FINAL CHECK WRITTEN FOR CITY AIRPORT

MUNICIPAL LANDING FIELD
NOW PROPERTY OF CITY
OF GREENCASTLE

CONTRACT MADE IN 1930

Payors Voted Purchase Of Field
After Proposal Was Advanced
By City Council

Greencastle now owns its municipal airport, lock, stock and barrel. Paul Grimes, city clerk-treasurer, this week wrote a check to the Prudential Insurance Company for $19.51, the final payment on the tract of land southeast of town which became an obligation of the City of Greencastle in 1930.

The airport at that time was to be a government emergency landing field. Lights were erected and other equipment installed but it was not long until material was dismantled and grass took the place of airplanes.

According to the records, the city council under the administration of the late Mayor W. L. Denman, voted to purchase the airport from the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce and the Prudential Insurance Company on the evening of July 22, 1930. However, a remonstrance was filed on September 22, 1930, and the council agreed to put the proposal up to the taxpayers at the election on November 4, 1930. The proposition to buy the airport carried by a vote of 1,559 to 908.

The council then drew up a contract to purchase the land for $6,000. This sum was to be paid off in annual payments of $500 plus interest.

The local Chamber of Commerce figured in the purchase transaction in that this organization had an option on the site which was a part of the Scott Browning farm. The option and the down payment of $500 was presented to the city by the Chamber of Commerce.

Now, with the issuance of the check for the final installment, the airport is actually the property of the city of Greencastle.

About the only revenue from the flying field in the past several years has been from the sale of sod. A year ago, there was agitation for improvement of the airport so that college students could be trained under the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Several well known aviators came to Greencastle and looked the field over but the DePauw students who took the CAA course during the 1941 spring semester received their instruction at Indianapolis. More recently, in fact only two months ago, the city council again discussed improving the landing field and committees in this connection were appointed. It had been estimated that approximately $20,000 would be the amount needed to install signal lights, hangars and other equipment. With the advent of war between this country and Japan, Germany and Italy, the matter of the airport improvement was tabled indefinitely at this week's meeting of the council. Expense and inability to secure the necessary materials were two factors in this action. Consequently, unless the United States War Department should decide to take over the local field, the airport question will slide along very quietly until the future of aviation in this community is well outlined after the present national emergency is over.

Dealers To Keep Record On Tires

THIS REQUIRED ACTION AN-NOUNCED BY COUNTY RA-
TIONING BOARD

Every tire dealer in the county is required to keep records under tire rationing regulations established by the Office of Price Administration, members of the local Tire Rationing Board announced today.

Principal records which must be kept by a dealer, according to the regulations, include:

(a) On January 31, 1942 and at the close of business on the last day of every month thereafter, he must take an inventory of all new tires and tubes in his possession or control and keep record of this inventory.

(b) He must maintain a file containing all rationing board certificates which have been presented by applicants to whom sales of new tires have been made.

It is assumed that these records will be necessary to prepare reports which the local tire board or the O. P. A. may later require to be filed by dealers, board members said. "Another feature of the regulations important to tire dealers is that tire retailers may sell tires to each other in order to satisfy the particular needs of their own customers who may be eligible for new tires under the strict regulations set up by O. P. A.," the board said. "This procedure also is important to merchants whose tire sales are merely incidental to their regular business and who may want to dispose of their tire stocks by selling to another retail dealer. However, in all such sales the procedure in the regulations must be followed. This procedure is:

"The retail dealer making the sale must obtain, from the purchasing retail dealer, a statement in duplicate acknowledging the making of the sale and the number of new tires

2 MORE SHIPS TORPEDOED BY NAZI U-BOATS

AMERICAN VESSEL SINKS WITH LOSS OF MORE THAN 40 LIVES

SURVIVORS RELATE ATTACK

Assert Submarine Came To Surface
And Crew Watched Seamen
Drown In Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Americans waited patiently today for details of U. S. navy retaliation against German submarines which in a week have attacked six merchant ships almost within sight of the Atlantic seaboard and brought death to at least 75 seamen.

The navy has assured the nation that "good news" will be forthcoming to counteract the week of "bad news" about Atlantic shipping. All available naval units—vessels and aircraft—are striking savagely at Hitler's "rattlesnakes." It was believed that when the navy considers the time is right to tell its story, the price German submarines have paid will more than offset the recent attacks.

