THE CURE IS PERFECT.

Aged Patient of Dr. Roy is Free From Cancer.

A visit to John Stockman at his residence five and one-half miles east of Plymouth, found the old gentleman enjoying excellent health and very much gratified with the manner and result of Dr. Roy's exceptional treatment for the cancer by which his face has heretofore been disfigured. Mr. Stockman is a man not far removed from the good old age of four score years.

About ten years ago the first premonitory signs of coming cancer appeared on Mr. Stockman's nose. After the incipient growth had made some progress physicians were consulted who advised that nothing be done, probably on the lame hypothesis that it was better to advise in this manner than to frankly acknowledge the case beyond their skill. This advice was taken and followed until a few months ago, when it seemed that a course of treatment was imperative. The patient then called upon Dr. Roy, the Hindoo of this city, and had the cancer examined and briefly related his experiences with it. He had now come to regard the cancer as incurable and was not to be blamed for receiving with some incredulity Dr. Roy's statement that he could cure it.

Arrangements for treatment were made, however, on the basis of a guaranteed cure, which after six weeks terminated in a full redemption of the guaranty.

Mr. Stockman has lived in this vicinity for the past 18 years and is a man more or less known in all sections of Marshall county. Previous to moving here he lived fifteen years in Elkhart county to which place he came from Ohio. He was born in Pennsylvania.

The removal of the cancer has of course left a disfigurement of the face but the sore is healed and the health and comfort of the patient infinitely improved. It is difficult to set a price upon the skill that can accomplish such results, and Dr. Roy is to be congratulated on the possession of this skill as Mr. Stockman is on its result.

When People May Dance.

At a gathering of King's Daughters at London, Ont., the other day, Mrs. Graham, of Toronto, on being asked if dancing should be tolerated, replied: "Yes, but only in the morning an hour before breakfast, and then the woman should dance with her husband or brother." This encouragement of morning dancing, at a time when morning prayers are said to be falling into disuse, may possibly strike some Christians as unwise. And there are sedate heads of families, not necessarily Christian, who would kick vigorously if they were asked to dance an hour before reading the morning paper and going to business. Farmers, also, who have to begin work very early in the morning, will be apt to complain if this dancing rule should be enforced.

Chamois Corset Is Comfortable.

The discomforts of the steel corset may be avoided in future by the adoption of the home-made chamois corset, which is said to be sufficiently firm and perfectly comfortable. A dainty finish of silk makes the neatly fitting chamois corset a very attractive affair.

How to Mend Your Gloves.

Mend your gloves with fine cotton thread instead of silk. The silk is apt to cut the kid. In mending gloves turn them inside out and sew them over and over. If there is a tear in the glove set a piece of kid under it and secure it with a few stitches.

E Pluribus Unum on Our Coins.

According to the United States mint officials the words "E Pluribus Unum," as they appear on our coins, are there without the sanction of law. The legend first appeared upon a copper coin "struck" at the Newburg (New York) mint in the year 1786. The United States were very young at that time and could not afford the luxury of a mint, so a private individual by the name of Brasher opened the Newburg coining establishment with the intention of turning out money of the realm for all comers. Exactly how the words "E Pluribus Unum" came to be used as a motto is not known, but one thing is certain, the Brasher copper coin bearing that legend at the date of 1786 is the most valuable metal disk ever minted on this continent, being worth about $2,000, or twice as much as the famous rare dollar of 1804.

Some time after coining his famous copper with the odd Latin motto as described Brasher tried his hand on a large-sized gold piece, producing the coin known to the numismatists as "Brasher's twenty." The Brasher "twenty" was not a $20 gold piece, however, for it lacked $4 of weighing enough; but of late years it has become very scarce and valuable because of the fact that the legend inscribed upon it reads "Unum E Pluribus" instead of "E Pluribus Unum." This coin is now valued at $1,500.—St. Louis Republic.

In spite of all we do we cannot keep it in the rear. And it is well that it insists in holding its place in the van, because it is nobly, guaranteed, and medium-priced. Its value is equal to any Stetson, Knox or Dunlap, at far less in price than these standard makes.

The line comprises both soft and stiff goods. Give this hat a trial and convince yourself that it proves to be all we claim.

In addition to this line we also carry an excellent line of other good makes as well as a nice line of CAPS at prices that always hover below competition.

A full line of STRAW GOODS is carried in a separate department.
