

THE MAIL

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

Personal.

U. Shewmaker has returned from a trip out west.

Will Ripley is off with Rev. Dunham in a trip to the east.

G. M. Barbour, of the Gazette, visited his family, at Chicago, this week.

John H. Berry is off to his old Connecticut home, for a month's stay.

Mrs. L. P. Briggs, of Chicago, is visiting the family of Charles H. Mixer.

Miss Rose B. Paige is spending a portion of vacation at Put-in-Bay and Cleveland.

T. P. Murray went to Waukesha, Wisconsin, this week, for a stay of several weeks.

Henry Greenawalt, is at his old home, Center Square, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania.

L. A. Burnett has been chosen chairman of the Republican county executive committee.

Mrs. S. E. Moore, of St. Louis, who has been visiting in this city, returned home yesterday.

Capt. Wm. Barrick has returned home from his northern trip, and is still in very bad health.

Claude Matthews, will sell at Clinton, on the 7th of August, a fine lot of high bred trotting horses.

Mrs. F. C. Crawford will start, next Wednesday, on her annual pilgrimage to the old home in Ohio.

Charley Barrick has been unable to command the Prairie City this week, on account of that sunstroke.

R. F. Havens and family started Tuesday morning for two weeks sojourn at the French Lick Springs.

E. C. Bichowsky, now auditor of the Gilman and Mattoon railroad, was visiting his home in this city, this week.

Mrs. W. B. Sherburne, who has been visiting her daughter in Kansas, for several weeks, returned on Wednesday.

Hon. Wm. Eggleston, who is a prolific writer of books on law, has ready for press a new work on "The Measure of Damages."

S. D. Terry, of the Ledger, was once a writer of serial stories. The active duties of journalism don't allow him time for such work now.

Perley Mitchell, one of the early pioneers of Parke county, died at his home, in that county, last Saturday afternoon, at the age of eighty-three years.

Luther G. Hager and family started for Colorado, on Wednesday. Mr. H. will witness the sun's eclipse from the topmost pinnacle of Pike's Peak.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Moore, of Rockford, Illinois, are visiting their relatives and many friends in this city. Mrs. M. was formerly Miss Rena Pearce, of Marshall.

Express: Quite a party of Terre Hauteans are rustinating at the French Lick springs. Among them are W. B. Warren, J. G. Crain and D. C. Danaher.

The Republicans hope to put on the track Hon. Thos. H. Nelson and W. K. Edwards for the Legislature. They would, if elected, do honor to Vigo county.

Edward Coe, who was for some time a clerk in the Auditor's department of the Vandalia road, and had many friends in this city, died, on the 7th of July, in Philadelphia.

Rev. S. F. Dunham, who recently returned from the far west, is off for the east for his summer vacation. Mr. D. is earning the title of the great North American traveler.

A stop should be put to Indianapolis boys taking away our girls. Here comes the Indianapolis Journal saying: "William Ernst, assistant auditor of the Belt road, spent the Sabbath in Terre Haute. Rumor has it that in a few weeks he will couple on to one of the fairest daughters of that city."

In these days of sunstrokes it is very necessary to keep the head cool, and to do this get a nice straw, leghorn or other hat—one that ventilates. You will find a large stock, including all the latest styles, together with a full line of goods furnishing goods at S. Loeb & Co's, sign of the Big Black Bear, corner of Main and Fifth streets.

The circus procession to-day had some very pretty wagons, but none of them were so handsome as J. H. Chapman's elegant bread wagon, which in its daily rounds makes so many families happy in delivering the palatable home-flavored bread. It starts from the Market Dining Rooms, where hundreds daily get such splendid meals at the low price of twenty-five cents.

Button & Co. are now busily engaged in invoicing, and until the fall trade sets in will sell at remarkably low figures anything in their line, and especially pictures, and many little ornaments for the table, mantel and household. Keep in mind that the Central Bookstore is headquarters for all that is nobby in stationery, and in blank books, they carry the largest stock in the city.

