CEMENT PLANT AGAIN AWARDED SAFETY TROPHY

LOCAL PLANT WINS TROPHY FOR SECOND CONSECUTIVE YEAR

ONE-TIME TROPHY WINNER

Lone Star Plant Received National Recognition During Meeting in New York

For the second consecutive year in 1941, the Greencastle, Indiana plant of the Lone Star Cement Corporation has again received continental-wide recognition and the Portland Cement Association Safety Trophy for outstanding accident prevention work. In a meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York City, cement company officials praised the splendid cooperation and individual care by employees which made possible operation of the big cement mill during 1941 without a single disabling injury.

This record, executives agreed, was all the more commendable because increased production had placed greater loads on men and equipment. The accident-free year, they said, was evidence of excellent job training given new employees and alertness to the national importance of safety on the part of everyone. The Greencastle plant proved that "Old Man Accident," like the Axis, can be beaten when every man does his part.

The Safety Trophy, given annually by the Portland Cement Association for the past 18 years goes to cement mills which operate a full calendar year without an accident. The Greencastle mill has won the award six times.

The Greencastle plant is a member of the Portland Cement Association's unique Thousand-Day Club of mills having to their credit more than 1,000 successive safe days of operation. Sixty plants have earned the right to coveted membership in the Club.

Altogether 33 cement plants in the United States and Canada received the Portland Cement Association Safety Trophy for solving to perfection the knotty safety problems of the year 1941, seventeen of them have won it for perfect safety records of from two to five consecutive years aggregating 52 safe calendar years in the past five. Sixteen other mills, which have won in the past but did not receive the trophy in 1940 were also on the 1941 award list. In the entire 18-year award period 132 cement plants have operated a total of 567 calendar years without a disabling injury, a record believed to be unparalleled by any other industry.

The makers of cement are intensifying their long established campaign to prevent accidents. Cement men have pledged to do all they can to conserve valuable man power, materials and time. Their oath is "I will do my bit to guard my country by safe-guarding my job."

Mrs. Edna Dobbs Died In Oregon

BURIAL AT CLOVERDALE FOR WELL KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Edna Dobbs, a former resident of Greencastle, who died Wednesday May 20th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Mosier at Grants Pass, Ore. She had been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Dobbs was well known in Greencastle where she lived for many years before going to Oregon to make her home with her daughter. Her husband was the late George Dobbs.

Besides the daughter she is survived by a brother, Phil Runyan of Cloverdale, a grandson, Maurice Mosier and a great grandchild both of Grants Pass.

The body will arrive in Greencastle Monday May 25th for interment in the Cloverdale cemetery. The Reed Funeral Home will have charge of the burial. The body will be in state at the Funeral Home Tuesday May 26th, from 2 to 4 o'clock when friends and relatives may call. No flowers.

Plans Made For Parade June 4th

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS
POST HELD MEETING
THURSDAY NIGHT

Further plans for a huge patriotic parade and a Vitalize For Victory program in Greencastle on June 4th were discussed at last night's meeting of the General Jesse M. Lee Post No. 1550, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Two representatives for the State Headquarters of Veterans of Foreign Wars were present to help with the plans and publicity for this patriotic observance.

This program will feature a speaker of national prominence and there will be representative delegations from Rockville, Crawfordsville, Lafayette, Bloomington, Brazil, Terre Haute, Indianapolis, and troops from Fort Harrison.

If the weather conditions permit, the entire program will be held from the south side of the court house. If it is necessary the address will be delivered in the high school gymnasium. All patriotic and fraternal organizations of the city and county will be invited to join in this big demonstration.

D'PAUW AWARDS SCHOLARSHIPS TO 15 STUDENTS

LOCAL GIRL INCLUDED IN FOUR SCHOLARSHIPS IN SCHOOL OF MUSIC

ELEVEN IN LIBERAL ARTS

Scholarships Valued At $3,000
Awarded After Competitive Exam Held Last Saturday

Scholarships valued at $3,000 have been awarded by DePauw University as a result of the annual President's Scholarship Competition held on the campus last Saturday. Fifteen scholarships, eleven in the College of Liberal Arts and four in the School of Music, were awarded. Each is for $200 to apply toward the Freshman year.

