest and sharpest condemnation. Mr. Holtzman charges that $300,000 worth of the stone used was purchased from three Republican politicians, friends of the Governor. He further says that ninety feet of the wall collapsed, throwing the stone cornice and the brick wall to the ground, and that one of the rear walls bulged outward to such an extent that it had to be taken down and rebuilt. The whole construction is said to be flimsy and unsafe, and not fireproof.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

Marshall and His Church.

The following from the Presbyterian Clergyman at Columbia City, Mr. Marshall's home, is interesting to many who have given ear to some of the slanders going the rounds:

"Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 19, 1908. "Mr. Frank W. Carr, Charleston, Ind. "Dear Sir and Brother—Pardon me for my delay in answering your inquiry. I am very glad to have the opportunity of telling you about Mr. Marshall, and I wish every elder who hears such reports would do likewise.

"Mr. Marshall is a man of unimpeachable character in every respect. He is the foremost man in this town in a religious way, and both he and his wife are the chief pillars of support in our church, financially and spiritually. He has been a trustee since the church was organized, and is also a bible class teacher, and is on the executive committee of the Presbyterian Brotherhood. He is an ardent churchman, a true blue Presbyterian of the old-fashioned school.

"Not only is he not a drunkard but he is a total abstainer and has been for many years. No one here even dreams of Tom Marshall tasting liquor of any kind. His wife is our primary teacher in the Sunday School and our most capable worker in all the church and missionary societies.

She has always accompanied Mr. Marshall on his law and business trips as a matter of congeniality, for they have no children, and live by themselves. He could not make his campaign without her, for she is a great support physically and sympathetically. Any other motive for her traveling I wish, as their pastor, to brand as a malicious campaign lie.

"Mr. Marshall's first hobby in life is the Presbyterian church, then the Democratic party, and he is in every way worthy of the support and encouragement of church people, and especially those of his own household of faith. I wish you might in every way help to counteract those false reports in your community. I have written very conservatively about him, and any other minister in town will confirm what I have said. Mr. Marshall has always refused to become an elder. Anything you may see fit to do with the contents of this letter in the interest of Mr. Marshall you are at liberty to do.

Fraternally,
"A. D. SUTHERLAND.

The New York World says that Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan "have assisted in hastening the day of honest publicity," and regrets that President Roosevelt has never shown an equal interest in divorcing corrupt politics and corrupt business.

If Mr. Bryan has assisted in hastening the day of honest publicity he has assisted by contributing to the political history of the United States the statement of a candidate for the high office of President that to publish the sources and amounts of contributions to his campaign fund would reduce his chances of victory at the polls. If we admit that Mr. Taft has helped to hasten the day we must credit President Roosevelt with having aided. He was the first to admit that Mr. Taft could not risk publishing the lists.

HAVE SECRET AGREEMENT

Working Compact Between the Anti-Saloon League and Republican Headquarters Shows Partisanship Of the League.

REPUBLICANS SEND LEAGUE MAIL

The following letters explain themselves. The first one, sent out by James P. Goodrich, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, to Republican Precinct Committeemen, was intended to put in his possession the names of "from five to ten reliable temperance Democrats." When he had secured these names, the other letter given below was mailed to them by the "Anti-Saloon League." The letters show the close-working arrangement between the Republican State machine and the "League." If any "reliable temperance Democrats" receive the "League's" appeal, they will understand that it comes to them merely as a part of the Republican campaign.

Here are the letters:

Indianapolis, Oct. 21, 1908.

My Dear Sir:

This is very important. Please send us in the enclosed envelope just as quickly as possible, the names of from five to ten reliable temperance Democrats of your precinct. If you will do this, I am sure that there will be votes made for the Republican ticket.

Please write the names and post-office addresses on the back of this sheet and return it to us in the enclosed stamped envelope by return mail.

Very truly yours,

James P. Goodrich, Chairman.

When the names were received this letter was sent out from Republican headquarters.

Dear Sir:

In our opinion, Indiana is confronted with the most serious crisis since the civil war. Unless the friends of temperance stand together against the liquor interests at the coming election we may lose those advantages which have been gained by years of strenuous endeavors.

It is the intention of brewers and other managers of the liquor interest to elect a governor, a lieutenant-governor and a legislature in Indiana that can be depended upon to repeal the county local option law. They are doing their utmost to defeat Attorney-General James Bingham for re-election, because he has brought suits against the leading breweries in the State to have their charters annulled on account of their constant, open and flagrant violation of law.

There is no time for the friends of good government to dwell upon mere party differences or microscopic differences in temperance methods. We are confronted by a common foe, bold, brazen, determined and unscrupulous, and it is now necessary for good citizens of whatever party or church affiliations to stand together like a wall of adamant.

We therefore urge voters to stand by those candidates for re-election who voted for the passage of our county local option law. We urge that every candidate favorable to the saloon be defeated. For your further information we publish herewith the accurate records of the two leading candidates for governor. Do not lose sight of the fact that one of these candidates is sure to be elected the next governor of Indiana.

If the people of our churches and all other decent, self-respecting and law-loving citizens will now sink minor matters out of sight and unite in this crisis to oppose the ruinous policy of the leaders of the liquor men,—we can promise that this crisis will be safely passed and the liberties of the people in self-government once more successfully defended and secured.

Yours for Righteous Government!

A most honorable and deserving man, whom the Democrats of Indiana, as well as the great mass of independent voters, will choose as their state leader for the next four years, when they cast their ballots on Tuesday.

DO THEY WANT PROOF?

THIS IS THE WAY TO VOTE

The Indianapolis Star prints the following communication (?) at the head of its editorial column last Wednesday:

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

To the Indianapolis Star:

It seems to me that the Republican newspapers of this state, as well as the Republican orators are not bringing to the attention of thinking men as forcibly as they should a very significant condition in this campaign, and that is that every distiller, every brewer, every saloon keeper, every thief, every keeper of an immoral resort, every prostitute in state of Indiana are a unit in support of Thomas R. Marshall for Governor. And in consequence every man who believes in the sanctity of home, in decency, in morality, in law enforcement, in protection of children from debasing influences, in education, in the moral uplift of the community, should bend every energy to see that a ticket which rallies to its support such an array of the worst elements of civilization should go down to complete and utter defeat. Never in the history of political parties has the line between right and wrong been as strongly marked as in this campaign, and I think it behooves every man and every newspaper that stands for decency to hold up to view the picture of this immoral combination that decent men may shun it as a pestilence.

NORTH NEW JERSEY.

The only reply necessary to such a vicious statement is that if it were possible to prove that every saloon keeper and prostitute in Indiana is supporting Tom Marshall, which it is not, it is absolutely true that Tom Marshall is not supporting the saloon keepers and prostitutes in any way, which is more than the Star can prove for Jim Watson.

Does it want the proof of this statement?—The Hoosier.

Get ready for snow. This is on the authority of those who study the signs of the times. The first flock of wild geese went south at noon today, at least the first flock reported. Especially in evidence is the man who has held that we would have no rain till after it has snowed. This man and his kind are saying that the snow is coming, and are ready to cry, "I told you so," if rain follows. Many declare that we are to have

REGARDING THE ELECTION

Letters Have or Will be Sent to Each Inspector Explaining How to Send in Returns, in a Way Which Will Avoid Delays and Confusion.

THE VOTE TO BE KNOWN EARLY

The following letter will, or already has been sent, to each election inspector in Putnam County. The letter is self explanatory:

October 22, 1908.

Dear Sir:

As Inspector for your precinct, at the November election, 1908, you should call at the office of the Clerk of the Putnam Circuit Court on Saturday, October 31, 1908, for the ballot for your precinct.

Allow us to call your attention to a few things not well understood, in general, that cause confusion and unnecessary work and time to be spent by election officers.

It is your duty to see that each member of the Board fills up and signs every blank provided before the Board adjourns.

Immediately after the count is completed and certified by the Board

you should start for the county seat with your returns.

The returns should consist of one poll-book and one tally-paper sealed in the bag provided, and one poll-book and one tally-paper, not sealed but loose so that this board may immediately proceed to tabulate the vote therefrom.

Remember you must bring with you all the poll-books and tally-papers, used in your precinct. There is a certificate covering the entire vote cast as tabulated by your board that is to be given to the Judge whose politics is the opposite of yours, but do not give him the poll-books or tally-papers.

You must not put the matter of making your returns off until the next day, as you should be at the office of your township trustee the next day after the election to canvass the township vote.

This Board as the County Board of Canvassers, will meet at 6 o'clock p. m. on the day of the election and will be in continuous session until all the returns of the county are tabulated.

The law makes it your duty, and is imperative, that you start for the county seat immediately, after the count is completed, and certified, or send the same by one of the judges.

When you come for the ballots, bring this letter with you.

Yours truly,

JAMES L. HAMILTON,
JAMES T. DENNY,
WM. M. SUTHERLIN,

Board of Election Commissioners, of Putnam County, Indiana.

ARTICLE NOT CORRECTED

General Jesse M. Lee Expresses Disgust at the Action of the Republican Papers That Published False Interview and Refused to Correct It.

NOW ON HIS WAY TO TEXAS

Gen. Jesse M. Lee, whose denial of the purported interview published in the Indianapolis Star and later copied in the local Republican paper, has appeared in these columns, before he left expressed great disgust with the Star for not correcting its false and malicious statements. The Star had been notified by the General that the interview was false and untrue, and had also notified Ludlow himself of this fact. No expression of regret for the misstatement had reached him up to the time of his departure, nor has any correction of the interview appeared in either of the papers that used the interview. This is evidence of the desire on the part of the Star to misrepresent for political purposes, and still further discredits the already discreditable column run by Ludlow. The General looks upon the whole affair as a most contemptible political trick.

In speaking of the lack of courtesy and honesty on the part of the Star Gen. Lee stated further that the basis of his personal regard for Mr. Taft was the fact that it was Mr. Taft who gave him his promotion, and further Taft was governor of the Philippines while Gen. Lee was on duty there, and the two men often came in contact. In spite of all this the General reiterated, before he went away, the statement that he could not endorse Taft's political views, and certainly did not endorse the Republican state ticket.

HOW TO VOTE

All Voters Should Read Carefully the Following Specific Instructions.

