By the Editor

This is National "No Column Week," which, insofar as we can learn from usually reliable sources (we were unable to contact any unimpeachable sources) is being observed only by the Syracuse-Wawasee team. Because of the press of other news, Bill Spurgeon's "Northeast Corner" and Andis Larson's "Sara Cuse Says" are omitted from this issue. This column you are now reading is also being omitted. The editor is too busy doing research on his proposal for a 36-hour day, 11-day week, to spend time writing any darn column. This proposal is sweeping the country like wildfire—may even become more popular than moonlight-wasting time. We'll be back in our usual corners next week.

Salvation Army Starts Annual Drives for Funds

The Annual Home Service Appeal throughout Kosciusko County, for funds for the support of the work of The Salvation Army, will be held this year from November 10th to 24th, according to an announcement by Mr. Gus Tatter, General Chairman.

The kick-off dinner will be held in the Westminster Hotel, Winona Lake, on Wednesday, November 10th, at 6:15 P.M.

The goal is $6100.00.

The chairman for Turkey Creek Township is Mrs. Howard Judy, and the chairman for Tippencanoe Township is Mrs. Gaynelle Daly of North Webster. These ladies will have a number of war workers helping them to canvass their respective townships.

Wednesday PM Club Gets Ready For Sale

In commenting on the Wednesday Afternoon Club's Rummage Sale this year, Mrs. Lewis Immel, president, stated that the keynote for the club's current drive for clothing contributions might well be Longfellow's maxim: "Give what you have. To some it may be better than you dare to think."

As announced last week, clothing is being solicited for the club's annual Rummage Sale, scheduled for Saturday, 13 November, at the Grade School. Proceeds from this "fall perennial" enable the Wednesday Club to provide their "Christmas Gift" for the children of Turkey Creek Township each year.

Mrs. Immel also commented that although no definite decision has been made as to the exact nature of this holiday season's "gift," it is thought that it will probably be in the form of a contribution to a community project beneficial to the youngsters, rather than entertainment or candy.

Arrangements have been made to give any surplus clothing from the sale to the Kosciusko County Department of Public Welfare.

Explorer Scouts Check On Naval Aviation

Saturday, November 6th Lee Oyler, Eddie Anglemeyer, Delbert Thorne, Dennis Bjella, Dallas Bjella, Terry Frushur, Kent Hursey, Oscar Bjella (Assistant Scout Master) and Stanley Peters (Scout Master) went to Glenview Naval Air Station, Glenview, Illinois. There were 95 Scouts from the Pioneer Trails Council including the 9 from Syracuse.

The group stayed on the base both Saturday and Sunday for their meals and lodging. They enjoyed an airplane ride and a complete tour of the base and returned home Sunday.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carr are parents of a baby girl, Caron Adele, 7 pounds 3 ounces, born Saturday at Wolf Lake Hospital. Mother and daughter are home now, and feed. Elabelle Doll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carr is the former Mrs. Therese Doll, Wawasee Lake.

SMITH ADMITTED TO BAR

Mr. Everett H. Smith was admitted to practice law in Indiana at the State Capitol building in Indianapolis on November 4. Judge Gullifson, the Acting Chief Justice of the Supreme Court signed the court order.

Mr. Smith graduated from Northwestern University Law School in Evanston, Illinois in 1949, and has practiced law for the past five years in Chicago.

He was accompanied to Indianapolis by his mother, Mrs. Gladys Smith of Lake Wawasee, and before returning to Syracuse they drove through scenic Brown County State Park.

Read About Syracuse in 1876

Bill Spurgeon, conductor of "In the Northeast Corner," has made a recent "find." He will, starting next week and continuing for several more, be writing about this area as he found it to have been 78 years ago, as described in an ancient atlas dated 1876. If you have a real oldtimer in your family or neighborhood, be sure that they know about Bill's forthcoming articles.

Legislative Issues Discussed At South Bend

Legislative issues confronting the Indiana 1955 General Assembly were reviewed here Tuesday night at a Pre-Legislative Clinic sponsored by the South Bend Association of Commerce and other chambers of commerce in the north central Indiana area, in cooperation with the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce.

The Syracuse-Wawasee chamber of commerce was one of the co-sponsors of the clinic.

Opening tonight's session, one of a series of district meetings being held under chamber of commerce auspices in all parts of the state to acquaint citizens with legislative problems, Gordon Kingma, State Chamber highway analyst, said growing demands upon Indiana Highways were increasing pressure for additional expenditures in this field. The State Highway Commission, he said, is asking appropriations which would be some $13 million annually above anticipated income from present sources.