Late yesterday the navy reported the fifth and sixth victims of submarine attacks. The American steamer City of Atlanta went to the bottom off Cape Hatteras early Monday with a loss of 43 or 44 men. The Latvian freighter Coltvaira was attacked and believed sunk off the Atlantic coast with the loss of two of its crew. Survivors of the Coltvaira arriving in New York and Charleston, S. C., said the ship was "still floating" when they abandoned it and believed it could be salvaged.

The survivor's stories about these attacks by underwater marauders which have infested Atlantic coastal waters was a week disclosed that the pattern of submarine warfare is nearly the same in each case—attack without warning under cover of darkness—no regard for the safety of the crews.

Only three of the City of Atlanta's crew of 46 or 47 were rescued. The three survivors upon arrival in Hoboken, N. J., told bitterly of the German torpedo crashing into the side of the steamer early Monday morning, and how it then rose to the surface and played a searchlight upon the helpless sailors struggling in the icy waters off Cape Hatteras.

Two of the survivors, propped up in Hoboken hospital beds, told of their seven hour struggle to cling to wreckage until help arrived. Just before dawn a vessel passed nearby but they were too exhausted to signal it.

One by one the members of the crew succumbed and when help did arrive only four were picked up. One of them died.

The Atlanta's crew cursed the submarine when it flashed its light on them. They shouted:

"I'd like to wring your necks, you Heineys."

Then they prayed—"anything to keep busy."

The Coltvaira was torpedoed about 5 a. m. Monday morning without warning. Two of the crew of 32 were killed, according to survivors, apparently by the torpedo explosion. The other 30 but over the side in lifeboats, rowed in the vicinity for two hours and then returned to the ship at 7 a. m. They finally abandoned it after salvaging their valuables.

Twenty-one of the Coltvaira's survivors were taken to Charleston, S. C.; the others to New York.

LOMBARD RITES CONDUCTED BY DPU GRADUATE

SIMPLE SERVICE IS HELD FOR HOOSIER MOVIE
ACTRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Carole Lombard joined the other movie immortals in Forest Lawn Memorial Park today.

After the briefest, simplest possible service—in accordance with the wish expressed in her will—the bodies of Miss Lombard and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peters, were interred in the Green Acres where are buried Marie Dressler, Will Rogers, Jean Harlow, Doug Fairbanks, Lon Chaney, Tom Mix and many another movie star.

The sealed coffins of Miss Lombard and her mother, killed in last Friday's aerial tragedy in Nevada, were blanketed with gardenias in the Memorial Church. Whether by chance or on purpose, the baskets formed a perfect "V" in front of the pulpit, where the Rev. Gordon C. Chapman said a prayer, read a psalm and recited one of Miss Lombard's favorite poems.

The services for Miss Lombard were in charge of the Rev. Gordon C. Chapman, who will be well remembered here by DePauw and Greencastle friends, as he was graduated from the university with the class of 1928. He is pastor of the Westwood Community church in Los Angeles and has had an interesting career since going to California. He also read the marriage service of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in 1939 and has been quite closely associated with many motion picture people in Hollywood since taking up his work there.

Will Bear Down On Farm Thefts

PUTNAM COUNTY OFFICIALS
REPORT FOUR ARRESTS IN PAST WEEK

In commenting on the various thefts of parts of farm machinery by Putnam county farmers, Judge Marshall D. Abrams, of the Putnam circuit court, stated this morning that the seriousness of the offense was not the value of the property but the fact that these stolen parts can not be replaced due to the metal shortage.

The judge said that upon conviction on a charge of petit larceny, a culprit could be sentenced for 1-10 years and fined as high as $500. On a grand larceny conviction, the prison sentence could be 2-10 years plus the fine.

According to Rex Boyd, Putnam county prosecutor, four arrests have been made on charges of stealing iron and junk from farmers. Activity by thieves, especially at night in this community, has resulted in numerous conferences by the law officials. The authorities are also patrolling the county highways and more arrests will follow unless the stealing is stopped.

In some cases, wheels of cultivators and other farm implements have been stolen, the prosecutor said.

Fred E. Snively is confined to his home because of illness.

WILL OPERATE BUS LINE TO POWDER PLANT

O. W. HOLLOWELL GRANTED
PERMIT TO RUN BUSES TO NEWPORT

OFFICE IN THIS CITY

Bus Line Will Operate On Roads 43
And 36; Bus Garage On North
Indiana Street

Greencastle and Putnam county will have regular transportation service to and from the Wabash Valley Powder Plant near Newport, Ind., it is revealed today in the awarding of a permit to O. W. Hollowell to operate a bus line. According to the temporary certificate the route is described as follows: "From Cloverdale via state highway No. 43 to its intersection with U. S. highway No. 36, thence via U. S. highway No. 36 to its junction with state highway No. 63; thence via state highway No. 63 to Newport; thence over such highways as are necessary to serve the U. S. Powder Plant south of Newport, passing through and serving Cloverdale, Greencastle, Brick Chapel, Morton, Hollandsburg, Bellmore, East Rockville, Rockville, Montezuma and Newport."