Every voter who goes to the polls is interested in making his ballot effective. Instruction in voting, therefore, cannot be too thorough. Not only is this especially true as to first voters, who will have their first experience with the Australian ballot system, but it is true of all others because of the changes that have been made in the law since it was originally passed. At public meetings and privately voters should be given accurate information as to what is required in casting a ballot. The following instructions, therefore, should be studied, as they will be found of value:

The device at the head of the Republican ticket is an eagle.

The Democratic ticket is in the first column, the Republican ticket is in the second column, and so on.

Below is a sample of the heading of the Democratic and Republican Electoral and State tickets, with the respective party devices, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot. The names of the fifteen Presidential Electors come first and are followed by the names of the candidates for state offices.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

For Presidential Elector-at-Large.
ADAM HEIMBERGER.

REPUBLICAN TICKET

For Presidential Elector-at-Large.
WINFIELD T. DURBIN.

When you go into your voting place you will be handed three ballots: The State ballot—On red paper, containing the candidates to be voted on for State offices, except for Senator and Representative.

The county ballot—Printed on white paper.

The township ballot—Printed on yellow paper, containing the township candidates.

If you want to vote a straight Democratic ticket, make a cross within the circle containing the rooster at the head of the first column of the ballot.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

First. You must get your ballot and the blue pencil from the Polling Clerks in the election room.

Second. If you desire to vote a straight ticket, then make a cross, thus, X, within the large circle at the head of the ticket containing the device of the party for whose candidates you desire to vote. If you do not desire to vote a straight ticket, you must not make a cross in the large circle containing the device of a party, but must make a cross, thus, X, on the small square to the left of the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote, on whatever list of candidates it may be. If the large circle at the head of the ticket is marked with a cross or otherwise and the ballot is marked with a cross or otherwise at any other place, it will be void and cannot be counted, unless there be no candidate for some office in the list printed under such marked device, in which case you may indicate your choice for such office by making a cross, thus, X, on the square to the left of the name of any candidate for such office on any other list. The cross must be placed within or on the circle or square, or the ballot will be void and cannot be counted.

Third. Do not mutilate your ballots, nor mark them, either by scratching off a name or writing one upon them, nor in any other way put a mark upon them, except by placing one in the circle or on the squares, as above described. Otherwise the ballot will not be counted. You must not put any mark of any kind upon your ballot except in the manner above described.

Fourth. After you have marked your ballots, and before you leave the election booth, fold them up separately so that the face of each one can not be seen, and so the initial letters of the names of the Polling Clerks on the back thereof can be seen. Then hand your ballots to the Inspector, the pencil to the Polling Clerks, and immediately leave the election room.

Fifth. If you are physically unable to mark your ballots, or can not read English, so inform the Polling Clerks, and make an affidavit to that effect. They will then go with you into the election booth, and you can then tell them how you desire to vote, and they will mark your ballot for you. Neither you nor the Polling Clerks must permit any other person to hear or see how your ballot is marked. It is a penal offense to declare you can not read English or can not mark your ballot, if, in fact, you can.

[In no case can the ballots be marked by the Polling Clerks if the voter can read the English language and is physically able to mark his ballot. Nor can they mark it until the voter has made the proper affidavit.]

Sixth. If you should accidentally, or by mistake, deface, mutilate or spoil one of our ballots, return it to the Poll Clerks and get another one of the same kind.

Seventh. You must not accept a ballot from any person outside of the election room. Any ballot outside is fraudulent; and it is a penitentiary offense to have it in your possession, whether you attempt to vote it or not.

Eighth. You must not attempt to hold any conversation in the election room except with members of the Election Board and the Polling Clerks.

Ninth. Use only the blue pencil handed you by the Polling Clerks in marking your ballots. If you mark with any other pencil, your ballot so marked will be void, and will not be counted.

Tenth. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot, except as above described.

VOTING BY MACHINE.

If you are unable to vote by machine on account of physical disability or inability to read English, and make an affidavit to that effect, you will be instructed or assisted by the Polling Clerks, as in the case of voting by ballot. If you request it, you will, upon being registered by the Polling Clerks, be instructed by them as to the manner of voting by machine. You cannot remain in the voting machine booth more than one minute; and no person can be in or near the machine when a voter is in the voting machine booth unless it is the Polling Clerks while instructing or assisting the voter.

Last night he was taken out of jail by friends who signed bond for his appearance this morning. This morning Hubble appeared before the Mayor and was fined $20. The boy pleaded guilty to the charge against him.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

HOSS TRADERS IN TROUBLE McCONNELL IS ENDORSED

Three Men Arrested This Morning Charged With Stealing Corn From S. A. Hays—Warrant Was Sworn Out by Ed Black Who Saw the Men Take It.

ARE ORDERED TO LEAVE TOWN FINAL DECISION ON OCTOBER 30

Three men, giving their names as John Huffman, Aaron Gansley and Chas. Fentener were arrested Saturday morning on a charge of theft sworn out by Ed. Black. The men are horse traders and had several broken-down animals.

While coming toward Greencastle from the east this morning they took three shocks of corn from a field belonging to S. A. Hays, just east of town. They were going to feed the corn to their horses.

Ed Black who was driving along along the road saw the men take the corn and as soon as he reached town he swore out a warrant for their arrest. As soon as the horse traders arrived in town they were arrested. When taken before the mayor they pleaded guilty. They promised to leave the county immediately, and so were not fined. The men had no money.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN SERIOUS

An auto, a frisky horse and an indignant woman were the principal actors in a comedy, which might have been a tragedy late Friday afternoon. The Badger & Green auto was in front of the store, and started up just as the lady, Mrs. Rachel Neal, of Bainbridge, started to get in her buggy. The horse was frightened and Mrs. Neal was knocked down. Fortunately she was not hurt. Her clothing was considerably worse for her contact with the street and she demanded damages of the owners of the auto, who had immediately gone to her rescue. This was refused and an argument of some length ensued, but the only result was some display of ire by the parties most interested, and no cash results accrued.

BADGER & GREEN

Methodists Smother the Kentucky Lads in Game Played at McKee Field on Saturday Afternoon—Coach Brown Uses Many Subs in Second Half.

In a one-sided contest Saturday afternoon DePauw defeated Georgetown College by a score of 44 to 6. The Kentuckians were unable to withstand the Methodist line bucks and were forced to play a defensive game. The DePauw goal line was crossed once by Creekmore of Georgetown, who caught an attempted forward pass by the Methodists and ran thirty yards for a touchdown.

During the rest of the game the DePauw goal was never in danger. During the second half Coach Brown put in nine new men, and this kept the score down. Jackson, at right end, was sensational in running back and four times ran through the Georgetown men for large gains. Greenstreet starred in bucking the line for long gains, but was retired at the end of the first half on account of a bruised shoulder.

The game in detail was as follows:

First half—DePauw kicked off to Georgetown's fifty yard line. Georgetown was forced to kick. Using Levan and Greenstreet, DePauw bucked the oval to Georgetown's forty yard line. The Methodists ran Greenstreet, Harmon and Grady down the field for a touchdown. Grady kicked goal.

Georgetown kicked off to DePauw's fifty yard line. DePauw carried the oval to their opponents' fifty yard line and lost it on a fumble. After an exchange of punts the Methodists secured the ball and kicked the line for a touchdown.

The last two touchdowns of this half were due largely to the efforts of Jackson, who made long runs in returning the kickoffs and to the punting and quarter back runs of Grady.

Second half—Georgetown's kickoff was returned sixty yards by Jackson, who then made an end run of twenty yards. Scott was pushed over the line for a score. Georgetown kicked to Stansell on the thirty yard line. On a forward pass, Levan made fifteen yards. DePauw here lost the ball and an exchange of punts followed. DePauw gained possession of it on Georgetown's forty yard line. Creekmore of Georgetown caught DePauw's forward pass and scored.

The next score made by DePauw was by Lawrence, who caught the ball on a fumble and ran twenty-five yards for a touchdown. The last DePauw tally was made by Sladerman after a long series of line plunges by the Methodist second team.

READ THIS BEFORE YOU VOTE

ARE YOU GOING TO SURRENDER THE RIGHT TO CONTROL YOUR OWN GOVERNMENT?

Do you want in the United States

- Liberty, or Coercion?
- Republic, or Empire?
- Democracy, or Autocracy?
- President, or Czar?
- Governor, or Dictator?
- The Constitution, or One Man's Will?

Shall there be in nation and state three departments of government, legislative executive and judicial, or only one, based on usurpation—whether by Roosevelt and Taft or Hanly and Watson?

SHALL THE OCCUPANT OF THE WHITE HOUSE DICTATE HIS SUCCESSOR?

Shall the People rule, or shall the Government be administered by and for the trusts, privileged classes, special interests, officeholders and party favorites?

Shall the occupant of the White House dictate his successor?

Theodore Roosevelt, president first by tragedy and next by false pretense, has thrown off the mask and revealed his true character.

What at first were either excused as eccentricities or applauded as honest blunders, must, in the light of the president's attitude in the present campaign, be looked upon as contemptuous disregard of the constitution, the laws, the institutions and traditions of the country and the people.

Mr. Roosevelt assumed the right to make treaties without the consent of the senate.

He has sent Taft, Root and other royal ambassadors abroad with imperial instructions.

He connived at and afterward defended as an "accomplished fact" the spoliation of the Republic of Colombia.

He rules foreign peoples as dependent subjects.

He gave his consent to the absorption by that giant monopoly, the steel trust, of its principal competitor, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, which had been first forced into trouble by Wall street manipulation.

He has publicly denounced abuses while secretly placing himself under obligations to those who are guilty of them.

Under his administration trusts have multiplied, special interests have thrived, expenses have piled up, the burdens of the people have grown heavier, the cost of living has enormously increased, and a panic has occurred which has produced idleness, impoverished thousands of business men and brought hunger into hundreds of thousands of homes.

AND YET MR. ROOSEVELT DEMANDS OF THE PEOPLE THAT THEY APPROVE HIS SELECTION AND ELECT WILLIAM H. TAFT AS HIS SUCCESSOR.

He is managing Taft's campaign from the White House, using government clerks, paid by all the people, to convey his orders and commands to 300,000 other officeholders also paid by the people, and to all other persons subject to his power or susceptible to his influence.

