LOCAL NEWS

Miss Ardith Minear, of Columbia City, and a student at Indiana University, and Miss Mary Dighl, of Leesburg, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sharp.

Mrs. Paul McClintie and son Robert, of Toledo, O., arrived Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crow, to help care for her mother, who is confined to her bed by illness.

Rodney DeCamp, age 8, of Lafayette, is here visiting in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Millard Sink. Mr. and Mrs. Cleo DeCamp are the parents of a son, Leon Richard, born Nov. 24. Mrs. DeCamp and Mrs. Sink are sisters.

COMMITTEE MEETING OF GIRL SCOUT EXECUTIVES

A committee meeting was called by Mrs. Gerald Kline, Girl Scout Leader, and was held at her home, last Tuesday night. It was decided to have the meeting on the first Tuesday of every month.

The following appointments made, are Mrs. Hubert Anglemeyer, co-leader; Mrs. Robert Brewster, camping; Mrs. John Pustil, chairman; Mrs. Pete Peters, program; Mrs. James Kirkwood, finance; and Mrs. Sam Larson, public relations.

It is hoped that anyone with usable toys, willing to donate them, will contact any Girl Scout, who will see to its distribution. A beautiful Christmas tree was observed in Mrs. Kline's home. This tree was made by Betty out of foil, and there will be several made at this week's Girl Scout meeting, to be used for Christmas decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Greenwood, of Garrett, were in Syracuse Tuesday afternoon.

PALE CARMINE AND RED

ONE SOMETIMES wonders if our American pinkies read the newspapers. If they do, we wonder if they attach any significance to the fact that the former pinkies of every country behind the iron curtain have either ceased to grace this planet or are living west of that bit of opaque drapery.

One marvels at the magnificent imbecility of these self-styled "intellectuals." Maybe they haven't read the history of the old revolutions; but they must know that not one single member of their rosate fraternity is alive today in any country behind the iron curtain. Where do they think they will stand if they open the gates to the killers who invariably follow in their wake?

Now does it mean anything to our REDS when—and if—they read that Czechoslovakia had just sent a new batch of 55 former Communist politicians to "prison?" Do the almost daily prison and death lists from Poland, Bulgaria and Romania make a faint dent upon their mushy cerebrums? Apparently not!

These "colorful" exponents of exchange for the Asiatic way of life are not idealists. They would turn their own fellow citizens into slaughter pens purely for the sake of personal reward; and personal reward is just what they would receive—BUT IT WOULD BE IN A GAS CHAMBER! Why do they think human nature would make an exception in the case of this country? It is the nature of the underworld to crave the physical destruction of its superiors; and it is the underworld which always gets in the saddle sometime during these revolutions. Our carmine lights are of the impression that only the rich would suffer if they were successful in turning this country over to the gentle administration of the Asiatics in the Kremlin.

How do they account for the fact that, as in Russia, so in all other iron curtain nations, every small shop owner, every little farmer who owned a couple of acres and a cow, every long-haired "liberal," and—with but few exceptions—every original Red politician, is either dead or wishes he were!

I REMEMBER... BY THE OLD-TIMERS.

From Paul H. Peterson of Chicago: "I remember when mailmen wore London-style, bobby helmets, carried a whistle attached to a long chain and a club in their mail pouch to ward off vicious dogs."

From A. O'Daniel of Clinton, S.C.: "I remember when railroad locomotives burned wood exclusively and cars were coupled with link and pins. . . . Also, when there was no free mail delivery, either RFD or city. . . . no artificial ice, no bicycles, no autos, no phonographs, no radios, no typewriters."

Mrs. Julia Enick of Scottsbluff, Neb.: "I remember when cow chips were used for fuel by the pioneers of central Nebraska during the drought years when there was not enough corn to produce the standard fuel—corn cobs. I remember the hay burner, too."