The new line will be known as Holly's Line and the station will be located at 119 north Indiana street, where the offices of the line will also be located. A complete service garage will be maintained so that the buses will always be kept in good condition in compliance with regulations.

According to Mr. Hollowell, "Now that I have secured a permit, as soon as the proper rating is given and modern up to date equipment is procured, I expect to establish a transportation service to facilitate persons in this county in getting back and forth to this new enterprise. This service should enable those who wish to live in Putnam county, to work in the new defense plant with a minimum of inconvenience to themselves and families. Each passenger will be fully insured to meet state requirements and every effort will be made to maintain this line on convenient schedules."

The coming of this bus line to Greencastle should encourage people of the community, who are planning on securing work at the new plant, to continue to make their residence in the county. The shortage of rubber and the desire on the part of many to conserve their tires if they own automobiles, will be solved to a large extent in the operation of this bus line.

CAR AND TIRE RATIONING WILL CARE FOR GASOLINE

Reports for January from the office of the State Auditor, who collects the gasoline tax in Indiana, indicate that there will be no need for gasoline rationing for this state, because the tax collections indicate a drop of twenty per cent in the consumption of gasoline for Indiana since the tire and auto rationing plan went into effect.

If this condition continues, and no doubt it probably will, there will be plenty of gasoline in the state, but the gas tax, which helps pay for a lot of things in the state, will be considerable shorter than ever before and a lot of road as well as other repair work now carried by gas taxes, will have to be discontinued or the revenue will have to come from some other source.

Red Army Drives Toward Smolensk

RUSSIANS SLASH AT STAGGER-
BORODINO

MOSCOW, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Red army troops slashed into the staggering German lines today on the blood-stained snow of Borodino where Napoleon on Sept. 7, 1812 won the victory which opened the way to Moscow but cost him his empire.

They were driving straight for Smolensk, 160 miles to the southwest, tirelessly, with the precision of a machine and a relentless engendered by bitter hatred, in one of the most astonishing offensives of history.

Snow-gliders towed ski troops along the ragged German flanks while infantrymen marched in close ranks through breast high snow, mile after mile in 40 degree below zero cold, to make a path for the tanks and trucks. Parachutists dropped behind the German lines from great transport planes while Stormovik dive bombers hurtled down on troop and truck columns in the German rear.

It was the opening of the eighth month of the war and it was the 18th anniversary of the death of Nikolai Lenin, father of the union of Soviet Socialist republics.

GUERRILLAS IN BATAAN SECTOR AID MacARTHUR

NATIVE BANDS OF FIGHTERS
HINDER JAP ADVANCE
ON CORREGIDOR

ATTACK JAPS IN REAR

Brave American Defenders Report
Heavy Fighting And That Casualties Are Mounting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(UP)—American and Filipino guerilla fighters—taking a leaf from the pages of Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo—today were striking sharp blows at the Japanese rear and aiding the battle of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to hold his Bataan province siege lines.

Apparently encouraged by the valiant resistance of MacArthur's forces against repeated Japanese assaults, the guerilla bands appeared to constitute a potential source of major Japanese difficulties in their effort to establish firm control over the sprawling Philippines islands.

Aguinaldo, in recent years a friend of the United States, was leader of the insurrectionists in the Philippine islands after the United States took them from Spain in 1898. His followers fought guerilla warfare for several years against American occupation forces.

MacArthur himself was engaged in some of the bitterest fighting of the 47-days old war against Japan. For the moment his troops after heavy counterattacks had re-established their Bataan lines which apparently run from a point slightly north of Balanga across the rugged central mountains to the west coast in the vicinity of Moron.

But Japanese pressure was steadily increasing. Four heavy attacks have been delivered against MacArthur in the past week. Each has been beaten off but the strain of constant fighting, the casualties among troops which obtain little rest and no reinforcement constantly increase the difficulty of his task.

MacArthur's expenditure of ammunition, particularly of shells for his 75, 105 and 155 MM. guns, has been considerable in blasting Japanese attempts to push forward along the single east Bataan highway and the narrow defiles between the foothills of the central peninsula mountains.

