Honored Queens of Job's Daughters

Miss Dotte Swenson is shown here during recent installation and coronation ceremonies as Honored Queen of No. 6 International Order of Job's Daughters, at Tucson, Arizona.

Her twin sister, Patte, who has just completed her term as Honored Queen of the same Bethel, was installing Officer for this lovely ceremony.

The twins are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swenson, former residents of this community, who moved to Arizona seven years ago.

Job's Daughters is one of the Masonic Youth organizations basing its membership on relative to Master Masons. The girls advance thru several elective stations from Marshal to Honored Queen. Points are given for their activities and work in the Bethel and, as a reward for accumulated points, the girls are given Job's Daughters' jewelry and merit awards which cannot be purchased, just earned.

Patte and Dotte each have received all the jewelry and merit awards except the Golden achievement award medal given for earning 15,000 points, which they hope to win by the end of this term.

Among the cherished gifts and good wishes sent from their many friends in Syracuse, both Patte and Dotte received gavels carved from wood found on the E. O. Dunn farm, formerly owned by their parents. The gavels were made in Syracuse school wood-working shop by Larry Warner. Mr. and Mrs. Court Slabaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were responsible for having these beautiful gavels made.

While Patte has now laid aside her gavel, she is still active and is Grand Librarian of the Grand Bethel of Arizona. In addition, she is collecting items from all the Bethels in Arizona for a scrap book to be presented to the Supreme Guardian at the 1958 Supreme session in Phoenix when Job's Daughters from United States, Canada, Hawaii and several European Bethels will meet for a week in August.

Mrs. Mildred Smith, Past Grand Matron of Indiana Order of Eastern Star and formerly of Warsaw, was special guest at the installations of both girls. Students at the University of Arizona, the twins find time also to sing in the choir at the Catalina Methodist Church in Tucson and assist part time at the Happy-Time Nursery and Kindergarten owned and operated by their parents.
