NEW TYPE CYLINDER HEAD
FOR CHRIS-CRAFT MARINE MOTORS ANNOUNCED BY MACY

Mr. M. W. Macy, local dealer for the Chris-Craft Corporation, Algonac, Michigan, announced today the development of a new type cylinder head which increases thermal efficiency, resulting in a brake horsepower output from 4 to 7 per cent above that obtained from present types.

It has been found that with this new type cylinder head, it is practical to increase the compression ratio from 6.5:1 to 7.5:1 without the use of special fuel.

The secret of design lies in the combustion chamber which is constructed so that the combustible charge is in a higher state of turbulence at the moment of ignition.
This quickens the combustion of the charge earlier in the expansion stroke which is desirable because the earlier the heat of the fuel is liberated, the more chance it has to be converted into energy.

Prior to this development, it was impractical to go beyond a compres-sion ratio of 6.5:1 with cast iron cylinder heads. However, with the new type combustion chambers, a higher turbulence is induced and there is less tendency for the engine to knock or detonate. In consequence, a higher compression ratio can be used which in turn results in a higher power output. It also appears that the new combustion chambers practically eliminate self-ignition, one of the causes of detonation, or what is commonly known as engine ping.

The new cylinder head is the result of the combined efforts of Jay W. Smith, president, and Elmer P.
Jasper, Chris-Craft marine motor engineer. It is believed that this development is a definite step forward in marine engine design.

Mrs. W. G. Connolly was in Chicago the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Garber of Bristol, visited with Mrs. Garber's grandmother Mrs. Sarah Younce.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sprague

Mrs. Charles Switzer and Mrs. Rosa Gibbs.

Levi Kitson returned home Sunday from Indianapolis, where he spent several weeks with his daughter Mrs. Garfield Walker and husband.

Ralph Thornburg Jr., a student at Indiana School of Pharmacy, of Indianapolis, spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thornburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Verd Schaffer of Millersburg, Mrs. Marjory Masters and two children Barbara and Jackie of Elkhart, visited with Mrs.
Sarah Younce last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLoss Weaver had as guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moss of Greentown, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jacob and Ray of Swayzee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Schoerer of Marion.

The Missionary Society of the Evangelical church, met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Angeline Edmonds. There were sixteen members present. Mrs. Guy Rarig presented the lesson on Moving Millions and Mrs. Court labough gave

"Democracy" at New York Fair

NEW YORK—"Democracy" is the name that has been given to the "City of Tomorrow," which is to be the theme exhibit of the New York World's Fair 1939. It is to be presented in the interior of the 18-story Perisphere, an enclosed space twice as large as New York's Radio City Music Hall. Visitors will look down upon it from a "magic carpet" floating around within the sphere and permitting a view as from a height of two miles.

Library Notes

by Alice Mann Hire

LIBRARY NOTES— . . . if . . .
Dr. Latham presented to the library a two volume set of "History of Dental Surgery." The Yale University Press also presented the library with a four volume set of "The Colonial Period of American History."

Last week I discovered that someone has been tearing the two pages of photographed recipes from the American Home magazine. The magazines are now being checked to find who is taking these recipes.

All This and Heaven Too, by Rachel Field. This story, based on truth that is stranger than fiction, combines the drama of one of the most notorious murder cases in France with a period of American history covering the New England and New York of 1850 to 1875.
The heroine, Henriette Deluz, Desportes, a woman of rare gifts, fortitude and magnetism, lived as governess in the ill-fated household of the Duc and Duchesse de Praslin, and became unwittingly the pivot about which that crime revolved. In 1847 she faced a hostile police, pleading her own case before the Chancellor of France in the murder trial that was the sensation of two continents and helped a French king from his throne. It is in fact the story of Rachel Field's own great aunt. Miss Field tells the works of Henriette's remarkable life—drawing upon history, rumor and her own imagination.

Tell My Horse, by Zora Neale Hurston. This book is unique in that it tells the inside story of noodoo in Haiti and Jamaica. Zora Hurston herself took part in the rites which are celebrated with all the wild, savage abandon of the native blacks, and she describes what she saw with all the poetry and literary ability that characterizes her writing. The story of esoteric superstitions, savage voodoo ceremonies, strange customs of the little known negroes of Jamaica and Haiti.

At the regular board meeting Friday night, Mrs. Miles and Freeman will give a report of the Indiana Trustees meeting which they attended at Indianapolis. Of the 1,800 trustees in Indiana, Mrs. Miles and Freeman were "two" of the twenty-two in attendance.

Will the person who borrowed "The Sisters," by Brenig, please return it at once.

PAST MATRON'S CLUB OF
ORDER OF EASTERN STARS
MEET AT MRS. OSBORN'S

Full Membership Present to Enjoy Fine Program and Light Refreshments

The Past Matrons' Club O. E. S. met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Esther Osborn with Mrs. Georgia Miller as assisting hostess. The full membership, afteen, were present.

Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Lella Greene being elected president; Mrs. Fannie Hoy vice president and Mrs. Grace Slabaugh, secretary-treasurer. After the business meeting Mrs. Miller read a history of the origination of Thanksgiving day and Mrs. Osborn read a Thanksgiving poem. Several contests followed. Those receiving prizes were Mrs. Grace Slabaugh, Mrs. Fannie Hoy and Mrs. Lella Greene. The members were then shown to the dining room where they were seated at the table which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and bitter sweet and lighted with tall white tapers. Ice cream, cake, coffee and candy were served. The guests departed at a late hour each thanking the hostess for a very lovely party.
