Petition to appoint a receiver for the Delta Zeta Alumnae Holding Corp., was transferred from the Putnam to the Owen circuit court Monday. The petition, filed by Frank Schwegman, alleges that the plaintiff holds stock in the corporation to the amount of $42,300 and since the corporation was declared in receivership in 1935 by Marion county courts he wishes a receiver appointed. The holding company possesses the building in Greencastle which houses the Delta Zeta sorority.—Spencer Evening World.

"Materials will look better and wear longer if properly laundered," said Inez E. Kent, extension economist in home management of Purdue university, at the all day training meeting for home economics extension project leaders held Tuesday in the court house. Correct heights for laundry equipment were discussed and helpful suggestions were given on our present day laundry methods. Short cuts were given to make an easy wash day and leaders of the project are enthusiastic and believe valuable help will result from this session.

W. T. Handy is recovering from a severe bump given him by a Guernsey bull at his farm home immediately south of the city. After the animal struck him, knocking him about 20 feet, it made another lunge at him but missed, the bull's head striking the ground and tearing a huge hole in it. Only the presence of another man saved Mr. Handy's life as the animal made every effort to gore him after knocking him to the ground. The bull is four years old and will be disposed of immediately. Mr. Handy said, as once they get vicious, they are always considered dangerous afterwards.

FARM MANAGEMENT MEETING ON THURSDAY

Farmers of Putnam county were highly complimented in the farm management school and outlook meeting held Thursday in the court house. The one who said the complimentary things was R. H. Bauman, farm management specialist of Purdue university, one of the two visiting speakers, the other one being Miss Elsie Glasgow, home demonstration agent leader of Purdue.

Mr. Bauman, who meets with farmers over the state in similar gatherings, said the reports made at the meeting here by Putnam county farm men were the best he had heard anywhere in the state.

He referred to the report of Henry M. Heaven on the feed situation; that of W. M. Goldsberry on the poultry outlook; that of Eugene Akers on the hog outlook; the report of Noel Nicholson on the dairy outlook; and that of Howard Hostetter on the beef cattle outlook. These men presented some especially interesting information on their respective themes.

There were 65 farm men and women in the gathering in the assembly room for the forenoon meeting, and, in the afternoon, 17 men attended the men's meeting, of which Lowell Dicks was chairman in the assembly room, and 22 women were present in the group which gathered in the court room, headed by Miss Mary Lou Schott, county home demonstration agent.

Mr. Bauman talked in the forenoon session on the general farm situation. Miss Glasgow, also on the morning program, talked on "Farm Family Living Outlook." Just before the adjournment for the noon hour, County Agent David L. Grimes made a general application of the outlook data which had been presented by the other speakers.

The afternoon group meetings were, for the men, devoted to a farm management school and for the women the discussion was on the farm family living outlook.

SOCIETY

Tri Kappa Initiation And Dinner Was Held

Tri Kappa pledging was held Thursday evening at 5:45 at the home of Mrs. Frank Cannon in Northwood. Following that initiation for Mrs. John Earnshaw and Miss Ann Durham was held at the home of M. S. Laurence. Stellings followed by a dinner at Mrs. D. W. Killings. About thirty-eight members were present.

It was voted to buy a health bond and to give a donation to the Riley hospital. The members also voted to donate money to the co-ordinating council to be used for the recreational program. A committee composed of Mrs. R. E. Moore, Mrs. Edward W. D. Mrs. W. J. Kridler, Mrs. Willard Umbreit, Mrs. Laurence Stelling and M. S. Reid Winsey was appointed by the president, Mrs. Don Ellis, to make plans for a Christmas party.

One guest, Mrs. Joy Brackney of Brookston, was present.

MISS CALVERT GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM

In a program of four monologues preceded by a witty and interesting dissertation on women, Miss Lucile Calvert, Associate Professor of Speech, presented the first faculty recital of the year Thursday evening in the Little Theatre.

"Lady! Lady!" was the title of Miss Calvert's dramatic presentation which dealt with the attempts of men through the ages to categorize and to understand women.

Following her introduction in which she quoted Mark Twain and A. P. Herbert, Miss Calvert gave the first monologue which was entitled "The Handbag." It presented the typical suburban lady having a little trouble in a railway with the contents of her handbag. In this monologue Miss Calvert showed complete understanding of the woman she portrayed.

"Open House," her second piece, gave a picture of the distracted hostess of a western ranch at her weekly open house. Undoubtedly the most difficult of the four monologues presented, this was Miss Calvert's best received endeavor.

"Travel Talk," although shorter than the other three, was interesting for its good characterization of the club-woman telling of her travels.

"High Finance," which closed the program, was well received by the audience for its presentation of the woman who thinks she understands money.

The program was given in the DePauw Little Theatre.