It is the purpose of Mr. Roosevelt to control the presidential succession, if possible.

He declares that he has been training Taft for seven years to take his place.

He dictated his nomination, forcing it by using the power of his office and in disregard of the laws regulating the civil service.

Son-in-Law Longworth, in a public speech, proclaimed the purpose of the new dynasty to be the election of Taft for eight years, Roosevelt again for eight years more, and down the line.

The present secretary of war, Luke E. Wright, in a speech in New York on Oct. 19, resented the charge that Roosevelt is only a "hired man," and declared that he is "the chief ruler of the country."

Senator Beveridge, in a speech in Kansas City on the same date, said that "there is no longer a Democratic party—only the government and the opposition," a condition which exists only in an autocracy like Russia.

Two years ago Elihu Root, Mr. Roosevelt's secretary of state, proclaimed the new doctrine of "wiping out state lines," which would center all government power at Washington.

Taft has knowledge of, is a part of and sympathizes with all these dangerous tendencies—these things which point to the overthrow of constitutional government and the subversion of the liberties of the people.

Under this order of things only favorites are to profit through tariffs, subsidies, special privileges, offices—and private snaps like the Panama Canal swindle, wherein it is said Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of the president; Charles P. Taft, a brother of Candidate Taft; Morgan, Cromwell, Sheldon and other Taft supporters, financiers and speculators, pocketed more than $30,000,000 of illicit gain shoveled out of the United States treasury.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS BEEN GUILTY OF THE RANKEST EXTRAVAGANCE AND WASTE.

The expenses of the National Government have more than doubled in ten years and now reach a billion dollars a year.

The expenses of the state offices have increased more than 100 per cent in the past twelve years.

Have all these millions of money taken from the people been honestly spent?

Is there graft, crookedness and rascality in the state house?

Is there untold rottenness in Washington?

How will you ever find out unless you vote for a change?

Bryan in the nation and Marshall in the state stand for rule by the people, constitutional government, reduced taxes and economy and honesty in administration.

Public officials are the servants and not the masters of the people, according to the Democratic creed, and a vote for the candidates of the Democratic party will be a vote against official insolence and threatened despotism.

A MOST CONSISTENT CAREER MAN WITH JAG THINKS HE'S SAFE

When all that can be said has been said in the present campaign, when all the issues which may honestly cause a division of opinion among thinking men, are set aside, and when the costliest is stripped of all conflicting contentions, the one paramount fact stands out in bold relief, that no candidate ever entered the race for the presidency better fitted to discharge the functions of that high office than William Jennings Bryan. In the first place Mr. Bryan is an honest man. He is sincere. Not even his most bitter political opponents have ever had the temerity to question his honesty or to doubt his sincerity. His life has been clean, his character is above reproach. He has lived in the open; his every act both in public and private life is subject to the closest scrutiny. For twelve years he has occupied the spotlight of publicity without blinking. He rings true to the highest ideals of human life. There is no stain upon his escutcheon; no skeletons in his closet. He typifies in the highest degree the lofty conception of American manhood. No citizen in private life, by precept and example, by words and deeds, has done more for the moral and material uplift of all the people than has Mr. Bryan.

There is no greater student of political and economic conditions in the United States today than Mr. Bryan. It is his knowledge of history coupled with his keen judgment of men and measures which enables him to grasp and understand present day conditions. His ideals, grounded in human sympathy, have been broadened and strengthened by travel and study. His investigations into social and political conditions have not been confined to his own country, but have embraced almost every civilized land.

Mr. Bryan is an optimist and a progressive. He looks upon the bright side of things and believes that the world is growing better. He sees ways and means by which that betterment might be advanced, and with all of his marvelous ability and great force of character he strives for their accomplishment. He has not labored solely within the narrow confines of partisanship. Never has he hesitated to commend the acts of a Republican administration wherein he believed them to be for the benefit of the whole people. His commendation of the good has been as strong as his denunciation of the bad. He has, within the past 12 years, lived to see some of the important fundamental principles for which he stood become the accepted doctrines of a party and administration, which, but a short time before, had rejected them and condemned him for advocating them.

Mr. Bryan's career has demonstrated that without holding public office a man may gain the very best experience for the performance of public duty, particularly when, to that experience we add honesty and sincerity of purpose. These present the qualifications and especial fitness of Mr. Bryan for the presidency. No man with his heart in the right place as is Mr. Bryan's with his hand upon the public pulse, and with his sympathies for the advancement of the welfare of the whole people, can fail to achieve signal success as president. The time has passed when Mr. Bryan was wrongfully considered a mere theorist. He is looked upon now as an intensely practical man; as a man of experience. His administration will be one of progress along safe lines.

Have We Another Case of Postponed Action on the Part of the Republican Party or Was the Wish Father To the Thought.

"I'm safe till after the election." This was the statement of a man on the street Tuesday morning, a man already well under the influence of the essence of corn or rye or whatever his favorite decoction was. He was trying to borrow a quarter to purchase "medicine" with, as he declared to the friend who was being besieged for the favor. The friend remarked that it was not medicine that was wanted but more strong water which would land him in jail. The man replied that he wanted the medicine, but was safe on the other anyway till after the election.

On being asked why he was to acquire that exemption, he winked wisely and remarked that he was a Republican. Then with another prodigious wink he stumbled on down the street. Now this man may have been mistaken in the intentions of the marshal and his force. But wouldn't it be shattering the trust of a good voter to really put him in the bastle, under the circumstances? We simply mention this to show what a hard proposition a Republican marshal is up against these days. We suggest that the thirsty refrain as far as possible, lest the marshal's sense of duty override that peculiar feeling that makes all Republicans kin before an election, and the trusting voter get a rude shock. And that would never do.

POLITICAL SLANDERS.

The present campaign will pass down in history as the most virulent and personal since the Cleveland-Blain campaign. Especially in Indiana has the campaign for governor become a stretch in the nostrils of decent men. Some persons, posing as moral reformers, have stooped to the lowest depths of slander and falsehood in insinuations against Marshall. Others have raked over the record of Watson's life, exaggerated what was found there, and given to the world a slanderous estimate of the man. Marshall is accused by Hanly of being for the saloons, and the declaration is denied by Marshall, whose reputation for veracity is at least equal to that of Hanly, and possibly superior when it comes to politics. We are told that all the evil forces are seeking to elect Marshall, a statement not proved beyond the fact that Watson stated it upon the stump. Watson is accused of having gone to the saloon keepers in many counties and assured them that if they will support the Republican ticket the Republicans will use all the power of the political machine to defeat county local option in the county. It is also alleged that Ex-Governor Durbin has made some arrangements with the brewers of the state on behalf of Watson. Further we are assured that in Muncie and Indianapolis and other cities we find saloon men and temperance men working side by side for Watson. Such is the rot that voters are asked to read. In their hearts they know that neither side states facts. They are campaign statements, unproved, unprovable. It simply shows the lack of purity and honesty in American politics that such things can exist. Let decent men cease this form of campaigning. Thus the Indianapolis Star, when Marshall delivered his Richmond speech, declared that he was a "man of such fiber that no one should be ought but pleased to see him sit four years in the executive chair." Now it denounces him, for political purposes and for cash, as a very rascal. Should he be elected we shall hear from that same organ praise of the character of Marshall. It is time that, as American voters, we rise above such things.

THE CAMPAIGN LIE.

The opening days of the last week of the campaign have been noteworthy because of the number of willful misstatements that have been sent out by the Republican party leaders. Men who have become notorious for their lack of political honesty, and are far-known for their broken political pledges, have taken the stump and the pen to pour out falsehood and misrepresentation. They believe that their statements will have weight. We are sorry to say they will. Under the influence of campaign bias men will believe things they would ordinarily pass by with a shrug. Thus the lie as to Marshall's record as a temperance man is being broad-casted again. It is being stated that he has been drunk and that his wife accompanies him to prevent such a lapse. And this in spite of the declaration, over his own name, of the clergyman of Mr. Marshall's church in Columbia City. The nailing of such a barefaced falsehood should lead all voters to be wary of all statements issued from such a source. This week's papers will be filled with insincerity. The stump will be made the place for distributing misstatement, not by all Republican speakers but by many. When you see or hear, this week, believe in proportion to the record for political honesty of him who writes and speaks. And then you will believe too much.

The letter from Mr. Foster Picket appearing in another column of today's Herald should be read by everyone. It's argument is sound, and the light it throws upon some of the claims of the Republican party in regard to prohibition is illuminating. Some time since the Herald noted that the Prohibitionists of Putnam County did not intend to scratch their own ticket in favor of the Republican nominees. This letter confirms the statement and gives the reasons for the action of staunch members of the Prohibition party. The letter is well worth reading.

It is a remarkable fact that the men who are opposing Marshall in Indiana because he is said, by them, to have the support of the brewers, are supporting Taft, who has the united support of all the brewers of the country and of other interests usually considered contrary to good government and good morals. This on the word of the national Prohibition paper. Can it be that there is interest in temperance only for political purposes among those who shout so loudly at all times these days?

Official election returns from the county, state and nation will be received at the Star-Democrat office Tuesday night. The returns will be thrown by a lantern onto a screen which will be hung on the Hurst Buggy Co. store. There will be room for all.

This is the day of street arguments on politics, something that is altogether a waste of breath and labor. No one was ever convinced by such methods. They usually result, not in changed politics, but in loss of dignity and sometimes in a broken head.

Democratic success is in the air. Bryan, Kern, Marshall and the whole bunch will be declared winners by the voters when they cast their votes at the polls next Tuesday.

Every Democrat get out and vote early Tuesday morning. Then get every other Democrat to do the same.

Get ready to whoop her up for Governor Marshall and all the rest of the bunch on Tuesday night.

Another Trust "Busted."

