AFTERNOON AND EVENING SESSIONS OF INSTITUTE WERE WELL ATTENDED

FARM WOMAN WAS SPEAKER

Attendance At Monday Afternoon Session Augmented By Presence Of School Children

Farmers of Washington township gathered again in the Reelsville school building Tuesday evening for the second session of the farmers' institute of that area. There was a very satisfactory attendance, although the school pupils, who swelled the audience in the afternoon of that day, were not present in so large a number.

Mrs. O. A. Scipio, of Lafayette, who spoke of herself as a "plain farm woman," talked on "Good Health, Our Front Line of Defense." She stressed the need for better balance in diets, in order to secure for ourselves the best health condition possible. "More than one-third of our population are not physically strong, according to present studies, much of which is due to nutritional defects," she told how this condition affects our whole life.

Branching out a little in her theme, she asserted: "Humor is important to our health. We must laugh and must get our minds away from our tasks and our troubles, at times."

"You can't do a good job of work with poor tools. We must have strong bodies in order to do the job that we have ahead in life."

Mrs. Scipio brightened her conversational speech with stories taken from real life, and incidents that had happened within her knowledge.

Speaking in the afternoon at the Reelsville farmers' institute, Mrs. O. A. Scipio, Tippecanoe farm woman, talked on "What the Rural Family Can Contribute to the Community."

"The real strength of any community is measured not by its natural resources, nor its position on the map, but by its leadership and ideals, its organization and its morale," she said.

"Today only about one-fourth the population of the United States are rural communities, but statistics show that the average rural home is more than twice as important as the average urban home for the rural family has an average of three and three-fourths children per family, and the urban family one and two-thirds children per family. What happens to our rural youth is therefore important to the whole country."

"Our first important contribution is to train these boys and girls to be good citizens. Someone has given us a yard stick for citizenship: (1) to be physically fit (2) to be economically efficient (3) to be mentally alert (4) to be socially conscious and (5) to be spiritually aware."

"Second, as adults we must ourselves be the right kind of citizens and must make our community have the right ideals, leadership, organization and morale."

"We must be interested in our schools, assume civic responsibilities, provide leisure time activities, develop civic pride and a progressive spirit."

Mrs. Claude Crosby, of Roachdale, spoke briefly in the evening session of the "Agricultural Organization to Meet War Time Needs." She stressed the advantageous position farmers are in to meet the requirements of food supplies necessary for our soldiers. She also stressed the need for gardens and the repair of farm machinery.

At the evening session of the Reelsville farmers' institute, officers were elected for next year's institute. H. Caughall was named chairman, Mack Williams vice chairman, and Mrs. Annabelle Duell secretary and treasurer.

Awards were announced as follows: Ten ears white corn, 10 ears yellow corn, 10 ears hybrid corn, 1st place in all to Volle Raab. No entry for second place.

Dozen white eggs—Mary Ellen Thomas; 2, Cretie Boone.

Reds Cut Off
Nazis At Rzhev

CITY IS NORTHERN ANCHOR OF GERMAN LINE ON MOSCOW FRONT

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(UP)—The Russians were believed today to have cut off Rzhev, northern anchor of the badly-mauled German front before Moscow.

Reports from the front told of bitter fighting in snow storms around Rzhev, and it was said that strong German forces, including elite troops hastily brought up by plane, were trying to break through Russian lines to the beleaguered garrison.

Evidently the Russian counter-offensive as a whole was slowing, probably as much because of the gripping cold as stiffened German resistance, but it was hardly reflected in Russian dispatches.

HIGHWAYS SLIPPERY

The snow that fell early last night to a depth of two inches or so was beautifully white but it was also of the wet character that causes it to pack on highways and sidewalks into ice-like consistency, under traffic. State and county snow plows were out, the former working all night, and they were of use in removing at least some of the compacted snow. Drivers were careful and when Sheriff Robert D. Patton called the state police barracks, inquiring about accidents, he was told only a very few unimportant mishaps had been reported to the state police.

MALAN ASKS RETIRED
TEACHERS TO REGISTER

Clement T. Malan, state superintendent of schools, writing to Frank Jarrell, county school superintendent, asks that all retired teachers of Putnam county that have licenses register "at once" in the office of the county superintendent.

"This should," he said, "include people who have taught and who might be available in case of extreme shortage of teachers. It seems now that we shall have a great shortage and we are trying to find everybody who may be available."

"You need not check the teaching license," he says to Mr. Jarrell, "as we shall do that in this office. The thing we would like to have is the name and address. I would like to have that by March 15, 1942, if possible."

FORMER FRENCH SHIP ON ITS SIDE AT HUDSON RIVER
PIER

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (UP)—Fifty-five million dollars worth of steamship which had been expected to play an important part in America's war effort, rolled over on her side at a Hudson river pier early today.

