SCOUT MEETING SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

(Contributed.)

The Scout meeting last Friday night at the high school was a big success, from every angle. The Chamber of Commerce committee is indeed grateful to the South Bend River Park Methodist Scouters and the Goshen Congregational Christian Scouters for their fine demonstration of the badge presentation ceremony and most interesting portrayal of Cub activities.

The audience of nearly one hundred Scouts, prospective Scouts and parents sat spell-bound through a scouting program, the like of which had never been witnessed in Syracuse. We were greatly impressed by the fact that Scouters from other cities, busy folks, would sacrifice so willingly their time and drive so far, that Scouting in Syracuse and Wawasee might be revitalized. We should and will profit by their example.

The Goshen troop, assisted by their Scout Master and two Eagle Scouts from their troop, put on the badge presentation ceremony in a most complete and impressive manner.

From South Bend, 15 Scouters came and brought the Cubs from the River Park district, to put on one of the highlights of the evening, in the form of an Indian medicine dance, dressed in complete Indian costumes, war paint and everything. They were led by their den mother and den chief, the chief dressed in costume. The boys put on this dance so well that we doubt if any Miami Indians could have bettered it. We watched the Scouts and prospective Scouts and Cubs and they were so engrossed that they unconsciously swayed with the weird dancers, and we saw mothers with tears in their eyes.

The stage was set with blankets, and bundles of sticks arranged for a camp fire. The fire was furnished by hidden lights. The Cubs moved in silently bearing the body of a wounded companion, whom they carefully deposited on the blanket—and the healing ceremony then began. The weird dance, the prayer to the Great Spirit, the wild joyful dance when the brother was healed, was a wonderful portrayal.

At the close of the program, after the Syracuse Scout Master had been commissioned and who made a very fine talk to the Scouts, Mr. Frank Geiger, scout executive of this area, called the South Bend Cubs to the platform, with their Cub mother and dad, and had their den chief put them through the Cub oath. They were now all dressed up with their snappy Cub uniforms, and their den chief in his Eagle Scout outfit.

Citizens of Syracuse and Wawasee are to be congratulated and should be thankful for the new Scout Master who has been so fortunately sent to us at this time. Scout Master Rinear Funk comes to us with a fine background of education and religion. He has spent four years in the Navy, and has been intensely interested in athletics and Scouting. Well, we must just simply say: God has been good.

The Syracuse Boy Scout Council and Troop committee is: Ralph Thornburg, Jr., chairman, advancement and program; James Stucky, Charles Kroh, Everet Young, Dr. Fred Clark, Hillary Bachman, and Noble C. Blocker.
