

World Planning

Lesson for October 4, 1953

THE man who invented the word "Utopia" knew what he was doing. Sir Thomas More first used the name as the title of a book in which he described the island of Utopia, a place where everything is perfect—climate, laws, schools, people, everything. But Sir Thomas was having his little joke. For "Utopia" comes from two Greek words meaning No Place. He knew there is no real place in this world where everything is perfect; being a saint and a sensible man he suspected there never would be. No Christian has ever expected to see a perfect world this side of heaven.

Why Christians Plan

Nevertheless, Sir Thomas More lived an active life, working hard to make the England of his day more like the Utopia of his dreams—or rather, more like the heaven of which Utopia might have been a suburb. For he was a Christian, and Christians, at their best, do plan for a better world. Christians at their worst do not. At their worst, Christians either accept the world as it is and imitate it, or even defend it against all critics; or they run away from it, shutting themselves away from it, leaving it to dirt, disease and the devil. (It might be asked, are such persons Christians at all? That is another question.) Almost all Christians plan on a small scale. Most of us live in a rather small world, and in the tiny world of our daily life we like to make plans that are Christian. In the home, for example, an unplanned home, higgledy-piggledy, with everything in a continual uproar, is not the kind of home we want to live in. Christian young people plan to make their marriage and their home as near like heaven as they can—and that takes planning and hard work too.

Widening Circles

Are we of today better Christians than our ancestors were? John Baillie asks the question in his "The Belief in Progress." His answer is No, if you mean by the question: Are Christians today more devoted, more saintly, than eight or eighteen centuries ago? If we have advanced beyond our forefathers, it is not in being better men personally. But John Baillie thinks, and it is a thought worth pondering, that we can and sometimes do have a wider view of the area of Christian action. Let us ask the question: Are we cleaner than our ancestors were? No, if you mean devotion to the ideal of "cleanliness next to Godliness." But while the citizen of 1800 was personally as clean as the soap of those days would permit, his kitchen and his streets and his water supply were not clean by our standards. Now planning for cleanliness includes such things as mosquito extermination and bonds for a sewer system. So it is with Christian planning. If you want to keep your home Christian you will need to do some thinking about all those wider circles that affect the home; schools, government, business life, war and peace.

Suppose We Don't Plan?

A Christian who wants a Christian home but will not join nor work in his local P.T.A. is missing one of his best chances to work toward the home he wants. If you want a Christian home and take no interest in politics, you may by your very neglect be turning over the control of your community to crooks and exposing your children to the kind of community that crooks operate. If you want a Christian home but think that government is no concern of yours, you may find your congressman voting for measures and policies that produce or hasten war, and you know very well that war can break up homes faster and more painfully than any other thing unless it is liquor. We must never forget that the devil is planning all the time, and his henchmen are planning. If Christians do not do some counter-planning, we are fools. Furthermore and most important, we must remember that God has a plan for this world which he made and loves and has not forsaken. The Bible gives us the lines along which God's servants have always worked.

Story of India Reviewed

By Goshen W. S. C. S. Member
Mrs. W. R. Westervelt of the First Methodist Church of Goshen W. S. C. S. spoke at a recent meeting of the local WSCS organization.

Mrs. Georgia Miller presented the speaker, who had chosen as her subject a review of India entitled "House of Earth," by Dorothy Clark Wilson.

It was an appealing narrative of Ro Shan, son of Anand and wife Yusha, his childhood and through his sister's betrothal, and his own marriage and birth of a son.

The speaker told of many customs and ceremonies of India which affected the lives of Ro Shan and others and to where they eventually found that "to conquer, one must love," and finally became Christians.

Circle One was hostess, and Mrs. W. Noble Green served coffee. Refreshments of gingerbread with whipped cream, salted nuts and mints were served.

Smallest Republic
San Marino, the oldest and smallest republic in the world, is about one-tenth the size of New York City. It is surrounded by Italy.

ATTEND NORTHERN CONFERENCE MEETING

Sunday evening, Sept. 27, Rev. and Mrs. Sorensen attended the opening of the Northern Conference of Indiana of the United Lutheran Church at Albion. The banquet was held in the High School Gymnasium as the church could not accommodate the 291 delegates. The Albion church choir sang three appropriate selections.

Mr. Arvon Schwab acted as toastmaster of ceremony. After having greeted the guests he introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Trexler, Concord, North Carolina, a teacher and assistant secretary to Stewardship of the United Lutheran Church. Mr. Trexler spoke on a subject vital to the church's strength and progress, and of the laymen's church responsibility. Stressing Faith as important in the growth and life of the individual. That without faith and confidence in his Lord and Saviour no man could expect the church to carry on. Mr. Trexler dwelt in part on the Lutheran Laymen's committee who had spent to date 2 1/2 million dollars on Stewardship literature and training to equip men for the promotion of Stewardship in the church. The talk by this layman gave evidence of a strong conviction and sound Christian leadership.

A film, "All We Have Is Thine," was shown to prove the value of Christian Stewardship. This film is owned by the church, but other denominations are also using. The full showing took nearly two hours. The conference met again Monday morning in the church for business and Holy Communion.

At noon a co-operative dinner was served.

The Rev. Kenneth Foulke of Calvary E. U. B. Church had charge of afternoon devotions using "For their sake, I sanctify myself" as his subject.

The installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Gallatin.

Reports were given by the various committees.

GIANT DIFFERENCE in performance
after your car is winterized with D-X!

Your car needs the GIANT DIFFERENCE of D-X Lubricating Gasoline, stepped-up D-X Motor Oil with Extrinol, and D-X Winterizing Service.

For during cold weather, wear can play havoc with engines. But the upper-cylinder lubricant in both D-X Regular and D-X Ethyl protects the entire upper-cylinder area of your engine against wear.

The Extrinol "wonder drug" in new D-X Motor Oil fights cold-engine sludge. And since D-X is solvent-refined from carefully selected, high quality crude oils, it lubricates extra fast at starting, yet resists thinning out during hot-engine, high-speed highway driving.

So get your car D-X Winterized now. You'll feel a Giant Difference in your car's performance. You'll see a Giant Difference in cost of car maintenance during the months ahead. See your D-X Dealer today.