One hundred and sixty-eight high school seniors from mid-western high schools took part in the examinations and interviews. In addition to the fifteen scholarships, seventeen were given honorable mention due to their high grades on this examination. "I am sure," said Dean C. Herbert Smith who was in charge, "that we could well justify granting scholarships to the first fifty applicants if that many scholarships were available."

Those receiving President's Scholarships to the School of Liberal Arts were Miss Doris Marie Bollinger, Brookfield, Illinois; Miss Arlene Boss, Berwyn, Illinois; John Edward Ellert, Evanston, Illinois; Barbara Jane Evans, Indianapolis; Robert Earl Holzgrafe, Evansville; Jean Marjorie Linde, Cincinnati, Ohio; John W. Loop, Belvidere, Illinois; Ellen Marie McConnell, Springfield, Illinois; Lillian Toth, South Bend; S. Craig Walker, Jr., Louisville, Kentucky; and Stanley L. Williams, Appleton, Wisconsin.

Recipients of the fourth Music School scholarships were, Marcia Hamilton, Greencastle, piano; Tom W. Merriam, South Bend, composition; Lois Lee Marrow, Wabash, piano; and Adrienne J. Robinson, Indianapolis, voice.

Honorable mention in the Liberal Arts division was given Robert Bennett, Robert Lamar Coate, Carol Jean Collingbourne, Martha Cotton, Mary Elizabeth Donnell, Richard Charles Elbecker, G. Thomas Flynn, Wells Grogan, Marian Jack, Phyllis M. Koenig, Mary Ella Petry, and Miss Miriam Stemmmons.

Honorable mentions in music were given Betty Virginia Beck, Kenilworth, Illinois; Betty Ruth Miller, Ottumwa, Iowa; Betty Jane Moore, Whiting; Mary Alice Reed, Hammond; and Gloria Madelyn Schuldes, Riverside, Illinois.

Spies Landed On Coast Of Maine

FOREIGN AGENTS REPORTED TO HAVE ENTERED U. S.
FROM CANADA

AUGUSTA, Me., May 22.—(UP)—Col. Francis H. Farnum, Maine director of civilian defense, said today that foreign agents—both men and women—"have recently been landed on the coast of Maine" and that enemy spies also have filtered over the Canadian border.

"They come to plot, to damage and to destroy," Col. Farnum warned. In a memorandum distributed to civilian defense workers throughout Maine.

"Accurate information is in the possession of police and army authorities," he said, "to definitely establish the presence of axis spies."

Farnum said the enemy agents might be German, Japanese or Italian but nevertheless may speak perfect English.

There are two classes of the spies, Farnum's memorandum said—"Those who plot and plan; those who dynamite and burn."

"Several women as well as men are at work in the state at places known to the authorities."

The enemy agents, he said, were here for these purposes:

1. To obtain information about our shipping.

2. To obtain data relating to the number of ships under construction in Maine shipyards.

3. To seek tips regarding convoy movements, the nature of cargoes, the number of ships, and their destinations.

GEN. MacARTHUR REPORTS 3 MORE JAP SHIPS SUNK

CRUISER AND TWO CARGO VESSELS
ARE SENT TO BOT-
TOM BY SUBS

MELBOURNE, May 22.—(UP)—Allied naval forces, in their first action since the battle of the Coral sea, have sunk a 7,100 ton 8-inch gun Japanese cruiser and two supply ships totaling 15,000 tons, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Indicating that American submarines did the job, MacArthur said the enemy ships, a cruiser of the Kako class, with 604 officers and men, a 9,000 ton cargo vessel and a 6,000 ton cargo vessel, were sunk "in an underwater action."

MacArthur announced also that United States and Australian planes, flying through almost impossible weather, had destroyed or damaged eight Japanese planes in one of their most ferocious raids on the Japanese invasion base at Lae, New Guinea.

He revealed, too, that in their raid Wednesday on Koepang, in Timor island, the allied planes had destroyed three enemy planes and damaged three.

Though no details were given of the allied naval success, it was understood that a submarine had returned to base after sinking the three enemy ships.

A headquarters spokesman refused to say whether the action had any connection with the Coral sea battle of two weeks ago or with a new enemy concentration of war and supply ships for a major invasion offensive in the Australian area.

