NEAR GRANT HOTEL Mrs. and Mrs. Clem Perrine and Sons brought to Greencastle for Medical Attention.

Four people were injured in a serious accident on the National Road Friday night about twelve o'clock. When a light, two-door sedan turned over near the Grant Hotel. The injured people are Mr. and Mrs. Clem Perrine and their two sons, Charles and Hal.

The party was enroute from their home in Cincinnati to St. Louis when the accident occurred. They were also under the impression that they were near Terre Haute. The two boys were asleep in the back seat and Mr. Perrine was driving when the car turned over. It was stated that the car was traveling at too high a rate of speed to negotiate the curve in the road and so took the ditch on the left side of the road and turned over.

Religious School

to be held from Monday to Thursday nights. The Board of Religious Education, representing the Churches of the community, announces the fifth session of the School of Religious Education to be held October 8 to 12.

Those who have attended previous years will need no urging to impress upon them the value of continuing their study working toward their diploma. The school is held primarily for the assistance of the teaching in the Sunday schools of the community. However, anyone interested in being a teacher should contact the classes together for some of the best known local teachers. Their names, the courses, the dates and the place of meeting will be published in this paper from time to time. Every Church should take advantage of this opportunity and have its own prospective teachers enrolled.

LABOR DAY Office will be closed all day, Sept. 3rd, account of Labor Day. Mail will be received and delivered as usual. No city or rural deliveries.

ROBBERY REPORTED

ALLENDALE IS COMPARED TO BIG RESORTS

SPRING WATER AS GOOD AS THAT OF WORLD-FAMED RESORTS.

IS RARE BEAUTY SPOT Dr. Fitch, New York, Writes Book On Mineral Waters of America And Praises Allendale.

A visit to Allendale Springs at this time of the year or at any time is well worth while, just from the standpoint of seeing natural beauty, but Allendale has other attractions that but few people probably know or realize.

Considered from a health standpoint, the medical qualities of the waters at the place, are the most valuable things there, but hundreds of people go there from time to time, just for a picnic outing, and there is an ideal place for such an afternoon or evening.

Paul T. Allen who now owns the place, has erected the dam which made possible the lake, and boating. He has sites for camp fires over the grounds and has made it an attractive spot for campers.

However, the waters of the several springs have been analyzed for their medical values and recently Dr. William Edgerd Fitch of New York City wrote a book on valuable mineral waters of America, and he pays high tribute to Allendale.

In commenting on the mineral properties of the springs, the book by Dr. Fitch says: "Daggy Spring and Dewdrop Spring, medical classification, weak alkaline. The analysis of the Daggy and Dewdrop Springs show a moderately mineralized, calcic, magnesian, bicarbonated alkaline water, possessing diuretic, antacid and valuable tonic properties, particularly the Dewdrop Spring, which carries 628 mg. of iron bicarbonate per liter.

Those springs, in the percentage of the chemical constituents, closely resemble the celebrated European springs at Baden Baden and Stahlbrunn.

Dr. Fitch compares a spring within a mile of Greencastle with two of the famous watering resorts of Europe, and but few Greencastle people have ever tasted the waters from these cold springs, which flow twelve months in the year. The temperature of the water is around 50 degrees, cooler than the ordinary water kept in an ice box, and comes sparkling and gas filled, from the bowels of the earth. Why shouldn't it be good?

Mr. Allen states he has people come here for jags of the water which are then sent to many distant points. They come for it and drink it because of the benefits they have received from it.

Partly cloudy to cloudy tonight and Sunday. Slightly warmer tonight in north and central portions, and east and south portion, Sunday.

GAS COMPANY WILL IMPROVE LOCAL PLANT

NEW GAS STORAGE TANK HAS BEEN ORDERED FOR THE PLANT HERE.

NEW PIPE IS DELIVERED Future Improvement Will Assure Patrons of Better Service, Insul Corporation Owes Plant.

Important improvements in the service facilities of the Greencastle Gas and Electric Company were announced today by the new management.

A gas storage tank seventy-one feet long and twenty feet in diameter has been ordered and will be constructed in the near future. This tank will have a capacity of 50,000 cubic feet of gas and will supplement the company's present holder capacity thus making available at least a full day's supply for the company's customers.

Approximately one mile of four inch pipe has been delivered and will be added to the company's local distribution system, thus increasing the pressure in various sections of town.

The local gas company was purchased by the Midland Utilities Co., an Insul corporation a few weeks ago. The Midland Company controls a number of gas, electric and transportation companies located chiefly in northern Indiana and western Ohio.

