

STAR-DEMOCRAT

OS. MARSHALL AND FACS.

After-Election Opinions of the Democratic Governor From Republican Sources Show His Strength.

SUGGESTED FOR PRESIDENT

Last Thursday two articles dealing with the election of Marshall and his character as a man should be read by all who desire to correct their political views. The first, an editorial comment in the Indianapolis Star, which has bitterly opposed Marshall, is especially worthy of attention. The second from the pen of W. H. Blodgett, of the Indianapolis News gives some of the sanest reasons for the election of Marshall that we have seen. The view of the part taken by the Anti-Saloon League is also interesting. The two articles, in part, follow:

Governor Marshall.

Mr. Thomas R. Marshall owes his election as Governor of Indiana to his own fine qualities as a man and a citizen. All that the Republican organization could do against him and all that the brewers and saloons did for him could not swerve from the suffrage of his fellow citizens in sufficient numbers to defeat him.

He was not elected because of the saloon issue, but in spite of it. The votes won for him by appeals to "personal liberty" were more than offset by the votes that by those appeals were alienated. He was preferred to Watson by voters enough who believe in him and distrusted Watson. It is not a victory for the breweries or the saloons, and these institutions would make a fearful mistake so to regard it. The thing that turned the scale was Mr. Marshall's irreproachable and amiable personality.

There is an element of justice and right in this result that should give heart to every man who is trying to lead a life of rectitude and honor. It shows that devotion to duty and to the higher ideals of life will build up for a man a reputation and a good name among his fellow men that the dissidents and mutators of politics can not take away.

When Mr. Marshall was nominated the Star gave itself the pleasure of saying:

If Mr. Marshall should be elected Governor, there is not a right-thinking or right-principled citizen of Indiana but would rejoice that a man of such fiber and grace of character would sit for four years in the executive office of the state.

To this sentiment we now cheerfully again subscribe; and with it we offer the prediction that whatever steps have been entertained of his trying the office of Governor into the hands of unworthy elements in our community life are doomed to final disappointment. He will serve the people to the best of his ability and with a clear conscience; and in that effort he will have the support of this newspaper, wherever that support can be given in justice and truth be extended.—Indianapolis Star.

WHAT THE LEAGUE COULD HAVE KNOWN

The Anti-Saloon League knew, or could have known, that Thomas R. Marshall was not nominated by the brewers. That he did not make a canvass for the nomination is well known. When the Taggart machine which includes the brewers, saw in the convention that L. E. Slack, who had been a jar to the cogs of that machine for years, was about to be nominated, it threw its vote to Mr. Marshall. It was not that the Taggart machine loved Marshall—it was that the Taggart machine hated Slack. The representatives of the Anti-Saloon League were in that convention. They heard Mr. Marshall declare from the stage that he did not seek the nomination, that he cared nothing for it, and that he wanted it distinctly understood that he would wear no man's collar, would not be the candidate of any faction and would accept no favors from any set of men, corporation or institution.

The Anti-Saloon League knew, or could have known, that Mr. Marshall is a temperance man in his daily life and in his public life; that he stands high in the esteem of his neighbors as an honest, conscientious, upright citizen and a man whose word will be taken anywhere in Indiana on any subject. The Anti-Saloon League knew, or could have known, that Mr. Marshall conducted his campaign entirely free from brewery and saloon interests. He paid his own expenses and would not accept a dollar from any one; would not permit the State committee to pay his traveling expenses or give him a penny. He borrowed the money from bank on his personal note and would not accept free transportation even on a hack line. When Albert Lieber and Crawford Fairbanks and a number of brewery representatives of liquor interests held meetings and sent for Mr. Marshall he declined to attend their meetings and replied that he had no business with them.—Indianapolis News.

ELECTION EXPENSES PAID

County Commissioners Meet to Pass Upon the Claims of Inspectors for the Expenses of the Precincts.

TOTAL EXPENSE NEAR $2,000

Saturday the county commissioners met to canvass the claims of those who had to do with the late election. The claims of each precinct were filed by the inspector of the precinct. The average of all the precincts was close to $50 each. There was, however, a great difference in the expenses of the precincts. The lowest claim from any precinct was for $36.50. The highest was for $57. The average claim was from $40 to $53. This would make the expenses of the election, so far as the expenses of the precincts are concerned approximate $1,700.

In addition to these expenses there must be paid the board of election commissioners who have put in some five or six days each, the expenses of printing the ballots, of advertising the election, etc., so that the final expense, not all in as yet, will not be far from $2,200. If the expense should reach that amount it will exceed the appropriation set aside for this matter, as the County Council has appropriated but $1,900 to pay all the expenses of the election. The exact expenses will not be known till all the claims are acted upon.

FREAKS OF MACHINE VOTE

Voters Case Ballots for Candidates Not on the Ticket and do Not Know the Names of Candidates on the Ticket.

Some queer things have come to light with regard to the work of the voting machines in Indianapolis. It appears that in the vote for joint senator the men who prepared the machines for the voting did not know the names of the candidates beyond those on the Republican and Democratic tickets. As a result they simply put down the name of the party in the place where the name of the candidate for joint senator should go. Now the Prohibitionists and Socialists had no candidate for joint senator, but the voters, deceived by the arrangement of the machine, cast 477 votes on the Prohibition ticket and 684 on the Socialist ticket, neither of which parties had a candidate for that office in the field. James W. Walker, candidate on the Independence ticket was on the machine and so was the party. The party received 27 votes and the man 4 votes. This is another case where the machines registered queer results

WEDDED AT COURT HOUSE

Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock Miss Minnie Alice Dickinson and Ollie Wilford Sweet were united in marriage at the clerk's office in the court house, Rev. Dalby performing the ceremony. Mrs. Sweet is the daughter of Fletcher Dickinson and Mr. Sweet is the son of Henry Sweet, both of Franklin Township. The contracting parties are well and favorably known to all in their home community and all wish them the greatest of happiness.