However, all the extensive allied reconnaissance flights in the last two weeks, made despite unfavorable weather, have concentrated on finding whether the Japanese, after their Coral sea defeat, were reassembling ships at their southwest Pacific bases for a new rendezvous at sea.

Navy quarters reported that the "underwater action" could have taken

PORK CEILING WASHINGTON, May 22 (UP)—

Wholesale pork products, comprising nearly one-half of the nation's meat supply, were under permanent price ceiling today following expiration of a temporary 60-day regulation.

The new order conforms in general to the previous one. It fixes prices of dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts at levels not greater than those prevailing during the period from March 3 to 7, 1942.

Plans Complete For Poppy Day

LEGION AUXILIARY TO SELL
FLOWERS IN CITY ON SATURDAY

New names on America's roll of honored dead give new meaning to the memorial poppy this year. Poppy Day chairman of the local American Legion Auxiliary pointed out as she worked on final arrangements for the distribution of the little red flowers Saturday.

"Wearing a poppy is the individual way of honoring the men who have sacrificed their lives in the nation's service. Ever since the first World War the poppy has been worn in tribute to the men who gave their lives in that conflict. Now new names are being inscribed among America's heroic dead. The poppy is for them, too. It is a symbol of our sorrow and pride. It is a pledge that we will always remember them and serve on in the cause or which they died."

"The poppy springs from the flood and tears that are the price of victory—the price of freedom in this world of conquest and oppression. Again and again Americans have had to pay this price to win and maintain their existence as a free nation. When we wear the poppy this year we will be showing that we are not shrinking from paying that great price once more in order that we may pass on to Americans to come the heritage of a free America."

"As we honor those who give their lives, we should think, too, of those who sacrifice health and strength, and of the families left in need because a father or son has served his country. They are still within the reach of our help. Let us be generous in our contributions for the poppies. Every penny of the money given goes to support the work The American Legion and the Auxiliary are doing for the disabled and dependent families of the first World War and of the present conflict."

SOVIET ARMY CONTINUES IN KHARKOV PUSH

REDS SMASH STRONG SECTORS
OF NAZI INNER DEFENSE
LINES

MOSCOW, May 22.—(UP)—Russian tanks and infantrymen drove with intensified fury toward Kharkov today, smashing strong points in the German inner defense ring and taking increasingly large numbers of prisoners and quantities of war spoils.

Dispatches from the front indicated that counter-attacking German formations had been sent reeling back, their tanks shattered and their ranks decimated, and that the great Russian drive had gained suddenly in momentum.

Blistering hot guns of the world famous Red artillery were laying down a pulverizing barrage on German defenses in the Kharkov suburban zone while tireless Russian planes dive bombed German defenses and reserves who pressed toward the front in response to urgent calls by the German command.

Through woods and over fields, close behind their artillery fire, the Red army men were over-running German pill boxes and earthworks, leaving the mop-up men, including flame throwers, to reduce isolated knots of resistance.

Guerrilla detachments were thrown into the action behind the German lines, dispatches said, and in lightning attacks killed the entire garrison of four German-held villages before the regulars arrived.

Many strong held German positions still held, but there were increasing indications that the Russians had broken through the entire first zone of the German inner defenses and that if they fought successfully through the open terrain which was the center of operations now, they would be in sight of Kharkov itself.

Dispatches indicated that the ferocious counter-attacks by which the Germans sought to save the day had been broken and were now diminishing in intensity.

CITIZENS MAY PAY INCOME TAX WEEKLY IN U. S.

HOUSE COMMITTEE STUDIES
PROPOSAL PRESENTED BY TREASURY DEPT.

CONSIDER PLAN'S MERITS

Proposal Not An Additional Tax But Simple Method Of Collection

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—The House Ways and Means committee today appeared willing to be convinced of the merit of a treasury proposal to collect part of this year's income tax in advance by "withholding" 10 per cent of each wage and salary earner's taxable income.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering discusses the administrative aspects of such pay roll deductions with the committee this morning.

The treasury proposed the plan as a sure-fire method of collecting new war income taxes, which for most Americans will be at least twice as high as at present, and as an additional brake on inflation.