We had something to say a few days ago of the probable absorption of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company by Rockefeller, and its transfer by him to the steel trust. Now it has been announced that the Rockefeller and Harriman interests have made their first "official move" through Colorado Fuel and Iron toward assuming complete control of the Gould system of properties. As we have seen the new treasurer of the Colorado company is a Rockefeller man. Now it is said that Gould has been displaced by a Rockefeller man, and it is "unofficially stated in the street that the property would soon be turned over to the steel trust." As the Colorado company has Bessemer furnaces, but no Bessemer ore, while the steel trust has both, it is believed that the stock, in the hands of the steel trust, will be worth double its present price. And then we have this:

So enthusiastic have the insiders of the steel trust become on their stock that the estimates of net earnings for the third quarter, which will be made public next Tuesday, continue to grow. Starting at $25,000,000 about two weeks ago, they have had to be raised to $26,000,000, and now it looks as though they might do half a million better. Orders are on the books to assure at least $30,000,000 for the last quarter of the year. The fact that the trust is able to earn above $25,000,000 for the worst year in its history is significant.

It is indeed very significant. There are many individuals and enterprises who have failed to realize anything like this rate on their capital or industry. But the steel trust has been able in this year of depression to earn almost $100,000,000 on a capitalization of a little more than a billion dollars, and on an actual valuation of its original investment of $500,000,000. It owes no small portion of its success to the power which we have given to it to lay taxes on the people of this country. Only the other day it gobbled up the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, with the "permission" of the President. Now it is going to get hold of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. If there is anywhere anything else that it wants, we suppose it will take it. All that is necessary is for some bank holding trust stocks to get into trouble, and then for Morgan and Rockefeller to come to its "rescue," take the trust stocks off its hands at a figure far below the market price, effect a merger with the steel trust, and then obtain the consent of the President. Or some man like Gould may find himself "up against it," in which case Harriman or Rockefeller will find his opportunity in the man's necessity, and the next thing the people know Harriman has got another road. So the trusts are spreading all over the land. And they all seem to be "good trusts." They are certainly "good" for those on the inside. But are they good for the people? That is a question which the people alone can answer. We think that they will agree with us in thinking that such trusts as the steel trust ought not to have any protection at the hands of the Government, and at the expense of the people.

Why should we tax ourselves to add to the already vast fortune of the Rockefellers, the Harrimans and the Morgans? Why should the price of steel rails be maintained at $28 a ton, when every one knows that they can be manufactured for $12 a ton, and are sold abroad at from $18 to $20? These are questions which Republican glorifiers of the tariff do not condescend to discuss. But the people are thinking about them. They are willing that a man should make all the money he can, no matter how much, by the application of capital, industry, intelligence and skill, but through a deal with the Government which can only be operated at the expense of the people. We suppose Colorado Fuel and Iron will go the way that Tennessee Coal and Iron went, and that as a consequence Rockefeller, Harriman, Morgan and the steel trust will be more powerful than ever. Thus it is that the merry work of "trust-busting" goes on.—Indianapolis News.

ALLEN BROTHERS.

Deposit company, vice-president of a National Bank, a director of an electric railway and a stockholder in several other "reasonable profit" concerns. Mr. Sherman's latest business venture was in the ice business. In the city of Utica, N. Y., Mr. Sherman's residence, there were up until a short time ago two ice companies and a water works company. Now they are all one, and Mr. James Schoolcraft Sherman is the president of the concern. For many years the people of Utica, and especially the poorer classes, enjoyed the privilege of buying ice from two competing companies. This looked too good to Jim to pass by, so he, or, rather a stock company, bought the water works company, from whose reservoir the ice supply was harvested each year. There is no other place near Utica where ice can be secured. After buying the water works the stock company elected Mr. Sherman to its head. The new company served notice to the two competing ice companies that they could harvest no more ice from the water works reservoir. They then started a delivery service of their own. The two old companies were afterward absorbed by the newly formed company. With the old companies it was either starve or get out of business and they sold to the "ice trust." The ice rate was "revived." The old rate had been $1.75 a month for four deliveries a week and $2.00 for seven deliveries. The new company raised the rate to $2.00 and $2.50 for the same service. The raising of the rates was not the worst feature of this trust, but the company issued an order to the drivers of its wagons to sell no more ice from the wagons to persons who were not regular customers of the company. This order was obeyed and worked untold hardship to the poor and the sick who could not afford the luxury of a daily delivery. Ice could not be procured in any manner from the company except by those who were regular customers.

It was a common practice for children to run after wagons in the hope that a piece of ice would fall off and they could get it to take home to a sick member of the family. Nothing would move the president of the company, James Schoolcraft Sherman, and the saloonkeepers were appealed to. This class of men, who are generally spoken of as the worst type of humanity, came to the rescue of the poor and when called upon furnished ice in almost any quantity, free of charge, to the poor and the sick who were unable to buy it from the company. This goes to show where Mr. Sherman stands on the trust and tariff revision propositions. He is not safe to be the right-hand man of the President of the United States, neither is he the man to look to for reform in measures concerning the common people. He has been in the public service for nearly twenty years.—Let's get rid of him.

HANLY'S STATEMENTS.

Governor Hanly has been declaring that the Democrats were wrong when they stated that there had been extravagance in state expenses. He holds that the state's affairs have been conducted more cheaply than under the Democrats. He expects his word, without proof, to stand in the case. In the light of his statement the following figures are interesting, however:

The report of the Auditor of State for the last full year (1896) of Governor Matthews' administration shows the following:

Total disbursements, $6,363,112.31, of which there was paid on state debt, $600,600.00. Total expenditures, less payment on state debt, $5,762,512.31.

The report of the Auditor of State for the year ending, October 31, 1906, is as follows:

Total disbursements, $9,099,212.22, of which paid on state debt, $219,671.57. Total expenditures, less state debt payment, $8,879,540.65.

65. Increase in State expenditures ten (10) years, after deducting payments on state debt, $3,117,028.00.

This is an increase in state expenditures from 1896 to 1906, of 50 per cent. The state taxes that were paid in 1908 will be not only the highest in the history of the state but will show an increase over the of last year of over $700,000.

In 1907 the state tax levy was increased from 31.65 cents on the dollar to 33.65; the assessment of property in the state in 1907 was raised from $1,654,880,461 to $1,767,815,487, or an increase of $1,133,000, which levy and assessment increase the state taxes over a year by the sum of $708,614.

The total receipts of the State treasurer for the fiscal year, ending September 30, 1907, were $9,243,000. With the $708,000 added to this, reason of the increase of 1908, total receipts by the State treasurer for the year, ending September 1909 will aggregate very close $10,000,000.

A Cure for Hog Cholera.

Hog Cholera or Swine Plague as it is sometimes called is a highly contagious disorder.

When a hog shows any symptoms of this disease, he should be isolated at once and the pen fumigated in order to save the other hogs if possible.

A. J. McCarthy of Idaville, Ind., says: "My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got Sloan's Liniment, which was recommended to me by a neighbor who was using it with success. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the Liniment, but I have not lost any since."

Mr. G. W. Balsbaugh of Peru, Ind., writes: "I had four pigs that were coughing and were not doing well. I gave them some of Sloan's Liniment and they got better at once."

FRESHMEN ARE WINNERS

OLD GOLD DAY A BIG SUCCESS

In spite of the Saturday weather Old Gold Day was again a great success. The celebration started off with a rousing chapel meeting, then the underclass contests were held. In the afternoon the seniors played the juniors as a curtain raiser to the Georgetown-DePauw game, and at night there a Love Feast of the faculty and student body held in Meharry Hall.

The first event of the day was the joint chapel meeting held in Meharry Hall at which everything was done to arouse more spirit. The classes took up much of the time with their yells and then several speeches were made by the leading men present. Basketball, Freshmen 23, Sophs. 3.

Then the crowd assembled at the tennis court to witness the annual basketball game between the two underclasses. This proved to be rather uninteresting as the first year men had no trouble at all to place the goals. The freshmen team was composed of unusually fast material, which will undoubtedly be used by the Varsity later.

McNaughton, the former Prep captain and Wolf carried off the honors for the freshmen. The score was 23 to 3.

The football game which was played immediately afterward turned the tables. The sophomores had the heavier team and had more training, but in spite of this the contest was very close until the last minutes of play.

Football, Sophs. 10, Fresh. 0.

Within five minutes after the game was opened, the sophomores carried the oval to the forty yard line where Crouch made a pretty place kick against the wind. Score, sophomores 4; freshmen, 0.

Following many pretty plays and one successful forward pass, the sophomores carried the ball within striking distance but lost it by a fumble. Time was called with the score unchanged.

During the second half the freshmen braced up and the game was very uncertain. But with one minute to play Crouch attempted another place kick for the sophomores. The wind was too strong against him and the pigskin fell short. The freshmen fumbled and a second year man stepped through for a touchdown. Goal was kicked. Final score 10 to 0 in favor of the sophomores.

Scrap, Fresh., 7; Sophs., 6.

Following this contest the annual scrap, this time in the form of a "tie up," was indulged in by the two classes.

The order of the scrap was for each side to tie up the men of the other side. Each class was allowed to use thirty men and each was given two ropes. The scrap lasted twenty minutes and afforded much amusement to the crowd. This scrap unlike the old ones resulted in no casualty and injured list, as the judges allowed no rough nor unfair play. At the end of the allotted time, the freshmen had seven men tied while the sophomores had six.

The first year men thus secured a complete victory over their older brothers. They carried off 75 points, 25 for basketball victory and 50 for scrap victory to their opponents 25 for the football and thus won the pennant.

The Flag Pole.

The celebration of the day then ceased until after dinner. Last year the fair sex of DePauw were much chagrined in that they had no share of the fun, so this year they gave the flag pole dance. This occurred at 1:20 this afternoon. The girls all dressed in white gave their exercises on the campus. The pole was decorated with two shades of old gold, the college color.

Later in the afternoon the seniors played the juniors as a curtain raiser to the DePauw-Georgetown game. In the intervals between the halves the classes held parades around the field. The spirit, enthusiasm and support which they gave the DePauw team was of the kind for which DePauw is widely noted.

The music for the day was furnished by the Putnamville band.

TILL AFTER THE ELECTION

Many Fear That the Weather Men, Following the Example of the Republican Party Have Postponed all Rain Till After November 3d.

For several days it has been trying very hard to rain. Local forecasters and those supposedly wise in the ways of the weather have told us that rain was due and we would get our share. It has, thus far, however, been all in vain. Clouds there have been, and wind and changes from warm to cold and from cold to warm again, but no rain.