BRYAN LEADS IN PUTNAM

Miscount in Making the Totals of the Votes Cast in the Precincts Makes Commoner Appear to Fall Behind Marshall.

MAJORITY OF 505 IN COUNTY

A mistake in footing the columns of votes by precincts had, until this Thursday deprived Bryan of credit of leading the ticket in this county. His majority had been given as 465. He had been credited with 3131, while his opponent, Taft had been given 2666. A refooting of the columns showed that Taft had been given fifty votes too much, his total showing only 2626. This gives Bryan a total of 505, and makes him lead the ticket in the county, Marshall having 476 and Moss 480.

There had been considerable speculation as to how it happened that Bryan fell so low, when it was known that there was a strong Bryan feeling in the county. The discovery of this error makes all plain. The mistake was found by the clerk on refooting the columns for the final filing.

MOFFETT FAMILY REUNION

Members of the Family From Many Places Meet For a Day of Re-Acquaintance and Good Cheer.

ALL DINE AT THE BELNAP HOTEL

Members of the Moffett family from far and near enjoyed a reunion here Wednesday. They came in morning from all directions on both trains and interurban. They met for organization in the court house, from which place they went to the Belnap for a reunion dinner served especially for the family by the genial host of that hostelry. The afternoon was spent in conversation and family reminiscences. The following is a list of the members present:

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller of Terre Haute, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Moffett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moffett of Bainbridge, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Moffett, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. ARE HOLDING THEM LEVEL

Brazil City Officials Do Not Permit The Violations of the Speed Ordinance That are Winked at by Greencastle's Officials.

CAR CREW ARE UNDER ARREST

The Brazil Democrat gives the following in regard to violations of the speed ordinance by the interurban:

Henry G. Parnell, motorman, and Fred W. Laflin, conductor, of westbound traction car No. 45, were placed under arrest and taken from their car when it pulled into the traction station at 6:28 o'clock last evening for exceeding the speed limit.

The arrest was made by Chief of Police McMillan, who charged the motorman and conductor with running their car through the city at a speed of at least 20 miles an hour.

The crew strenuously objected to being taken from their car and the traction company officials also put in a kick but McMillan was firm and compelled the motorman and conductor to accompany him to police headquarters, where they were arraigned on the charge of violating the city speed ordinance.

Their trial was set for 10 o'clock Saturday morning before Mayor Shattuck and bond was furnished for their appearance by Clarence Turner, the local manager of the traction company.

About 45 minutes were consumed in arranging the details and securing bond for the conductor and motorman and the car was held on the Meridian Street switch until these details had been arranged.

Chief McMillan stated that in the future he would arrest all crews that violate the speed limit and would hold them personally responsible for the infraction of the speed ordinance. He said that the twenty cases which he had filed against the traction company for speed violations did not seem to have any effect on the company and that in spite of the fact that they had been convicted in one case the cars were still being run through the city at a speed of fifteen to twenty miles an hour and he intended to put a stop to it.

It is expected that the action of Chief McMillan in arresting the crew last night and holding the car here until bond was secured for the men, will have the effect of causing the traction company to sit up and take notice and that in the future they will try to comply with the speed ordinance.

VOTE FOR CONGRESSMAN

The Holliday Plurality of Five Thousand, in 1904, Was Wiped Off The Slate at the Election of Last Week and the People Gave

MOSS A PLURALITY OF 1,497

Official returns from the seven counties of the Fifth Congressional district give Ralph W. Moss for Congress a plurality of 1,497. When one stops to think that Congressman Holliday carried this district by a plurality of over 5,000 four years ago you begin to realize what a splendid race Senator Moss made. But the vote four years ago was the Roosevelt high water mark and two years ago Mr. Holliday narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of Claude Bowers.

Many Republicans expected that if Mr. Holliday made another race, he would have been defeated, but they had no idea that Howard Maxwell would be snowed under by a Democratic plurality equal to the normal Republican plurality in the district.

The official figures as reported from the various counties are as follows:

Counties.	Moss.	Maxwell
Clay	831
Hendricks	445
Morgan	27
Parke	162
Putnam	480
Vermillion	653
Vigo	1473
Totals	2784	1287
Moss's plurality	1497

A LETTER WAS RECEIVED

But it Came too Late—Cloyd Hershey, a Recent Graduate of DePauw University, Committed Suicide in Boston, Where he Was Studying Theology.

HIGHLY REGARDED IN THIS CITY

Boston, Mass., Nov. 9.—News of a tragical affair at Boston University School of Theology, in which Cloyd Gray Hershey, 25 years old, of Logansport, Ind., put a bullet through his brain in his room, 72 Mt. Vernon Street, became public today.

A pitiful feature of the tragedy was the receipt of a letter from the dead man's sister, hours too late, in which he was urged to bear up just a little longer, because everything was coming out all right.

The university authorities have made every effort to suppress the news of the affair since the discovery of the body, twelve hours dead, early Saturday morning by his friends. The young man had sent a bullet through the base of his brain. It was found imbedded in the woodwork of his room.

The suicide occurred Friday evening, and the body was found the same night bathed in blood by one of his roommates. Although the faculty has been in communication with the Hershey family at Logansport they decline to discuss the case beyond an admission that the suicide occurred.