The plan also is designed to make it easier for tax payers to meet their annual debt to Uncle Sam. In some brackets it would mean that when the income tax date arrives—if the plan were in operation a full year—nearly half of the bill already would be paid through "painless" weekly deductions.

The treasury's plan is not an additional tax. It is simply a method of collecting part of the income tax in advance and through small deductions from each pay check.

The plan would be administered in a manner similar to that used to collect Social Security taxes. The employer would deduct the money from the pay check and turn it over to the treasury. The employee would not receive the money, but would have that much credit when the next income tax deadline arrives.

Treasury Tax Expert Randolph Paul explained yesterday that if Congress adopts the withholding principle, one-tenth of a single man's paycheck above $111 a week would be reduced. That is if the Ways and Means committee's reduced personal exemptions of $500 for single persons, $1500 for married couples and $400 for dependents pass finally.

A married man without children will have 10 per cent of what he earns over $26 a week deducted. For each child or other dependent, the weekly exemption would be increased by $50.

If the reduced exemptions and the income tax rates voted by the committee are passed by the House and Senate, an employer would deduct $1.40 from the pay check of a childless married employee who earned $40 a week. The deduction for a single person earning $40 a week would be $2.90.

The 10 per cent deduction would be 10 per cent of the taxpayer's income above his personal exemption, not 10 per cent of the tax he would owe on March 15.

Under the withholding plan the treasury would require employers to start the income tax deductions shortly after the new tax bill passes, probably sometime this fall.

Corporations would be required to withhold a portion of dividends paid their stockholders.

REPORT CONTAINS NEW ANGLE IN SHIP BLAZE

WASHINGTON, May 22—(UP)—A confidential report prepared for the Senate naval affairs committee, it was learned today, asserts that "unreasonable time limitations... dictated in Washington" and placed upon the contractor converting the French liner Normandie into the troopship LaFayette may have been responsible for the fire which gutted the ship in New York on Feb. 9.

"It cannot be denied," the report said, "that the haste imposed upon the contractor by the bureau of ships was an important factor in the loss of the LaFayette."

"What is more important is the undisputed fact that this haste was dictated in Washington by men who evidently had no conception of the work entailed in carrying out their orders and in total disregard of contrary advice from responsible and competent men on the scene."

The report is being studied by committee members and has not been acted upon. It was prepared by committee counsel James F. Dulligan who investigated the fire with the cooperation of the navy and the federal bureau of investigation.

Late yesterday the navy announced that $60,000,000 vessel, which capsized after thousands of tons of water had been poured into her hold, would be salvaged in operations that will last more than a year and cost several millions of dollars.

PREDICTS AIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST JAPS THIS YEAR

KUMMING, China, May 22—(UP)—Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chenail, leader of the American volunteer group, said today that the United States could "wipe out" the Japanese air fleet if it would send 2,000 planes to the Far East.

He predicted in an interview, the United States probably would begin an air offensive against the Japanese within the next six months. He had no doubt that it would be successful.

"If the United States will direct even a small percentage of its present airplane output to the Far East, the Japanese will suffer a shortage of planes within six months, if they keep on losing as many planes as they have during the last six months," he said.

He thought the Japanese were wasting their time bombing and trying to capture Chinese bases from which American long range bombers can rain explosives and incendiaries on Japanese cities. There were too many Chinese bases within striking distance of Japan for the Japanese to capture them all he explained.

Graduation At Ft. Knox

Miss Mary Lou Schott, whose marriage to Frank Knebel will take place Sunday afternoon, will go to Fort Knox, Ky., Saturday to attend the commencement exercises at the Officers Training School at which Mr. Knebel will receive his commission as a second lieutenant. Following the graduation, Mr. Knebel and Miss Schott will return to Terre Haute where a dinner will be held in their honor at the Terre Haute House by the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Weber. Other guests at the dinner will be members of the wedding party, relatives, and out of town guests who will come for the wedding on Sunday.

Gobin Memorial Society
Met Thursday Afternoon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Gobin Memorial Methodist church held its last meeting of the school year Thursday afternoon in Community Hall. A summary of the activities and achievements of the League accomplished so far this year was given by the president, Mrs. Joe McCord. A report of the meeting held recently at Staunton was also given. It was announced that the sewing day would be continued throughout the summer, the day to be decided upon later. The School of Christian Living, which is held during each summer at Battle Ground, will be July 5-12 for girls and women.