Immediately fire blazed again from the seared interior of her superstructure, but it was extinguished in 40 minutes and the weary hundreds of naval and municipal fire-fighters who had battled to save her since yesterday afternoon, left her to the engineers who must solve the monumental problem of righting her.

Formerly the Normandie, pride of the French merchant marine and the largest and fastest passenger ship afloat, not the USS Lafayette, the world's largest naval auxiliary, she was a sad sight as dawn revealed her a crippled hulk, one third of her superstructure and bridge under water and her three giant stacks and her masts a few feet above the ice-choked pier.

But there was some good news to allay the disaster of the accidental fire which raged in her decks for three hours yesterday, finally resulting in her turning over on her side. One of her former French officers said that undoubtedly she could be righted and repaired—and with a speed that would surprise the layman.

ANNUAL MEETING WILL BE HELD IN COUNTY COURT HOUSE

When farmer-members of the first Putnam county National Farm Loan Association gather for their annual meeting Friday, February 13th, at the Court House in Greencastle starting at 9:00 a. m., they will hear John F. Hull, assistant to the general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Louisville, as one of the highlights of the meeting program.

Hull was an Indiana county agent for 14 years before he took his present position. He still operates his own southern Indiana farm and is a member of the Indiana USDA Defense Board. During World War I, Hull served for two years as an infantry captain.

The 1942 annual meeting of the first Putnam county Farm Loan Association came at a time when farmers in Putnam county and throughout the nation are answering the call for all-out effort in the vital Food-for-Victory drive.

Lynn Brown, secretary-treasurer of the association, reports that "1942 marks the 25th anniversary of the Federal Land Bank system of which our organization is a part. Our plans for the annual meeting have been completed and we are looking for all our members to be with us. Ira Hutcheson of Clinton Township, who is president of our association, has told me that the attendance and program committees are looking for a 'full house' on the day of our meeting."

Albert Shuey, living west of Lime-dale, has a herd of dairy cows that are patriotic. For years he has been milking at a certain time, just following the blowing of the whistle at the cement plant where he had worked for many years until January 1, when he retired.

Monday afternoon, the whistle blew as usual, but on the new war time, and Mr. Shuey noticed immediately that his cows which had been in a nearby pasture began wending their way to the barn for their usual evening milking. He accommodated them and everything now appears to be on the war time schedule.

Jap Dive Bombers
Blast MacArthur

PLANES IN FURIOUS ATTACK
ON DEFENDERS OF COR-
REGIDOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(UP)—Japanese dive-bombers are furiously attacking Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines on Bataan peninsula in an attempt to blast a path for a "victory drive" against the outnumbered American and Filipino defenders, military officials said today.

Japanese bombers, possibly reinforced during last week's lull in the air war over the Philippines, were said to be thundering over hour after hour to blast the Bataan "fox holes" where MacArthur's men have dug in for the enemy's big push.

The aerial bombardment was said to be designed to "soften up" the U. S. lines while Japanese shock troops strike lightning blows for a breakthrough of the last American resistance on the island of Luzon.

The enemy's dive-bombers were carrying out their low-swooping attacks against the meager defense being put up by MacArthur's handful of P-40 pursuit planes and the rattling fire of his anti-aircraft guns.

War Department officials, studying the latest reports received from MacArthur, said his hour of supreme test seemed to be close at hand, with his troops outnumbered perhaps 10-to-1 due to recent arrivals of Japanese transports in Lingayen gulf and Subic bay above Bataan's battleground.

Although a communique yesterday told of "heavy fighting" spreading across Bataan peninsula, where MacArthur's lines are believed to extend for about 15 miles from the China sea to Manila bay, a War Department informant said Japanese planes were carrying the brunt of the attack thus far.

The Japanese planes are aided—at MacArthur's rear behind the 4,500-foot Mariveles mountains—by Japanese artillery batteries around the fallen U. S. naval base of Cavite. Those guns are trying to blast the American island forts at the entrance to Manila bay.

For four days the Japanese guns have been loosing their shells against Corregidor fortress and Forts Hughes, Drum and Frank, but apparently without success. MacArthur has reported the destruction of several of the enemy big siege gun batteries.

Officials were wary of venturing predictions as to the outcome of the climactic phase of the battle of Bataan as the 61-year-old MacArthur and his men fought on grimly, knowing that their chances of being evacuated were almost non-existent.

The day may not be far off when they will be forced back upon the rocky fortress of Corregidor, four miles out in Manila bay from the tip of Bataan, to make their final stand. But it will not be until they have further decimated the enemy forces who already have paid a heavy price in the jungle growth and mountains of Bataan, officials said.

Jap Invasion Forces Push Into Western Suburbs Of City Despite Stubborn Resistance

BULLETIN

SINGAPORE, Feb. 10.—(UP)—

The rattle of machine gun fighting echoed in the western suburbs of Singapore city today as new Japanese invasion forces landed at two coastal points and battled their way across the island despite stubborn resistance by British imperials.

