A Program For Agriculture

Constructive suggestions for a post-war program for agriculture were presented by the official representatives of five major farm organizations who responded to the invitation to confer on April 3 and 4 in Chicago with members of the Committee on Agriculture of the Republican Post-war Advisory Council consisting of five governors and four congressmen.

As a result of this conference with farm leaders recommendations will be submitted to the committee charged with drafting the Republican party's 1944 platform.

Governor Bourke B. Hickenlooper, chairman of the Republican Post-war Advisory Council's Committee on Agriculture, and Harrison E. Spangler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, assured the farm leaders—"We want to end political exploitation of farmers. We seek a constructive agricultural program that will assure a permanently prosperous agriculture as part of a permanently prosperous nation."

In attaining this objective Republican party leaders have indicated their earnest desire to be guided by the recommendations and counsel of the official spokesmen for the millions of farmers who are enrolled in the major farm organizations.

Also received were copy of the first 2-page copy of Stars and Stripes, printed in France in World War II, and a large section of a parachute used by a friend on invasion day. The boys write: "Tell our friends we met first in England, then in France, and hope to have our next meeting in Germany."

From S-Sgt. R. J. Isbell: Here is a short note to thank the folks back home and you for the good old Journal. I am still at Seymour Johnson Field. I have a new apartment number: W. H. P. 7c. My job now is sergeant of the guard. We work in shifts, 3 shifts in 24 hours, 3 weeks straight, two weeks nights, one week days. There are now prisoners of war on this field. The North Carolina tobacco crop is now being harvested. Regards to all.

Hello Editor Bart: In your news from the boys in service column, I want to thank the American Legion Auxiliary for the birthday remembrance they sent me in the form of a box of delicious cookies prepared by Mrs. Charles W. Kroh. I had hoped to be home next week on furlough, but since I can't I'll just have to be content with just thinking about fishing. —Sgt. George F. Butt, Camp Patrick Henry, Va.

From Pvt. Roy F. Schultz, New Britain: Hello everybody back in good old Syracuse. I am still receiving the paper and want to thank you for it. Although it arrives very irregularly and late, it still is news to me out here in these jungles. It gives me some idea where a lot of my friends are located, also what is going on back home. You can pretty well imagine what sort of a place we are in here, and for a while was pretty rugged, but now things are going fairly smooth. We are lucky enough to get a pretty good camp area cleared out and a place for movies, also a place for church services. By the help of the Japs, who left a generator behind, we have a lighting system. That is very rare here in the jungle. Here we have various tribes of natives, some being quite intelligent. A few days ago I was lucky enough to bargain a native for a beautiful "Mother of Pearls", in return I gave him a pair of trousers, which they call "lap-lap." They live mostly on beddell nut, green vines which produce a milky juice, also different kinds of insects, reptiles, mice—it don't sound good to me. During my spare time I have made bracelets from Australian coins which make a nice souvenir. That isn't all we have to do though as we have harder work cut out for us. That is our hobby here during our spare time. We will keep them on the run here—so keep the home fires burning till we come home.

Stanley Grimes, F-2c, is now home on furlough. He is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Clifford Miller, S-1c, who has been aboard the U.S.S. Zeilin in the south Pacific, is now home on a furlough. His ship was on duty at U. S. bases all over that war area. He had sent home a large number of Jap articles, which he picked up on battlefields.

Pfc. Kenneth Willard, stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., arrived here Tuesday on a 12-day furlough.

Pvt. Frederick Harrington, who moved from Bremen to Lake Wawasee on the south side, last year, stationed recently at Camp Blanding, Fla., received a medical discharge last week and is now at his home here.
