PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY AT SYRACUSE, INDIANA BY

Business Manager

office at Syracuse Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Now that the lake season is over, and the greater portion of the cottagers have left Syracuse and Lake Wawasee to return to their homes in various parts of the central states, Syracuse, like all resort towns, settles down to the business of its fall and winter trade.

This trade of a necessity must come from our townspeople and citizenry throughout its natural trading area.

The Journal, although only in its ninth month, covers both Syracuse and its contingent trading territory very thoroughly and is the best medium through which to reach both city and rural buyers.

Our advertising rates are very reasonable and our list of readers cover just the people Syracuse merchants should contact through their advertisements.

Let no one tell you that Syracuse is doomed to the confounded bow-wows, because of this or that having been done or not having been done. We still contend it is the most widely known town of its size in the great middle west, it with Wawasee, is the largest summer resort in the state; it has some of the most desirable factory cities in the country good paved roads leading to and from it in every direction, has the possibility of becoming the mecca for this section of the country for winter sports which always draws big, enthusiastic crowds of people who come, see, spend money with us, and then go back home and help advertise us. These, Mr. Citizens, are Syracuse's chances—as Syracuse—to not only survive, but to grow and prosper and, become the thriving little city it has every natural chance to become.

PAST MATRONS CLUB AT MASON CLUB ROOM

The Past Matrons Club of Syracuse Chapter No. 283 Order of the Eastern Star were delightfully entertained at a Hallowe'en party in the Masonic club room on Tuesday evening by Mesdames Adah Crow and Grace Slabaugh.

The guests arrived masked and were greeted by two ghosts, who later escorted each guest into the club room proper which was gaily decorated with Hallowe'en appointments. Here, one by one, each guest was initiated into the "Ghost Circle" after walking through coals of fire.

Everyone enjoyed the usual merriment of unmasking, which was followed by numerous contests involving the exercise of the five senses. Prizes were won by Carrie Rapp, Esther Osborn, Edith Harley and Elvira Colwell.

At a late hour the guests found their places at a beautifully decorated table, appropriate to the Hallowe'en season, where a most delicious lunch was served.

Those present were Mesdames Edith Harley, Elvira Colwell, Esther Osborn, Emma Thibodeaux, Fannie Hoy, Mary Hoy, Carrie Rapp, Ida Hammann, Ida McGarity, Georgia Miller, Lelia Greene and Prim Dunn.
