

TARIFF BILL IS DISCUSSED BY JOHNSON

CONGRESSMAN CHALLENGES DEMOCRATS TO TELL HOW TO LOWER TARIFF

TALKS AT PLEASANT GARDENS

Says Democrats Have Nothing To Offer In Present Campaign Except Criticism

Stating the Democrats had nothing to offer in the present campaign except criticism, Congressman Noble J. Johnson of the Fifth Indiana district, challenged the party to tell voters on what farm products they would lower the tariff if elected, in an address before a large crowd at Pleasant Gardens Thursday evening.

Several candidates for county offices accompanied Mr. Johnson and made short talks at the Pleasant Garden meeting also.

Mr. Johnson said in part: "The tariff bill recently passed by Congress will be a great benefit to agriculture. The American Farm Bureau Federation issued a statement that this is the first time agriculture has ever received proper tariff legislation.

A comparison of rates on farm products as written in the Underwood bill by our Democratic friends in 1913 and the Republican tariff acts of 1922 and 1930, shows very plainly the difference in the considerations given to agriculture.

It is plain to be seen that our Democratic friends gave no consideration to the protection of farm products.

Our Democratic friends say they will lower the tariff, if elected in November. In all fairness you are entitled to know how much they will lower it. Let them tell what products of the farm they will lower the tariff on and how much they will lower them. Will they again put them on the free list as they did in 1913, or just what change they will make. You are entitled to know and they should tell you.

It is always very easy to find fault with what has been done but sometimes it is harder to tell how it could have been done better.

During the last session of Congress not one constructive proposal was advanced by our Democratic friends. They were content with finding fault and obstructing everything we tried to do and in this campaign we find they have nothing to offer except criticism.

WILD GEESSE GO OVER

A flock of thirty-two geese headed southwest, passed over Greencastle Friday noon. The flock attracted the attention of several residents as it headed for warmer climes.

Down at Spencer the other night migratory geese were reported to have made so much noise that numerous residents were awakened.

Old-timers say that the passing of the geese marks the beginning of real winter weather.

LINDY IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2 (UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Columbus at 10:20 a. m. today, completing a trial flight over the eastern link of the new passenger-mail line of Transcontinental Western Air, Inc.

BANK CLOSES

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24 (UP)—Inventory of the books of the City Trust Company was being taken by state bank examiners today, preparatory to liquidation of assets.

The bank, which was closed yesterday, had total assets of $5,357,881.80 and had total deposits of $2,030,639 and trust investments amounting to $1,020,000.

The institution was closed, according to a statement of Dick Miller, president, because of "an accumulation of frozen assets; much of the funds were invested in real estate securities, and that because of the present demoralized condition of the real estate market, the bank was unable to liquidate its holdings.

FARM ESCAPE SENTENCED

After more than three years of liberty from the Indiana State Farm which he escaped July 1, 1927, Clayton Rhodehamel, 48, years old, was sentenced in the Putnam circuit court Friday morning to serve 1 to 5 years in the Indiana State Prison, as a penalty for his escape.

Arraigned before Judge James P. Hughes, Rhodehamel pleaded guilty and received his sentence. He was apprehended at South Bend where he was held in jail for six weeks before being brought to Greencastle for sentence. He escaped while serving a minor term imposed in Grant county.

ELKS TO ENTERTAIN

The Elks will hold open house and a big "feed" at the club house on south Indiana street this evening. All members, former members, and friends have been invited to attend.

LUIS RESIGNS PRESIDENCY OF BRAZIL

GOVERNMENT TAKEN OVER BY REVOLUTIONARY COMMITTEE FRIDAY

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 24 (UP)—President Washington Luis Pereira Da Souza resigned today.

Washington Luis resigned after the garrison of the Copacabana fortress, a strong coast artillery defense post, revolted with the support of the third regiment.

The government was taken over by a revolutionary committee headed by Gen. Leite de Castro, who had gone over to the revolution "to save needless bloodshed and fighting between brothers."

General Leite de Castro was scheduled to become provisional president. The first step of the new government was expected to be dissolution of congress and dismissal of the entire cabinet which would be replaced by a ministry to be named by the revolutionary committee or junta.

The President resigned at 9:40 a. m.

The resignation of the president, whose four-year term would have come to an end November 15th, had been demanded repeatedly by the revolutionary leaders who since Oct. 3 have been attempting a march on Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo from three directions.

The rebels had directed their movement also against the inauguration of Julio Prestes, president-elect, who was supported by Washington Luis.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

DR. RUDOLF BRODA TO BE THE SPEAKER ON SUBJECT AT VESPER SERVICE

No matter whether one believes in the League of Nations or not, no one can take an intelligent stand upon the subject without some knowledge of its workings, purpose and progress. It is for this purpose that such a speaker as Dr. Rudolf Broda will speak at the University Vesper services Sunday night at the Methodist church.

In addition the speaker, Prof. Van Denham Thompson will be at the organ for a fifteen minute musical prelude and as an added feature, Miss Louise Palmer Walker, teacher of violin at the University music school, will also play.

Dr. Broda will talk upon the subject: "The League of Nations, Seen from Within." Dr. Broda has attended sessions of the League of Nations and International Labor Organizations since 1920. He has traveled widely throughout Europe, Asia and South America. He has the experience and ability to approach all subjects from a world or international aspect.

Dr. Broda was Juris Doctor, University of Vienna, 1902; did sociological research in Asia, Africa and Australia, 1906; professor, College Libres des Sciences Sociales, 1907-14; and has been associate professor of social science at Antioch College since 1927.

This speaker has written a number of books in English, French, German, and Czech. He is versed in international politics, labor questions, and has lectured before many important clubs and commissions throughout the United States. A number of his addresses have been broadcast over the radio so that Dr. Broda may need no introduction to Greencastle people.

CENTRALIZED RAIL CONTROL ON PENNSY R.R.

NEW ELECTRIC SIGNAL SYSTEM WENT IN OPERATION THURSDAY

ALMEDA TO BEN DAVIS

Several Pennsylvania Railroad Officials On Inspection Trip Pleasid With New System

Train orders on the St. Louis division of the Pennsylvania railroad between Almeda and Ben Davis were abolished Thursday with the centralized electric traffic control going into full operation. The system has been in use since August 28, but up until Thursday trains were given orders as to where meets should be made but the change over to the electric signal direction makes possible the abolishment of train orders.

Trains are now directed as to where they shall take siding by the signal indication at siding locations and also as to where meets and overtakes are to be made.

Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad spent the entire day here Thursday inspecting and watching the operation of trains by the new system. These officials were well satisfied and highly pleased with the change and predict great savings in time of trains operated in this territory.

The system operates 11 switches, 32 signals, with their respective track circuits, and intermediate track circuits between block stop signal territory, with all necessary indications for each. The central control machine is in a tower at Limedale.

The signalman at Limedale has before him a panel consisting of a track model showing all the switches and signals controlled by him, as well as continuous track indication lights. Below the track model are the necessary switch and signal levers to control the stations or the functions at the ends of the sidings within the 35 miles, with the normal and reverse indication lights, lights for switches and the eastward and westward signal indication lights for the signals.

Below these levers are two buttons. The first button is used to make the signal "Stick" or "Non-Stick"—that is, if the button is left "in", the signal will not return to clear indication as an automatic signal does. If the button is "pulled out", the signal will clear for a following movement after the preceding train has left the block, as in straight automatic signaling. The other button is for the starting of the controlling code, which regulates certain function relays in the field to permit the switch to be reversed or restored to normal, or to clear either the eastward or westward signal.

If the signalman wishes to move a train out of a siding and the switch is lined for main line movement, he sets his lever to the "R" or reverse position and the signal lever to its L or "R" position, depending on whether the movement is to be made either in an eastward or westward direction.

He proceeds by pushing and releasing the control code starting button, three-fifths of a second after he has released this starting button, the switch 35 miles away starts to move reverse, as is shown on the panel by the normal indication lamp being extinguished.

As it is a 16-second movement switch, the indication is coded back to the indication panel at Limedale within 17 seconds and the reverse indication light is lighted, showing that this particular switch is reversed. The "stop signal" indication lamp is extinguished and the "clear signal" indication lamp is lighted, showing the signal cleared. The switch is electrically locked against further movement until all conditions have been restored to normal.

If no switch movement is involved and only the signal is to be cleared, the interval from the time the code "starting button" is pushed and released, the control code transmitted the signal cleared, the switch locked in normal position, all function relays checked and the indication transmitted to the panel at Limedale is two and one-half seconds. This emphasizes the speed with which the system operates.

Construction work was handled by the St. Louis division and regional construction forces. Among those who were active in the work are the following:

C. L. Bartholome, supervising telegraph and signals; F. R. McMaken, assistant supervisor; F. W. Brunnet, general foreman; O. W. Long, E. J. Sulkoske, construction foreman; W. J. Coffey, maintenance foreman; H.

J. Miller, testman; T. E. Routledge, test foreman; E. F. Auth, signalman; C. R. Myers and R. R. Delaplaine, signal apprentices; W. L. Funnannon, force; J. R. McQuade, assistant foreman, and others.

E. T. B. Glenn, representative of the Union Switch and Signal Co., cooperated in the installation of the coding equipment. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are making Greencastle their home at present and are residing in the Prof. Ross residence on south Lacust street.

MARION CO. HAS LEAD IN RECTOR SCHOLARS HERE

PUTNAM COUNTY RANKS SECOND IN NUMBER ON DE-PAUW CAMPUS

Putnam county leads all counties in Indiana except Marion in the number of Rector scholars on the DePauw University campus, a report shows from the office of Dr. Henry B. Longden, director of the Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation.

The report indicates further that there are 545 taking advantage of these scholarships this semester, an average in one out of two men on the campus and one out of three in the entire student body.

There are 82 out of the 92 counties in the state represented by one or more Rector scholars. The ten counties not represented are Dearborn, LaGrange, Monroe, Ohio, Owen, Perry, Pulaska, Switzerland, Union and Warren. Counties represented by ten or more Rector scholars are:

Marion county, 52; Putnam, 19; Madison 16; Henry 12; Lake 12; St. Joseph 12; Bartholomew 10 and Randolph 10.

Twenty of the 48 states are represented in the group, Indiana leading with 448 students, Illinois is next with 50. Otto has 47; Kentucky and Massachusetts, four each; Californian, New York and Missouri, three; Pennsylvania, Michigan and Iowa, two each, and Colorado, Florida, Minnesota, New Jersey, South Dakota, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington and Maryland, one each.

Four foreign countries are also in the list outside of the state, Austria, Japan, Korea and Canada have one Rector scholar each.

There were 320 scholarships awarded to freshmen this year breaking all former records. About 250 of these enrolled while others took leaves of absence for a year due to finances. Each scholarship is valued at $800 paying all tuition and fees for four years contingent on a high scholastic standing.

Those coming from Putnam county are: Cloyd Boswell, Reelsville; Wayne Dorsett, Cloverdale; William Wilson, Roachdale; and the following from Greencastle, Max Bowman, Robert Bruner Hale Cowling, Hubert and Robert Dirks; Bowne Eckardt, Forrest Gehrig, Anne Nichols, Donald Hart, John Ogles, Frank Ross, Ralph Ross Eugene Ruark, Charles Strain, Martha Vaughn and Richard Matthews.

PENAL FARM LABOR

Much has been said and heard about the employment of penal farm prisoners on road work south of Greencastle. A petition was circulated among the people of south Putnam county which was sent to the governor, protesting against the use of this kind of labor. It was liberally signed, but some who signed it owned farms and have used this same labor on their farms.

Why is it that politicians and office seekers will condemn a state government for doing things and not condemn their neighbors for doing the same thing?

If there is so much extra labor in Putnam county, why do not some of these farmers and others who have been employing penal farm help, use this extra labor? Some of the candidates seeking office in the county and elsewhere might be able to explain this.

JOE AIELLO GANG "CZAR" PUT ON SPOT

MACHINE GUNS RIDDLE BODY OF CHICAGO GANGLAND LEADER

WAS ENEMY OF AL CAPONE

Victim Ambushed By Gangster Enemies As He Left Apartment House Last Night

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (UP)—Joe Aiello, one of the big four of the Chicago underworld, was murdered last night by two squads of machine gunners who directed a deadly cross fire of bullets at him as he came out of his hiding place.

Aiello, deadly enemy of Scarface Al Capone, was ambushed by gangster enemies who apparently had laid for days or even weeks in an apartment overlooking the gang leader's hideout awaiting the moment they could open fire.

Capone's enemy, who, like Capone, was called a "public enemy" by the crime commission, fell, 32 bullets in his back, one through his left eye, his right great toe shot away and his right leg broken in two places by slugs.

Early today county morgue physicians had counted 62 bullet holes and said there might be more.

