Intermediate Mothers Hear Speech Students

Students of the Syracuse High School Speech department, under the direction of Philip Fawley, entertained members of the Intermediate Mother's Club on Monday evening 31 March at the Syracuse Lake home of Mrs. Bud Cripe.

These students, all participants in the annual speech festival held in Syracuse on 21 March were Bill Dorsey, who gave Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's "I'm Glad I'm An American" speech.

Terry Frushour's humorous reading of "Brotherly Love" was greatly appreciated.

Delbert Thornburg, presented "The American Way," a dramatic reading by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

Miss Bonnie Bower, gave a humorous Monologue entitled "So Long Brother."

Mrs. Leo Kowalik presided over a short business meeting preceding the program. The sunshine gift was won by Mrs. James Stucky. Mrs. J. Wilbur Ellis was welcomed as a guest.

Mrs. Cripe, assisted by Mrs. Ed Jamison and Mrs. Harold Kline, served a pretty green salad shaped as an Easter bunny, wafers and coffee.

The next meeting will be 14 April at Hilda's Hobby Shop in North Webster. Members are urged to be present as early in the evening as possible.

Large Crowd Applauds Jr. Class Play Friday

"Meet Me in Saint Louis" produced by the Junior Class at the High School Auditorium last Friday night, met with tremendous applause and appreciation by the audience.

Playing to a record attendance, reported to be the largest the high school has had for a class play, many thought that it was worth a two-night performance.

Money profits have not yet been figured.

This play, based on Sally Benson's book of the same title, was difficult to produce because of its 1904 setting which required costuming and stage properties to complement the era. The cast and supporting committees accomplished this task in only three weeks' time, a task which ordinarily is allowed at least five weeks.

Philip Fawley, faculty member directing the play, had only the highest compliments for the entire class. It was their wholehearted cooperation and hard work that made the production a success, he said.

Innumerable comments from those attending added more praise to the cast and other members of the class for the outstanding production.

While the audience thrilled to the quaintness, charm and realistic portrayal of the story which concerned the World Fair at St. Louis, the class learned from this unique experience, said Mr. Fawley, that even the times have changed drastically since 1904, human nature and family problems are very much the same.

Senior Mothers Enjoy Easter Program

Seventeen members of the Senior Mothers Club met Monday evening 30 March in the home of Mrs. Leonard Barnhart. Easter thoughts, scriptures, symbols and poems were given by each member and colored slides of beautiful tulips and Easter flowers were shown by Mrs. Gladys Smith.

Mrs. Vern Brinkman won the sunshine gift and an Easter basket, donated by Mrs. John Roddie, was won by Mrs. Floyd Gingerich.

Mrs. Lewis Coburn was hostess for the evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Gilbert George and Mrs. Hilary Bachman in the serving of chicken salad, rolls and coffee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Byrum Conn 14 April.