Hershey was one of the most prominent men in the junior class. He was a native of Logansport, from where he entered DePauw University, graduating with the degree of A. B. He was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. The body has been shipped to the family home for interment.

Medical Examiner McGrath, who was notified, gave as the official cause of the act, "Sinsignia."

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR

Greencastle Chapter, No. 255, O. E. S. entertained Brazil Chapter No. 80, Thursday night. There were 14 guests present including Mrs. Nora Sampson, Worthy Matron, of Brazil Chapter and Miss Louis Klingler, Past Grand Ruth of the Grand Chapter of Indiana. Other chapters represented were:

Bridgeton Chapter, No. 324; Shelburn Chapter, No. 299; Fillmore Chapter, No. 186; Tippecanoe Chapter, No. 96; Medaryville Chapter, No. 310; Ladoga Chapter, No. 222; Fortville Chapter, No. 149; Groveland Chapter, No. 330; Edwardsport Chapter; Morton Chapter, and M. Z. Krider Chapter of Lancaster, O.

The hall was decorated with flags and chrysanthemums.

The work was given in a beautiful and impressive manner, after which a two-course luncheon was served and a social time enjoyed.

'PROHIS' ARE RESPONSIBLE

Col. Weaver Lays Watson's Defeat at the Feet of Temperance Workers In This State.

CASE OF GROSS INGRATITUDE

Thursday evening, in his Senior Sem class, Col. James Riley Weaver, who is a staunch Republican, severely criticised the Prohibitionists of the State for their action in the recent election. The Colonel has made a thorough study of the political situation and declares that the Prohis are responsible for the defeat of James E. Watson, when they should have been for him to a man. He said in part, "The trouble with the Prohibitionists is, that when they come up to a high steep wall, instead of trying to find an easy way through or around, they attempt to go straight up and over the obstacle. They are too narrow to compromise and take advantage of small concessions, the policy which always wins in reform movement, but foolishly try to swallow the entire apple at one bite. When the Republican party came to the rescue and at a great risk championed the cause of temperance it was thought that the Prohibitionists would at least cast their ballots for the Republican candidates. Not only did they not do this, but it seems that many of them used their influence to keep others from doing it. It was certainly a bit of gross ingratitude and it will no doubt be many years before either of the two great parties will again take up the temperance issue."—DePauw Daily.

We think Col. Weaver is not quite correct in the interpretation of the vote in Indiana. In the first place the Prohibitionists voted with their party on the presidential proposition. They could do nothing else. Taft was a liquor man by his record and the evidence of the Prohibitionist and liquor papers. They could not go to him. In state matters the vote, so far as we are conversant with it, shows that the prohibitionists went to Watson. In the south precinct of the Second ward eighteen votes were cast for the Prohibitionist candidate for president and all of the eighteen for the Republican candidate for governor. The same holds true wherever we have learned of the actual vote. We believe that it was the Prohibitionist vote for Watson that made it possible for him to stand so high on the ticket, as he was severely scratched by his own party.

IS HONORED AT HOME

William Jennings Bryan May Succeed Dr. Andrews as Chancellor of the Nebraska State University.

William J. Bryan, thrice a candidate for the presidency, and thrice defeated, may become chancellor of the state university of Nebraska, succeeding Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, who last week tendered his resignation to the board of regents because of ill health. Members of the board decline to discuss the question of the Andrews succession, saying it is their rule to proceed secretly in such matters, and that nothing can be given out for publication until the place has been proffered and accepted. In university circles, however, gossip links the name of Mr. Bryan with the chancellorship.

Mr. Bryan was asked for an expression, said he had not previously heard of it, and that there was nothing concerning the situation which would warrant him in making any statement.

The chancellorship at Nebraska pays an annual salary of $6,000. Dr. Andrews was offered $7,000 two years ago, but declined an increase on the ground that other departments of the university were in greater need of money. He is to retire as chancellor early in the year and is to take a long European tour to recuperate his health.

TRIAL IS POSTPONED

The Hearing of the Murder Charge Against Emory Cassell, In the Owen County Circuit Court, Goes Over to a Date Yet Unnamed.

The trial of Emory Cassell, charged with the murder of Thomas Mills, was called in the Owen Circuit Court Thursday, but was postponed and may not come up for trial at this term. The case was postponed because the Owen County Council has not yet made an appropriation of funds to pay the defendant's counsel.

A COSTLY COTTON TAIL

The Fines and Costs Amounted to $53 and the Game Warden Gets His Rake Off Out of the Amount.

Monroe County rabbit hunters, who a gunning go during the closed season, find the sport a little expensive.

For killing one little rabbit three days before the closed season for hunting ended Joseph Lamb and Clarence Cather, of Springville, were each fined $26.50. This also included the costs. Last Friday evening the two men went out near their home and one of them shot a young rabbit. They were out in an open field. In the field were two deputy game wardens watching them. As soon as they fired the first shot and picked up the rabbit the two wardens swooped down on them and placed them under arrest. They were taken before Justice Kern, who imposed the fine.

The marriage of Mr. Will Herod to Miss Grace Oakley was solemnized at twelve o'clock today at the home of Rev. Brown of East Greencastle.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of Miss Ica Oakley of Roachdale, a sister of the bride, the groom's sister, Mrs. Grace Gorham and Miss Ida Herrod, Faye Reese and Rev. Brown and family.

The bride wore a brown tailored suit with hat and gloves to match, while the groom wore the conventional black.

Both are well known in the city, the bride, whose home is in Roachdale has been employed with the Greencastle Telephone Co., as long distance operator for the past two years.