There is no official information on the state of American supplies and materiel. But thus far there has been no indication that he is running short. Vast quantities presumably were stored in Corregidor fortress in anticipation of the attack. MacArthur appears to have maintained firm control of the three-mile north channel which separates Corregidor and his communications port of Mariveles, enabling him to move supplies steadily up to the firing lines.

The Americans have, however, been forced to yield about one-third of Bataan, it would appear, although they have fallen back to stronger positions and more easily defendable terrain.

The importance of guerilla fighting in draining Japanese strength and diverting some Japanese forces away from the main Bataan theater increases as pressure on MacArthur becomes more severe.

RAILROAD FARES WILL INCREASE 10 PERCENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—A 10 per cent increase in railroad passenger fares, estimated to yield $45,000,000 annually on the basis of 1941 business, was granted the railroad today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The increase will apply to all fares except the 1-4 cents a mile rate allowed members of the military or naval forces traveling on furloughs and extra fares charged on certain trains.

The new rate will become effective ten days after the railroads have filed tariffs with the ICC. The tariff will be filed in time to become effective between Feb. 1 and 4.

The basic fare for tickets good in

Pullman cars now is 3 cents a mile in all sections of the country, while the basic coach fare is 2 cents in the East and West and 1½ cents in the South.

Still pending is the railroad's application for authority to increase most freight rates and charges by 10 per cent. The ICC said this petition "is still under consideration." The carriers have estimated the proposed freight increase at about $312,000,000 yearly.

TRAIN KILLS TWO

ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 22—(UP)—Russell Roland Jr., 17, of near Greencastle, and Miss Bessie Smith, 17, Greencastle, were killed and three other young persons injured seriously last night when an eastbound Big Four passenger train crashed into their automobile at a county road crossing near Ingalls, Ind., in Madison county.

Injured were Robert and Harry Roland, brothers of the dead youth who was driving the car, and Miss Virginia Wiggins of Greencastle.

After having one Saturday session, Parke county schools will return to the regular 5-day schedule following action by the State Board of Education last Friday. The state board turned "thumbs down" on schools in the state having Saturday school in order to get out a couple of weeks earlier this spring.

VITAL STATISTICS GUIDE PREPARED BY STATE WPA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., January 22—Vital statistics—and especially birth records so necessary now for men enlisting in the U. S. Navy and Marine Corps—will be found much easier through the use of a 265-page guide prepared by the WPA. It was announced by John K. Jennings, state WPA administrator.

Sponsored by the Indiana Historical Records Survey and being distributed by the State Board of Health and the State Department of Public Welfare, the volume was prepared by the WPA Indiana Historical Records Survey under the direction of Roger A. Hurst, state supervisor.

Hurst said that the volumes will be distributed to city and county health officers, and to county departments of public welfare.

For convenience of defense workers and men wishing to enlist in military service, the guide is broken down into state, county and city record sections, enabling officials to discover quickly where records pertaining to the applicants are located.

"Much valuable time thus can be saved by such persons and by officials in securing such information," Hurst said.

tubes involved.
"The selling dealer must, by the fifth day of next month, file a copy of this statement with the State Traffic Rationing Administrator, Board of Trade Building, Indianapolis.
"A new tire or tube is defined as any which has been driven less than 1,000 miles."

USE POEM IN DEFENSE

STAMP AND BOND DRIVE
Mrs. Truman Yunker attended Defense Savings Stamp meeting January 8th at the Claypool Hotel.

This time Mrs. Oscar Ahlgren, chairman, announced that the poem which follows had been copyrighted by permission of Mrs. Josephine Schell, January 19th, to be used in connection with the present Defense Savings Stamp and Bond Drive, was written by Mrs. Herschell's band, William Herschell, during last war.

This poem is particularly capable now and should induce one to buy as many stamps and bonds as is possible.

NONE OF US BUSTED YET

By William Herschell

When I hear some folks complain
About the burdens they must bear
Just to help our soldiers fighting
In the airplanes high up there
Then I long to show a picture
One I saw the other day
Of some little orphan children
And their Granny, old and gray
On each face was fear and terror
Born of Teuton greed and lust
And I pledged my all to freedom
If to give my all, I must
Then a song awoke within me
A refrain I can't forget
Oh we'll all go broke if we have
But there's none of us busted yet

None of us is facing hunger,
None need fear to seek his bed
Lest a demon in a Gotta
Hurl a bomb from overhead
Here we go along a singing,
Only now and then we sigh
And we never see a soldier
Save our own boys passing by