The murder occurred in a fashionable residential district on north Kolmar avenue on the Northwest Side. The only witness was James P. Ruane, a taxicab driver, who had been called to the apartment where Aiello was, like many other gang leaders had been a fugitive since Alfred Lingling was killed on June 9, was hiding.

Ruane entered the hallway, found the bells out of order, kicked on the corridor door to notify his fare that he had arrived and started back to his cab. The fare, who was Aiello, followed about 15 feet in the rear.

As he opened the cab door, the driver heard a noise across the apartment courtyard. He turned and saw a window opening slowly. A cumbersome looking object was laid across the sill. There was a burst of flame.

As the courtyard rang with the roar and the echo of the machine gun fire and the crack of splintering wood and shattered glass, Aiello staggered, shouted something unintelligible, glared for a moment, terrified, at the machine gun nest, then turned and half ran, half stumbled, around a corner and into a narrow court.

There he halted as if to congratulate himself upon his escape. But his enemies had anticipated he might use just this avenue of escape. There was a second burst of fire, this one from the rear of the narrow court.

The roar of the machine gun in the little enclosure was deafening. It continued for a moment, echoes followed, and the clamor died out. A deadly silence followed. Ruane ran from behind his cab. Motorcycle Policeman Charles Fuller, who lives a block away, had heard the shots and joined the cab driver. They placed Aiello's body in the cab and took it to a hospital.

Aiello's identity was a mystery for an hour until his name was deciphered on a badly worn coat label.

Editor Shoots Deputy Sheriff

OFFICER ATTEMPTING TO BREAK INTO NEWSPAPER PLANT IN WEST VA.

MADISON, W. Va., Oct. 2 (UP)—Elmer Jones, assistant editor of the Guyan Valley News, a weekly newspaper, shot and seriously wounded Deputy Sheriff Amos Sullivan early today while Sullivan allegedly was trying to break into the newspaper plant.

Jones admitted the shooting but was not arrested. Luther Jones, his brother and editor of the paper, said he believed Sullivan intended to destroy the newspaper plant because of the weekly's vigorous attacks upon the so-called "Hatfield Clique" in Logan county.

The weekly is printed in Madison but most of its circulation is in Logan county.

Sullivan was taken to Logan hospital. Physicians said he was shot in the stomach.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PAUL COLLETT LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral service for Mrs. Paul Collett, who passed away at her home on East Seminary street, Wednesday evening, was held at the Rector Funeral Home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. V. L. Raphael, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, had charge of the funeral service, which was brief and impressive, using the Twenty-Third Psalm and passages from the Fourteenth Chapter of the book of St. John.

Mrs. Benjamin Riley sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "The Old Rugged Cross" and Mrs. Harry M. Smith accompanied her on the piano.

The pall bearers were J. J. Murnane, S. R. Rariden, W. A. Peemer, Maurice McEvoy, Gifford Black and Kenneth Evans.

The body was laid to rest in Forest Hill cemetery.

TELEPHONE CO. IMPROVEMENT IS PROTESTED

CITY OFFICIALS APPEAR BEFORE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

FEAR RATE INCREASE HERE

Mayor Denman, City Attorney Lyon And Others Protest Plant Improvement Work Underway

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24 (UP)—Protests against a proposed improvement by the Greencastle telephone company were lodged with the public service commission today by the mayor, the city attorney and several interested citizens.

It was claimed that the company, recently purchased by a Wisconsin organization, plans to spend between $80,000 and $100,000 for "improvements," which citizens deem unnecessary and which they fear will increase rates.

Commissioners believed they were unable to halt an expansion program, but may disallow "unnecessary expenditures" in making rate valuations.

A Chevrolet coach stolen from Joe Colombo, of Klondike, near Clinton, was found on the National Road west Wednesday night about 11 o'clock, of Pleasant Gardens, by persons who reported the car to Sheriff Edward Eitelgering of Putnam county, Thursday evening.

The car was taken to a garage at Pleasant Gardens until the owner could be notified.

According to the Sheriff the car apparently had been abandoned by the thief. It appeared to be in good condition.

According to the Daily Clintonian, Colombo reported the theft to Clinton police Thursday.

Penal Farm Has Leased Big Farm

TAKE OVER W. P. LOCKRIDGE 600-ACRE FARM WITH PRIVILEGE OF BUYING

Indiana State Farm trustees have leased the W. P. Lockridge 592-acre farm, west of Greencastle, with the privilege of later buying it, according to reports here Friday.

Mr. Lockridge sold most of his farming implements at public auction on Thursday and will turn his farm over to Penal Farm authorities at once, it was said. The farm is one of the most productive crop and grazing farms in the county, being located along Big Walnut creek south and west of Greencastle a few miles.

Penal Farm authorities have been pressed for some time to find work to keep the increasing state farm inmate population employed. Leasing of this huge farm will provide work for many of the short term prisoners.

If it is decided to purchase the farm, the General Assembly next January will be asked to make an appropriation to buy the additional acreage.

REV. BRUNER WILL ADDRESS SECOND JOINT SERVICE

The second of the union services of the Presbyterian and Christian churches, will be conducted in the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. B. H. Bruner will preach. He will have an inspiring message and there will also be good music.

PROSECUTOR GIVES TALK ON CONSTITUTION

URGES VOTERS SUPPORT CONVENTION FOR FOUR REASONS IN ADDRESS

AT CLINTON CENTER SCHOOL

Republican Candidate For Re-Election As Prosecutor Delivers Splendid Talk

Four reasons why voters should support the constitutional convention at the polls November 4, were cited by Prosecutor Marshall D. Abrams, in a talk at Clinton Center Thursday night. Mr. Abrams advocated support of the constitutional convention in order to take politics out of schools, revise taxing methods, a short ballot, and to change the requirements for admittance to the bar.

The present constitution of Indiana is like running a railroad on stage coach methods, he said. It was adopted by citizens of the state in 1851, eighty years ago.

Mr. Abrams has taken the stump in support of a constitutional convention at the behest of the Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc., which is supporting the question to pave the way for tax revision which will be of great benefit to the farmers of the state.

A new constitution also could aid in taking the politics out of schools, provide for a short ballot or make unimportant offices appointive rather than elective, and strengthen the requirements for admittance to the bar.

One question which will confront the voters of our state at the coming November election is "Are you in favor of convening a constitutional convention in the year of 1931?" If the majority of ballots upon this question are cast in the affirmative it will express the sentiment in a legal manner that the people of Indiana desire the opportunity of having presented to them for their adoption or rejection, a new basic law for our state which we style "The Constitution."

