REPUBLICAN MARCH TO VICTORY!

Congressman Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee:

I am naturally elated at the results of the two Congressional elections held in Pennsylvania January 18, in which a long-time Democratic district went Republican and another district retained a Republican Congressman by an overwhelming majority.

We think the elections prove two things:

1. The New Deal is withering at the grass roots and the people are determined to kill its roots in Washington although its leaders have endeavored to graft a new limb on the plant.

2. The Republican march to victory which began a few years back is picking up speed as the time draws near when a great national test of free enterprise under representative government versus New Deal bureaucratic domination will be made.

We believe that the people are voting now to win the war quickly, to bring the boys back home, and to preserve our American way of life.

We trust the people—and the people are trusting us.

"The greatest need of this nation today is a thorough house cleaning in Washington.—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (Dem.) of Texas.

100,000th GM Woman War Worker

Mrs. Virginia Buechler in her new job as inspector of Allison aircraft engine crankshafts in the Cadillac Division of General Motors.

Detroit — Mrs. Virginia Buechler has just become the one hundred thousandth hourly rated woman employee of General Motors as a war worker in a Cadillac plant here. These 100,000 women represent approximately 30 per cent of the hourly rated employees of the Corporation whereas in normal times only 10 per cent of such workers are women.

With her husband on active duty in the U. S. Navy, two cousins in the Army Air Forces and an uncle with the U. S. Army in Italy, Mrs. Buechler came to Cadillac to do her full share in the country's war effort.

Besides her inspection work on crankshafts for the Allison engines that power most of the Army's fighter planes and pursuit ships, she invests more than 10 per cent of her pay in War Bonds, helps in the scrap conservation drive and is active in Red Cross work.

Mrs. Buechler was born in Leslie, Iowa, 22 years ago and is a graduate of Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa, where she earned an A. B. degree in home economics. But housekeeping, for her, will wait until she has helped to win the war and bring her husband safely home.
