PLAN PEST DRIVE FOR '38-'39

Organize Team to Stimulate Interest
In This Part of Their Study

The Freshman and Sophomore agriculture boys have started a pest drive in the form of a contest. William Miller is captain of one side, and his team consists of Emerson Bushong, Charles Malson, Robert Disher, Johnny LeCount, and James Eyer. Billy Wiggs is captain of the other side and his team consists of Gahlon Goon, Robert Burrow, Dale Goon, Richard Baumgartner, and Wayne Coy.

Rules

1. Mice, 5 points each.
2. Sparrows, 10 points each.
3. Pigeons, 20 points each.
4. Starlings, 25 points each.
5. Rats, 50 points each.
6. Crows, 200 points each.
7. Mink, 1,000 points each.
8. Weasels, 1,000 points each.
9. This contest will begin October 26, 1938 and will close 12:00 noon on March 1, 1939.

3. To receive these points, it will be necessary to present evidence of having killed the pest. This evidence are to be turned in at the beginning of the agriculture periods on Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays and will be destroyed immediately after they are recorded. They are:

For mice, their tails.
For sparrows, their feet.
For rats, their tails.
For starlings, their feet.
For pigeons, their feet.
For crows, their feet.
For mink, the entire animal.
For weasel, the entire animal.

4. All points shall be given to the contestant submitting the proper evidence and the high-scoring individual shall receive a prize to be determined later by a special committee.

5. The losing team must give a party for the winning team, and furnish the refreshments. The winning side will have the opportunity of furnishing entertainment and determining the time and place of the party.

6. The official record shall be kept by Mr. Byers. Points cannot be recorded, however, without the presence of both captains or their assistants as witnesses.

7. In case of dispute, Mr. Byers and the captains will decide the settlement thereof.

Grade News

First Grade

Our project for November is the study of the Pilgrims and their coming to America. Large posters with the story thought worded by the children and free hand cuttings of pictures are being made. Also little booklets for each child. The sand table will portray the Pilgrims living in America.

We took a walk and called on Dickie Saven Friday afternoon at our recess time.

Donna Strieby was absent from school on Monday.

Delbert Strieby, who has been ill, returned on Monday.

We talked about the eclipse but were not able to see anything because of the cloudy weather.

Second Grade

The children are illustrating the story of Thanksgiving by free hand cuttings. The landing of the Pilgrims is shown on the sand table. Gloria Kemp brought her ship for the Mayflower.

John Hinderer brought his pet alligator to school.

Gene Kitson has returned to school after a week's illness. Virginia Grimes is absent.

We have our fireplace installed with an electric fire, ready for cold winter days.

Mrs. Ketting was a visitor in our room last week.

Third Grade

Maxine Spry and Melvin Weaver were absent last week. Eleanor Bishop and Thomas Hann were also absent one day.

Last week we were studying about shelter. We made posters showing the different types of shelter.

We were doing free-hand cutting today, making Pilgrims. Everett Halsey cut the head of his pilgrim like a heart. He brought it up to his teacher and said, "Look Miss Simpson, this is a double header."

Fourth Grade

Bobby Shock was absent November 4 and 7 from the 4th grade. Donald Johnson was also absent Nov. 7.

The Geography class are studying about Eskimo land and the Baffin Islands. In keeping with the season of the year, the fourth grade have redecorated their room with turkeys, pilgrims and Indians. In arithmetic they are learning to multiply by one figure multipliers.

Fifth Grade

Our spelling race is well underway. Each row has a beautiful new automobile in which to ride and we are headed across the United States and back. Some travel a hundred miles a week and others not so fast. Last week Shirley Ketting, the captain of row two, and her crew drove ninety-eight miles (their average score). However Ralph Hoover is only three miles behind them and we can't tell what kind of roads we will meet this week.

Last week's record shows an absence of only one-half day. A fine start for a new month.

MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS BY HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The high school band has decided to work the Curtis Publishing Company's Magazine subscription plan and try to make enough money to buy new band caps. The entire band will be divided into two teams. Billie Emerson is captain of one team, with June Metcalf and Betty Henwood as lieutenants. Lowell Sharp is captain of the other team with Margaret Gibson and Jimmie Kroh as lieutenants. Robert Hinderer is general manager of the drive.