Now we have at least a hint as to the reason for all this. The rain is to be postponed till after the election. The weather men are all appointed by the Republicans, and therefore partake of the Republican point of view. Republicans are radically opposed to doing anything—till after the election, except work, work, work. It is feared that rain might interfere with that work, or anger some one who has declared that it will not rain till it snows. Hence the rain will also be put off till after the election. And this is the cause of the many clouds and no rain.

CLERKS ARE ENTERTAINED

The clerks at Allen Bros. store spent a most delightful day Sunday as the guests of Mrs. L. D. Sechman, living nine miles east. They drove out early in order to put in full time on the day of pleasure they anticipated. And they found the day all too short for them. To say they were royally entertained, they claim, is putting it too mildly. Music and conversation, kodak picture-making and horseback riding were some of the diversions. The dinner was a very important feature, and was lavish in quantity and delicious in quality. In fact serious fears were entertained for the clerks' ability to handle the trade Monday but no serious results are manifest and all unite in their praises of Mrs. Sechman's hospitality. Following are the names of those present: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allen, Jr., and little daughter, Cornelia, Misses Clara Smith, Rose Haspel, Gertrude Hawkins, Beulah Pierce, Mamie Long, Myrtle Fry, Emma Johnson and Lula Shildmyer.

REPUBLICAN BANKER'S VIEW

A Republican Banker hit the nail on the head today when he expressed himself regarding the proposed bank guarantee legislation which the Democratic National platform declares for.

He was told that many Republicans were in favor of Bank Guarantee. "Oh, that's all right," he said. "It's a good thing and lots of Republicans are in favor of it, but they are not in favor of having the Democratic party arrange for it."

GUARANTEEING BANK DEPOSITS

Democratic Position Sound—Landis and Hughes Disagree.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND LIQUOR LEGISLATION

[From a Speech by Hon. S. M. Ralston at Lebanon, Oct. 14, 1908.]

"We pledge ourselves to legislation under which the national banks shall be required to establish a guaranty fund for the prompt payment of the depositors of any insolvent national bank, under an equitable system which shall be available to all state banking institutions wishing to use it."—Democratic National Platform.

Now it would seem that this plank of our platform appeals so favorably to the people that scarcely anyone puts up an argument against it. Republican orators have, as a rule, up to date, had but little use for any platform; and I apprehend that no one has any trouble in accounting for the course they have pursued in abandoning the platform of their own party.

Governor Hughes of New York, however, has felt that this plank in our platform was growing so rapidly in popularity that some sort of a showing should be made against it, and he has recently therefore attacked it.

And what are his objections to it?

I want to state them fairly. He says:

(1) "An honest institution complying with the restrictions of the law should not be saddled with the results of other men's misdeeds.

(2) "It will lead to reckless banking by enabling men without the proper resources to go into the banking business.

(3) "The guaranty fund would take money out of circulation and deprive it of the power to earn interest."

If he has pointed out any objection in addition to these to this plank I have been unable to discover it. Are these sufficient to condemn the policy our party suggests?

I cannot recall any restrictive legislation touching commercial matters to which his first objection does not apply with the same force as it does to the proposal to guarantee the depositor against loss. It will hardly do to insist that all restrictive legislation should be repealed because it imposes additional burdens upon honest men.

And how is it as to his second objection? Men cannot organize a banking corporation unless they comply with the law providing for such corporations. They must have the necessary capital—the necessary resources—and the law governing banking should be made so strong that designing men cannot thwart it. If every bank is required to contribute to the payment of the depositors of a failing institution, then every bank will become an insurer of every other bank. There would thus be created a spirit of watchfulness from ocean to ocean against reckless banking. So under such a method it would be impossible, when we consider the duties of regular bank examiners, for a bank to go very far wrong before its assets would be seized by the government.

In his third objection the governor assumes the fund would have to be held as dead capital. The plank in question does not go into detail as to how the fund shall be kept or handled.
It simply declares for a principle, and if the principle is sound it will not do to say that the statesmanship of our country cannot devise a rational scheme by which the people can enjoy the benefit of the principle.

Now my fellow citizens, I want to congratulate you that all Republicans do not take the view of the bank guarantee proposition that Gov. Hughes does. One of the most eloquent appeals I have read in favor of a law guaranteeing depositors against loss was made by a Republican. It is true he has not been repeating his speech since his party adopted the Chicago platform, but I am going to give him credit for still holding the same views he expressed in the speech to which I refer, until he repudiates them. The distinguished Republican to whom I refer is our handsome and brilliant representative in congress, Hon. Chas.
B. Landis. The speech was made on the occasion of his last nomination at Frankfort, March 5th, 1908. I read what he said on this subject:

"I would also put into the bill a provision subjecting all national banks to a small tax to raise a fund out of which depositors who lose money in banks that fail shall be reimbursed.
To restore confidence to the people in the banks—to my mind that is the chief object now to be attained. The failure of one great bank in New York leads the depositors throughout the country to fear a failure of their local bank, and the quiet yet steady withdrawal of deposits sets in. Soon there are runs upon the banks and then there is a panic. If the depositors knew that Uncle Sam had the custody of a fund out of which he could pay any depositor who lost a dollar in a national bank, there would be no run on a national bank. I cannot but think that a provision of this character added to our present currency law would do more to restore immediate confidence and revive the business of the country than any other that has been suggested. It is a matter of common information that the banking associations are liable under the law for twice the amount of their capital stock. Say a bank is capitalized at $100,000; the stockholders are liable for $200,000.

But the bank accepts deposits to an unlimited extent, up to $500,000. Thus there is one-half of the deposits with no other guarantee than the integrity and business ability of the banker. No one can borrow money from a bank, and rightly so, without giving security.
No man can be expected to deposit money in a bank without a feeling of absolute security, and if the government provided such a fund as I have mentioned for reimbursement, the depositor would have this feeling of security.

"I am glad to say that there is not a single national banker in this district with whom I have talked or corresponded, and I have been in touch with nearly all of them, who does not endorse this proposition. They feel that the small tax that they would have to pay—not to exceed one-eighth or one-sixth of one per cent—would be offset many times by the increased deposits that would force legislation of a similar character for private and state banks and in the end the depositor would have absolute security. This would give confidence to the depositor in the private and state bank, and with full confidence on the part of all de-positors, coupled with closer investigation and inspection, I feel that a panic similar to that through which we are now passing would be next to impossible.

Thus it is seen, so recent as last March, Mr. Landis favored guaranteeing depositors against loss, for the reasons:

1. It would prevent runs on banks.

2. It would do more to restore confidence and revive business than any other scheme suggested.

3. Because there is no guarantee for one-half of the deposits, as banks now do business, except the integrity and business ability of the banker.

4. No man can be expected to deposit money in a bank without a feeling of absolute security.

5. Because all the bankers in this district with whom he has communicated on the subject, and he has been in touch with nearly all of them, favor it.

6. The small per cent a bank would have to pay toward the guaranty fund would be offset many times by increased deposits.

7. It would render next to impossible a panic like the one through which we are now passing.

I am always amazed at the lucidity with which a Republican can argue in support of a Democratic proposition, when he champions it. What a world beater the average Republican orator would be if he had under his feet a whole Democratic platform.

Governor Hughes could state only three objections to this plank, while Mr. Landis without any apparent effort, stated seven reasons—all sound.
I submit—in support of it.

Minors Can Buy Whisky.

There has not been an election in Indiana since 1892 at which the Republican party did not receive the solid support of the liquor and brewery interests of this state. Anyone calling this statement in question dis-closes his ignorance or want of sincerity. These influences have helped to elect Republican presidents, Republican governors, Republican United States senators and Republican state tickets, and yet Republican leaders have always managed to have a smile for the temperance advocate. They have smiled upon him while they have had a hearty hand for the saloon champion. True to their methods in the past, they are now seeking to make a campaign asset of their party's liquor legislation, while they continue to hold out to the hand of the saloon keeper.

I am not charging or intimating that there has been no good legislation on the liquor question while the Republicans have controlled the legislature, for such a statement would not be warranted; but I do charge that while the Republican party professes to be the great champion of temperance, its leaders and managers have constantly striven to placate the liquor interests and hold them in line for Republican tickets.

But while I have conceded that there has been some proper legislation on this subject by this party, it does not follow that all its liquor legislation should be approved. Everyone recalls the demand of the people for blind tiger legislation at the last regular session of the general assembly of our state, and that it was at that session that the law, known as the blind tiger act, was enacted.

Section 13 of that act relates to sales of liquor by druggists and makes it unlawful for a druggist to sell or give away intoxicating liquor, except on the written prescription of a reputable physician engaged in the active practice of his profession. This act was approved Feb. 13, 1907. It proved to be an unpopular act. Druggists and liquor men generally denounced it and the leaders of the Republican party hastened to make peace with them.
To appease their wrath the same legislature enacted the law known as the Beardsley act, which contains no emergency clause and which was approved and went in force March 16, 1907—one month and three days subsequent to the approval of the blind tiger act.

Section 3 of the Beardsley act provides that "All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed."

Section 2 of this latter act provides among other things: "It shall be lawful for any druggist or pharmacist to sell vinous or spirituous liquors in quantities not less than a quart at a time for medicinal, industrial or scientific purposes, and for no other purposes, and then only upon the writer (not printed or typewritten) prescription of a reputable physician in active practice, or upon the written and signed application of any other person who is personally known to such druggist or pharmacist and who is by him known not to be a person in the habit of using intoxicating liquors as a beverage."

The words "any other person" include both minors and adults—both male and female—and thus we see that by a solemn act of the legislature the Republican party has authorized druggists to sell intoxicating liquors in quantities not less than a quart at a time to minors—to both girls and boys.

So, my fellow-Democrats, when Republicans urge you to vote their ticket because of their party's position on the temperance question, you remind them that you are opposed to the selling of intoxicating liquors to the boys and girls of your state.

GUARANTEEING DEPOSITS.

The Republican party went wrong on the bank guaranty proposition because the interests that control it would not let it be right. Having gone wrong it stays wrong and is forcing some of its leaders to stultify themselves and deny their own convictions.
Take the case of Congressman Fowler chairman of the house committee of banking and currency. He is now quoted as saying that the proposition to guarantee bank deposits is a "preposterous and ridiculous scheme."

And yet it was only the 8th of January when Mr. Fowler introduced in congress a bill "To establish a simple and scientific monetary system and to guarantee all deposits," etc.

