Red Cross Notes

It seems to be of deep significance that the four great powers defending the Allied cause have all accorded an advanced place to women within their countries and in the war effort, while the nations we are fighting have failed to recognize the dignity of womanhood. The part women play in China, in Russia, in Great Britain and in the United States marks a common denominator of civilization and is a binding force in the light and life of human progress.

So, in the American Red Cross organization the women in the Motor Corps help in the new treatment for the blind—fine courage of the Red Cross nurses aides on the home front. Mrs. Adolph Wagner has been serving in this capacity all summer, going to Warsaw two days a week serving her time in the two hospitals there. She has won the praise of patients and doctors for her understanding of the patients' needs, both physical and spiritual. Also—Home Service girls, mental "blood plasma" by ironing out difficulties for the service man or woman who goes out to face war's perils, and for the wife and family who stays at home, trying to carry on the responsibilities for the duration.

In the hospitals, service is rendered to give the patient a new lease on life, such as the following case:

An airplane pilot fresh from the great northwest, landed in a southern military hospital with a broken back. Convalescence was a slow process and he missed his active outdoor life. More than anything else he missed his long, pre-war fishing trips. That was the cue for the Red Cross hospital worker. With medical approval and help of a bo'sun's mate, formerly a fishing guide, the overhead braces on the pilot's bed were rigged for net making. Flax is a war priority item, but the men from the pilot's squadron thread discarded from the chute repair shop. The pilot figures that by netting 500 knots a day the net will be completed in three months. But, he is netting 1,000 knots a day, just in case he is ready for the convalescent furlough before that. As the net grows day by day, the Red Cross worker, the bo'sun and the ambulatory patients gather around the pilot's bed to learn about fish, tackle, and the lore of the woods. For variety the pilot is crocheting a rug for his mountain cabin while on the sun deck acquiring a coat of tan. The Red Cross worker is bragging about her patient, the medical officer is bragging about Red Cross, and the patient is bragging about the fish that aren't going to get away, all of which added up means that Red Cross service brings better spirits and faster recovery.

Yes, the war news is most encouraging, but Mrs. Neighbor there is no bulletin out stating the number of surgical dressings needed is diminishing—in fact, the necessity of same is multiplying so won't you please volunteer an afternoon a week? Production rooms open Monday and Tuesday afternoons and Friday evening.

SYRACUSE BABY DRINKS KEROSENE—WILL RECOVER

Milo Dennis Dewyer, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Dewyer, who reside at the edge of Syracuse, was rushed to McDonald hospital Friday after drinking several ounces of kerosene. His stomach was pumped at the hospital and he was dismissed a few hours later and removed to his home. It was announced that he would recover.

The child was playing on the floor and found a can of kerosene behind the stove. Before Mrs. Dewyer noticed, he had drunk some of it. Mr. Dewyer, father of the child, was recently given a medical discharge from the army and was home at the time of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bushong were in Goshen and Nappanee last Thursday afternoon.