The act of the General Assembly under which this question is submitted also provides "If the question shall carry then a special election shall be held by the qualified voters of the State of Indiana on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, 1931, at which shall be elected delegates who shall constitute a convention for the purpose of formulating a new constitution for the State of Indiana, which constitution shall be submitted to the vote of the people of the State of Indiana, to be by them ratified or rejected."

This act further provides that one hundred delegates shall be elected and shall assemble in convention at the Capitol in the city of Indianapolis on the first Monday in October, 1931, for the purpose of adopting a constitution for the State of Indiana to be submitted to the electors of our state for adoption or rejection.

The ballots cast upon the question of calling a constitutional convention in no wise determines what kind of a constitution the convention would adopt but does determine the one question of whether the citizens of Indiana at the present time shall have the opportunity of presenting a constitution to the voters of our state as did the citizens of 1816 and 1851.

There has been much discussion upon the principles of government contained in our constitution and proposed changes during the last ten years. It is the belief of many that the voters would take a keen interest in the selection of delegates at a special election who would frame a new constitution and that our citizens would also give serious consideration to a new constitution submitted to them for their adoption or rejection.

The adoption of a constitution or proposed amendments to the constitution should not be submitted to the people when political feeling is aroused and public officials are being selected. The constitutional convention should be removed as far as possible from partisan bias and prejudice and the election of delegates should be at a time when there is the least struggle for supremacy of political parties. All must concede this fact and the law which we are now considering provides for the method which will as nearly accomplish this fact as could be enacted.

BANNER GETS LETTER CONCERNING AIRPORT

To—The Greencastle Banner.

Dear Sir:—

On November 4th, each voter of this city will be offered a ballot which will read

FOR AVIATION ()
 AGAINST AVIATION, ()

Is there any legitimate reason why each voter should not know that if a majority vote For AVIATION, that our city council can then "acquire, equip, manage, operate, maintain, and dispose of aviation fields and all appurtenances deemed necessary and useful in connection therewith, inclusive of structures of all kinds and systems of repair () lighting, () Communication etc.

That the City of Greencastle will thereafter be fully "authorized through its officers from time to time to make such levies as may be necessary to produce a fund for any and all purposes of this act, and to collect the same as other taxes are collected.

That "Funds for all purposes of the act may be procured from the General fund by taxation or by issue and sale of bonds."

That the amount of such levies, the interest payments on the bonds sold, if any, the amount of taxes the council may compel tax payers to pay under the provision of the act is not limited in any manner by the act.

That while the present council is proposing only to expend $6,000.00 for the grounds, they can change their mind and improve, equip, manage, operate, maintain, and (procure,) all appurtenances, deemed necessary, and useful in connection therewith inclusive of structures of all kinds, and systems of repair, () lighting, () communication etc.,

WHAT WILL THE FINAL COST BE?

WHAT WILL THE NEXT COUNCIL DO?

What will be the tax levy for 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, and 1940?

If the tax payers fail to register their protest against proceedings further by voting as a majority against AVIATION, at this election, will they not thereafter be estopped from making any legal protest as to any legal expenditure the council cares to make for any of the purposes of the Act?

Is there any reason why this question should not be discussed seriously as a question of taxation, a matter of the most vital importance to our people, instead of whooping the matter up with posters "For Aviation" or "Against Aviation" which mean nothing.

If as a matter of fact the people are to make an uncertain expenditure, and receive nothing but title to a tract of hill land, subject to a lease already held by the U. S. Government, and nothing is to be done with it is there any reason why that fact should not be known?

Yours Truly,
 F. S. HAMILTON.

Insull Forces Will Aid Needy

UTILITY OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES TO GIVE DAYS' PAY A MONTH

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (UP) — All officers and employees of the $3,000,000 utilities controlled by Samuel Insull will donate one day's pay a month for the next six months for relief of distress caused by unemployment.

Introduction of this type system into the rapidly advancing national drive to aid the thousands of jobless persons in America during the coming winter months was announced last night by Insull.

The program, he said, is entirely voluntary on the part of his employees but responses have indicated that every person connected with the utilities he controls in 30 states will join in the movement.

The announcement was said to herald the greatest individual effort yet started to prevent widespread suffering which economists have predicted would result from the world-wide business depression.

A high official of the Insull companies estimated the fund thus raised each month will amount to more than $100,000. The exact amount, he said, will be announced within a few days.

Committees already have formed in each Insull company, it was announced. These committees will collect the funds each month until next April and will distribute them among the recognized charitable agencies.

RUM BOATS CAPTURED

D. A. R. Gives A Benefit Bridge

One of the most beautiful parties of the season was that of the benefit bridge given by Washburn Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Alpha Tau Omega house on Thursday evening. Hallowe'en suggestions were carried out in the decorations and the house was beautifully decorated in cut flowers.

Those in the receiving line were: Mrs. C. C. Hurst, Mrs. W. R. Hutcherson, Misses Sarah Bridges and Grace Browning. Bridge was played at thirty-one tables. This was a rather unique party for a benefit bridge, in that prizes were awarded at each table which added to the interest of the party. Refreshments in keeping with the season were served. The committee in charge of this party included Mrs. C. C. Hurst as chairman, with Mrs. W. R. Hutcherson, Mrs. Elmer Sellers, Mrs. W. L. Denman, Mrs. Charles Zeis, Mrs. Ray Trembley, Mrs. W. O. Timmons and Miss Grace Browning as her assistants.

Delta Zeta Circle Entertained Seniors

The Delta Zeta Circle entertained the Delta Zeta seniors at a tea at the home of Mrs. L. H. Dirks on east Washington street, Thursday, October 23rd. Mrs. R. E. Williams sang a group of three songs.

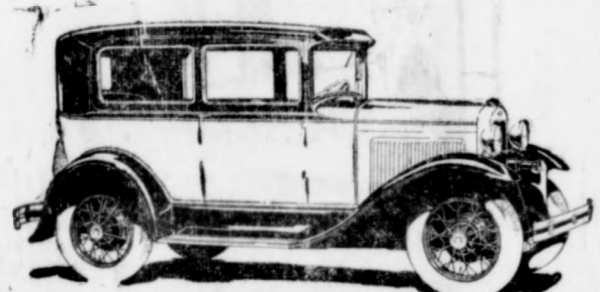

The dining room decorations and the refreshments were in keeping with Hallowe'en. There was one out-of-town guest present, Mrs. Edward Dirks of Indianapolis, which added pleasure to the meeting.

The FORD is a value far above the price

New Ford Tudor Sedan
$495
 (F.O.B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost.)

