

Former Wawasee Boy Killed In Train Crash

Frank Brown, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, formerly of R.R. 3 Syracuse, was one of three youths killed early Saturday morning at Peru when their automobile was struck by a slow-moving Wabash R. R. passenger train.

Returning from high school prom, the boys had witnessed another crash on the Wabash tracks three blocks west of the fatal accident in which two teenagers were injured. Authorities reported that warning bells were working but that the boys apparently failed to hear them and drove into the path of the train. Services were held for the Brown youth Monday in Peru with burial at LaGrange. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Ingalls also former Wawasee Lake residents, make their home in LaGrange.

Attending services from Syracuse were Jim and Larry Warner, John Roddie, Mike Rigdon and Dixie Murphy.

Immel Discusses School Program At Rotary

Lewis Immel, superintendent of schools, spoke before the Rotary Club Monday night. His subject covered the general school situation as it applies to Syracuse since the new school laws went into effect.

Charles W. Kroh, George Lamb, Joe Shewmon, and James Stucky, members of the School Board, were guests of Rotary and along with Mr. Immel, answered many questions in regard to various phases of school work.

There were two other guests, Terry McClintic, and Mr. Dan O'Haver.

There will not be a Rotary Club meeting in Syracuse next Monday night. Almost the entire club with their wives will attend the District Meeting in South Bend where it is rumored that the club will be presented a plaque by the District Governor for their recent 13-week record of successive 100 percent attendance meetings. Up until Monday night, sixty tickets had been sold for this event among the Syracuse members.

Syracuse Thinlies Win First Two Track Meets

Syracuse Yellowjackets won their opening track meets played here when they defeated North Manchester Friday 63-48 and raced ahead in a triangular meet Monday taking 87 3/5 points to Silver Lake's 27 and Claypool's 21 2/5.

The Jackets won seven on the 11 individual events with No. Manchester, tied for first in one and won the mile relay. Davis of Syracuse won both the 100 yd. and 220 yd. dashes. Bob Swenson won the 880 and tied teammate Ted Burson in the high jump. Marshall of Manchester was a two-event winner taking the pole vault and low hurdles.

Monday night in the triangular meet, the hosting Yellowjackets won nine individual. They missed a blue ribbon only in the broad jump and mile run. Denton lead the points by winning the shot put, 100 and 220 yd. dashes, and finishing in the winning team for the 1/2-mile relay.