The speaker added that $13 million represents the revenue from about 1 cent of gasoline tax in Indiana. In addition, he pointed out, counties, cities and towns are requesting larger shares of state-collected highway funds for their own use.

Complicating the school problems facing the 1955 Assembly, according to W. W. Hill, education researcher for the State Chamber, is the fact that an average of 31,000 pupils is expected to be added annually to Indiana school enrollment for the next several years.

Demands for still more state aid to local schools unquestionably will be made upon the Legislature, Hill said.

Wilfred Bradshaw, director of the Syracuse, High School Vocational Agriculture classes participated in the Indiana Muff Show held at Akron last week.

Billy Dorsey, Syracuse freshman won first with his demonstration "How to Take A Soil Test." Bill will represent Indiana at the Convention December 5-9 at Cincinnati, Ohio. In the same division, Paul Mey and Paul Beezley placed third with their Denzel Realty lost three games to Economy Auto. Individual scores: L. Euhurt, 405; E. Blaskey, 345; K. Auer, 388; L. Gilbert, 389; M. Popenope, 399. High game and series: L. Euhurt, 175 and 405.

Ronald Roberts placed 2nd in the marketing demonstration division with his demonstration of Bunched Carrots.

Other boys from Syracuse competing in the vegetable identification contest were Phil Kitson, Art Troyer, John Seaford, Mark Godshalk, Bob Robinson, and Walter Brazeal.

Legislators convening in January, according to John V. Barnett, state taxation director of the State Chamber, will be faced with probably the largest budget requests on record, with the state's surplus of $80,000,000 acting as a cushion to absorb some of the non-recurring expenditures received from state institutions already.

Building construction requests received from the state's surplus of $80,000,000 for the next two years, he said, as compared to actual appropriations of only $27.8 million for the current two-year period. Nevertheless, he voiced the opinion that the Legislature could avoid new taxes at the coming session.

Howard Friend, State Chamber research director, pointed out that the 1955 Legislature virtually will be required to extend coverage under the Indiana unemployment compensation law to include employees in firms employing four to seven persons. The present law applies only to employers of eight or more persons. Under a federal unemployment compensation tax after 1955, and will have to pay the tax regardless of whether the state chooses to change its coverage to the same basis, he said.

Jack E. Reich, executive vice president of the State Chamber, in closing the meeting, urged citizens in local communities to become familiar with legislative issues and talk to their legislators about them. It is the "folks back home," he said, whose advice and counsel legislators most value.

Howard D. Reric, president of the South Bend Association of Commerce, presided at the clinic.

MARCHING 100" NOW "101"

Miss Sasha Ann Hiré, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hiré, Syracuse Lake, has upset tradition of the Indiana University's "Marching 100," since for the first time in the history of the band, a girl has been included. According to the I. U. Campus Daily, the band is now known as the "Marching 101."