In the corner stone of the old school house, among the half dozen leading merchants of twenty-one years ago was mentioned Deck & Doll, shoe dealers. This house is still in existence, owned by J. P. Tutt, in the Opera House block, who, by keeping goods of the best manufacture, selling at reasonable prices and dealing fairly and squarely, retains many of the old customers of near a quarter of a century ago.

A Herz will go to the eastern markets next week.

James Hunter has gone to Grand Haven to see the wife and baby.

Joseph Gilbert favors us with a copy of the annual report of the Indiana State Board of Agriculture.

Miss Hannah Smith came home this week from Vincennes, where she has been visiting for several weeks.

John S. Beach has retired from the Hominy Mill firm and now it is Theo. Hudnut and Ray G. Jencks, under the same firm name of Hudnut & Co.

Mrs. Burns and Miss Phebe Hudnut went to Cincinnati, Thursday morning. The latter will attend the Glendale school the coming year.

Jerry Voris has received a letter from his son James, from whom he had not heard for five months. He has been away out west, and is now farming in Arkansas.

Mrs. Emma Miller, of Indianapolis, is visiting her parents, the Mancourts, on Eagle street. Next week, accompanied by her sister, Miss Mollie Mancourt, she will go to Put-in-Bay.

J. G. Briggs, superintendent of our water works, is now engaged in making a map or plan of laying pipes for our neighbor town of Paris, where it has been voted to have a system of water works.

Charley Smith, train dispatcher on the Vandalia line, and Miss Belle McLeod, were married, at the residence of C. I. Ripley, Monday evening. The bridegroom has been quite ill, but wouldn't let that interfere with the wedding, which had been set for that evening, and so he was propped up in bed while the ceremony was performed.

Col. Cookerly, in a card in yesterday's Express, says the announcement in last Saturday's Ledger, that he was a candidate for Circuit Judge, was made without his knowledge. None but an old journalist, who appreciates the love pencil pushers have for points for pungent paragraphs, would have been so thoughtful as to close his card as did the Colonel, with: "Hoping that you will not find any fault with me for spoiling a little material for sport, I am, &c."

Gazette: Mr. C. S. Anderson, the round journalist, has signified his intention of making the balloon ascension with Mrs. Light on the occasion of the Vigo county fair. He says he is not afraid to go any place under the canopy of Heaven where a woman will, the balloon which will be used on that occasion is the largest one Mrs. Light has, requiring twenty thousand cubic feet of gas.

Dr. Von Moschzisker came to this city, expecting to stay but a few weeks.

Such has been his success, and such the high standing of his patients that we are glad to know the date of his departure has been put far in the future. He has effected some remarkable cures, as have been attested by cards from several prominent citizens—people who would not lend their names to sustain, or recommend to other sufferers, a charlatan or impostor. It is indeed a pleasure to note the growing success of so worthy a gentleman and skillful physician as Dr. Von Moschzisker.

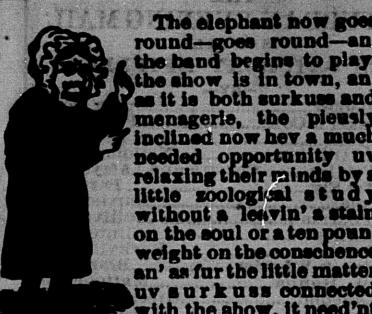

Republican: A number of his friends visited Colonel John P. Baird, at the Indiana Insane Asylum, last week, and report that he is worse than he has been since entering the institution. The brilliant intellect that once challenged the admiration of Indiana is now clouded. He has a very pleasant hallucination, however. He imagines that he is the sole proprietor of the State institution for the insane, and says that it is the aim of his life to make the people under his charge happy. He remembers incidents that happened twenty-five or thirty years ago, but when asked of anything later has a very indistinct recollection.