On January 27 Mr. Fowler made a speech in favor of his bill in which among other things, he declared that the guaranteeing of deposits was necessary to "prevent panic and the hoarding of money." Answering the very objections that Republican writers and speakers are now raising, Mr. Fowler said:

"Mr. Chairman, the oldest bank president in some towns, or possibly the president of the largest bank in some town, may say that he will not have the advantage in the future to which he believes himself entitled if deposits are insured; therefore, there will be two classes who will oppose this principle. But banks, like other business institutions, will gain not by mere age and respectability, or by mere bulk of capital, but rather by ability to meet the requirements of their customers.
Square dealing and capacity will tell for just as much after deposits are guaranteed as before.

"Mr. Chairman, is it not too high a price to pay to lay upon the altar of some man's ambition all the business interests of this country and still continue the habit of panics, the destruction of credit, and waste of business?
On the one side there is personal ambition, vanity, the supposed advantage to a few hundred men; on the other side, millions of depositors with sixteen billions of deposits to their credit in our banks and the families of 20, 000,000 American toilers. Which side shall we choose? Where does the duty of congress lie?

"Mr. Chairman, so far without a single exception, I have proved to my own personal satisfaction, actually and morally, that these objections to the guaranteeing of deposits have come from distinctly selfish motives. These I assert must yield to the greater good."

The only explanation of Mr. Fowler's present attitude is that during the campaign he is talking merely as a Republican who feels bound to support a bad platform, while last winter he was expressing his honest opinions.

CRITICISE THEIR OWN PLATFORM

"In all tariff legislation the true principle is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equalize the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with reasonable profit to American industries."—From Republican National Platform.

The above is a part of the tariff plank of the Republican national platform. But getting the idea from some source that it was part of a speech by Mr. Bryan, two Republican newspapers, the Omaha Bee and the Portland Oregonian, declared that the proposition was meaningless and absurd. One of these papers said that "never will there be any genuine reform of the tariff upon the principle stated above by Candidate Bryan." As Mr. Bryan did not state this "principle," but the Republican party did state it in its platform, Democrats will agree that there will never "be any genuine reform of the tariff" under it. They will also agree that the Republican party does not intend to bring about "any genuine reform of the tariff" or of any thing else.

SPECIAL INTERESTS VS. EQUAL RIGHTS.

In every utterance and every statement made so far Mr. Taft has shown great concern for the welfare of the Trusts and special interests.

He is afraid that the guaranty of bank deposits will be a burden on a few big bankers.
That thousands of small depositors may lose everything does not worry him.

He is afraid that a reduction of the tariff may hurt protected industries. He does not worry for the consumer, who bears the burden of the heavy tax.

He is afraid to oppose the trusts, for he considers them a benefit. He does not mind the extortion they practice upon the public.

He is opposed to a jury trial in contempt and injunction cases because the special interests want the unfair injunction process continued. The "Father of the Injunction" does not worry because the laborer may not get a square deal.

The Republican candidate believes in an income tax only when the present oppressive means of taxation fail to furnish enough revenue. In other words he believes that the wealthy should not be taxed until the resources of the masses are exhausted. Not a word from Mr. Taft because the masses bear an unjust share of the burden of taxation.

Mr. Taft stands for the favored few and special interests.

Mr. Bryan stands for the people as opposed to the interests.

Mr. Taft stands for plutocracy as opposed to Democracy.

Mr. Bryan stands for equal rights as opposed to special privileges.

With which do you stand.

IS POSITIVE EVIDENCE

At Huntington, W. Va., Friday
Mr. Bryan very neatly proved that the Republican party can not be responsible for so much of the prosperity of the country, at least as is due to the gracious sunshine. For in an audience, largely composed of farmers, he said:

I can prove to you that the Republican party has nothing to do with fertility of soil or sunshine or rain, for if it did there would be a trust on sunshine and a meter on the sun. The fact that these things are not monopolies is conclusive proof that the Republican leaders exercise no control over them.

All the great sources of wealth, or nearly all, except the soil and the sunshine, have been monopolized under Republican rule—oil and coal and railway and iron and lumber (the list is tedious); so, clearly, if fertility of soil and sunshine are not monopolized the Republican leaders can not be in control of them.—Indianapolis News.

who can say I'm not here when I am and get away with it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Looks like rather poor soil in this part of the country," said the inquisitive stranger.

"Well, it ain't," replied the boastful native. "A man over on the adjoining farm played up a tin can with $50 in it one day a week or two ago."—Chi-

Greencastle Citizens Report Small Enthusiasm and Compare the Demonstration With the McKinley Rally in 1896.

CROWDS WATCH; FEW PARADE

A number of Greencastle citizens who saw the Taft demonstration in Indianapolis have come home feeling that the Republican candidate is not as popular in the state capital as the Republicans would wish. These persons compared the demonstration last night with the one given for Mc-Kinley in 1896. Then, it is stated, the whole city was decorated. Yesterday only the Columbia Club and the Marion Club threw out their bunting, and there was some small decoration in other places. In general the great business center of the city was not draped in honor of the candidate.

The parade was even more illustrative. There were many people out to see, but few, comparatively, in line. There was much music and many negroes. In other words, the paid part of the parade was a success. Otherwise it was not. One factory employing nearly two thousand men sent a Republican Club of less than two hundred. The Business Men's Club had less than fifty.
Another club from a large manufacturing plant numbered less than one hundred though more than a thousand men are employed. The small parade was not due to the bad weather either, for there were thousands out to see, but few to shout or march.
Those in the parade yelled lustily, but the packed masses on the walks kept silent and gave not the least evidence of enthusiasm.

Hundreds who came down town Wednesday to hear Sam Small were disappointed. Hundreds were greatly pleased. The ones who were disappointed are the ones who could not get into the assembly room of the court house, where Mr. Small spoke. Those who were fortunate enough to hear Mr. Small were more than pleased.

Although the speaking was not scheduled until 7:30 o'clock, the crowd began to gather before 7 and by 7 every available seat and much of the standing space in the room were occupied. Hundreds who wanted to hear Mr. Small were unable to get into the room and were forced to return to their homes, without even a glimpse of the great evangelist.

The meeting was the largest night meeting ever held in the county. Mr. Small spoke for two hours and a half and his audience was all attention during the entire speech. The evangelist discussed the National issues of the campaign.

THOUSANDS OF MILLIONAIRES

Made by the Tariff—But Not One Is a Farmer.

When the rising tide of artificial prices on iron, steel, woolen and cotton goods, and on glassware and crockery and furniture, farm implements, all forms of building material, and substantially everything that goes onto the farm, struck the farmer, was he to protect and recoup himself by writing up the prices of his own products? Right there came the rub. The farmer stands between two markets, neither of which he controls. Others fix the prices at which he must buy. Others fix the prices at which he must sell. American agriculture is an expert industry. In some of its staples it has been export since before the American Revolution. This industry has no combination at home with which to limit production, write up artificial prices to the American people, and unload surplus at low prices abroad. Such a combination is impracticable and impossible, and, if possible, could only spell ultimate misery and starvation to society. Millions of bushels of American wheat and corn and millions of pounds of American beef, pork and cotton go every year to the great surplus market of western Europe. Not a bushel nor a pound would go there but for the higher price paid there—at least enough higher to pay the cost of transportation. Wheat is sowed some place on this earth every day of the year. Wheat is reaped some place on this earth every day of the year. The surplus grain from all these fields is poured into the surplus markets of western Europe in competition with the surplus grain from the American farmer. In that surplus market the level of prices is fixed, and from there the downward incline plane of prices extends backward past every farm and ranch in the United States. On any day of the year, except in rare instances due to purely local and temporary causes, the price of wheat is lower in New York than at Liverpool, lower in Chicago than at New York, lower in St. Paul than at Chicago, lower at Fargo than at St. Paul.

To this market, dominated by the competition of the whole world, the farmer brings his wheat, his corn, his beef, his pork and his cotton. If the price of the staples in his annual output rises, it is a rise that attends the same staples produced by the peon of South America, the ryot of India, the fellah of Egypt and the former serf of Russia. The rise in the level of farm prices in the last ten years, due to an addition of three billion dollars to the volume of the world's gold, was general and uniform throughout agricultural countries, but during all this time International Harvester Company farm machinery could be and has been purchased cheaper in any other agricultural country of the world than could the American farmer buy it at the door of the American factory where it was made. American mills, barb wire, shovels, axes, watches, sewing machines and scores of other articles have been and are now sold cheaper in the foreign markets than at home.

Even some of the products of the farm, after they leave the farm, are so manipulated by domestic trusts as to almost double their price to the consumer without increase received by the farmer. By reference to the market reports in the files of the Indianapolis newspapers, it will be found that on April 7, 1888, hogs were quoted at $5.25 per hundred, and the best bacon at 9 1/2 to 10 cents per pound; on April 14, same year, hogs $5.75 and the best bacon at 11 cents; on May 14, hogs $5.75 and the best bacon 11 1/2 cents, and on March 14, 1889, hogs $4.85 to $5.00 and the best bacon 11 1/2 cents. These, of course, were wholesale prices. The quotations today and the record of actual sales show hogs at from $5 to $7 per hundred and the best bacon at 21 cents per pound. Here is an increase of about $1.00 per hundred on hogs and over $10.00 per hundred on the bacon taken from the hog, and not one cent of the excess increase on the bacon goes to the farmer who produced it. The same thing is measurably true of all other parts of the hog. The meat trust controls the situation, lays the consumer under contribution, rather than the profit and invites the farmer to support the tariff that supports the trust.

The farmer's selling prices are world's prices. He labors in competition with the whole agricultural world. Duties of $100 per bushel on his wheat and corn and per pound on his beef, pork and cotton could not protect him. The duties on wheat, corn, beef, pork, hay, cabbage and other farm products in the Dingley schedules are purely political duties. These duties cannot secure to the farmer higher prices on his sales. They are placed in the statute only to cajole and deceive him into the support of other duties which plunder him on his purchases. The system leaves him to sell his product at prices dominated by the competition of the whole world and to purchase his necessities at high artificial prices fixed by domestic monopoly, induced, licensed, fortified and perpetuated by affirmative acts of his government at Washington. If he enjoys any degree of prosperity, it is in spite of the fly in his wheat, the rust in his oats, the smut in his corn, the cholera in his hogs, the bots in his horses and the Dingley tariffs in his market, and not because of them.