From John Foxton of Schuller, Okla.: "I remember when my father drove a yoke of oxen and we cut and pulled logs to town to make wagon hubs. Wheat was cut with a cradle, we made clabboards and poles from white oak timber by using a chisle-like instrument and a mallet."

From Mrs. J. B. Davis of Cordova, Ala.: "I remember when my father used to help make the coffin when anyone died within several miles of where we lived. They made the coffins wide at the shoulder and narrower at each end. Boiling water was poured on the side planks when they started to bend them to fit the bottom of the coffin. Mother usually went along and carded cotton bolls to pad the inside of the coffin."

POWER OF A CHALLENGE

THE POWER of a challenge! I have sung a song about that I sing it again. A challenge will move some people to action quicker than anything else.

D. Carnegie

John E. Arnett of Prestonsburg, Ky., is the local representative of the Kansas City Life Insurance company which is located in Kansas City.

He wanted to sell Mr. Ratcliff, in his home town, a policy, for Mr. Ratcliff was an influential citizen and the sale would make an impression on other people. So Mr. Arnett went to him but the other said that he already had a policy in one company and that he had been rejected by another company. There was no use in filling out an application blank. That seemed to be the end of it.

One day Mr. Arnett went to the store and wrote up a policy for the man's partner. Just then Mr. Ratcliff came in and the partner said, "Tom, why don't you get in on this and have a policy with this man?"

"No need. They won't write me," he answered. "I won't even consider the idea. Besides, he has already talked to me about it."

Then it was that Mr. Arnett did some quick thinking. He decided to approach him on the ground of a challenge, so he said, "You know Mark Twain said that a difference of opinion is what makes horse racing. Well, you and I have a difference of opinion."

"What is that opinion?" asked the other, mystified. "It exists as to whether the company will pass you or not," answered Mr. Arnett. "I'll bet you $5 that I can get you a policy at the standard rate."

"Do you really want to bet?" asked the other, his interest immediately challenged. "I do."

"Fill out the form," Mr. Arnett did not know whether or not his company would accept the application, but he reasoned, "You never can tell till you try."

The medical examination was made, the papers forwarded. A month went by, then Mr. Arnett glided down the street, a letter in his pocket. Entering the store, he said, "Tom, you remember what you said about horse racing?"

"Yes," said the other, wonderingly. "Well, there are two sides, but only one winner. Five dollars, please."

The other man was delighted. Mr. Arnett had appealed to him by throwing down a challenge.

Republican Asked To Aid In Stopping Move To Socialism

TO ALL HOOSIER CITIZENS:

Your country's freedom is being threatened by an adversary who comes, NOT with guns and bombs, but with weapons no less deadly—national bankruptcy and the stealthy tyranny of Socialism.

The enormity of this threat has impelled the Republican Party to the unprecedented step of forming this statewide organization to adopt a set of principles on which to make our stand against the Democrat - Socialist Party in the congressional elections of 1950.

You are urged to act AT ONCE upon participation in this plan.

FIRST—Form District and County organization of the Republican Citizens' Advisory Platform Committee.

SECOND—Clear all proposals for party principles conceived and discussed in these clubs through this state organization.

THIRD—Prepare for the educational campaign to follow.

WE WANT EVERY DISTRICT IN THE STATE TO HAVE A PART IN THIS HIGHLY IMPORTANT TASK.

Your Republican Citizens Advisory Platform Committee has been set up on the following plan:

Objects To mobilize all loyal Americans in a war against the Socialist invasion. To tell the facts and sound the warning in the home of every voter.

To elect the whole ticket in the Fall, but not to support candidates for nomination in the Primary or Convention.

Organization 1. The State Committee of the Republican Citizens Advisory Platform Committee shall consist of outstanding men and women, including at least one member from each congressional district. A member from each congressional district shall be designated, with the approval of the district chairman, as a member of the state executive committee of the Republican Citizens Advisory Platform Committee.

2. Each congressional district will be asked to co-operate in setting up a committee within the district and including at least one member who shall represent each county within that district and be dedicated to a crusade to expose and denounce the creeping blight of Socialism.