The groom is a prosperous merchant of South Greencastle, of the firm of Herrod & Oakley.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Herrod boarded the train for Chicago for a short wedding tour. They will be at home on Main Street to their many friends after December 1, where they have the best wishes of all.

THE CLOSED SEASON ENDS

Hunters Take to the Fields This Morning Delighted at the Rain and The Beginning of Quail Hunting.

This is November 10, a big day in the eyes of him who loves the gun and dog and the autumn fields and incidentally a nicely browned bird at the end of all. It is the first day of the open season for quail. A man can now carry a gun and follow a dog without fear and trembling, provided he has the written permission of the man whose fields he seeks to hunt over.

The day was almost ideal for the sport, except that more sunshine would have been acceptable. But the rain last night made it fine for the dogs and many who went out this morning were looking for good sport.

It is reported that the dry season has been favorable for quail and that they are comparatively plentiful. The truth of this statement will be established one way or another when the Nimrods return tonight.

HONOR FOR THE STROUBES

Frank M. Stroube, sheriff-elect of Putnam County, was born in Bracken County, Ky., July 19, 1863. At the age of two years he came to Indiana with his parents who settled on a farm in the south part of Madison Township, Putnam County, near the Mt. Olive Church. Here he lived with his parents up to the time of his marriage when he moved to Washington Township, where he has since lived. He has been for years a well-known stock-dealer in south Putnam.

J. W. Stroube was born in Madison Township, Putnam County, December 27, 1865, spending the greater part of his life on a farm making family his principal occupation. He was elected Trustee of Madison Township by the largest majority since the year 1876.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, thyroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Governor-Elect Thomas R. Marshall Refused to Use the Contributions Sent by Those Who Desired to Assist Him in Making the Race for Governor.

IS BUSY RETURNING THE MONEY

Columbia City, Ind. Nov. 6.—It is stated that Thomas R. Marshall, governor-elect, has during the campaign returned all proffered contributions of money to help defray the expenses of his canvas. During the campaign at least $3,000 have been received here for his use, but all of it was returned with thanks. Marshall states that he did his campaigning on money that he borrowed from the First National bank of this city.

THE STAR OF TRUTH.

The "Star of Indianapolis" does us the honor, this morning, to suggest that we have misstated the purport of their editorial on Marshall of some days since. The Herald stated that the Star had repudiated its attacks upon Marshall. The Star holds that it has repudiated nothing. Overlooking the polite language of The Star editorial, which sounds as if it had been written by a newsboy and not by a member of the staff, we would say that evidently The Star has failed to appreciate the meaning of its earlier attacks upon Marshall or of its late editorial. Looking back over the files of The Star we find that Marshall is accused of being the brewery candidate, of pandering to that interest. Later he is accused of having no strength of character, of vacillating in his course, of failing to answer questions directly put to him by Hanly in order to deceive the people and to carry water on both shoulders. These attacks were not upon the Democratic party but directly upon the character of Marshall. He has been represented by The Star as the conscious and willing candidate of the brewers, whether the Star so intended to represent him or not. Now The Star declares that he was not the candidate of the brewers, that he was not a weakling in character, and where before it had pretended to believe that Marshall's election would be the ruin of the temperance cause in the state it now expresses faith in his adherence to this cause. The Star's intentions may have been good in both cases, but the meaning of the articles, as understood by everyone, is plain. After the Star's articles appeared a Republican came into The Herald office and offered his apologies to the Democrats and wrote Mr. Marshall an apology, declaring that he had been misled by The Star, and now that the Star had told the truth he was sorry for the attitude he had taken. The Star's article, as understood by all its readers, meant not a bit of congratulatory buncombe, but an attempt to square itself with many of its outraged readers. Congratulating an opponent upon his victory is one thing, calling him a liar and a blackguard today and eulogizing him tomorrow is another. The Star should first review its course for the last month and then, if it fails to understand its own writings inquire of some one outside the office what people have taken its writings to mean. Perhaps The Star intends, like the Dutchman, to be taken for what it means, not what it says, and the meaning is clear to none but The Star. But then what would you expect from the author of the polite editorial in this morning's Star.

FOOLISH TALK.

Since the election there has, naturally, been much foolish talk. Some Republicans have professed to see prosperity already reviving due to faith in Taft. They seem to be unable to see that if this is true it is a repudiation of Taft's promise to adhere to the Roosevelt policies, for, say the financiers, it is the Roosevelt policies that caused the panic that has frightened prosperity from the country. As a matter of fact the election of Taft has had and can have no immediate effect on a situation which is and has been continuously in the hands of the same men and the same party that will control it after Taft's inauguration. But the most foolish talk is that of the so-called temperance element in this state. Said a temperance Republican yesterday, "I have signed remonstrances all my life, but I will never sign another. If the temperance people will repudiate their principles and vote for Marshall they will get no more help from me." We note something the same assertion in the press reports from many parts of the state. Such talk shows a lack of balance and sanity. Because honest men estimated Watson at his true worth and refused to believe all the vapors of the now repudiated Hanly, and insisted on voting for a gentleman instead of a politician, it does not signify that they voted against

Said Our Mr. Allen to the Advertising Man the Other Day:

"Do you know that you've been neglecting the Cloaks for little girls and school girls?"

"In all our years of Cloak selling we have never before marked Girls' Cloaks on so close a margin—the Cloaks marked $5.00 are as good or better than Cloaks we marked $6.50 to $7.50 last year."

These are the facts in the case and your money this season will buy of us better values than we have ever before offered.