Children of Our Church was the subject of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Ray Herbert conducted the devotions. Special music was provided by Miss Leah Carnutt who presented pupils of the seventh grade in a group of vocal numbers including: "Summer Is A Comin' In," "Carol of the Birds," "Czech Dance Song" and "Go Down Moses."

Mrs. John Pratt, using the radio broadcasting idea as a method of presentation, was responsible for a most interesting and informative program in regard to work which the church does for the benefit of children. This work may be divided into six classifications, Homes for Children, Rural Projects, Hospitals and Clinics, Schools for Negroes, Schools for Indians, and City Community Center and Settlement Houses. Mrs. Pratt gave a general discussion of the work done in these institutions. Mrs. J. P. Allen, Jr., who has visited both the Susannah home in Honolulu and the Jesse Lee home in Alaska, presented some first hand information about them. Mrs. Milton Kloetzel described the Brewster hospital for Negroes which is located in Jacksonville, Florida.

How missionary work began and how educational opportunities for Indians have improved, was given by Mrs. Fred Ritchie who told of work done among the Navajo Indians.

Mrs. Vernon Van Dyke told about Mercy Center in Chicago. Settlement houses similar to it are to be found in seventy-one cities throughout the United States. More than fifty different rural projects are being carried out, and hospitals and clinics extend from Alaska to Mexico, and from the east coast to the west. Too much emphasis can not be placed upon the care of children

NOTED ACTOR ILL
HOLLYWOOD, May 22.—(UP)—John Barrymore, in a semi-coma, fought for his life today against a complexity of ailments.

His physician, Dr. Huga M. Kersten, was not optimistic over his condition. He said the 60-year-old actor "is still a very sick man, and all we can do is hope for the best." Although Barrymore had rallied, Kersten did not believe he had passed the crisis. The doctor said he lapsed frequently into a state of semi-consciousness and sometimes could not recognize his daughter, Diana, and brother, Lionel, who have spent most of their time at his bedside.

OBITUARY

"Soft as loosened leaves of roses One by one our loved ones fall." Joseph Morton Lydick, son of Oscar and Mabel Stewart Lydick, was born near New Maysville, Putnam county, March 27, 1912.

After a long and trying time of suffering, which he endured with such marvelous patience, thoughtfulness and kindness, he passed away to his reward in the early morning of May 10, 1942, aged 30 years, 1 month and 12 days.

Joseph spent his early childhood near New Maysville and at the home of his grandparents near Danville. Later with his sister and mother he moved to Indianapolis where he spent the remainder of his life.

He was ambitious, had high ideals and longed to do things which his health would not permit.

Joe was very devoted to Grandma and Grandpa Stewart, also to Barbara and Richard McCreary, who helped him pass many long and trying hours.

He was a member of the Christian Men Builders Class of the Third Christian Church, which he attended regularly as long as his health permitted.

There are some things death cannot take away. The voice of welcome which was ours to know; the remembrance of kindly deeds; the willing hands to help carry another's burden. These are some of the things that make the memory of his life worth while.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a step-mother; one sister, Mrs. Mary McCreary of Indianapolis; and a half brother, Lee Edward Lydick of Greencastle. Also a host of other relatives and friends.

"Say not goodbye, hearts sore distressed For those who mourn are but more blessed"

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us at the death of our son and brother.

Mrs. Mabel Stewart Lydick, Mrs. Mary McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. Ott Lydick, Lee Edward Lydick.

OBITUARY

Again the angel of death has entered our home and bore away the spirit of our dear Mother, Mary Ellen Rightsell, the daughter of Washington and Sarah Hyson Rightsell. She was born Sept. 10, 1857 and departed this life May 12, 1942 at the age of 84 years, 8 months, 2 days.

