VISITS HUDSON PLANT

A recent visitor in Detroit, the motor capitol, Glen R. White of Syracuse, Ind., tells of seeing how automobiles are made in plants of the Hudson Motor Car Company. Hudson is in full production of its 1940 models and since no other automobile company manufacturers a larger proportion of chassis units and parts for its cars, Mr. White was able to get a complete picture of automobile production in one factory tour.

RACCOONS PROPAGATED BY THIRTY-FIVE CLUBS

Thirty-five Indiana conservation clubs are propagating raccoon this year under special agreement with the Division of Fish and Game, was reported by Indiana conservation authorities.

This is a part of the conservation program to increase the stock of beneficial, desirable wildlife through artificial propagation and liberation. During the past year, when twenty clubs were participating in the raccoon propagation program, nearly two hundred of these fur-bearing animals were produced and liberated.
