What's Busier
Than a Bee?
A Telephone Line, of Course!

A whole flock of beehives can't match the buzzing of today's busy telephone lines. Telephone traffic continues to roll along as heavy as ever. This means we still have a huge job on our hands—but we're glad. This continued heavy traffic is proof that more and more people think of the telephone as their first and fastest means of communication. That's just the way it should be.

Junior Ladies—Sub Deb
Thirteen new girls were brought into the Junior Ladies—Sub Deb Club on October 19. They are: Kay Powell, Nancy Baumgartner, Ruthann Cory, Darlene Dust, Shariene Stump, Connie Sudlow, Barbara Thornburg, Sharon Miller, Harriett Traster, Bea Bachman, Alice Gengerich, Suzie Brown, and Barbara Montel.

The initiation was held at Jane Kroh's home. Refreshments of potato chips, relishes, chocolate cookies, and cider were served by Jane Kroh and Peggy Pusti, following the initiation.

Sophomore News
The sophomore class discussed a class party at their last meeting on October 20. They are planning to have a skating party at the Rock Lake Roller Castle at South Whitley. A definite date has not been set as yet.

There are still a few schedule pencils left for sale so hurry, hurry, hurry!!

Rumpus Hut
Fun was had by all last Friday evening at the Rumpus Hut Halloween Party. Not everyone was in costume but those that were, really looked "out of this world." Jane Kroh and Abe Nicolai looked real cute with their "gray twenties" costumes. Joe Shewmon and Wayne Nickles looked pretty good as women but better as "men." The person getting the most laughs was Roddy Laughlin sporting something similar to a bikini bathing suit. Harry Brinkman was "Superman for a Night." I could go on and on, but it would take too long, so next time there is a party at the Rumpus Hut, why not come?

Don't forget membership cards are on sale to High School students. Persons selling membership cards are: Seniors, Jane Kroh, Charles Haffner; Juniors, Suzanne Brown, Harry Brinkman; Sophomores, Bea Bachman, Terry McClintic; Freshman, Susan Klink, Billy Dorsey.

Senior News Briefs
Janet Kilton will be in charge of selling tickets at the door the night of the class play, "A Case of Springtime."

There will be a "hat and coat" check the night of the play. Donna Micheal and Norma Mock will be in charge.

Programs for the class play, "A Case of Springtime" are being printed by the Journal office. Phyllis George and Charlotte Haffner are in charge of drawing up a dummy program.

Entertainment between acts of the Senior Class Play, "A Case of Springtime," will be the Chordettes, a girl's vocal group, consisting of Susan Darr, Darlene Rogers, Kay Adams, Phyllis George, Dixie Dorsey, and Faye Ann Gard.

Paul Mey, of Syracuse, will also entertain during the first and second acts with a tenor saxophone solo.

Life About School
There have been more parties lately! The most recent one was that of the Halloween Party held at the "Rumpus Hut" Friday evening, October 22. What a super party! Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark were present and taught the boys and girls some interesting games and dances. Delicious refreshments of doughnuts, sandwiches and punch were laid out on a long table.

Some of the students provided some unusual entertainment for the rest of the Halloweeners. Joe Shewmon and Dixie Dorsey did a fast version of the "Charleston" and Lenora Reagan, "Casey Powell, and Kay Adams were attempting to learn the "can-can" when Kay fell on hers. In the later hours of the evening, Mrs. Clark, Jim Connolly, and Harry Brinkman provided amusement by telling fortunes. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

This reporter noticed quite a few people around the high school last Sunday afternoon. Probably because it was such a beautiful day many people stopped to look at the new grade school which is in process of construction. It is now expected that grade school students will be able to move in shortly after Christmas vacation.

Tuesday evening, 26 October the freshman girls Home Economics class served both basketball teams and their parents in the Home Ec room. Refreshments of sloppy joes, baked beans, relishes, coffee and milk, ice cream and brownies were served by the girls following a typical basketball practice in which the parents got a chance to see their sons in action.