Cloaks for Little Folks

Are still shown in the popular bear skin fabrics, both plain colors and fancy wovens in every size, from fitting the tiniest toddler up to large sizes. Prices range from $2.50 up.

Cloaks for School Girls

Are largely made in cloth fabrics all popular shades and in sizes from 8 to 14 years. Prices range from $3.50 to $10.00, but the most desirable styles are shown in variety at the popular price of $5.00.

Popular Priced Cloaking For School Cloaks

Should you care to make a Cloak and have one for the girl that will cost you but a trifle and yet be extremely desirable—we offer you at our Dress Goods counter—

3 Piece of Extra Heavy Novelty Cloaking at 75c a Yard.

This new Cloaking is 59 inches wide and the price, 75c a yard, is but a small fraction of its real worth.

Miss Smythe has selected paper patterns of girls' Cloaks that are correct in style and that are easy to make.

The pattern and cloth sufficient to make a School Cloak will cost you from $1.50 to $2.50.

temperance. The show of childish temper in these utterances makes plain the attitude of mind of the speakers. They were not for temperance so much as for their man and his band of temperance. We have said continually that partisan feeling and agitation injured and did not aid the temperance cause before the election. Much more so is this true now. To accomplish results all must stand together.

RALPH MOSS.

The election of Ralph Moss, Democrat, by a large majority in a district normally Republican by a good surplus, is illustrative of sentiment, not only in this district but in all the districts of the state. The people of Indiana want a change. It must be acknowledged that some of them were afraid of Bryan. The vicious personal attacks made upon him under "scare heads," the coercion of manufacturers and railroads, who said to them men that a vote for Bryan meant a vote for no work, had its effect. But the people did not want any more of the tariff nor the trusts, and they have seen to it that so far as Indiana was concerned, the men who will make the laws are pledged to reform the tariff downward and to do some effective legislation in restraint of trust control in Washington and over the country at large.

Mr. Moss is an excellent example of the men chosen for that work. Unconnected in any way with corporations, a man who in less exalted positions has been true to the people, whose convictions on the questions of the day are innate, not born of political need, a man, in fact, of the greatest honesty and strength of purpose. He goes to Washington pledged to look carefully to the interests of the people, and we are confident that these pledges will not be forgotten, as was the case with Watson, Landes and many Republican Congressmen. Putnam County congratulates itself upon the part played in the election of this man.

WATSON'S POSITION.

It is declared in some quarters that James Eli Watson will again be the candidate of the Republican party for Governor of Indiana in 1912. We are inclined to think that neither Watson nor his party will look with favor upon this proposition. It is well known that Watson was not the choice of the rank and file of his party as its leader during the last campaign. We are inclined to think that the only thing that gave him any showing at all was the thrusting into the campaign of the temperance question. Of course it was known by all who think in the least that his election as governor could effect the matter little one way or the other. Indiana's veto amounts to nothing since it requires but a constitutional majority to carry legislation over that veto. So far as giving temperance any moral support even his friends acknowledge that his record made this impossible. Still the Republicans were able to gather many into line on the temperance question whom they could not otherwise have brought to the polls. We believe that with this question out of the fight Watson would not be even as strong a candidate as he was. The machine which gave him his nomination last spring is broken. Other men will be coming to the front and Watson's chance is gone. He may get a consul or an appointive position, but he will not again appeal to the people. His party must take care of him for what he has done as whip of the house.

And now comes the Indianapolis Star and repudiates everything it has been saying about Marshall, declares that he won on his merits, that Watson went down to defeat because he was the machine candidate, and states further that the brewers contributed nothing to Marshall's success. It will now be time for those far-seeing politicians in Greencastle, who followed the Star's lead in denouncing Marshall, to revise their opinion in harmony with the facts. A number of men who knew Watson's record for political buncombe were either fooled by it, or willingly swallowed it knowing it false. It is now time that they look up the real facts in the case and cease to hide their head in the sand of political lies.

The suggestion that Roosevelt be sent to the United States Senate from New York is not meeting with that loud and prolonged applause that was expected. The position the President took in the last campaign, his partisan attacks upon men and measures, his forgetfulness of the "square deal," his renewed friendships with some of "The malefactors of great wealth" have tended to shake the faith of many people in the usefulness of Roosevelt in the Senate. It is probable that the applause fail-

Women's Tailored Suits and Cloaks

We told you the other day—that because of an exceptional demand for Cloaks at $10.00 and we very largely sold our first purchase of Cloaks to sell at $10.00, and

That we had a big lot of Cloaks bought to sell at $12.00 and $13.50 and put them in the $10.00 line—

This explains why it is that we are selling the best new style Cloaks for $10.00 we have ever offered at the price so early in the season.

$10.00, $12.00 and $15.00 for Exceptional Values in Women's Tailored Suits

Should prove interesting reading for women who enjoy wearing good style, well fitting Tailored Suits of high quality.

There were some 40 Suits in this lot and there's not one in the offering but what would be good value at $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ more money.

In all our many years of selling Women's Tailored Suits, ready-to-wear, we have never met with so much success in pleasing critical customers—the various styles—somehow seem to fit nearly every sort of figure we have tried them on—and prices never were so reasonable as this season.

Tailored Suits are shown in great variety at $10.00 to $25.00.

THE I. O. O. F. DEDICATION

The arrangements for the dedication of the new Grand Lodge building of the I. O. O. F. of Indiana, will take place at Indianapolis on November 18. The program arranged is as follows:

Dedication Ceremonies, 3:30 p. m.
Dedication Parade, 7:30 p. m.