READ over the list of features given below and you will see that the new Ford brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

It has beautiful lines and colors. It will do 55 to 65 miles an hour. You know how quickly it accelerates in traffic. Its power is evident on every hill. It is unusually safe because of the fully enclosed four-wheel brakes and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield. It has four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers for comfort. And it is an exceptionally economical car because of the low cost of operation and up-keep, low yearly depreciation and long life.

Many of the new Fords have already been driven 50,000, 75,000 and 100,000 miles. In tests and contests in this country, in Canada, and abroad, it has won many medals for reliability and general all-round good performance. It is used exclusively by a large number of industrial companies and government bureaus which keep exact cost figures.

Telephone or visit the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the new Ford. Pick your own roads. Plan to give the car a severe test. Check up on speed, power, acceleration, ease of control, safety, comfort—on every feature of good performance.

Then you will know why the Ford is the most popular car. It leads in sales because it leads in value.

— in the store — all brands of ham look appetizing. But when you eat 'em! . . . What a difference in flavor!

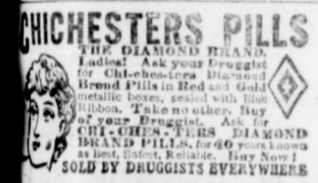

You quickly notice what expert curing does to the taste-quality of ham. Just as quickly, when you start puffing a Bayuk Havana Ribbon, will you notice what thirty-three years of tobacco-curing experience can mean in the taste of a five-cent cigar. Ripe, long filler and Sumatra wrapper add still more to the difference between it and ordinary nickel cigars.

THE SENSIBLE "MIXED DIET"

We are all fond of making experiments. Little boys love to "monkey with" clocks and take them apart. But no one would ever think of asking a little boy to mend a clock. He would take it to a jeweler, an expert. Older people should not experiment with their health. They should take their troubles to a doctor.

We like to tinker with our health chiefly in matters of diet. But for all practical purposes experimenting in this field should be left to men working in laboratories. We have plenty of information already to regulate our diets. Enough sacrifices have already been made in discovering the use, preparation and value of various foods. We have a whole science of dietetics, by means of which it is possible to decide just what foods people should eat. Already we know enough about vitamins to tell with certainty what foods should be included in a healthful diet. Leave experimenting in this field to scientists.

Only a food faddist experiments with his diet. A dietitian has no use for the person who eats no breakfast, for the strict vegetarian or for the man who insists on making two meals a day off nothing but meat and potatoes. The fact that life can be sustained on these abnormal diets does not mean that they are good for health. Insufficient food makes us more susceptible to diseases like tuberculosis and influenza; a bulky vegetable diet strains the digestive organs; on the other hand, a diet consisting of nothing but meat and potatoes causes constipation and raises the blood pressure.

The sensible scientific diet is what the dietitian calls "mixed". It consists of milk, vegetables, fruit, meat, eggs, butter and bread in reasonable quantities. Most people eat too sparingly of vegetables and fruits and drink too little milk. If the above mixed diet fails to nourish you, go see a doctor. Don't experiment.

Overweight is just as dangerous to health as underweight. Don't congratulate yourself on being fat.

HEALTH FACTS FOR HOOSIER FOLK

Although germs are a frequent subject of conversation, few people know what they are or understand their habits. People who are ill imagine that a germ has jumped out at them or waylaid them in some mysterious way.

Germs are neither plants nor animals but partake of the characteristics of each. They are quite colorless and so small they may be measured in units of one ten-thousandth part of an inch. To be seen, even with a microscope, they have to be stained with powerful dyes.

There are many good germs as well as bad ones. The maturing of cheese is due to the action of harmless germs. Germs attached to the roots of peas and beans enable these plants to grow in poor soil, and enrich the soil at the same time. Good germs inhabit the intestines of men and animals and help in the process of digestion. The disease germs, as a matter of fact, are far outnumbered by the good ones. In addition, they are more delicate than the beneficial germs; they require a certain temperature, that of the body, to persist more than a few days, and are quickly killed by sunlight.

Germs are so small that they are always found attached to something larger, like a speck of dust, or they may be found suspended in a fluid. The germs of disease cling to the dust of dark cellars, subways, and ill-ventilated buildings, where there is no direct sunlight to kill them or fresh air to dry them up.

We need not live in constant fear of germs striking us down from behind. We can usually tell where to expect them. They lurk in dark and ill ventilated places—and all places where crowds of people gather. They live in particles of dust and moisture.

Be on the Watch.
No baby is born with tuberculosis, but children take the disease very easily. Allow no one to kiss your baby on the mouth.
Keep flies and insects, cats and dogs, away from your baby and its food.

McNUTT GETS $47.50 PER HOUR OFF THE TAXPAYERS

The following editorial is reprinted from the Bloomington Daily Telephone of October 21st.

Swinging up and down the state press-agented as the Dean of the Indiana University law school, Prof. Paul McNutt appears to be carrying on an old fashioned mud slinging campaign which is storing up much future trouble for the University. Advertised as an I. U. Dean, on the stump and over the radio, the Professor has attacked state officials and the legislature in such a manner as to start a storm of protests from friends of the institution and following these protests came threats of retaliation upon the University. A New Albany paper speaks out to the effect that while the Professor is pawing the sky on behalf of public economy it is always noticeable that the institution from which he draws his pay is lined up at the "pie counter" every time the legislature meets, asking for its million and a half of the tax-payers' money. Other newspaper comments of a like nature are received blaming the University for the antics of the professor on the stump and over the radio. McNutt personally is coming in for a lambasting also, as he is charged with not practicing the economy he hollers about so loudly. One editor asserts that he works four hours a week at the University for thirty-four weeks of the year and for this service draws $6,500 a year—or some $47.79 an hour—which is regarded as a horrible bit of economy on the part of all concerned.

New Science Hall To Be Up-To-Date

UNIVERSITY DEPT. HEADS TO STUDY EQUIPMENT OF EASTERN UNIVERSITIES

In order that the new Harrison hall of natural science to be built at DePauw may be up to date in both planning and equipment, Professors E. R. Smith, B. H. Graves, and T. G. Yuncker, respective heads of geology, zoology, botany departments, will visit eastern universities in the near future to inspect science laboratories. The professors will visit Cornell university, Hamilton college, and Yale university. They will bring back ideas to be incorporated in the new hall.

Harrison hall will house the departments of geology, zoology, and botany. The money for the construction of the building has been granted. When it will be built or where it will be located has not yet been made known.