Friends we ought to be so grateful
To each fighting Yankee boy
That the sacrifice of giving
Should be measured as a joy
So, let's do our part full hearted
Smile and say without regret
Oh we'll all go broke if we have
But there's none of us busted yet

Friends, you know our country
story
How she struggled and she wept
And the best of help was offered
By the land of Lafayette.
So, let's pay our obligations.
Give and win this war today
That the future generations
May be saved from death today

May Yankee Doodle Dandy
Join with God Save the King
When o'er the mighty ocean
Our gallant soldiers wing
That Freedom peace and plenty
O'er every land may set
Oh we'll all go broke if we have
But there's none of us busted yet

A FRIEND

I would rather have one little rose, from the garden of a friend, Than to have the choicest flowers when my life on earth must end. I would rather have one little word in kindness, said to me, Than flattery when my heart is still, and life has ceased to be.

I would rather have one loving smile from a friend I know is true Than tears shed 'round my casket when to this world I bid adieu.

Bring me all the flowers today, whether pink, or white, or red, I'd rather one blossom now, than a truck load, when I'm dead.

CUBS PLAY FRIDAY

Tiger Cub net fans are once again reminded that Friday night Coach Elson and his proteges are hosts to the strong Jeffersonville "Red Devils." With three consecutive victories under their belts, the possibility of having York back into the line-up, and tournament time just around the corner, the Bengal Cubs can be counted on to leave no stone unturned to defeat their southern invaders. All GHS rooters are urged to be on hand to see the carnivorous Cub devour their rival Red Devils. An additional attraction between halves will be an acrobatic performance by Eileen Mahoney and Noleen Mars Greencastle high schools students.

Also, the public is cordially invited to attend a big pep session to be held in the high school gymnasium on Friday at 11:30 a. m. W. E. Umbreit DePauw freshmen mentor, will be the chief speaker.

NOW "VICTORY FIELD"

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Perry Stadium, home of the Indianapolis Indians ball club, hereafter will be known as "Victory Field."

The Indianapolis baseball club officials selected the name from more than 1,000 submitted by Indian fans throughout the state. For formal rededication of the park will be held May 12, when Indianapolis opens its night baseball schedule against Louisville. The 29 fans who suggested the "Victory Field" name will be guests of honor at the ceremony.

JUNIOR HIGH CONVOCATION

Professor Reid Winsey, head of the Art Department of DePauw University, was the speaker for the junior high school convocation program Wednesday morning. Mr. Winsey began his speech with some clever comments about drawing in popular comic books. He said some are well drawn and others not. He also said that drawing is a natural thing to do. All children draw.

An interesting statement was that anyone can learn to draw by drawing or by copying. However, it is necessary to copy good models. Also, one must avoid too much copying.

Mr. Winsey explained the importance of art in industrial design; for instance, airplanes, automobiles, tanks, and guns must first of all be drawn carefully and in detail. Everything has to be drawn before it is made.

Next, the speaker discussed balance. He illustrated his explanations as he talked, using a tree, a figure, a house, and a hat as examples.

Professor Winsey concluded a highly entertaining talk by saying that if a person can see figures or animals in clouds or wavy lines, that person has some artistic ability.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 21 —All 21 American Republics today a resolution calling for diplomatic break with the Axis. Their representatives at the emergency conference of American foreign ministers foresaw the possibility of immediate reprisals as naval and air attacks against South American coast, but fearful.

The resolution was a rebuff which Argentina and Chile after having rejected the offer. It was as potent as the original there were two differences: 1. Argentina and Chile granted "Freedom of Action" quiring congressional ratification before they formally break relations.

2. A break in economic and diplomatic relations was not mentioned in the draft. It was beside the point, however, whether any of the nations were to break economic and financial relations, because Axis trade with Latin America has disappeared. supplementary resolutions to business firms of Axis countries and agents and establish will be adopted later.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 21 (UP)—Air Minister Arthur Drakeford warned the fighting and the nation today that might at any moment attack troop landing in New Guinea for an invasion base only 100 across the island-dotted Torres from the Australian mainland. He said the attempt might today or at any time.

The statement was made as Japanese air force, in a developing aerial offensive against islands off the northeast coast, heavily bombed the New Britain island in the Bismarck archipelago 350 miles east of Guinea. It was revealed at the same time that in expectation of the Japanese bombings, and a possible invasion, all women and children had been evacuated from Rabaul. Drakeford in his invasion said it was obvious the Japanese were using more than one carrier, supported by naval and shore-based planes, in the attacks on the Bismarck and New Britain islands in New Guinea.