Dedication Address by the Grand Sire, 9:00 p. m.

The dedication parade will be an attractive feature of the occasion, and will consist of more than 5,000 members.

All bodies will march in fours, except Patriarchs Militant, who are governed by code.

Counties will form their lodges in numerical order and be in command of their D. D. G. Ms.

Single lodges will be placed in their respective divisions according to number, and be in command of a marshal of their own selection.

All bodies and members will report to the marshal of their division at rendezvous at 7:15 p. m. sharp. Individual members are invited and urged to be in line, and will be welcomed in any division.

All counties and members will have torches distributed to them on and after 7 p. m. at place of formation of parade.

Torches must not be lighted until the parade reaches Ohio Street, where officers will be stationed for the purpose of giving command to do so—not before.

The fours of each command as nearly as possible will carry torches as follows: The first four will carry red torches, to be lighted at Ohio Street; the second four will carry red torches not lighted until commanded to do so is given at Capitol avenue; the third set of fours will carry "sparklers" to be lighted at Ohio street on command; the fourth set of fours will carry green torches, to be lighted at Ohio street; the fifth set of fours will carry green torches to be lighted at Capitol avenue, and so on ad libitum. The red and green torches burn 20 minutes each. A set of the sparklers will burn 35 minutes.

No torch much be lighted until commanded to do so.

The headquarters will be on the second floor of Odd Fellow Building, where marshals of lodges and counties, and others, if detached, on desiring information or instruction of any kind are requested to report at any time during the day of the parade. An effort is being made to get a special car to leave at 5 p. m. Fare to be 8 cents if 50 or more go. Those wishing to go leave names with John Sutherlin or John Cook.

Putnam County delegation is going to take a band with them.

FOR BENEFIT OF FARMERS

The seventh annual farmers' short course (formerly called corn school and stockmen's convention) will be held January 11 to 16, 1909, by the School of Agriculture of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

This course of one week is especially designed for and adapted to the needs of corn growers, stockmen, dairymen, horticulturists, and home makers. That the work is popular and has proven to be of practical value is borne out by the fact that more than 3,500 people have taken the course during the past three years.

The instruction consists of lectures and demonstrations which include a discussion of the various important phases of the subjects together with practical scoring and judging. The schedule for the week is arranged so that the time is about equally divided between the lectures and the judging work.

On Wednesday of Short Course week, the State Corn Growers will hold their annual meeting. Men with national reputations will be secured for the day. Corn growers should plan to attend.

During the week the state corn and fruit shows will be held by the Corn Grower's Association and Horticultural Society. More than $1,000 will be offered in premiums which is sure to bring out a large number of entries. All corn and fruit men are eligible, no membership or entry fee being charged.

For programs and other information apply to Purdue University School of Agriculture, Lafayette, Ind.

GREAT FOR BEVERIDGE

Defeat of Republican Congressman
And Certain Defeat of Hemenway
For the Senate Gives Senior Senator.

ALL PATRONAGE IS NOW ON

Friends of Senator Beveridge of Indiana, and these friends are numerous in Greencastle, regardless of party, are congratulating him on the position he holds as a result of the Democratic landslide in the matter of congressmen and the senator to be elected. Eleven of the thirteen congressmen are Democrats, and the state legislature, Democratic on joint ballot, insures the election of a Democratic senator.

This situation gives to Beveridge the patronage of the state. The candidates for postoffices and places on the spoils list must now go to Beveridge, and he has the chance that comes to few to strengthen himself and establish a machine that will be to his liking and will do his work.

Incidentally it is remarked that the Chairman of the Republican committee here is rather on the wrong side of the Beveridge machine, and that his chances have been rather injured by the defeat of Maxwell, but only time can tell.

The Big Four Railroad Officials Before the Election Prophesied Dire Results and Tough Times for Employes if Bryan Was Elected—On Thursday the Section Men Had Their

WAGES REDUCED 13c PER DAY

About two weeks before the recent election employees of the Big Four Railroad were warned by the officials of that line that they might expect less work and lower wages if Bryan was elected president, and they were also assured that these expectations would be realized in amazing strenuousness and in quick time after election results became known. These officials were careful to omit any mention of what would occur in the work and wages line if Taft should prove the winner, but the inference was that wages would be better and work more plentiful in the event of his election.

Behold the result.

On Thursday the section men employed on the Big Four system were notified that a reduction of THIRTEEN CENTS PER DAY was to be made in their wages, this too at the beginning of winter, when living expenses are necessarily increased, and when, also, much higher prices are demanded for nearly all the necessities of life than was the cost of the same articles twelve months ago.

OCTOBER DRYEST IN 38 YEARS

Total Precipitation was .23 of an Inch—Average Temperature Highest Since 1902.

According to the monthly meteorological summary of the local station of the weather bureau, there was less precipitation last month than for any preceding October during the last 38 years. The total precipitation last month was .23 of an inch, and the nearest approach to this, as to dryness, was in October of 1892, when the total precipitation was .28 of an inch. In October of 1874 the total precipitation was .36 of an inch.

The average precipitation for October during the last thirty-eight years was 2.66 inches. The greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours last month was .12 of an inch, on the 7th. As to the average temperature last month was a little above normal, as normal for October, computing by the last 38 years, is 55.1, while the average temperature last month was 56. The average temperature last month, by the way, was higher than for any previous October since 1902, when the average for October was .57. The highest temperature last month was 82, on the 18th, and the lowest was 31, on the 31st. The greatest daily range in temperature was 31 degrees on the 4th, and the least was 6 degrees, on the 27th.