Henry Ford transferred his tractor factory to Cork, Ireland, and has already shipped 4,569 tractors to this country during the first six months of the year. They were admitted duty free. This is the reason why Mr. Ford has become a free trader. He pays his Irish help double what they used to get but is still able to ship his tractors to this country and undersell his competitors who pay the American wage scale.

TURKEYS TO BE CHEAP

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21 (UP) — Turkeys will not be an expensive item of the Thanksgiving menu this year, Indianapolis packers predicted today. Today's market was at $15 a pound, with the seasonal top forecast at about $20.

ABOLITION OF STATE PROPERTY TAX FAVORED

PORTLAND, Oct. 22 (UP) — Abolition of the state property tax will be recommended by the state tax survey commission and will find almost unanimous support of Republican leaders, Lieut. Governor Edgar D. Bush said in a political talk here last night.

Bush said that no decision has been reached on the method of taxation which will supplant the property levy, but it probably will be an income or sales tax.

Maintenance of local roads will be taken largely from county funds, Bush predicted, with substitution of gasoline tax and motor license fees, or by the state taking over principal roads now locally maintained.

INTRODUCING

(NOTE: This is the eleventh of a series of cuts and thumb-nail sketches prepared by the DePauw University Department of Publicity to introduce to readers The Daily Banner, members of the 1930 Tiger football team).

Ernest Beler

In the old days it used to be that a quarterback was small and light so that his fellow backfield men could lift him up and throw him across the line of scrimmage, a favorite method of advancing the ball.

This style of play has been abandoned, but, as DePauw, the quarterbacks still run to small sizes. For instance, Ernest Beler, a sophomore, who has been barking signals in each of the Old Gold games this year. Beler weighs 152 pounds, a mature designed him, but has made that weight felt in each game.

AN ORDINANCE:

Prohibiting the public display of meat and food stuffs upon the sidewalks and other public places within the City of Greencastle, Indiana, and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

SECTION 1. Be It Ordained: by the Common Council of the City of Greencastle, Indiana, that any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of selling meats and food stuffs for human consumption, within the limits of the City of Greencastle, Indiana, shall not use the sidewalks in front of such place of business for the display of such meats or food stuffs, and shall not place meats or food stuffs upon the sidewalks for any purpose, but shall keep said meats and food stuffs at all times within said place of business and covered in a sanitary manner.

SECTION 2. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance or any order or instructions of any policeman relating thereto within the City of Greencastle, Indiana, shall be fined in any sum not more than 25.00 Dollars, for each offense, and in addition shall pay the costs of prosecution or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not more than 30 days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 3. All Ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval by the Mayor and publication once each week for two consecutive weeks in two public daily newspapers of general circulation, representing the two political parties casting the highest number of votes at the last preceding general election in said City of Greencastle.

Passed and adopted by the Common Council of Greencastle, Indiana, this October 14th, 1930.

WILLIAM L. DENMAN, Mayor of the City of Greencastle, Indiana.
ATTEST: Fred E. Snively,
City Clerk.

This ordinance was by me presented to the Mayor of the City of Greencastle, Indiana, on the 14th day of October, 1930, for approval or disapproval.
FRED E. SNIVELY, City Clerk.
Approved and signed by me on this 14th day of October, 1930.
William L. Denman, Mayor of City of Greencastle, Indiana.

more, quarter have been missing in Beler. For a young man who has not had any more experience than Beler, considerable credit should go for the way he calls his plays. Perhaps such straight shooting is due to environment. Beler hails from Chicago. If you wish to find him on the field, spot the young man wearing sweater number 11.

James R. Moore To Speak Here

James R. Moore, editor of the Hoosier Farmer, will speak at the Court House, Wednesday, October 29, at 1:30 on the Constitutional Convention. This is a very important issue to be voted on at this fall's election, and especially to the tax payers.

The Hoosier Farmer is conducting an active campaign in behalf of a constitutional convention and this address will give farmers and taxpayers an opportunity to learn just what a new constitution will mean to them in the way of tax revision.

GRANADA

Ronald Colman and Ann Harding Co-Star in "Condemned"

Ronald Colman in "Condemned" is one picture you must see. It plays Saturday and Sunday, Matinee and Night at the Granada Theatre.

"Bulldog Drummond," the gallant knight of modern times who risked his life to save fair damsels in distress, is now romancing in the mystic recess of "Devil's Island" among the "Condemned."

Ronald Colman, whose film characterization of the famous adventurer has been rated as one of the finest performances to be seen on the screen this season, plunges into the throbbing atmosphere of prison life to essay one of the greatest romantic roles of his career. As a debonair, fearless young thief condemned to servitude with the world's most notorious desperadoes, Colman plays an outlaw, dare-devil, fugitive and heart-bandit.

This production affords Ronald Colman one of the finest casts of the season. Ann Harding, Broadway stage headliner, is the leading lady, while other important characters are played by Louis Wolheim and Dudley Digges. The celebrated playwright of "They Knew What They Wanted," Pulitzer prize play, and "The Silver Cord," Sidney Howard, was engaged especially to write the dialogue for this all-talking, all-thrilling cinema sensation.

Added Short Subjects will be "The Shrimp" featuring Harry Langdon and "India" Traveltalk.

VONCASTLE

Another of the all-talking pictures presenting the popular Western Star Bob Steele, is "Oklahoma Cyclone" a Tiffany production, which plays at the Voncastle Theatre today and Saturday, Matinee and Night.

In this picture the young Western Star has great advantage to display much action, thrills and romance, beautiful California scenery is laid as a back-ground to this photoplay, and the great-outdoors is pictured with all its fascinating beauty. The supporting cast includes Nita Rey, Al St. John and Charles King. The recording is excellent and the photography is exceptionally clear and as a whole, the picture will afford pleasing entertainment to lovers of the great-open-spaces.

Added to the Voncastle's Friday-Saturday program will be Gang comedy entitled "Saturday's Lesson" and another issue of the famous Knute Rockne and his Football Team "The Flying Fleet."

Starting Sunday for three days Joe E. Brown with Bernice Claire in "Top Speed" will afford many laughs for comedy entertainment. "Top Speed" also opens to-morrow night with special midnight preview.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear wife and mother, Sarah E. Brown, who died two years ago today.

No one knows how we miss her; Sleeping yonder neath the green. Oft we see her when we are sleeping. But alas! 'tis but a dream.

We will strive to meet you, mother, On the shores of fadeless hue, And tell you, oh so gently,— How we have missed and longed for you.

Husband, Son and Daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rogers.