Mr. Ward, of the Curtis Publishing Company, will be at the high school Friday to give each team supplies and instruct each member in subscription salesmanship. Every home in the community may expect a call from at least one salesman. Anyone who is thinking of subscribing for any magazine or who is thinking of getting one for someone's Christmas present, be sure and call some member of the high school band.

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of Rosemary Carr, the influence of whose scholarship and sweet disposition will long remain in the hearts of her fellow-students and teachers.

Sixth Grade

We went on a hike Monday out to Indian Hill. We left the school house at 11:25 and got back at 2:30. We played hide and seek and Steal the Bacon. We all had a very good time.

In arithmetic we are studying about keeping accounts.

On Wednesday we received our report cards. Thursday morning we had a test on the Gettysburg Address. There were 10 of us who received a perfect score.

Doris Jean Frevert, Ada Ruth Malson and Leona Ray, were absent one day.

Next week the reporters will be Kathleen Rarick and Stanley Hoepengernar. Reporters this week were Ramona Middleton and Laddie Laughlin.

Class News

Senior News

I don't suppose you students are much in doubt as to where the Seniors have been spending their afternoons and evenings lately. That should be an easy one with all the good looking pictures being passed back and forth. You've guessed it right the first time! They have been down to Reinbold's having their pictures taken. As yet, Mr. Reinbold hasn't sent the Senior class a bill for a "broken camera." The Seniors are pretty confident they won't receive one. (Did I hear someone say Boo?)

Some of the pictures already taken have been passed around so many times they are almost worn out, but these Seniors must have a little help in deciding which one flatters them most. Maybe the Seniors should elect a student council to do their debating for them, it would save a lot of time and several headaches.

About $55 was cleared on the class play. We the Senior class, wish to thank the following for the help they gave us in presenting our play:

Rohrer Furniture Company, for use of their furniture.

Thornburg Drug Company, for reserving seats and selling tickets.

Billie Emerson and Virginia McFarren, for furnishing special music.

Mrs. J. E. Fobes, for supplying Katharine Dillen with knitting materials and lessons.

Mr. Reinbold, for helping Robert Hinderer with his camera scene.

Mr. Bachman, for supplying Ronald Sharp with an apron.

Mr. Barnhart, for selling tickets at the door.

The United Telephone Company for loaning us a telephone.

Last, but not least, Miss Hamman, who so ably directed our play.

Also, anyone else who helped in any way to make our play a success.

Opportunity Room

This being American Education Week (November 7 to 13) the Opportunity room will present a play entitled "American School" on Friday.

We have started an Art Gallery of Americans we know and read about.

There was perfect attendance last week.

The lumber which Mr. Slabaugh presented to us was very much appreciated by the members of the class.

Agriculture Class Goes on Field Trip

The Freshman and Sophomore agriculture classes took a field trip to the home of Ralph Baumgartner, Friday, November 4. The purpose of this trip was to inspect the ideal poultry house there.

Dimensions were taken of the floor space, ventilation space, roosting space, nesting space, etc.

The lasses are planning on taking several such trips.

YELLOW JACKETS DEFEATED BY CROMWELL IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON 26-29

Miller Injured So That He Could Not Play Remainder of Game

When the game was over last Friday night, Syracuse had two men out on injuries and two men out on fouls. Miller was injured when he mysteriously collided with Kern's knee. He cut a severe gash in his forehead and a doctor had to be summoned to patch it up. As if this wasn't enough, H. Coy got hit in the stomach and had to leave the floor. Then Robert Hinderer went out on fouls. With only one substitute left on the bench, things looked pretty dark for Syracuse, but Coy went back into the game before anything further happened. Miller came out to watch the rest of the game, but did not attempt to play. When Kern went out on fouls, and the last substitute, Byrket, was put in everybody wondered—but no more such casualties happened.

Miller's long shot started the scoring and from then on until the last few minutes, Syracuse retained this lead. Syracuse led 11-8 at the end of the first quarter and 16-13 at the half. In the third quarter, Cromwell peped up a little, and managed to score every time Syracuse did. This quarter ended with Syracuse still leading 21-18. With only three minutes to play and Syracuse leading 26-23, things began to happen. Syracuse's crippled team began to limp a little. A long shot by McClellan gave Cromwell new hope, and then Knox scored, putting Cromwell in the lead. McClellan made the final score left of the basket and Cromwell came out victorious.