The steel, lumber and other trusts may capitalize the taxing power of the government and write up the prices of their product 100 per cent; the farmer cannot capitalize his $1 wheat into $1 wheat, nor his 50-cent corn into $1.50 corn. He may cast away the sickle, the cradle, the reaper, the mow, the binder and bring on the self-binder, the grain drill, the corn-shredder and other improved forms of farm machinery to multiply his producing power, lessen cost, decrease waste and to increase economy in making, storing and marketing his product. The cunning device of high artificial prices on all things he must buy sponges up the profits and absorbs the gains arising from the cheapening of skill and invention. Whatever of margin between receipt and expenditure he has left at the end of the year is the remnant of the harvest left by the 10-cents locusts of monopoly which swarm his buying market and pluck him on all that he brings onto his farm or into his household. If he has money in bank, it is usually the fruits of stultifying economy, pinching, sacrifice and deprivation on the part of himself and family, rather than the natural reward of his industry. The natural rewards of American agriculture are ambushed away in the pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars picked up by and concealed in the fictitious prices charged for trust-controlled goods, and who are turned in splendid streams of unearned increment into the coffers of government favorites, some of whom stifle the country as much by their ostentatious prodigality. American farmers have been creating splendid fortunes and making millions by the thousands, but to this hour not one on the American farm.

HOW WILL YOU VOTE?

Will You Vote for Yourself, or to Give More Millions and Power to the Trusts?

Do you want to vote more millions into the coffers of the trusts and more power into their hands to crush you? Or do you intend to vote for your own interests? In other words, are you going to vote for Taft and Sherman, or Bryan and Kern?—for Marshall or Watson? A letter just sent to many persons in Indiana by the Republican national committee, asking for contributions and saying that "Bryan's election will be dangerous," has printed at its head, as members of the advisory committee, etc., the names of the following men:

Charles F. Brooker, head of the brass trust, and vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, against which a government suit is now pending in the federal courts.

Charles Nagel of Missouri, one of the general attorneys of the Standard Oil company. This Standard Oil representative is in charge of Republican national campaign headquarters in Chicago.

Frank O. Lowden, multimillionaire son-in-law of the late George M. Pullman, and now the head of the great Pullman Palace Car trust, to which the travelling public pays tribute.

T. Coleman Du Pont, the head of the powder trust, who is fighting a suit against dissolution.

Boise Penrose, the political "boss" of the corrupt political machine in Pennsylvania.

George R. Sheldon, the personal representative of J. Pierpont Morgan, in the capacity of director in all his trust companies, and who collected trust money for the election of Governor Hughes of New York.

William Nelson Cromwell, the legal representative of Edward H. Harriman, and probably the greatest trust lawyer in the United States.

Fred W. Upham, the "fat fryer" for the Republican party in the West, and the man who wrote letters to corporations whose property he assessed by virtue of his position as a member of the board of review in Chicago.

This is a fine outfit to advise the farmers and business men of the West how to vote. Two of the signers are heads of corporations which are fighting for their existence in the courts. Of course these men think Bryan's election dangerous; that is natural when one becomes acquainted with their connections. But there is not a legitimate business man in the nation, small or large, who has any reason to fear a Democratic victory.

TRUST MONEY ALL GOES TO TAFT

William Nelson Cromwell, the legal representative of E. H. Harriman, and the Wall street lawyer who engineered the Panama deal—which made a "profit" of $36,000,000 for the syndicate made up of himself, Pierpont Morgan, Charles P. Taft and others—was the first big contributor to the Republican campaign fund. He gave $50,000 to the Republican national campaign slush fund. Andrew Carnegie, head of the steel trust, has made a donation of $20,000 toward financing the election of Judge Taft. These are a few of the contributions from trust sources that have reached the public, and indicate very clearly on which side the trust interests are arrayed in this campaign.

BELIEVED RIG WAS STOLEN

S. A. Hays' Horse and Buggy Taken From in Front of the Home of Mrs. Nellie Anderson, Thursday—Was Not Found Until Early Friday Morning—Had Evidently Been Driven Hard.

A GANG OF BOYS SUSPECTED

Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hays believed that their horse and buggy had been stolen. There evening Mrs. Hays drove to the home of Mrs. Nellie Anderson on Elm Street. She tied the horse in front of the Anderson home. When she went to get her horse a little while later it was gone.

A systematic search by Mr. Hays and the police failed to locate the rig and they believed it had been stolen. Telephones were used and persons over the county notified to be on the lookout for it.

Next morning the horse and buggy were found on Howard Street. The horse was tied to a post and had the appearance of having been driven very hard. Mr. Hays believes that the rig was taken by a gang of boys and driven all night.

THAT INDEPENDENCE SPEECH

Man Talked for Hearst But Advised Everyone to Bet His Money on Bryan as His Travels Over the Country Showed the Trend That Way.

Edwin Strauss, the Independence party orator who so stirred the wrath of the Republicans Friday made some statements that are very interesting. He declared that he was a Hearst party man, but stated that Bryan would be elected and advised all people to bet their money on him. Strauss stated that he had spoken this year in New York, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana and he found the trend all one way in these states. The crowds were delighted when he showed Taft's record as a friend of the corporations, but he acknowledged, with a smile, that they left when he made any derogatory statements about Bryan.

Yesterday he denounced Taft's independence policy, showed his close relations with the corporations, commended the Democrats for their stand on the proposition of the rule of the people. Although given by an Independence speaker the talk was very closely in line with Democratic ideals, so much so as often to produce Democratic applause. No Republican, however, was heard to do ought but swear.

Good Books.

"It is a pleasure in the gloaming, when the lights are burning low, to forget the hours of labor, with their weariness and woe and to choose some ample volume—say a work by Albert Rose—and peruse its hopeful pages, which absorb us and engross. And a book by Laura Libbey lifts the shadows from one's brow, casts a stirring tale, for choice, as "Lovers Once, but Strangers Now." Let the thoughtless go to canteen, dances and the like, forsooth! We shall rest and read Nick Carter and his running mate, "Old Sleuth."—Exeter Gazette.

New York Evening Post.—It has been shown that the Democratic committee got not a cent and that Mr. Roosevelt gave currency to a false charge. He admitted that Harriman raised $240,000 for the Republican campaign fund in 1904. Then they were both "practical men" and were working together.

They are "all" for Taft. Who? Every trust magazine in America. "The or knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib."

It can be taken in any state, or condition of the female system.

Indigestion, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressing sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary spots or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famous specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. You can't afford to accept a substitute for this remedy of known composition and secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

A VERY SILLY STORY

A story circulated by certain men who knew better, but continued the telling of the story for the amusement it gave them to distribute falsehood, were telling today that Bryan received $150 for the speech he made here last Tuesday. Of course it is a plain fabrication, by the way not the first to issue from the same fertile minds that planned and disseminated this. There was a small purse contributed to the chairman of the state committee to aid in defraying the expenses of the train in Indiana. Bryan has no brother who took part in the Panama Canal steal, looting the people of some $25,000,000. Nor has he a Rockefeller, a J. J. Hill nor yet a Harriman behind him. The people are ready and willing to help. What was contributed here went to the state committee. The people were willing to give it. They were not willing to give the $25,000,000, from which spoils Brother Charley Taft is now financing special trains.

When you have a suit made to measure order it from the Bigger Tailoring Co. who have all their clothing cut out and made in their own shops, here at home and give you a try-on.

states. He stated that at the time he was in California that thousands of workingmen were out of employment and that it was impossible for them to get work. Those who were working were getting the meager wage of $1.15 per day. The panic there caused all money to be hoarded up and that there was two million dollars of bank certificates floating in Los Angeles, alone.

With the aid of the fire bell and the H. Barnaby whistle the Republicans managed to make a bunch of noise. The quietude of the Tin-plate Mill whistle caused many to wonder why. In these good old Republican times, why not.

COMMENT ON THE SPEECH

Three college girls, taking soda to refresh themselves after the strain of listening to such heavy argument, the editor of the Banner and the City Engineer are the only persons who have thus far publicly declared that Mr. Taft made a good speech.

Said a college student, "Mr. Taft impressed me by his aloofness. He acted like a man who wanted to condescend to the voters because he wanted the votes, but he was so unaccustomed to doing it that it was hard work, almost impossible."

If Mr. Taft's oratory is to be judged by his attempt Friday, if his ability as a thinker is to be measured by the logic of his effort here, if his sincerity and love of truth are to be gauged by this morning's statements, if his attitude toward the people is in general the attitude displayed this morning, then is the Republican candidate seriously lacking in all these things.

To sum up Mr. Taft's speech, said a business man, it was this: "The Republican party produces prosperity. Prosperity produces panics. Therefore you should elect me president. Drive on this train!"

It was evident that Mr. Taft was very well pleased with himself, which is doubtless part of "my policy" borrowed for this trip.

Mr. Taft, when he said the panic did not reach beyond the Mississippi river, forgot the great bank failure in Kansas City, and the distress due to the closed banks in the northwest last winter. It is convenient to forget.

REPUBLICANS HISS SPEAKER

Edwin Strauss, whose card gives him the title of "Manager Union Labor Flying Wedge," and a speaker of the Independence party of which Higgsen and Graves are the candidates, addressed quite a crowd from the platform in the court yard last Friday afternoon.

Mr. Hearst's speaker, when he first got on the platform and started to speak, was believed by the several Republicans around town to be one of the speakers for Charley Zeis, who had advertised an "all day" rally. Mr. Strauss' affiliations were soon learned, however, and the Republicans began to hiss and make so much noise that the speaker had to cease. Finally order was restored and the speaker continued. The Republicans continued their interruptions during the entire address of the Hearst man.

D. C. BRACKNEY ALSO SPEAKS

The Republican rally day was captured by the Independents and used exclusively by them after the noon hour. As soon as the labor union speaker who used the platform for an hour or more was through D. C. Brackney, who is the Independence candidate took the stump and delivered an address in support of his candidacy. He declared that if elected he would stand for the enactment of the Littlefield Bill to prohibit the shipment of liquor from wet to dry territory and for the repeal of government license in dry territory. Mr. Moss, Democratic candidate has declared for the same legislation. This leaves only Mr. Maxwell uncommitted on this question. Mr. Brackney is making his candidacy largely on this issue. He spoke for a short time only.