She was united in marriage to Thomas Bell, June 19, 1897 and to this union was born two sons, Oscar D., at whose home she passed away, and Otis Franklin of Greencastle. Mrs. Bell's home was formerly in Parke county until about two years ago. She and Mr. Bell, because of their declining health, came to live with the sons. Mr. Bell preceded her in death April 9, 1941. After he was called, we know Mother felt sad and lonely, yet she bore it all as only a Mother can. During her sickness, all that loving hearts, willing hands and medical attention could do was done for her. But alas, the hand of death was near and none could stay. God called and she entered her heavenly home, a home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. She was a wonderful mother, sister and friend to all who knew her. She was a member of the U. B. church. She leaves to mourn her departure two sons, Oscar D. and Otis Franklin, two daughters-in-law, two step grandchildren, Robert and Norma Jean, one brother Elmer Rightsell near Mansfield, neices and nephews and a host of friends. It is not death—she just crossed the bar.

And sailed to an unknown shore. Where the world is bright, And the angels play, Where trouble comes no more. A midst is there that near conceals, A lone and phantom guide That will lead her on to some fair port

Beyond the throbbing tide. Some day she'll anchor where it's fair, And live where flowers bloom, And walk among the golden streets, To us as yet unknown.

And while we prayed, she left this earth.

But God has lead her way, So let us say, she is not dead, She just has gone away.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this method of thanking our neighbors and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy in our bereavement. These expressions have been deeply appreciated. We especially thank Mr. and Mrs. McCurry, Rev. Fellers, the singers, pallbearers and those who sent flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bell
Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bell and family.

THE BUGLE SOUNDS

Adapted from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture by LEBBEUS MITCHELL

CAST OF CHARACTERS

SYNOPSIS: When Dergeant "Hap" Doan of the Nineteenth Cavalry finds himself transferred, he goes out to his Colonel and other commanding officers, to an armored regiment and his plea for a furlough is denied, he gets a week-end pass and goes out to forget his sorrows. He comes to the home of Susie who has been following him from post to post for eighteen years and conducting a restaurant. They are in the midst of a quarrel when Russell, a former soldier, she has just taunted Doan with, asserting she could have had him, enters.

Chapter Three
Russell placed hands on Susie's shoulders. "Darn if you ain't a sight for sore eyes! Few all the way from Philly just to see you!" "Oh, you're just sayin' that!" said Susie, flattered and coy. "Don't you believe it. Your Uncle Rus never forgets a real woman. I declare, Rus, you ain't changed a mite!" "Then you better get busy lookin' up the silver!" shouted Doan.

Russell gave a shout as he recognized Doan. "Old sour-jowls still with us! Darn if it don't look like the old man was plannin' to live forever! Guess I won't have long to wait now, eh Sooz?" "You ain't no spring chicken," growled Doan.

"Still can lick my weight in wildcats any mornin'... Come on, Hap! Just old Rus clownin' around for a laugh! How's the old outfit?" "A lot better since you left."

"Now that's nice? Let byones bury their dead. That's been my motto ever since I quit the Service."

"You didn't quit nothin'." You was busted out with a dishonorable bob-tailed discharge. And as such I ain't havin' no social relations with you."

"Well, Hap, I ain't never held it against you for turnin' me in on that cooked-up evidence. Fact is, that court-martial was the gateway to my present success..." "Oh, Sooz, almost forgot! Here's a present..."

"Oh, Rus, you shouldn't have!" Susie accepted the package, thrilled.

"I warnin' you, Sooz—Susie," said Doan. "A person can be jailed for receivin' stolen goods."

"You got me wrong, Hap," said Russell, pulling out a roll of greenbacks. "All my enterprises are strictly on the up and up—a little flyer in this horse here—legitimate promotion on the side."

"One of these days you'll promote yourself into a coat of tar and feathers."

Susie had opened the package. It contained a black, almost diaphanous silk night dress. "Oh! Hap! Russell! You sweet boy!" She kissed him on the cheek impulsively. "How did you know?"

Doan got up furious. "Where do you get off, givin' a garment like that to my fiancée?"

"Fiancée?" said Susie, without looking at him. "I don't even know who you are!"

"Well, this finally clinches it!" cried Doan. "Now I'm forced to kill him! I should a-done it before! Come on, take your teeth out and put your finger up!" He advanced threateningly on Russell.

Susie got between them. "Quit it, you! Set down, I tell you, Hap!"