The gravity of the position of the defenders was emphasized by the mounting rumble of artillery fire, the curtain of white anti-aircraft shell puffs and a billow of smoke west of the city. Enemy artillery shells still were bursting in the outskirts.

Non-combatants from the areas immediately west of Singapore city began pouring into the main residential and business districts.

High military officials said that the situation was serious regarding the island as a whole following new Japanese landings under a tremendous artillery barrage during the night on the north coast, between Sungai Kranji and Sungai Mandai.

SINGAPORE, Feb. 10.—(UP)—

New hordes of Japanese invasion troops were believed landing on the northwest coast of Singapore island today as the Imperial forces fell back before the terrific pressure of the enemy attack in "the swampy jungle where the first invasion force had landed early yesterday morning."

A Japanese artillery bombardment which set the island skies ablaze with gun flashes foretold the attempt at the new landing, and the ringing notes of bugles, sounding the alarm, brought reinforcements to battle positions to meet an attack even more ferocious than that which had driven the Imperials steadily back all day yesterday despite their attempts to take the offensive.

The intermittent Japanese artillery fire of early yesterday evening rose to a thunderous roar at 7:30 p. m. as the new bombardment started.

An hour later the earth was shaking and the skies were aflame as the bombardment rose toward a crescendo.

It was indicated plainly that the Japanese, taking advantage of the black hours before the early morning moon rise, were seeking at low tide to move men across the narrow northeast strait on armored barges which are impervious to machine gun fire, and to land expert swimmers who cross under their own momentum.

As the Japanese guns rained their shells on road junctions, defense lines and the searchlight batteries which sought to light the straits for point blank artillery fire, the Singapore command admitted at 10:10 p. m. that Imperial troops had withdrawn farther yesterday before the Japanese attack.

"Strong enemy attacks which developed from the landing on the west coast have been supplemented by dive bombing and machine gunning from the air throughout the day and by heavy artillery fire," the official statement said.

LOCAL GIRL DIRECTS PAGEANT

Considerable local interest has been aroused in the first Valley of Democracy folk festival which will be held at Merom, Indiana, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The center of interest will be a pageant tracing the history of the Northwest Territory until the Civil War and will be presented each day during the festival. This pageant was written and is being superintended by Mrs. Rockwell C. Smith, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. L. R. Eckardt of the DePauw faculty. Mrs. Smith (Frances Eckardt) was graduated from DePauw with the class of 1928.

Mr. Smith, also a DePauw alumnus, is a member of the faculty of Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Illinois. Mrs. Smith last semester gave a course in Creative Drama at the same institution. She has been writing and supervising pageants and plays for the last several years and has some two score or more original plays and dramas to her credit. A number of local persons plan to attend the festival at Merom and see her latest work. Writing of this type entails a great amount of historical research and background.

Players Await
All-Star Tilt

FANS WILL BUY U. S. DEFENSE
STAMPS AS ADMISSION TO GAME TOMORROW

Players on the Greencastle and Putnam county all-star teams today were awaiting action on the local high school gym floor Wednesday evening in a contest sponsored by American Legion Post 58.

Fans attending the game will buy a United States Defense Stamp or Stamps as their admission. This is certainly a timely and worthy cause and the Legion is to be commended for boosting an affair of this nature. The gymnasium and the Greencastle high school band under the direction of Gene Pennington, as well as the services of the former players, have been donated willingly and it is hoped that the citizens of the city and county will do their part by attending the tilt and buying Defense Stamps.

As an added feature the Drum Corps will present its colorful and impressive Salute to Victory during the half-time intermission tomorrow night.

The festivities will start at 7:30 p. m. with a thirty minute concert by the band. Be there early and get a good seat!

TIGERS LOSE, 34-30

Earlham won for the first time in eleven Indiana Conference basketball games last night at Richmond by a score of 34 to 30 over DePauw.

The victory was the first for the Quakers' third in fourteen engagements this season against all opposition. DePauw has won four and lost five conference games. DePauw led momentarily at the start, but Earlham was in the lead, 17 to 13, by the intermission and one time later had an advantage of 26 to 15.

Cubs Will Meet
State Champions

As that famous gentleman the brown derby would say, "take a look at the record" in the Washington Hatchets by Marion Crawley, former Greencastle and DePauw basketball player.

The Washington boys have only one game this winter—local of Evansville. The same with the exception of "Hook" gin, who graduated last June of the 1941 state championship team as the strongest contender this honor again next month have the word of some friends have followed the hardwood sport for several years and they us that the Hatchets will be team to beat. They have seen action in action and are loud praises of this squad.

On the evening of Friday a band of Tiger Cubs will meet Hatchets on the Washington. We believe that the local netters turn in a creditable performance. The Cubs upset the Indiana team a year ago and we hear that are now chanting that come popular tune which goes, "We before, and we can do it again. Here's hoping, fellows!"
