

Badger said he thought nothing would have been gained by the use of the terms "bank of discount and deposit" in his message; for, as to the charge of inconsistency, it might, and probably would, be made against him for party effect, if he sanctioned the bill then proposed by him, inasmuch as dealing in or buying bills of exchange would be discounting, and to that extent make it a bank of discount.

When all the material points appeared to be disposed of, and the members of the Cabinet present had expressed their decided approbation of the plan the President suggested, he said that, after all, he would not sanction a bank in the form just agreed upon, if he supposed that it would be made the ground work or basis of a bank with all the powers of the late Bank of the United States. He never would give his sanction to the power of local discount. He feared that, at the next or succeeding sessions of Congress, the Whigs would be bringing forward amendments engrafting this power upon any charter he might now approve; and he appealed to his Cabinet to know if they would stand by him, and use their influence in preventing any such movements while his Administration lasted. Mr. Webster and others gave him all proper assurances upon this point.

The President thought a capital of fifteen millions of dollars would be sufficient.

A name, he said, was important. What should it be? Fiscal Institute would do. It was objected to, and the name of Fiscal Bank preferred by a member of the Cabinet. He replied that there was a great deal in a name, and he did not wish the word bank to appear in the bill.

The President then enquired if he was understood. He said there must be no misunderstanding of what he proposed to do. Addressing himself to Mr. Ewing, he asked him if he thought he understood his views fully. Mr. Ewing undertook to recapitulate. He understood the President to have no objection to a bank in the District of Columbia, with offices of discount and deposit in the States, with their assent. The President interrupted him abruptly, by saying he did not understand him at all; he was not willing to sanction any such bank. I understood his objection to be to the power of local discount. I supposed Mr. Ewing intended to say that he understood the President had no constitutional objections to such a bank. Mr. Ewing, however, without explaining, went on to say, that he now understood the President to have no objection to a bank in the District of Columbia, with power to issue its own notes, receive moneys on deposit, with offices or agencies in the States having the privilege, without their assent, of dealing in bills of exchange drawn in one State or Territory and made payable in another State or Territory of the Union, and in bills between the United States and foreign States or Nations.

The President said he was then understood. He requested Mr. Webster particularly to communicate with the gentlemen who had waited upon him that morning, and to let them know the conclusions to which he had come. He also requested Mr. Ewing to aid in getting the subject properly before Congress. He requested that they would take care not to commit him by what they said to members of Congress of any intention to dictate to Congress. They might express their confidence and belief that such a bill as had just been agreed upon would receive his sanction; but it should be as matter of inference from his Veto Message and his general views. He thought he might request that the measure should be put into the hands of some friend of his own upon whom he could rely. Mr. Sergeant was named and he expressed himself satisfied that he should have charge of it. He also expressed a wish to see the bill before it was presented to the House, if it could be so managed.

I then said, addressing myself to Messrs. Webster and Ewing, that no time was to be lost in communicating with gentlemen of Congress; that there was danger that Mr. Ewing's bill would be taken up and reported to the House immediately after the bill sent back to the Senate with the President's objections was disposed of.

As the members of the Cabinet rose to depart, or just before, the President requested Messrs. Webster and Ewing, as they had turned their attention more particularly to the subject, to furnish him with written arguments upon the points they had been discussing. He wanted them to fortify his own opinion, and to lay up for future reference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20, 1841.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT,

COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS.

ELIAS H. HAINES, re-appointed, at Sandusky, Ohio.

WILLIAM WALSH, at Folly Landing, Virginia.

DEPUTY POSTMASTERS.

LITTLEBERRY H. MOSBY, at Louisville, in the State of Kentucky, in place of George L. Douglass, resigned.

EZRA DAGGETT, at Milledgeville, in the State of Georgia, re-appointed.

SELLING A WIFE.—A disgraceful scene was exhibited in Stafford market on Saturday. A laboring man, of idle and dissolute habits, called Hall, residing at Dunstone Heath, near Penkridge, led his wife into the town with a halter round her body, for the purpose of disposing of her in the public market to the best bidder. Having taken her into the market-place and paid toll, he led her twice round the market, when he was met by a man named Barlow, of the same class of life, who purchased her for eighteen pence and a quart of ale, and she was formally delivered over to the purchaser. The parties then went over to the Blue Posts Inn to ratify the transfer, followed by a considerable number of persons, who had been attracted by the proceeding.—Staffordshire Adv.

A SISTER SHOT BY HER BROTHER.—A few days since a most fatal and lamentable accident occurred in Brady township, Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, in the family of a Mr. Tressler. The son fired at a bird which sat on the corner of the house, high off the ground. The ball struck the end of one of the house-logs, glanced from thence to the fence, and then struck the girl who was in the garden. The ball entered the right side, passing immediately through the heart, and lodged against the skin on the left side.

McLEOD.

It is now said that the testimony returned from Canada, under the commission, conclusively shows that McLeod could not have had any part in the destruction of the Caroline because he was not present! If this be true, and it comes pretty direct, his ridiculous gasconade has caused the two countries a great deal of trouble. He must be acquitted.—Cin. Gaz.