TWENTY ASK FOR PAPERS

Score of Italians Employed at the Stone Quarries of the A. & C. Stone and Lime Company Wish to Be Naturalized for the Coming Election.

AGAINST GOVERNMENT PROVISION

Mon morning the interpreter employed at the A. & C. Stone and Lime Company's plant appeared before the county clerk and made application for naturalization papers for twenty foreigners, mostly Italians, employed at the quarries. These are what are known as the "first papers," secured after two years' residence in this country. These men wish to use the papers at the polls on the 3d day of next November. Most of them are incapable of speaking English, hence the need of an interpreter.

This brings to mind the fact that the state of Indiana is one of the few states in the Union where this can be done. In all other states except, we believe, New York, no foreigner can vote till he has his second papers and has, therefore, been in this country seven years. In Indiana, however, by a freak proviso of the constitution, they can vote after having received their first papers, or in two years after having reached this country. Many good lawyers hold that this is contrary to the federal proviso, and that the state constitution must give way, but up to this time it has been held good wherever tested. Consequently men without any knowledge of English or of our government or its workings, are voted by politicians who need the votes.

The clerk has written for the blank applications and also for an opinion on the case from the United States Commissioner at Chicago. Upon this report the clerk will act in regard to granting the papers prayed for.

We want to Give Your Boy a GOOD WATCH

It Is Absolutely Free

This watch is an open face stem wind and stem set and will run accurately 30 hours without rewinding.

And this is the way to get the Watch:

Buy in our store for men a boy's suit of clothes and we will give the boy the watch—absolutely free.

We do this in order to get the boy started in the habit of wearing clothes bought in our Store for Men—knowing and believing that we can continue to furnish him with his clothes in the future as long as we give him and his father and mother absolute satisfaction in their purchases

Boys' Suits are $2.50 to $8.50.

Look them over—if they are not as good or even better than the same money buys elsewhere—don't buy them—

If they prove to be as we say—the watch is absolutely free.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN

LET TRUTH PREVAIL.

Interesting Letter From a Putnam County Prohibitionist Giving His Views of the Present Temperance Situation.

Editor Star and Democrat:

Dear Sir: With the near approach of the election the usual crop of scare-heads and campaign fiction crowds to the front in the hope of misleading the unwary voter, or terrorizing the timid.

In the Indianapolis Star of the 23rd inst. appeared a statement by Capt. Eli F. Ritter which has the flavor of exaggeration, to say the least. Capt. Ritter is quoted as saying that, from his talks with Prohibitionists of Indianapolis and elsewhere, "10,000 of the 23,000 votes cast for Mr. McWhirter four years ago will be given, this year, to Watson and the Republican legislative ticket." Election returns may be necessary to confirm Mr. Ritter's estimate but, if its correctness be conceded now, what will the Prohibit gain by voting the Republican ticket?
Absolutely nothing in the way of promoting the principles for which they have been contending in the Prohibition party. Were ten thousand and Prohibition voters too dense to penetrate Governor Hanly's scheme in the passage of a local option law by extra session? And are there still ten thousand who cannot see that the chief aim of such a bill was the "side-tracking" of the liquor question during the remainder of the campaign?

It is a glaring absurdity for any party which permits, by its own consent, the liquor license law to remain a statute, to call itself a prohibition party; and the man who supports such a party and calls himself a prohibitionist is trying to perjure the flag under which he has no moral right to march. Furthermore, if he thinks to deceive by such assertions, unsupported by his own actions, he must be a self-deluded fool, in capable of using the intelligence of the average Prohibition voter.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Republican party is the pioneer in wholesale political corruption and trickery; and whatever party follows in its footsteps of civic unrighteousness should suffer the approb-rium which it merits—which it will surely receive when true patriotism reaches its ascendancy.

While this brief article is not intended to fight a battle for either the Democratic or Republican party there is more to be said against the Republican party's efforts to get credit from Prohibitionists for the local option bill. They tell us that the brewers are bestowing their corruption fund upon the Democratic party, which, they affirm, is strong evidence that this local option is more inimical to their interests than any legislation by the Democrats would be. In the face of these things let every Prohi remember that Mr.

Marshall spoke truthfully when he said in one of his speeches that neither the Republican party nor the Democratic party is a prohibition party, but only strives to "regulate the sale" of intoxicating beverages.
As to the corruption fund of the brewers, perhaps none but the treacherous floater and his equally unscrupulous purchases will fully fathom the loathsome sink into which it will drop; but woe be upon any man whose hands are defiled by its touch.

Should Mr. Ritter's predicted slump be confirmed by election results the thirteen thousand who stand by their colors will not be robbed of the knowledge that whatever steps the Republicans may seem to have taken toward prohibition they have taken mainly for their party's sake and because the issue was forced upon them by the increasing prohibition sentiment. They could not evade the issues and, therefore, they have temporized by the enactment of a "make-shift" law, but—they should read "The Parable of the Ninety-two Thistles."

Respectfully,

FOSTER PICKETT.

General Lee's Democracy.

Editor Greencastle Herald:

For one who is not in politics I regret that some papers have recently given me an unsought notoriety with a coloring and interpretation, in some particulars, foreign to my views.

While in certain respects I may admire Mr. Bryan, yet from my personal acquaintance with and my admiration for, Mr. Taft, I have a higher regard for his practical ability as a statesman and believe that he will be more successful in carrying out the wise reforms in augured by President Roosevelt.

My preference is not based on the fact that Mr. Taft was Secretary of War when I was promoted to Major-General. I have never assumed to advise old soldiers as to whether they should vote for Taft or Bryan, nor have I felt called upon to suggest to them to support Mr. Marshall and other Democrats because I would vote for them.

These matters, I believe, they will think out and decide for themselves regardless of the appeals of political demagogues, or of vote-buyers who may be in evidence on election day.

I hope to see Mr. Taft elected President; and also hope that Mr.
Marshall and the balance of the State Democratic ticket may be successful.

I am an independent Democrat;
and while my "through and through" predictions are in full accord with the fundamental principles of the Democracy of the Jacksonian and Cleveland type, I do not subscribe to any vagary because it bears a partisan label.

Being such a Democrat I feel free to support the best man when I think I know who and what he is, regardless of the shifting plans of vote-catching platforms—platforms to get in on, but not to stand on.

It seems evident that the masses
—"the plain people"—are generally Democratic in principle, if not always so in practice, while among the classes that are aristocratic, money is regarded as omnipotent as a means to an end, whether right or wrong.

It seems almost incredible that any true American can accept the pernicious doctrine that any set of men or party has a monopoly of patriotism and civic virtues for public weal.

Should the belief ever prevail that a party long entrenched in power, state or nation, can not be dislodged without causing widespread ruin in legitimate industries and enterprises, our representative Democracy will speed to decay, and we might as well have a dynasty and dispense with all elections for legislative, executive and judicial officers. It will then be "an easy mount" from the "groundling" to "the man on horseback."

A firm adherence to the principles of genuine Democracy will avert the disaster of either socialistic or plutocratic control of our Republic, and it will not be a question, "Shall the People Rule," but the question of how shall the people rule?

J. M. LEE.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 26, 1908.

Judge Taft's Greeting at Reelsville.

For several days the news has been spread through the vicinity
"That Judge Taft's special train would pass through Reelsville." Everyone in the vicinity knowing of the construction of a new railroad bridge at this place knew that the Judge's special train must pass through town slowly giving everyone a chance who desired to see this great statesman and choice of President Roosevelt.
From reading the Republican papers of the reception given the judge, we could only expect that our small town would be overflowing with people eager of catching a glimpse and hearing a word from so great a man.
But when the judge's train arrived there was less than twenty-five people on the platform to greet, as the Republicans claim, "the next President of the United States, and the greatest friend of labor." Judge Taft looking from his window saw the small crowd on the platform, so coming to the rear of his car he took off his hat and waved his hand to the crowd, but received no cheers nor demonstration from the crowd at all.

No one ran after the train, no one climbed on to clasp his hand. A very cool reception indeed, but worse followed for one-half mile. Not one cheer for Taft could be heard. The Judge looked the crowd over and returned into his car possibly closing his ears to the cry for Bryan, of Nebraska, and Kern, of Indiana.
A Reelsville Citizen.

A Voice From the West.

Denver, Col., Oct. 24, '08.

Star-Democrat,

Greencastle, Ind.,

Gentlemen:

My paper of about October 15th failed to arrive as yet. Kindly mail a copy if you have one in the office.

Very glad indeed to know the outlook for Bryan in Indiana is good.
Just keep your eye on Colorado November 3 and see how popular he is in the West where he lives. We are going to carry the state sure. It is simply a question of how big the majority. Some surprises will be handed out from some good Republican states (so counted) in the West. Am 42 and this is my first Democratic vote for president and I fail to see how anyone other than the chronic office seeker can vote otherwise this year.

Although I regard Bryan as much superior to Taft the great thing that is catching the Republican votes—especially of the laboring man is the platform. My own desire is that congressmen and especially senators of the Democratic faith should be given a trial at some new financial legislation which will prevent a few Wall Street gamblers starting a panic when they desire. The present force on the job have proven to be wholly corrupt and under improper influence. The East should put them aside at this election. We of the West are more independent and the panic was hardly so severe but we see things in a new light and will act accordingly.

Yours for success,

J. T. BRIDGES.

LABOR AND THE ELECTION.

One Voter's View of the Promises of
The Republican Party to Laboring Men.

October 26.

The vote for which the final fight is being made in Indiana is the labor vote. The party that gets the labor vote this time wins. The Democrats ought to have all the labor votes in Indiana for in 1896 the Republican party promised the protection—
eight-hour law and a full dinner pail.
The fact seems to be that all things are protected except labor. The eight-hour law only is for the few, because nine-tenths of the labor is working ten and twelve hours, a day, and the dinner pail, God only knows where it has gone to! That all sounded well in 1896, but it doesn't sound well now from the Republican party which made the promise and failed to keep it. The Republican party denies this, but God knows it is true, and the laboring man knows it too. The Democratic party has reason to expect the preponderance of support from labor.