The prevailing direction of the wind last month was northeast, and the average velocity was 8.7 miles an hour. The greatest velocity was thirty-two miles an hour, from the south, on the 25th. During the month there were fourteen clear days, nine partly cloudy days and eight cloudy days.

PAY FREAK ELECTION BETS

Jake Kiefer Takes Ride in a Wheel-Barrow Round the Court House Propelled by Doc Hodges as Result Of Marshall Victory.

The Bigger Tailoring Co. make you custom suits from $20.00 to $40.00.

Friday was the day for the paying of freak election bets. The first one was a wager between Jake Kiefer and Doc Hodges on the result of the state election. Mr. Kiefer wagered that Marshall would win and offered to wheel Mr. Hodges round the court house if Watson was successful. If Marshall won Mr. Hodges was to do the work and Mr. Kiefer was to ride. A side understanding was to the effect that if either party doing the wheeling dumped the party doing the riding he was to contribute a dollar to the party dumped each time it occurred. As Marshall won Mr. Kiefer took his ride a little after 1 o'clock today.

Fred Reising had a similar bet with Fred Hillis, so it is said, and was to enjoy his airing today at 1:30 but the believer in Watson did not make his appearance, and the show did not take place.

THE WAY THEY JOLLY THEM

A Sample of Some of the Things the Republicans Have to Stand in Hendricks County Since the Election.

Who wouldn't be a Hendricks County Democrat!

Lift your hat to John W. Ader, the first Democrat to carry Hendricks County since the war.

Our Republican friends are now at full liberty to express their honest convictions regarding one J. Frank Hanly.

Seven township trustees out of twelve—another record-breaking performance for the Hendricks County Democracy.

Center Township, Hendricks County, State of Indiana, U. S. A., there she stands, a shining example of efficient Democratic organization.

Just look at the Democratic vote in Center Township and then think what it might have been if Sam Small hadn't "made the Republicans mad."

There are some Republicans in Hendricks County who are carrying a concealed smile about their person. They believe the jolt their party got Tuesday will result in a readjustment that will place them in the limelight.

"What's the matter with you fellows?" was the frequent inquiry made of the local Republican managers yesterday by the headquarters at Indianapolis. It rather nettled some of them at first, but as they began to get fuller returns from the State they decided that while they did not know exactly what their affliction was they were certain that whatever it might be it was epidemic in the ranks of the Republican party.

ENLARGING THE ICE PLANT

Gardner Brothers are Installing New Machinery to Produce Largely Increased Supply of Artificial Ice.

Gardner Brothers are now putting in place new machinery that will greatly increase the productive capacity of their plant. The City of Greencastle has become attached to artificial ice, and Gardner Brothers propose to see that they have enough of it. The machinery now being installed will allow the plant to put out some three tons more ice per day than heretofore, and it is believed that this addition to the equipment will make it possible to supply promptly all orders for the City of Greencastle.

ENTERTAINED

The members of the Greencastle and Morton Eastern Star Lodges visited Fillmore Lodge Thursday night. The meeting was a most successful one and a delightful time was had. After the work was given refreshments were served. Those going from Greencastle were W. H. Cullen, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Mrs. Margaret Hamrick, Mrs. Will Glidewell, Mrs. John H. James, Mrs. Ed. Stone, Mrs. Spaulding, Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lynch, Mrs. Dollie Caldwell, Miss Ella O'Hair, Miss Amanda Gobel and John Smith.

TO THE RAILWAY MAIL

Park Dunbar, Assistant Postmaster of the Greencastle Office, is Promoted to the Road Service—Will Probably Have Run From Indianapolis to St. Louis.

ASSIGNED TO BIG FOUR SYSTEM

Park Dunbar, present assistant postmaster of the Greencastle office, has received an appointment to the railway service on the Big Four division and it is thought that his run will be from Indianapolis to St. Louis. His promotion once more leaves the office of assistant postmaster vacant.

The promotion of Mr. Dunbar is not a surprise as he has been working hard for it ever since he returned from the South. He took the necessary examination some time ago and secured an unusually high grade. Because of this he was assigned to one of the best divisions of the mail service in the west—the Big Four system.

Mr. Dunbar does not know how soon he will be called to his new position but it will probably be within six months. Until then he will continue as assistant postmaster here.

at the Kidneys Do NEW GOVERNOR'S HAND-OUT

Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when healthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This is on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, rheumatism, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the sight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, sleep, deposits in the urine, etc.

If you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Charles Mizener, electrician, living Bloomington Street, near Washington Street, Greencastle, Ind., says know what Kidney complaint is because I suffered from it for eighteen years. The trouble was caused, believe, from overwork and my kidneys grew weaker and weaker until every cold I caught settled in the back and I always had to be careful not to overlift or move quickly. If I did sharp pains would start here and there through the kidneys and after I suffered from dull throbbing headaches. Of course, when these spells attacked me I was helpless and would quit work and go to bed. I consulted a doctor and tried many remedies but the relief I obtained was not satisfactory until I took Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones' drug store. I had heard them so highly recommended that I thought they might help me and I am thankful to say they did from the first dose. It required only two boxes to entirely cure the kidney complaint and since then I have not had the slightest symptom of the trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills have my earnest endorsement."