Southern planes will leave Minneapolis at 8:30 a. m. and St. Paul at 8:40 a. m., arriving here in three hours and forty minutes. The route to be followed, carefully marked and well lighted, was developed by the United States Department of Commerce.

Plans for the service were outlined by the technical committee of the Transcontinental Air Transport, headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is also consulting aeronautical engineer for the Pennsylvania railroad.

The line opened today will form one of many auxiliaries and feeders for the main transcontinental line, now being organized between New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Mayor George W. Dahl of Fargo, N. D., W. R. Straehan, and C. H. Tremblay of the Northern Pacific railroad and J. M. Caldwell of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific will be among the passengers on the initial flight from the north. Dahl purchased the first ticket.

Other railroads which have arranged to handle the service are the Pennsylvania and the Great Northern.

The planes have accommodations for 12 passengers. The planes are driven by three 400-horse power motors, having a cruising speed of 115 miles per hour, and a maximum speed of 140 miles per hour.

SMALL SEDAN SIDESWIPED BY ANOTHER MACHINE FRIDAY NIGHT.

A small sedan was slightly damaged in an accident near Clinton Falls Friday night. The car is owned by Abner Sigler of Greencastle and, it was said, was being driven by his wife at the time of the accident.

This road is very narrow, and fearful that they would go into the ditch, the driver stayed too far out in the center of the road and was sideswiped by another car. The left side of the car was slightly damaged with a mashed fender, running board and hub cap.

Booster Day On December 15

GREENCASTLE MERCHANTS WILL COMBINE IN ONE BIG DAY. AUTO TO BE GIFT.

Greencastle merchant's next Booster Day, will be Saturday, December 15, it was announced Saturday, and the grand award on that day will be an automobile, the same to be selected by a committee, which promises to have it on display during the County Fair.

The next Trade Booster period will start on Wednesday, Sept. 12, the day the fair opens, and will run three months instead of the usual one month, it was announced.

The start during County Fair week should be a good one, and much interest is already being shown in the coming trade booster event.

In addition to starting this campaign, the merchants of the city promise to give the largest Booster Day event in their history on Friday, September 14, which comes also during Fair week. The combination should bring an unusually good crowd to the city that week, especially so if the weather is suitable.

HOOVER MAY BREAK SOLID SOUTH VOTE

G. O. P. LEADERS BELIEVE HOOVER IS IDEAL CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

HIS RECORD IS UNSULLIED Hoover's Work During World War; His Mississippi Flood Relief Measures Known to Voters.

Republicans believe they have in Herbert Hoover an ideal candidate for an attempt to break into the Solid South.

Hoover has not been a strong partisan. He is not identified closely with the old Republican machine. Politicians opposed him before the convention on this ground, but now that he is their nominee they regard his lack of pronounced partisan coloring as an attraction to the so-called independent voters, and to those Democrats of the South who do not lean strongly toward Smith.

His enemies in the Kansas City Convention charged that Hoover did not know in 1920 whether he was a Republican or a Democrat. They charged this over and over. His name went on the Democratic ballot in Michigan in that year, and he won both the Democratic and Republican Presidential primaries in that state. There was a movement to place his name on Georgia preferential primary ballot in 1920, but this was checked.

Hoover was closely associated with Woodrow Wilson during the war. The name of the war President is still one to conjure with among Southern voters. Republican strategists, while they can say nothing about this, see in it a source of strength in the South among those who do not favor Smith.

It is with that background, which favorably inclines some Democrats toward him, that Herbert Hoover goes before the voters in the South. Republicans will not emphasize this phase of Hoover's past history. They do not need to. It speaks for itself.

But an account of their record and because of other phases of his career which they will emphasize, they regard Hoover as the strongest candidate they could carry before Southern voters.

They will make a positive Hoover campaign. They will not be vague attention openly to attacks on Smith, leaving to Southern "bolting" Democrats the spotty, but furious, fire they already are directing against the Democratic candidate on account of his prohibition standard his former association with Tammany.

This can best be capitalized by silence. Republicans will stress these issues:

1. Hoover's work as director of Mississippi Flood relief. 2. Hoover's efforts on behalf of business through the department of Commerce.

3. Hoover's record as a humanitarian in relief work in Belgium and Russia.

They also will make a special campaign among women, capitalizing the sentiment they say they find for him among the female voters. They will capitalize, negatively, the opposition apparent toward Smith among the "Dry" women and their organizations. They will present Hoover as a military "Dry" to the women.

