

ELECTION RESULTS

After a strenuous week of pre-election excitement, the editor slumped back in his office chair, to reflect on the result of the election.

While in a thorough reverie he heard a step outside and a fumbling of the door latch. The door opened and the bulky figure with snow white whiskers, and wind blown white hair as the Sage of Butter-milk Point stood before him.

The room seemed close with the atmosphere of personality and sturdy character.

The editor invited the old philosopher to sit down. The editor then said "Well, what do you think of the election?"

After a long pause, during which time the stillness was only broken by a few mice scampering above the ceiling, the old Sage stroking the finger of his right hand through his bulky white hair, spoke as follows: "It's been a great day for America. It's been a great day for both the Democratic and Republican parties." Regardless of this man here and that man there, the people have shown they have strength and courage and vision enough to express their own wishes. From New York to San Francisco the people show no danger of being shackled to a lock-step of any country in Europe. Both the Democrat party and Republican party desire neither party to be strong in their country and the closeness of the results on this election measures the health and soundness of our government.

PROMINENT PRINTER DIES

Edward O'Connor, better known as "Ted," died at his home in Ligonier last Thursday. His death was due to complications resulting from a broken hip. He had a fall last spring and spent several months in the Hines hospital in Chicago, returning home about six weeks ago.

Mr. O'Connor was a veteran of the Spanish American war, being a member of Co. L, 157 Indiana regiment, commanded by Col Studebaker.

Surviving are his wife and two daughters. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church Saturday and interment in Ligonier cemetery.

MINISTERS APPEAR WITH WIVES AT ASSOCIATION MEETING LAST MONDAY

Every now and then the ministers of the Syracuse Ministerial Association arrange a special meeting and make it special by including the "queens of the parsonages"—their wives. This was the delightful order of the afternoon, from the time of 1:00 o'clock, last Monday. Assembly was with Rev. and Mrs. Travis Purdy in the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. Joseph C. Bailey is the Association's president, and the secretary-treasurer is Rev. Ralph G. Rarick. They respectively represent the United Brethren church and the Church of the Brethren. Besides these and their wives, there were present: Pastor and Mrs. J. Samuel Pritchard of the Trinity Evangelical church; Pastor and Mrs. Victor R. Yeager of the Church of God; Rev. and Mrs. Clarence R. Bitzer in the management of Oakwood Park; Pastor and Mrs. Olin G. Alwood of Solomon Creek United Brethren church; Pastor Harvey J. Currens of the Grace Lutheran church here and the Lutheran church at Cromwell; and the host and hostess for the afternoon—Pastor and Mrs. Travis Purdy of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Subsequent to a business session, Host Purdy gave a review of Leslie D. Weatherhead's book on, "How Can I Find God?" There was the enjoyment of fine fellowship and the exchange of ideas by these leaders in our community life who have so much in common and alike are striving constantly to enhance our moral and spiritual welfare. There was the partaking of refreshments and there was appropriate singing of the great church hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Our respected clergymen will convene in their next meeting, on Dec. 5, with Rev. and Mrs. Victor R. Yeager, now located in the city and in the parsonage of the Church of God.