3. A county committee shall be organized in each county with the approval of the county chairman, for the purpose of directing the organization of precinct clubs in each precinct of the county with the purpose of expounding Republicanism in a house-to-house educational campaign and showing that the Republican Party is the only vehicle which can defeat Democrat-Socialist ruin of the country.

Publicity 1. A news service tracing the deadly intrusion of Democrat-Socialism into every household and every pocketbook, and showing that the churches and the schools are the next logical target for the Washington Democrat-Socialists.

2. A continuous hammering by speech, radio, pamphlet, billboard and person-to-person talks, and through a political primer.

Washington Digest

AS A RESULT of the recent elections, politics is in the air in Washington, with Republicans somewhat downcast and Democrats jubilant over the outcome in New York state and in other off-year elections.

Both parties accepted the New York election, which pitted ex-governor Herbert Lehman against Sen. John Foster Dulles for the seat vacated by Sen. Robert Wagner, as a test of issues. Lehman was squarely for the Fair Deal program of President Truman, and Senator Dulles squarely against the program, with Lehman the decisive winner.

As a result, the Republican high command may change to a middle-of-the-road opposition to Democratic proposals. Governor Dewey was defeated on a "me too but do it better" program, and Senator Dulles tried the direct opposition method. Both failed. They pointed to the middle-of-the-road course of Governor Driscoll of New Jersey, re-elected as conservative liberal, and to the campaign of Senator Ives of New York, also a conservative liberal, who defeated Governor Lehman for the senate in 1946.

Pointing to the campaign being made by Senator Taft in Ohio as winning friends, the Republicans may adopt a "semi-liberal" stand for the 1950 elections.

At any rate, President Truman is at the height of his popularity which strengthens the morale of the Democratic organizations in the large cities. That these organizations need strengthening is seen in the defeat of the Curley machine in Boston and the Hague machine in New Jersey.

The Democrats are planning to wage a strong campaign for farm votes, especially in the Midwest, and will make strenuous efforts to capture the votes of small businessmen.

Despite victories in New York, which add a senator and a congressman, and in California, which gives another congressman to the Democratic majority in the next session, the congress convening in January will be essentially that which was reluctant to pass the Fair Deal program at the first session.

Unless these congressmen come back to Washington with different viewpoints after consulting the home folks, the President will have about as much difficulty enacting the rest of his program. The President will win more of his program, but not all.

The President was given a standing two-minute ovation when he attended and spoke to a nationwide meeting of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the Mayflower hotel at a luncheon kicking off the drive for Brotherhood week in February, 1950.

With a new record cotton production of 15,524 bales predicted for 1949, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has announced a 1950 marketing quota of 11,733,750 bales and a national acreage allotment of 21 million acres in a move aimed at reducing the 1950 production by at least 20 percent.

Dr. Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education Association, said that in the coming decade 1,300,000 new school teachers will be needed. The demand for new elementary school teachers will be about 100,000 annually, he said, while only about one fifth of that number is being prepared each year. He pointed to the fact that, while average salary of all employed persons rose nearly 103 per cent between 1940 and 1947, salaries of school teachers increased only 68 per cent and that average pay of school teachers is far below what could be considered professional compensation.

This in addition to too few and obsolete buildings and other school facilities, is placing a tremendous drain on state and local taxes. Add to this a tremendously increased enrollment, and it is likely that in many urban centers only half-day schools will be held.

There is expected tremendous pressure in the next session for federal aid to schools, and chances are good that the school aid program will pass. The $300,000,000 bill already has passed the senate but was held up in a house committee. It may be that the figure will be increased by house action.

Held For Jumping Bond

Harry Allen, 35, of Syracuse, is in the county jail at Warsaw, as the result of a drunken driving and public intoxication charge filed against him several months ago. He was arrested Monday by Officers Clarence Teghtmeyer and Paul Shull for jumping bond.