Hazel McKamey and Sanford Siddons underwent operations at the county hospital Friday morning. Dr. Karl Ruddle of Indianapolis, was the surgeon assisted by Dr. W. M. O'Brien, Dr. C. B. O'Brien and Dr. W. R. Hutcheson. The former underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The condition of Mrs. Robert Bee, of east Greencastle, who underwent a major operation at the county hospital ten days ago, was reported about the same Friday by hospital authorities. Dr. W. R. Hutcheson, the attending physician, said she was recovering nicely.

58 STUDENTS WIN HONORS AT UNIVERSITY

NUMBER BELOW THAT OF LAST YEAR WHEN 75 WERE DESIGNATED

Only fifty-eight students at DePauw university achieved mid-course honors, a report from Miss Vera Worth, DePauw registrar indicates. This number is under that of last year when 75 were so designated. The honors were almost evenly divided this year with thirty-one men and twenty-seven women meeting the requirements.

The regulation governing this honor designation have been changed from sixty hours and 120 or more points, to read at least sixty hours and at least twice as many points (an average of "B" grade) thirty of which must have been taken at DePauw, all of which must have been received not later than the fourth semester in college.

Six of those who receive this distinction in scholarship are not enrolled this semester. The complete list as announced by the registrar follows:

Orian Acree, Greencastle; Mildred Aikin, St. Charles, Ill.; Paul Arvin, Loogootee; Melvin Barnett, Valparaiso; Otto Behrens, Anderson; Mary Beyer, Orrville, O.; Max Bowman, Greencastle; Marjorie Ruth Bundy, Zionsville; Claud Cord, Waynetown; Ben Deming, St. Louis, Mo.; Elizabeth DeWees, Hartford City; Lyman Duncan, Flat Rock, Ill.; Johanna Durham, Greencastle; John E. Housing Report Is Of Interest

DEPAUW FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES CARE FOR 727 MEN AND WOMEN

Reports from the office of the dean of men and the dean of women give this interesting information on the housing of the students at DePauw University.

Dean L. H. Dirks reported that there were 919 men enrolled at DePauw of whom 200 resided in the University dormitories, 192 lived out in town and 467 in the fourteen fraternity houses on the campus. The remaining 52 live at home.

Dean K. S. Alvord's report indicated that there were 656 women on the campus this year of whom 312 live in the girls dormitories and 260 in the ten sorority houses on the campus.

Of the remaining 77, 63 reside in Greencastle, 5 live with relatives, 8 are working for board and room in private homes and 7 are living out in town.

The combined report shows that DePauw fraternities and sororities are caring for 727 men and women students or nearly half the total enrollment. DePauw maintains five large dormitories, three of which are devoted to women students. Freshmen women are not allowed to live in sorority houses while no restriction is placed on first year men.

GAMBLING

"Have you ever thought of Jesus as a gambler?" asked President Oxnam in his chapel talk Thursday. President Oxnam quoted G. A. Studert-Kennedy's poem entitled "He was a Gambler too . . . ?"

"'And, sitting down, they watched Him there,
The soldiers did;
There, while they played with dice,
He made his sacrifice,
And died upon the Cross to rid
God's world of sin.
He was a gambler too, my Christ,
He took His life and threw
It for a world redeemed.
And ere His agony was done,
Before the westerling sun went down,
Crowning that day with its crimson crown,
He knew that He had won.'
Stressing the lines:
"He took His life and threw
It for a world redeemed."
President Oxnam compared them with the lines in Dostoevsky's "The Gambler," wherein he says, "I confined myself at first simply to looking on, and decided to attempt nothing serious." With the freedom of will that we possess, we have the opportunity of taking our lives and throwing them for worthwhile ideals. Donald Hankey bet his life on the proposition that there is a God. We have witnessed men who take their lives and throw them for the proposition that the world can be made health. One of our own students is doing research in the problem of leprosy, another is attacking the problem of cancer. They are throwing their lives for a healthy world. Some, however, confine themselves to looking on. They attempt nothing that is serious. We have seen individuals who have thrown their lives for the proposition that the industrial order can be made just. Jesus Himself took His life and threw it to the high end that the Kingdom of God might come."

GOLD DIGGERS of BROADWAY

by EVE BERNSTEIN

Copyright, 1929, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
This novel is based on the Warner Bros. & Vitaphone Natural Color Picture, Adapted from Avery Hopwood's play, "The Gold Diggers."

CHAPTER I

Once more a contented audience left the theatre, humming the chorus of "The Song of the Gold Diggers," and carrying the image of the vivacious little star who had literally "made" the show. Behind the curtain the chorus girls had broken their well organized lines and were hurrying to their dressing rooms.

"Gee, I'm all in," could be heard above the hum of voices and moving scenery. "Five changes in the last act."

"He says to me, he says, that if I'm not the fresh egg, I told you to be!"

Just opposite the long mirrored dressing tables in the center of the room, removing their stage make-up, the girls were able to carry on a conversation only in loud, casual tones. Eleanor, the blonde from Sioux City, with the English accent, helping herself to a dab of her neighbor's cold cream, thought

"Why the lilies?" says I to him. "Do I look as dead as all that?"

it best to give her friends a word of warning.

"I say—you two old dears had better go rather easy on the foot at Barney's party, or you'll be losing your figures."

Mabel and Topsy exchanged envious glances. Their figures were a little overweight, but that was no reason why they had to be reminded of it constantly.

"As long as I don't lose my all money," retorted Mabel, "I won't be annoyed. It's a wonderful sensation to have had a husband, be rid of him, and then get paid once a month for having had him!"

"Alimony is a topping institution," parried Eleanor, leaning back in her chair and reflectively examining a huge diamond ring on her finger, "but there are other methods quite as effective."

Topsy sighed as she glanced at her own ringless hands.

"Jesse James didn't do bad with a mask and gun."

"The first year I was in the chorus," Eleanor continued, "there was a girl with a great big diamond ring. I used to stand near her just to watch it sparkle. At the end of the season, I had three big diamond rings. She used to stand around and watch mine sparkle. Life is like that."

"The girl I really admire is Jerry," Mabel said. "Most of us are no slouches at getting what we want, but we have to up and declare ourselves—'Oh, Mister, please buy me that,' but with Jerry—well things naturally ooze her way. How does she do it?"

"Jerry just tries to be a good fellow, and the men like it," Violet suggested.

Mabel carefully applied some rouge to her cheeks and patted the powder puff once more on her nose.

"The only way I can get anything out of a man is to knock him down—or marry him," she complained.

"And as for Jerry," Eleanor said, "she always makes the men come across, but never does herself charming system. Ah, me!"