INTEREST IN WHO GETS THERE

Governor-elect Thomas R. Marshall will soon be confronted with the problem of distributing the leaves and fishes. The first candidate for an appointment under the new governor made his appearance yesterday. Timothy Griffin wants to be custodian of the state house, and he has made known his wishes to the Democrats who congregate about Democratic headquarters. Mr. Griffin is a familiar character in political circles. He has had charge of the decorations for every state convention for a generation. He was for six years superintendent of the state capitol when it was under construction and after that for twelve years he was custodian of the building. He is familiar to a gnat's heel with all of the duties devolving upon the custodian. The salary of custodian is $2,000 a year. He has the appointment of an assistant custodian at $1,200 and about fifteen janitors at $60 a month. While Mr. Marshall was stumping the state in the race for governor he frequently referred in strong and denunciatory language to the large number of commissions that have been created and said that if the legislature keeps up the pace it will set it will only be a short time until every man in Indiana will be a guardian for some other man. The number of commission, it is sad to say, will not appear any less to him when he comes to dole out the appointments.

Very few persons have an idea how much patronage the governor has at his disposal. He has the appointment of a private secretary at $2,500 a year, an executive clerk at $1,500, a stenographer at $1,000, an executive accountant at $2,500, a chief engineer of the state house at $2,000 an adjutant general at $2,250 a quartermaster general at $1,200, a brigadier general at $2,250, a factory inspector at $2,000, an oil inspector at $2,500, four trustees at $300 a year and expenses for the Central, Northwestern, Eastern and Southern hospitals for the insane, for the epileptic village at New Castle and the insane hospital at Madison, the deaf and dumb institute, the Girl's school, the Woman's prison, the Institution for the Blind, the State penitentiary, the Indiana Reformatory, the Boys' Reform School, the Soldiers' Homes at Knightstown and Lafayette and the School for Feeble Minded at Fort Wayne, a state entomologist at $1,500, four members of the state board of forestry at $300 a year and expenses, a commissioner of fisheries and game at $1,200, five members of the state board of optometry at $5 a day and expenses, six members of the state board of medical registration and examination at $300 a year and expenses, five members of the state board of pharmacy at $5 a day and expenses, two state labor commissioners at $2,000 a year, three members of the state tax board at $3,000 a year, three members of the state railroad commission at $4,000 a year, three members of the state board of pardons at $300 a year and expenses, five members of the tuberculosis commission at $25 a month and expenses and members of other commissioners too numerous to mention, most of whom serve without pay or draw nominal salaries. In several of the offices mentioned there are deputies who are appointed by their immediate chiefs, but it has been the custom in the past for governors to make suggestions regarding some of these appointments, which suggestions were treated with eminent respect by the chiefs. There are about thirty-five deputies under the oil inspector.

AVOID HUNTING TROUBLES

By Keeping Off of Posted Lands, as The Farmers Seem Determined to Protect Their Property as Well as Preserve the Game in This Portion Of Indiana.

LAW'S PENALTIES ARE SEVERE

The hunting season is budding, and its fruition is made manifest by a larger acreage of "posted" land in Putnam County than ever before at the start of the season. More farmers will have put up notices forbidding hunting on their land than in previous years. That, too, with qual more plentiful in the county, according to reports from practically every neighborhood, than for many years.

One reason for the increase in "posted" lands is found in the growing dissatisfaction with the conduct of hunters. In the old days, when there was plenty of game of every kind and game laws were not thought of, a hunter went out and killed what he or his family needed to eat. Now all that is of the past. The hunter goes out to see how many birds he can kill in a day—and everyone in the county knows how the wholesale slaughter has "done for" the quail.

In recent years there has been much complaint of hunters who have refused to recognize the rights of the farmers on whose lands they hunted. Such action on the part of the men with the guns has been another important factor in the increase in "posted" lands.

Farmers have, in recent years, learned they can protect the game on their lands by putting up the "hunting forbidden" notices. There are many farmers who object to hunting as being thoroughly brutal and who have, for that reason, taken advantage of the law to close their farms to hunters.

The drought of the summer and fall, thus far, is, however, probably the largest single factor in the increase of "hunting forbidden" notices.

In Sullivan County, as well as in other counties, many farm and meadow fires have occurred, recently, in lands far removed from railroad tracks. Hunters are thought, in many instances, to have been responsible for those fires. In several counties of the state farmers have banded together to "post" their grounds in order to avoid the cause of fires that might do great damage.

Another cause of complaint against hunters is that in gunning for game they frequently injure cattle, horses, hogs or sheep, failing to notice that they are within range, or not caring whether they are or not.

Verily, the lot of the hunter is not inviting in this year 1908, within the confines of Putnam County.

Verily, the lot of the hunter is not inviting in this year 1908, within the confines of Putnam County.

The drought of the summer and fall, thus far, is, however, probably the largest single factor in the increase of "hunting forbidden" notices.

In Sullivan County, as well as in other counties, many farm and meadow fires have occurred, recently, in lands far removed from railroad tracks. Hunters are thought, in many instances, to have been responsible for those fires. In several counties of the state farmers have banded together to "post" their grounds in order to avoid the cause of fires that might do great damage.

Another cause of complaint against hunters is that in gunning for game they frequently injure cattle, horses, hogs or sheep, failing to notice that they are within range, or not caring whether they are or not.

In Our "Store For Men"

is Clothing in Variety-- to supply every need and desire that men and boys may have.

We have Clothing for boys-- in age from 3 years and upward.

We have Clothing for young men--the nifty kind with style and snap in it.

Society

We have Clothing for men more mature age--made in more conservative styles.

We have Clothing for stout men and slim men.

And in addition to having Clothing that please, and satisfy all sorts of tastes and fit, all sorts of shapes and figures.

Its the kind of Clothing that continues to satisfy-- that retains its shape and color-- that continues to look good as you wear it--and lastly but least,

That costs you no more than Clothing that lacks in some of these qualities.