Hoover, himself in his acceptance speech, emphasized that his campaign of efficiency are directed, finally, toward "happy homes." The home will be stressed by his campaigners and especially among the women voters. He will be given credit for inspiring many labor saving devices and conveniences for the housewife. The campaign will be carried into the housewife's realm—into the kitchen, the pantry, and the nursery. He has participated in child health organizations and Mrs. Hoover has worked for years with the girl scout movement.

Hoover's work as an industrial efficiency expert will be translated into terms of raising the American standard of living. His campaigners will explain that steps taken by industry at his suggestion to reduce waste will inevitably reduce costs of production and make the article cheaper to the ultimate consumer.

This talk will be directed at the home and likewise to the business man. Hoover has made many friends among business men in the South as in other parts of the country.

Frequently, he has called attention to the natural resources of the south with predictions of the wealth which will flow from their future development. His humanitarian work in Belgium

STATE FAIR GATES OPEN

SEVENTH SIXTH ANNUAL INDIANA STATE FAIR TO LAST UNTIL SEPT. 8.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—Gates of the Indiana state fair grounds opened at 6 o'clock this morning. Central standard time, to inaugurate the seventy-sixth annual Indiana state fair, planned by members of the state board of agriculture to be the largest and most elaborate in its history.

Indications point to the greatest attendance record in history, while the program of amusements, number of exhibitions and lists of prize awards will exceed anything presented in previous years.

With the fair operating on an eight-day schedule, which was inaugurated in 1927, attendance is expected to reach the 300,000 mark when activities come to an end next Saturday, providing weather conditions are favorable. E. J. Barker, secretary of the Indiana state board of agriculture and the fair board, announced.

Among the added attractions this year will be a Wild West rodeo every evening on the race track in front of the grand stand, while the radio will be used for the first time to broadcast each day a vivid story of the fair through the air.

Spectators who in other years found that new building had been constructed since the last visit, as a part of the $3,000,000 building program, will find this year that the fair grounds has been equipped with a new street lighting system. This was especially installed for the advantage of night visitors, the number of whom is increasing year by year.

PAUL PREACHING IN THESSALONICA AND BERA

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:1-15; 1 Thess. 5:12-23; Romans 15:18-20.
GOLDEN TEXT.—The entrance of his words giveth light.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Finds New Friends and Foes.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Finds New Friends and Foes.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul's Use of the Scriptures.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul, Organizer of Churches.

I. Preaching in Thessalonica (Acts 17:1-10).
His method (vv. 1, 2).
He observed the divine order, "to the Jew first," but whenever they proved themselves unworthy he turned to the Gentiles. He went out on the Sabbath day so as to find them assembled together.
2. His message (v. 3).
It was that Jesus is the Christ. In order to prove that Jesus is the Christ, he expounded unto them the Scriptures. Concerning Christ he set forth three propositions:
(1) "That Christ must needs have suffered" (v. 3).
The suffering Christ was not welcomed by the Jews (Isa. 53). They were looking for a Messiah of a different type.
(2) "Risen from the dead" (v. 3).
This He proved by the Scriptures. The resurrection of Christ and the bodily resurrection of believers need sound and practical exposition today.
(3) "That this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ."
He declared that the historic Jesus whom he had proclaimed had suffered and risen from the dead, therefore He is the predicted Messiah.
3. The attitude of the Jews toward his preaching (vv. 4-10).
While some Jews believed and many Greeks, the envy of certain Jews was so aroused at Paul's success that they gathered together the worthless fables of the town and created a riot. They turned the preaching of Paul into a specious lie. He preached the kingship of Jesus (v. 7). This is most assuredly coming to reign on this earth.

II. What He Preached at Thessalonica (1 Thess. 5:13-20).
He corrected certain doctrinal errors which had crept into the church.
1. They were not to sorrow unduly (v. 13).
Because they failed to understand the meaning of Paul's preaching concerning the coming of the Lord they were indulging in excessive sorrow. They seemed to think that their loved ones who had died would miss the blessings and glory connected with the return of the Lord.
2. The events associated with the Lord's coming (vv. 13-18).
In this section he gives the reasons why they were not to allow themselves to be overwhelmed with grief.
(1) The departed saints will come back when Jesus comes (v. 14).
Immediately following the death of believers their spirits go to be with the Lord where they remain in the state of blessedness until the Lord shall return to this earth, bringing them with Him.
(2) The bodies of the dead in Christ shall come from the grave (v. 16).
When the Lord comes there will be a real resurrection of the dead in Christ, before the change of the bodies of living believers.
(3) Living believers will be caught up together with those who have been resurrected (v. 17).
3. The time of the Lord's coming is unknown (5:1-11). We are commanded to be ready, to watch.
III. Paul Preaching in Bera (Acts 17:10-15).