More Steamboat losses.—From the St. Louis Bulletin, of the 23d inst., we learn that the steamboat Baltic, on the way from New Orleans to that port, came in contact, near Fort Adams, on the 13th, with the Maid of Kentucky, and was sunk, the boat and cargo a total loss. The Maid of Kentucky was considerably injured.—Id.

Murder and Suicide.—A distressing case of murder and suicide was committed in Delaware, O. For some slight offence the father made his son 6 years old take off part of his clothes, and stand up against a fence, when he was fired at and killed. The father then shot himself.—Id.

Shipwreck.—The Bark Florida, from Canton, bound to New York, with a cargo of teas and silks, was lost on the 22d near New York. The entire loss is $200,000 and the insurance in New York offices.—Id.

Fraud.—It is reported in Philadelphia that one of the City Banks has been defrauded out of a considerable sum, by means of one of the checks marked "good," which constitutes a considerable portion of the Eastern currency, and rendered necessary by the banks paying specie and contracting their circulation.—Id.

Great and rapid rise of water.—It is stated in the Augusta, Georgia, papers, that the river at that place, during the night of the 16th, and from 12 to 6 o'clock, rose 20 feet. Some of the towns on the river banks have been overflowed.—Id.

Foreign Letters.—The Britannia took out 8,700 letters. The Caledonia brought 11,500. The postage on the letters from New York amounted to $13,000.—Id.

Powder stolen.—Sixty-five kegs of Powder were stolen on the 17th instant, out of the magazine at Lockport.—Id.

An Earthquake.—We notice in the Richmond papers, that a shock of an earthquake was felt there on the 12th inst., and heard also at Baltimore. It was felt about 11 o'clock at night.

AGUE! AGUE! AGUE!!
No cure no pay.
CLEMENS & BAKER'S celebrated Black Tonic Pills, A certain cure for FEVER & AGUE.

Warranted to cure or the Money refunded.
THE unparalleled success which has attended the use of these Pills wherever they have been introduced, enables us with confidence to offer them to the public as an infallible remedy for FEVER AND AGUE. And as we have never yet heard of their failing to cure in a single case, we have such confidence in their efficacy, that we hereby authorize our agents to refund the price of them in every instance of failure, provided satisfactory evidence is given that the directions for their use has been complied with.

These pills contain no mineral or poisonous ingredient, nor any thing in the least injurious to the human system, but are a vegetable preparation, and may be given to infants or persons of the most delicate constitution, with perfect safety, and are of so bracing and strengthening a nature, that they restore a lost appetite, strengthen the digestive organs, and invigorate the whole system; and are consequently one of the best remedies known for dyspepsia, liver complaint, jaundice, and general debility.

No person, living in a section of country where intermittent fevers prevail, should ever be without a box of the TONIC PILLS, and whenever the premonitory symptoms appear, by taking one pill every morning or oftener, the disease will in most cases be arrested.

To travelers also, they cannot be too highly recommended, as they are neatly put up, and can be carried in the pocket without inconvenience, having in this respect the advantage over all the liquid Tonics, which are not only bulky and liable to breakage, but being generally watery solutions, will not stand the cold.—The Tonic Pills contain all the virtues of the best of them.

Our advice to every body is, Go and buy a box of Clemens and Baker's Black Tonic Pills, which may be had of the following agents:

MORGAN COUNTY TAXES FOR 1841.

THE Treasurer of Morgan county, Indiana, hereby gives notice that the Duplicate for the present year is now in his hands, and he will meet the citizens of said county in person or by deputy in their respective townships on the following days, to-wit:

At Martinsville, Washington township, on Monday the 11th day of October next;
At Morgantown, Jackson township, Tuesday, October 12th;
At James Cullen's, Green township, Wednesday, October 13th;
At Jacob L. Brumwell's, Harrison township, Thursday, October 14th;
At Laers, Madison township, Friday, October 15th;
At Monroeville, Brown township, Saturday, October 16th;
At Monrovia, Monroe township, Monday, October 18th;
At M. D. Miller's, Adams township, Tuesday, October 19th;
At James Bradley's, Greag township, Wednesday, October 20th;
At Adam Lingle's, Ray township, Thursday, October 21st;
At Lyon's Mills, Clay township, Friday, October 22d;
At Daniel Bales, Baker township, Saturday, October 23rd;
At William Ebers's Still house, Jefferson township, Monday, October 25th.

For the information of those who may not be apprised of the amount of tax to be collected, it is as follows:
For State purposes, on the hundred dollars, forty cents, poll tax seventy-five cents;
For County purposes, on the hundred dollars, ten cents, poll tax fifty cents.

All those failing to pay their taxes by the 25th of December, 1841, will forfeit ten per cent. damage, and four cents per mile going from the county seat, the latter for distraining property, besides all this, the sacrificing of property. The law is rigid and plain. The Treasurer undergoes great responsibility if there be a failure on his part. He would just say to the people of said county, to be prompt in paying their taxes, for if not paid against the above stated time he will be compelled to make the money under the hammer, which would be very unpleasant, both to his fellow-citizens and to himself.

JOHN J. GRAHAM, County Treasurer. sept 1 6w
