Here is a recipe for lamb stew that is a complete change from the more usual carrot and potato variety. Unbelievably fresh flavored, light and colorful it makes the perfect dish for wartime entertaining at any season of the year.

For four people get 1½ pounds of lamb shoulder. Have the butcher bone it before he cuts it up—there isn't anything worse than finding sharp slivers of bone in a stew!

Go over the meat carefully, discarding any excess fat. You can render it down and strain it for salvage you know, so it won't be wasted. Cut the meat into 1 inch pieces, put it in a deep stew pan with 1 strip of bacon, diced, a pinch of marjoram, 1 teaspoon of salt, a good quarter teaspoon of black pepper, 1 whole onion and ½ cup of chopped celery leaves. Cover with 2 cups of boiling water and simmer for 1 hour. This part of the preparation can be done a day ahead of time if necessary, but for best results the rest of the ingredients should be added to the stew only about half an hour before serving. So, reheat the stew if necessary, simmer for 5 minutes and add the following ingredients: 2 tomatoes, chopped, 2 onions, chopped, 1 green pepper, chopped, ½ cup diced celery. Cook over slightly increased heat for 30-35 minutes, until the lamb and vegetables are just tender. Mix 1 egg yolk with 2 tablespoons of milk, and stir it into the stew immediately before serving, after removing from the stove.

Pile the meat and vegetables in the center of a serving dish and pour the thin gravy carefully around. Sprinkle with about a tablespoon of chopped parsley. Small separately boiled potatoes are often arranged around the meat mixture before the gravy is poured around. String beans, corn or yellow squash make an excellent accompaniment.

Lamb stew for 4: 1½ pounds lamb shoulder, 1 strip bacon, 1 pinch marjoram, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 onion, ½ cup celery leaves, 2 cup boiling water, 2 tomatoes, 1 onion, 1 green pepper, ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

He said the passenger tire output would be 2,500,000 a month by January. The OPA has taken the position that new tires would be available when output reaches 2,000,000 a month.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE ADVANCE

MOSCOW, Oct. 7.—(UP)—Red

Army tanks and infantry pounded across the plains of southeastern Hungary within artillery range of Szeged and less than 100 miles from Budapest today in a rapid-fire offensive to knock Germany's third Balkan satellite out of the war.

Breaking through frontier defenses on a 96-mile front, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army already had swept more than 15 miles inside Hungary and the broad Tisa river was the only natural obstacle between the advancing troops and Szeged and Budapest.

More than 100 towns and villages were overrun in the first phase of the new offensive, which carries 32 miles from last reported Soviet positions in Romania and was part of a giant squeeze play mapped by the Russian high command to eliminate the last of Adolf Hitler's Balkan allies.

The southern phase of the triple play already was shaping up with other elements of Malinovsky's 2nd Army driving northward through Rusko Selo, 38 miles below Szeged, Hungary's second largest city.

Still other Russian forces were poised along the Czechoslovak border north of Hungary. Soviet patrols were believed already to have established into the Carpatho-Ukraine, the eastern tip of the old Czechoslovak republic annexed by Hungary in 1941.

The 2nd Army pushed to within artillery range of Szeged after capturing Mago, 14 miles east of the city, at the southern end of the new offensive front.