1. His method (v. 10).
He entered the Jewish synagogue and preached Christ.
2. The reception of the Gospel by the Bereans (vv. 11, 12).
(1) They received the message gladly.
(2) They searched the Scriptures daily for the truthfulness of the message which they had heard.
3. The wicked action of the Jews (vv. 13-15).
Wicked Jews from Thessalonica followed the missionaries and stirred up the people against them, making it necessary for them again to flee.
IV. Paul's Manner of Preaching (Rom. 15:19-20).
Wherever he went in the Gentile world he preached salvation through faith in Christ. God accompanied his ministry with mighty signs and wonders, with the object of making the Gentiles obedient to the Gospel. Paul's aim was to preach in new fields so as not to build on the foundation of another.

Jesus and Preaching
Jesus chose preaching as the method of extending the knowledge of Himself throughout the world. He taught His truth to a few men, and then He said, "Now go and tell that truth to other men."—Phillips Brooks.

At the Door
"Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with Me."—Rev. 3:20.

AT THE VONCASTLE

Strange mummies, in elaborately-coined sorcery, suggesting a museum or a coacomb in King Tut's tomb were used for board and hilarious comedy purposes in one of the oddest sets ever designed for a motion picture, in "Detectives," new costarring comedy of Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, which comes to the Voncastle Theatre Monday and Tuesday Mat. and night.

Watch out for KARL DANE and GEORGE K. ARTHUR in DETECTIVES

Everybody recognizes Karl Dane as the ace of film teams. And here is their best laugh-fest—a picture that roars in every foot.

CHARLEY CHASE

Notice To Patrons STARTING MONDAY DAY WE WILL RUN MATINEES CONTINUOUS FROM 2 TO 11 P. M.

The new set kept the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer property shops busy for several days. In the picture the mummies represent a collection of a strange Egyptologist, turned crook and the heroes of "Rookies" as amateur detectives, blunder into a strange series of hairbreadth adventures in the secret grotto. Dane even gets wrapped in mummy-cloth and impersonates a long-dead Egyptian monarch in his efforts to recover the stolen jewels in the odd adventure. The new comedy is something entirely new to the screen, in that the story itself is a bizarre mystery thriller, the laughs being created by the two heroes blundering by mistake into the thrills and mysteries, and escaping usually by their own stupidity. Every "straight" thrill is thus anti-climaxed in a comical episode when the heroes of "Rookie" make an entrance.

AT THE GRANADA

"THE BIG NOISE" ROARING COMEDY WITH STAR CAST

Although Chester Conklin, who plays the featured role in "The Big Noise," is best known as a farce comedian. The picture itself, coming next Monday and Tuesday to the Granada Theatre, is more of a comedy, in the opinion of movie critics. While there are many humorous situations capably handled by the inimitable Conklin and the supporting cast, the main plot of the story centers around the attempts of a gang of crooked politicians to control the governor's chair in the state of New York.

Allan Dwan directed the film for First National Pictures from an original story written by Ben Hecht author of "Underworld" and many brilliant novels. The cast, in addition to Conklin, includes Alice White Sam Hardy, Bodil Rosing, David Torrance and Jack Egan.

SYNCHROTONE PICTURES

The Patrons of the Granada Theatre will have their first opportunity to hear Synchrotone pictures in this city, when added short subjects will be presented in conjunction with the usual program. The new singing and talking pictures will be presented as Vaudeville on the screen giving the patrons an opportunity to hear what they see.

This addition to the usual program should prove a decided novelty, while showing at the Granada Monday and Tuesday with a special Labor Day Matinee at 2 P. M.

BETTER BABIES VS AVERAGE BABIES

The care of milk in the home may nullify all the precautions taken by the dairies and dealers to safeguard the milk.

The place of delivery should be protected from neighborhood animals and from the hot sun. As soon after delivery as possible the bottle should again be placed on ice.

In preparation for use, the average mother would be horrified if any one else were to use a somewhat soiled family dish rag wrung from not too clean dish water to wipe the neck of the bottle. Milk uncovered even for a short time is likely to be contaminated by flies which carry all kinds of available germs. Boiled
