HOFF-BRAU GOLD STAR

HOFF-BRAU BREWING CORP., FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

HERE'S A CROP
THAT NEVER FAILS

BE SAFE...BE SURE...WITH WAR BONDS!

NO turn in the weather can wash out your investment in War Bonds. No cut-worm or borer or other insect pest can get to them. No market fluctuation can alter their value from day to day. They're one "crop" that never fails!

We Americans pride ourselves not only on knowing how to make a penny now and then, but also on how to keep one. So we get double pleasure out of our War Bond purchases. First, we're backing our men in uniform who are fighting all over the world to keep America safe and free. Second, we are building a financial reserve to meet the inevitable emergencies of such a business as farming. And third, when those Bonds mature, we will have the cash for new equipment and machinery and buildings to help maintain the efficiency and earning power of our farms.

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

* * * Keep Backing 'em Up - WITH WAR BONDS! * *

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

- The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED... NOW!
1. WHOSE MONEY WHO HAS - THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not keeping their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
2. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
3. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
4. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy... from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

NEW DEAL ALLIANCES HIT BY COV. BRICKER AT FRENCH LICK

French Lick, Ind.—The eyes and ears of the nation were turned to Indians for one of the major events of the 1944 presidential campaign when Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, the Republican nominee for vice president, formally opened his campaign with an acceptance address before the Indiana Republican Editorial Association at French Lick on Saturday, Sept. 9.

Governor Bricker vigorously denounced the New Deal not only for its record, but because of "the sinister support" which he said is being accorded the Roosevelt administration by "notoriously corrupt political machines" of the big cities and the "selfish support" of the CIO Political Action Committee headed by Sidney Hillman.

The vice presidential nominee declared that the vast body of American voters will not travel in such political company and added that Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee is "driving a lot of Democrats into the Republican party."

It is no secret that Sidney Hillman and his committee are now in complete control of the New Deal Party," Gov. Bricker said. "Our people will not soon forget the sorry spectacle of the Democratic National Convention. It was Hillman and the big city bosses who made the secret decisions that controlled that convention. Nor will they ever forget the President's instructions to Democratic National Chairman Hannegan, delivered in the railway car of the Commander-in-Chief on a side track in Chicago, to clear everything with Sidney. In that terse command, the New Deal candidate delivered the Democratic Party into the hands of Sidney Hillman, the radical leader of the Political Action Committee.

"I am sure that the great majority of working people, union members and union leaders alike, resent the intrusion of Sidney Hillman into a great political party and into their private business of casting a free and uninhibited vote. They are Americans and they cherish sacred American rights. They know, as you and I know, that any impairment of that right by a radical and communistic labor element will in the end defeat the honorable and legitimate aims of organized labor in this country."

Defining the 1944 campaign issue as whether the United States shall continue to be a Republic, Governor Bricker offered these steps as the first in a program to end the "alien philosophies" of the New Deal:

1. Clean the "governmental house of the debris with which it is now cluttered and which has been accumulating for eleven years of the New Deal."
2. Restore responsible cabinet government.
3. End the trend towards centralization of power in the Federal Government.
4. Create an "atmosphere of opportunity" for the individual.

"I am profoundly happy to march to victory in this campaign with a candidate who can win, who will win—our next president, Mr. Thomas E. Dewey," Governor Bricker said, in accepting the nomination.

Scathingly denouncing the record of the Democratic national administration, Bricker asserted that the American people this year must "prove again that representative government can wage war and remain free."

Bricker said that the Republican party will re-establish liberty at home and that its goal also is to prevent hardship and poverty in America, provide opportunity and security and promote social betterment.

"Business must be freed from its shackles and Government must be taken out of competition with private industry," he concluded.

"Rationing, price-fixing and all other emergency powers must be terminated as quickly as possible. Detailed regulation of farmers, workers, businessmen and consumers must be avoided.

"Small business must be encouraged. Taxes must be reduced. Economy in the federal government must be practiced."

Gov. Bricker's talk, delivered in French Lick Hotel, was broadcast over 600 stations on four radio networks. He was introduced by Mr. Leo Kinman, Shelbyville publisher and president of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association.