Mabel shook her head disconsolately, as she told of her latest disappointment.

"I thrilled a big fly-paper man from Seattle the other night—at least, I thought I did—and all he sent me was a post card—'Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here.'"

By this time, Violet who never joined in these exchanges of experiences, was fully crossed.

"You girls are terrible. All you think of when you meet a man is how much money he's got."

"No dearie," Mabel corrected her, "you wrong us. All we think of is how much of his money we can get."

"That's just it. You're always figuring out what a man will buy you—what he'll give you."

"What do you want us to think of, girl scout, how much we can

TOOK HIS VALUABLES

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 21 (UP) — A watch valued at $98 and $55 in cash was taken from Charles De Priest, Farmersburg, by a "chance acquaintance" he met while spending the week-end in Terre Haute, he reported to police.

De Priest said he talked to the man while standing on a street corner downtown and then bought his supper. After eating, the man visited a speakeasy, had a couple of drinks, and took a walk. It was during this walk, De Priest said, that they met another who apparently knew his "friend." The newcomer stepped behind the week-end, threw a coat over his head, and the two of them relieved him of the valuables, it was charged.

PERFECT SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

EVANSVILLE, ct. 21 (UP) — Valada Jackson, 16, claims a record for perfect school attendance. She has never been tardy or absent since she started attending school at the age of four.

"I manage to have contagious diseases in the summer and during vacation time and if I get a broken nose or have the earache I go to school anyway," she said. She lives a mile from the school.

A sister in the sixth grade has a similar record.

A FIRE KINDLING RECORD

BLOOMINGTON, Oct. 21 (UP) — Oliver Brown, troop six, Bloomington, broke the world's record for kindling a fire with flint and steel, at the annual state Boy Scout meeting held here. Stop-watches gave his time as two and two-fifths seconds.

Troop 14, Ellettsville, came within seven-tenths of a second of equalling the world's record for wall scaling, the record being 19 seconds.

FINDS OLD HORSE SHOE

PORTLAND, Ind., Oct. 21 (UP) — A horse shoe, imbedded in the heart of a 20-inch sycamore log, was found at the J. L. Louck sawmill west of Portland. Both shoe and nails were hand made.

Workers believed the shoe had been hung on the limb 60 or 70 years ago.

by a teamster working on a railroad bed in the vicinity of the tree. The proposed railroad was to have run between Richmond and Ft. Wayne, but never was completed.

LEAVES FOR COLUMBUS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 23 (UP) — State forester Ralph Wilcox left for Columbus, O., today, to meet with officers of the Central States Regional Forestry Congress. Purpose of the meeting was to arrange a program for the three-day annual session of the organization which will be held here beginning December 3.

States participating in the Congress will be West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois.

HANGS UP A RECORD

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 21 (UP) — Four times married since 1879 was the record hung up by Joseph P. Scott, 87-year-old Bicknell resident, when he was granted license to wed Mrs. Rosa Hauhe, 58, also of Bicknell. It was the second marriage for Mrs. Hauhe.

TEN YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

(By UNITED PRESS)
VALPARAISO, Oct. 24 (UP) — with all its huskiness, Valparaiso was no match for Notre Dame at South Bend ten years ago this week, and lost the football game, 28 to 3.

A crowd of 10,000 persons, then the largest ever to see a game at South Bend, was attracted to Carter field.

It was not, however, until the third quarter, that Notre Dame came to the front. Valparaiso led at the half, 3 to 0, after a 35-yard old goal kicked by Eckland, half-back, who was also out-punting the Notre Dame kickers consistently.

In the last half Notre Dame scored four touchdowns, one of them by George Gipp who ran 35 yards thru the whole Valparaiso team to the goal.

Other scores that day were:
Butler 13; Earlham 7.
Wabash 35; Rose Poly 0.
DePauw 28; Franklin 0.
Chicago 10; Iowa 0.
Ohio State 13; Wisconsin 7.
Harvard 31; Centre 14.
Pittsburgh 10; Georgia Tech. 3.
Yale 24; West Virginia 0.
Carnegie Tech 27; Cincinnati 15.

IN MEMORIAM

MARK—In loving remembrance of Dorris B. Scott Mark, who left us 8 years ago today, on Oct. 18, 1922.

Wherever, back of the Sunset
Some loneliness never dies
Dorris lives in a land of glory,
Mid blue and the gold of the skies;
And I, who have nursed and loved her
And whose passing wrought sad tears
Will cherish her memory always
To brighten the drifting years.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother and Sister,
Hilda Irene Moore.

PLEDGES ANNOUNCED

CATHEDRAL TOMB OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS RESISTS GALE IN SANTO DOMINGO DISASTER

HISPANIOLA, the island which Christopher Columbus "loved above all other lands" and known in these modern days as the Dominican Republic, was the scene of a terrible hurricane in early September, which called all of the forces of relief, including the American Red Cross, into action.

With two thousand dead and almost ten thousand wounded, the beautiful island's capital city of Santo Domingo, was almost totally wrecked. The American Red Cross gave $50,000 from its treasury toward the relief work and generous aid came to the beleaguered city from other nations. Navy and Marine aviators of the United States carried in Red Cross medical supplies and established communication. The Red Cross sent an expert relief director to aid the American committee, organized by Governor Theodore Roosevelt of Puerto Rico, adjoining island.

President Trujillo of the republic performed a magnificent task in organizing the nation's forces to doctor the injured, and protect the health of survivors.

The Dominican Republic was the first seat in the Western World of European civilization, as it was upon that island that Christopher Columbus located a young billy goat, stolen from the rear of the home of Ed Baker. Shortly after Baker reported loss of the goat to police, Searcy found a goody crowd of guests gathered at the home of Fred Ellinger, who admitted, police said, he intended serving the animal at a midnight supper.

RETURNERS AFTER WEEK'S TRIP
BLOOMINGTON, Oct. 21 (UP) — "Albert," pet alligator of Prof. Paul Weatherwax of the Indiana University Botany department, has returned to his pool in the rear of the Weatherwax home, after a week's wanderings about in Blomington. The animal was originally captured by the Professor in Florida.

JUDGE BACKS UP HIS WORD
PRINCETON, Oct. 21 (UP) — A lesson in returning good for bad is given six Princeton boys, ranging in age from 16 to 20 years, when they were arraigned before Judge W. L. Smith on a charge of breaking numerous window glasses in Princeton.

Following a lecture on staying away from home late at night, the judge gave them money with which to purchase their breakfast—missed while incarcerated in the local jail.