Susan Fosbrink, 7th grader, is sporting an unusual piece of wearing apparel this week. Her arm is in a cast decorated all over with autographs. It seems that Susan was visiting her aunt and while playing with another girl, got pushed off the fence. Result—broken arm. Says Susan, "I didn't even know it was broken."

THE ROVING REPORTER

First Grade News

"Hello, Mothers and Dads," this is our First Grade reporting.

We are happy to tell you we are reading in our new book, "We Look and See." We are learning to make words in phonics. Our writing and number work is fun.

Our librarians are Caryl Rosenbaum and Mary Barb Immel. The housekeepers are Jayne Poynter and Ralph Stanley. The leaders are Susie Eppert and Tom Ganshorn.

Hurry, Hallie Hollaway, get well so you can be in school and learn to do the things we do.

We were very pleased to have Mrs. Latman, Mrs. Kline, and Mrs. Kistler visit us.

Now Mothers and Dads, don't forget the next P. T. A. meeting. We wish to thank those of you who attended the last meeting.

Food For Thought: Emotional Care. A child can not learn either reading or independence until he has reached a stage in his growth at which he is ready to learn. Recognize this readiness stage so that you do not discourage him.

A dependent child becomes independent when he reaches the readiness point. When the readiness point is reached, if the child is kept dependent, he either rebels and takes the independent step himself or holds back and loses interest.

Please study your child—thanks.

Mary Peters
Halloween will soon be here. We have had fun and worked hard during this month. A large yellow Jack-O-Lantern is smiling at us from the top of our piano.

Sally Yoder, Lucy Kilton and Roger Stiver donated more gourds to our collection. Thank you very much.

Nineteen children received credit for parents enrolling; and paying dues to the P. T. A. Now we hope you will attend the meetings and give us a chance to win the treat. We were very happy to have Mrs. Herbert Stummer and Mr. William Kern visit us. The children are so glad to introduce their parents.

Junior Red Cross Drive begins this week. With a few cents your child may enroll. Later we will fill a regulation box for shipping.

Helpers this week are Lucy Kilton; Mike Kern; Rebecca Smith; Carolyn Traver.

Keith Welty has withdrawn from our school to attend another school.

At the beginning of school Monday morning we had two lovely Jack-O-Lanterns. Thanks to Sally Yoder and Jon Alan Roberts.

Second Grade
Our seed book is growing and we hope to have a varied collection when it is finished. Beckjo Hall has been our best contributor.

We wish to thank both Third Grade rooms for the scary ghost choral readings—they were fun and we enjoyed hearing them.

Fourteen parents in our room joined the P. T. A. in the membership drive, but only four came to the meeting. We'd like to win the attendance prize next time, so please come in November.

Kenny Willard and Ricky King had birthday candles on our calendar last week.

Dean Pittman has been reading a chapter of Munroe Leaf's "Safety Can Be Fun" to us each day. We're trying to remember these lessons.

Helpers are Elaine Line, Lynn Pittman, Ginger Brown, Tom Clayton, Linda Wolf, Butch Firestone, Duane Hochstetler.

Third Grade News

Our parents let us down! There are 50 boys and girls in the third grade. We assume that each of us has a mother and a father. That would mean we have one hundred Mothers Clubs . . .

Mrs. Vic Shortgen was a guest when twelve members of the Primary Mothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles (Bud) Miller Monday 25 October.

Games planned by Mrs. Robert Schock and Mrs. Louis Byland highlighted the evening with Mrs. Marshall Coy winning a prize for guessing the most masked members.

Refreshments of cider, sandwiches and figure candy also in the spirit of Halloween were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bud Miller and Mrs. Roland Hodgson.

The next meeting will be guest night, to be held at Foo and Faye's Cantonese Restaurant with Mrs. parents. But not even one parent of that hundred came to the P. T. A. meeting. How could we win a prize? Aren't we important to you?

Foo Wong as hostess and Mrs. Jack Mason and Mrs. Robert Shock her co-hostesses.
