LIBRARY NOTES

ticipated, the barbaric ritual dances he observed, the gorgeous costumes of the men and women—all form a rich, authentic background to his enthralling narrative.

Fiction

"Immortal Ease" by Kathleen Coyle. A dramatic and intensely moving story of a strange and turbulent life. A provocative book, filled with brilliant, arresting, Characterizations.

"William's Room" by Ann Grant Rosman. A novel of love, of charming, pleasant, English village people, treated humorously and sympathetically.

Juvenile

"Joey Goes to Sea" by Allan Villiers. Joey is a cat who goes to sea on a sailing ship and has amusing adventures.

"Nicodemus and the Gang" by Inez Hogan. From now on, in introducing a new Hogan story, one will remember Nicodemus and Petunia, and now four new personalities are making their bow in this book: Obahdiah, the peace-maker; Clara Belle, the capitalist; Rastus, the diplomat; and Little Slim, the forgotten man. The true meaning of the word "gang" is restored and shown as one of the most important and wholesome talents in a child's life.

"One Man Came Back" by Laurie Y. Erskine. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police faces one of his toughest assignments in this thrilling story. Full of the unexpected, catching the new spirit of the rugged grandeur of the great Canadian wilderness, here is a superb book, which is exciting from beginning to end.

Widow Named Executor

In the estate of Harry C. Groves, of Syracuse, deceased, the widow, Mary Groves is named executrix. The estimated value of the property is $3,500 personal and $2,500 real estate.