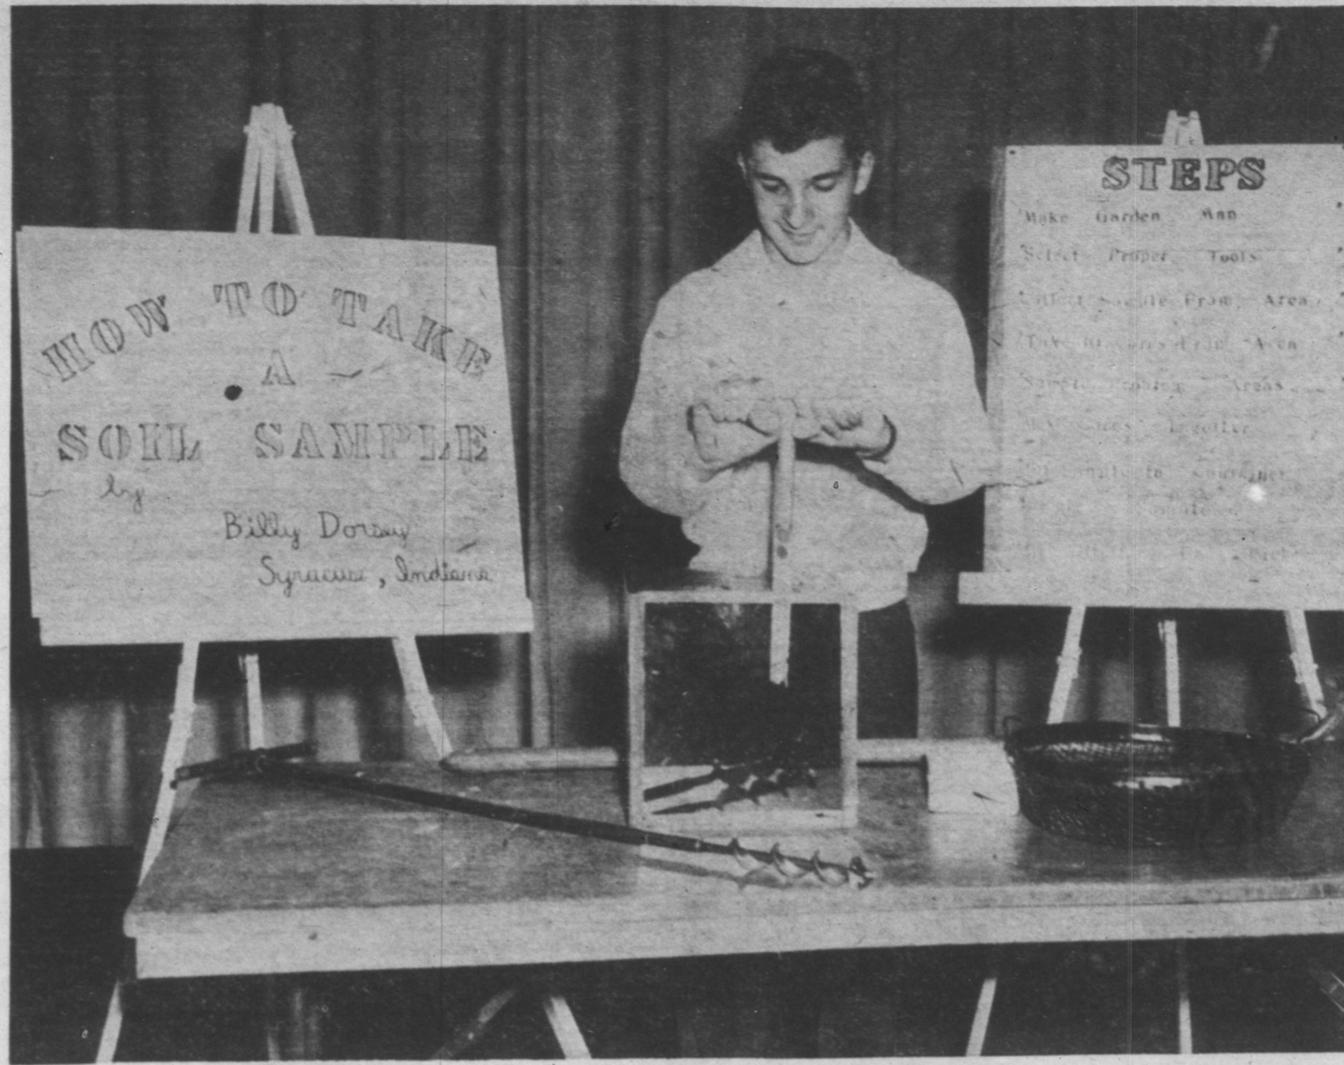

Miss Hiré, as twirler Drum Majorette, steps out in front of the band, along with two drum majors. She made her initial appearance Saturday for the Indiana-Miami game, and will travel with the band to Northwestern and Purdue.

Syracuse was led by Red Denton with 21 points while Tom Koble contributed 18 points. North Webster was led by Eberly with 12 points. Syracuse's next game will be with Pierceton this Friday.

The scoring of last week's games follow:

One Up, One Down For Local Casaba Toters

By Billy Dorsey
Syracuse High School's basketball team won one and lost one last week. Tuesday night, November 2, Syracuse was defeated by Milford 57-40; but Friday evening, November 5, Coach Hughes' Yellow Jackets romped to a 53-43 decision over North Webster.

Milford did not beat our local team without putting on their full strength because Syracuse was right in there fighting every minute of the game. Milford outscored Syracuse only one point in the last three quarters. The disastrous first quarter did the damage.

Milford, picked to be the "team to beat" along with Pierceton, showed their strength Tuesday evening. Led by Larry Losee and Sonny Hamilton, with 20 and 15 points, respectively, Milford led Syracuse throughout the game, but if it hadn't been for that first quarter it might have been a different story. Koble led Syracuse with 14 points.

The North Webster game was a thriller, as it always is between these two teams. It was a close game until the fourth quarter, when Syracuse started to pour it on and when the game was finished, Syracuse had defeated Webster by a ten point margin.

Webster was hurt by the loss of two of their stars for the last two years, Sam Popenoos and Doug Bowser.

Numerous fouls were called on both teams, Syracuse with 29 fouls and Webster with 22 fouls.

Syracuse was led by Red Denton with 21 points while Tom Koble contributed 18 points. North Webster was led by Eberly with 12 points. Syracuse's next game will be with Pierceton this Friday.