Charles Gaylor, the well known dramatist and author, and a gentleman whom it is a pleasure to know, is in the city. He is out this season, to "get a rest," and is doing the advertising for the great Barnum show. He has worked ahead of his dates, and knowing of no better place to "wait for the wagon," is spending several days here. He first visited this city in 1836, practicing law in the western courts, and he made a speech in our old court house during the Clay campaign. In his inquiries after our old citizens he is surprised to find most of them passed away. He remembers once taking a long walk out in the country to look at the Terre Haute House, now about the center of the city.

In returning from the show this afternoon, by coming down Seventh street, at the crossing of Main street, you will run right into Wright & King's popular grocery store, where you will find all the good things to eat, among which may be mentioned ripe apples and peaches, green corn, vegetables fresh and in great abundance, canned goods, fish, everything in the line of staple and fancy groceries, hams, breakfast bacon and extra dried beef, spring chickens, Graham and St. Louis Mills Patent Flour, cracked wheat, Akron oatmeal, Hudnut's clean meal, grits and hominy, and in fact everything needed for the table.

There is no place like home, and when you want furniture for it, there is no place like Forster & Son's furniture house, on North Fourth street.

Every family ought to have a musical instrument, and should get a good one—if it is a piano, get the Chickering; or if an organ, the Mason & Hamlin. Both these instrument and others from good manufacturers are to be had on favorable terms at W. H. Paige & Co's.

The elephant now goes round—goes round—an' the band begins to play, the show is in town, an' as it is both surkuses and menageries, the piously inclined now have a much needed opportunity of relaxing their minds by a little zoological study without a "leavin' a stain on the soul or a ten-poin' weight on the conscience an' as for the little matter uv a surkuse connected with the show, it needn't stan' in the way uv a visit, as the zoological student is not compelled to witness it, an' can close his ears to the sound of the "whoop-is-a!" in the next tent. But you bet I'm a goin' to see both, just as soon as I tell that Mr. Ripperoe, at the "White Fright," has the most magnificent collection of chickens to-day, ever seen in these parts, an' that hunny of his is just 'ew nice, an' he also has Western Reserve butter, tommytoes, green corn, beans, kabbage, blackberries, apples, pawtawies, and so on till yew kant rest.

There can be no doubt that the best goods can be found with those dealers who make a specialty of the same. Hence the constantly increasing trade of J. M. Riffner & Son, dealers in teas, coffee, spices, sugars, and syrups. If you haven't visited their elegant establishment on Main street, just east of Fifth, do so at once.

BARNUM'S FREE SHOW.
Barnum will give a free exhibition of his magnificent new $2,000 advertising car to-day. The car arrived early this morning, bringing with it the "paste brigade"—sixteen strong—and it is on exhibition to-day. The public is invited to visit and examine it. It has attracted the greatest admiration everywhere for the elegance and peculiarity of its design and the beauty of its decoration. The paintings, by Walker, alone cost over $7,000. Like the great show of which it is the forerunner, it has not its equal in the world. Go and see it. The affable conductor—Col. F. A. Keeler—will welcome you and show you every courtesy.

INSTITUTE.

The Terre Haute Commercial College has set apart one month for special instruction to teachers in the branch of Penmanship, commencing August 5th. This is an opportunity and privilege that every teacher in this county should take advantage of when it is known that their wages depend as much on the grade in this branch as in other branches, and no teacher should profess to be able to teach that which they do not rightly understand themselves. Charges for the month's instruction, five dollars only. Every teacher in the State not a good penman, should accept this privilege. For further information call on or address GARVIN & DAILEY, Terre Haute, Indiana.

ICE CREAM.

Scudder, the Old Reliable, in Full Blast!

W. H. Scudder has thoroughly refitted his Ice Cream parlor, and invites the entire city to call and partake of the Ice Cream, the excellence of which has made his establishment a household word for almost a generation.

Who is Herz?

HERZ is the man who commenced here a small notion and fancy goods store in 1860, and by his efforts to please the community, by his close attention to business, has acquired for himself the good will of the public to such an extent that to-day he stands unparalleled in the history of notion business in Terre Haute, fears no old competition nor any new ones, as many as may choose to come.

Always receives new, fresh goods, studies the wants of the community, and sells at such prices that no other dealer in this city can keep step with.