He struggled with her. "Just the same it's goin' to be a slaughter!" "Thanks for everything, Rus," she said, "but you better get out for now."

"Sure, Sooz. See you later. I hear the old outfit's ridin' around on tractors these days. Hap. Guess your old friends won't recognize you, smellin' of gasoline."

Doan lunged at Susie. "Out of my way!"

Susie snatched up the shutter. "If you try to go through that door I'll hang this shutter on you like a horse-collar!"

"This is the end!" said Doan with tragic solemnity. "Well, it sure would be if I had enough brains to butter a biscuit! Sendin' off a man who brings me a special-wrapped present every visit! Eighteen years and you ain't loosened up with even a single little token!"

"Well, you can have him then—tokens and all!" cried Doan making for the door.

"Hap!" she called and he halted at once, his hand on the latch. "Well, you did give me something once. When you was ordered to Washington for the 'nauguration,' you sent me that plush post-card of the Monument, with the gold moon and the silver stars."

Doan returned to her, his voice tremulous. "That's what hurt so much, Susie. I thought you'd forget!"

"Forget!" She was all but weepy with emotion as she took his arm. "Here it still is, in the place of honor over the gas-log..."

"Guess your heart's just stronger than what my head is." His arm stole about her and she rested her head on his shoulder. "You old snail! You know I'm just helpless before you."

"I guess it was just one of them things," he said. "It was stronger than we was. We was just swop away..."

Gosh, Susie! Then he left her hastily, refusing to talk with Russell who had waited outside...

Granada

In a two-gun blast of action and song—Bill Elliott and Tex Ritter combine forces to drive the bandits off the western range! Doubling up the outlaws with bursts of lead—the screen's favorite western heroes blast the renegades into submission! With six-guns flaming—and fists flashing—they overcome overwhelming odds to restore peace to the wild and woolly west!

In addition to Elliott and Ritter, "Bullets for Bandits," which is opening Saturday only at the Granada also boasts a cast of talented performers.

Chateau

The technique in dramatic acting may change through the passage of years, but in comedy it's affected very little.

This you have on good authority from Al St. John, veteran screen comedian who plays in support to Don "Red" Barry in the western film "Stagecoach Express," which the Chateau will present to its patrons during a 2 day run beginning tonight.

St. John with his droll Chaplinesque mannerisms and his baggy pants, continues to score heavily in every picture in which he appears.

Voncastle

America—the land of the free, and the home of the "jeep."

"Nothing like a 'jeep' in Europe," said Miss Elizabeth Bergner, the Continent's most famous stage and screen actress when she met her first "jeep."

The "jeep" in this instance wasn't the little automobile adopted by the United States Military forces as a scout car. It was the mobile cupboard in which Danny Fish, veteran property man on Universal's "Paris Calling" keeps his tools and accessories.

Miss Bergner is making her Hollywood debut in the picture, which will be at the Voncastle tonight and Saturday.

GOLDEN JUBILEE SERVICES

In announcing the golden jubilee services, next Sunday, at the Peniel Methodist church Dick Johnson township, Clay county, the Brazil Times says:

The Peniel Methodist church, which is located just northwest of the city, was dedicated July 3rd, 1892, by the late Dr. Hillary A. Golin, of Greencastle, and minister who conducted the first revival for Peniel just before the dedication of the church, Dr. Demetrius Tilton.

(By Jim Zeis)

Box Car on Square...

Believe it or not, we saw a box car on the south side of the square yesterday afternoon. A truck, going north on 43, was pulling the big freight car, but its destination remains a mystery.

Memorial Day...

Memorial Day this year should mean a great deal to all of us. It originally honored our war dead who fought to keep a nation together. Now we are fighting to keep Freedom and Justice alive over the entire world. Yes, let us honor our country's heroes with the deepest reverence and continue to do so in the years to come.

103 Graduates...

Next week, Greencastle high school will graduate 103 young men and women, the largest senior class in the history of 64 Commencement exercises. They will be the executives, the business men, the mothers and the teachers of tomorrow. Truly, Time marches on, and youth will not be denied!

We Take A Ride...

We took a short jaunt on one of the city's two fire trucks yesterday afternoon—the Seagrave, which was purchased when Walter Cooper was mayor of Greencastle, 25 years ago. Fireman Bill Lawrence did the driving and we did the riding. It was an exercise run for the truck and we found that it could really travel. However, we are in favor of windshields for fire trucks. Our eyes were filled with tears from the time we started until we got back. And we weren't sad either—at least not Thursday.

Bikes Replace Autos...

We just received a letter from a friend in St. Petersburg, Fla., in which he said almost everyone down there was riding a bicycle. Florida is one of the Atlantic coastline states which now has gasoline rationing. It appears that gas to Hoosiers will be rationed probably around July 1. And we haven't got a bike! Or we could say, "My kingdom for a horse."

Just An Idea...

How about an experimental black-out for Greencastle some of these nights?

Meanest Thief...

Sacred articles valued at $500 were stolen from a Greek church in Indianapolis. This thief could be classed as low as one who took "the widow's mite."

Blames Mother Nature...

Herr Goering, No. 2 Nazi, is blaming the weather for new food reductions in Germany. Radio listeners in the United States who heard the address by Hitler's right bower, said the coldness of his audience was especially noted. Just how much longer do you suppose Adolf, Hermann, and Heinrich Himmler of the Gestapo can hoodwink the Germans.

son, a veteran retired minister will be the speaker at the morning service to be held at 11 o'clock. Dr. Tilton will speak on "The Kingdom of God."

OBITUARY

The God who fills immensity,
Himself will give,
And make it joy to live,
Tho he may take
All else away for loves own sake.

He will all loss replace;
With added grace,
Lay in the empty hand some gift,
No soul is left to drift
Unblessed upon time's sea.

Homer Maynard, eldest son of John and Della Smyth was born in Fillmore April 4, 1916, on May 12, 1942, he quietly and peacefully went to sleep, aged 26 years, 1 month and 8 days.

He grew to manhood in Fillmore, where he graduated from Fillmore High School in April, 1934. After graduating from F. H. S. he had work on Indiana State Highway.

On Sept. 3, 1939 he was united in marriage to Madonna Tinscher. They started their happy home in Fillmore but ere three weeks had passed, he was a victim of streptococcus throat from which he never fully recovered, although he did return to his work for a few weeks. In April, 1940 he had to give up and was never well again.

This devoted wife truly did all that it was possible to do to help him regain his health, but to no avail.

He was a devoted husband, trusted her fully, she coming into his life, was one of the rays of sunshine he enjoyed most.

There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.

In July, 1940 they came back to his mother's home, where a mother's love never tired of helping to make his life happy—did all she could to help call back his health.

It was characteristic of Homer to be modest, unassuming, gave little weight to conventionality but did set value upon the substance rather than the form.

In May, 1941 he went to a hospital in Evansville, when he came home in July, he told his mother he had made peace with his God, although life was precious to him, he was anxious to be well but whatever happened—"All was well."

We, his friends, will miss his smile and friendly greeting, he was always glad to have his friends call.

His father preceded him in death, five years ago this May 20.

He leaves this devoted wife and mother who each meant so much to him, two brothers, Herschell of Fillmore and Cadet Kenneth Smyth, who now is in Officers Candidate Training school in Camp Lee, Virginia; one sister-in-law, little Gene, his nephew, also Madonna's sisters and her father and mother, many other relatives and friends.

He has solved it, life's wonderful problem,
The deepest, the strangest, the last,
And into the school of the angels,
With the answer forever has passed.
How strange he should sleep so profoundly,

So young, so unworn by the strife,
While beside him brimful of hope's nectar
Untouched stood the goblet of life,
God knew all about it, how noble,
How gentle he was and how brave;
How bright, his possible future,
Yet, put him to sleep in his grave.

God knew all about those who love him,
How bitter the trial must be,
And right through it all, God is loving,
And knows so much better than we.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness, sympathy and bountiful floral offering received during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband, son and brother, Homer Maynard Smyth. We especially thank Rev. McClure and Rev. Crocker for their comforting words.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Ruby M. Burdett, who passed away five years ago today, May 22, 1937.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear
'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why
The best are always the first to die.
Even death has its wonderful mission
Though it robs us of those we love
It draws us from our surroundings
To long for the meeting above.
