NEW ZONING ORDINANCE IS ABOUT READY

CITY WILL SOON HAVE REGULATIONS FOR CONSTRUCTION

Greencastle will soon have a zoning ordinance which will control the construction of property within those zones. It will not only prevent construction of buildings that might be a fire hazard or would cause damage to other property, but it will be an asset to the city in defining residential and business sections of the city and will confine those sections to whatever classification to which they have been assigned.

The new zoning system will be in the hands of a board made up of five persons. A special meeting of the council will be held next Monday evening at which time the ordinance, which is ready for presentation, will be offered and started on passage to becoming effective.

The business sections of the city, three in number, the downtown portion, a small plot on east Washington street at Wood street and the south Greencastle section are defined as business sections, while all others are in the residential section.

These districts are as follows:

Business Districts

Beginning at the intersection of Poplar Street and College Avenue, thence west in Poplar street to the intersection of Jackson street, thence north in Jackson street to the intersection of the alley between Poplar and Walnut Street; thence west in alley to the intersection of Market Street; thence north in Market Street to the intersection with Liberty Street; thence east in Liberty Street to a line 150 ft. and parallel to Jackson Street; thence north on said line to the intersection with the north boundary line of Frazier Street; thence east on the north boundary line of Frazier Street to a line 150 ft. east and parallel to Jackson Street; thence south on said line to the intersection with Jacob Street; thence east in Jacob street to the intersection with College Street; thence south to the point of beginning.

Beginning at the intersection of Washington Street and Wood Street; thence south in Wood Street 200 ft.; thence east 500 ft.; thence north to the intersection with the Indianapolis Road; thence in a southwesterly direction in the Indianapolis Road to the point of beginning.

Beginning at the intersection of Bloomington Street and Maple Avenue; thence south in Maple Avenue to the intersection with the centerline of the Pennsylvania Railroad right of way; thence northeast on said right of way centerline to the intersection with Bloomington Street; thence northwest in Bloomington Street to the point of beginning.

Industrial Areas

All area within 500 ft. of the centerline of any railroad right of way.

Exceptions: Property joining the Monon Railroad right of way north of Walnut Street and west of Madison Street.

The area between Indiana Street extended and the Pennsylvania Railroad right of way.

Councilman Russell Hardman sought unsuccessfully to have the council repeal the day-light savings ordinance which has been on record for several years. No vote was taken on it, but others out-talked Councilman Hardman on the matter.

WILL ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. Otto H. Ernberg and Miss Ruby Swager will leave Wednesday morning for Charleston, West Virginia, where they have been called due to the death of Mont Swager, brother of Miss Swager, and a cousin of Mrs. Ernberg.

Mr. Swager, age 35, was accidentally killed in a railroad accident at Greenville, Mississippi. The accident occurred ten days ago and death occurred on Monday afternoon.

The burial will take place on Thursday at the family plot in Charleston, West Virginia.

EVANS PROPERTY SOLD

It was learned, meanwhile, that "dessertless" and "butterless" days also have been suggested to Mr. Truman's new food committee. The idea has been put aside at least for the time being.

City Council Met Monday

The city council held a routine business session Monday evening with four members of the council and Mayor Walter Ballard present.

The claim ordinance was presented and passed unanimously. Special building permits were granted as follows:

George E. Knauer to erect new house between Seminary and Anderson on Arlington, costing about $4,500. Walter Seeley to remodel house at 306 west Columbia street; J. E. Courtney to repair garage at 610 south Locust street; to make repairs at 19-25 east Franklin by Record's Hatchery; Miss Hattie Conley to make repairs on east Elm street; to erect sign over the side walk on south 14th street by Ira Sutherland; to add a one story section to house on south College Avenue by John Tzouanakis; to Ernest L. Mugg for erecting a garage at 328 north Arlington street.

A resolution to vacate an alley between O. W. Hill and Albert Stoner on south Locust street was passed. They own all the ground on which the alley lies and it runs into an alley in the rear and is not in use. Hearing of objections was fixed as of November 3.

It was suggested that a street light be placed over the new crossing gates erected by the Pennsylvania crossing so that the gates may be easier seen at night.

Parking around the church on east Washington street at Arlington was noted to block vision or Arlington and making it hazardous for traffic. Yellow no parking signs will be placed on the curbs on Washington street two or three car lengths on each side, thus opening up the view from the north and south.

Councilman Russell Hardman sought unsuccessfully to have the council repeal the day-light savings ordinance which has been on record for several years. No vote was taken on it, but others out-talked Councilman Hardman on the matter.

Robot Plane On Flight To U. S.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(UP)—Col. James M. Gillespie pushed a button marked "Stephenville" today and his robot-piloted U. S. Air Force C-54 transport roared down a runway at Lyneham airfield, took off automatically and pointed its nose toward home.

As was the case on the 2,400-mile flight across on September 2, there was nothing for the crew aboard to do except enjoy the flight. After the push-button pilot took off the plane from Lyneham Airfield, near Chippenham, Wiltshire, it began to pick up signals from a ship at sea.

It operated on these signals during the first leg of its flight westward across the Atlantic. When it passes beyond this ship, it will begin to pick up signals from another. Radio signals from the airfield at Stephenville, Newfoundland, will guide its approach and landing there.

Gillespie, chief of the Air Forces all weather flying division at Wilmington, Ohio, did not say where he would land first in the United States.

The plane made the first automatic flight, from takeoff to landing, to Britain so the 800-pound "brain" that flies it could be shown to Royal Air Force technicians.

Odds 1000 To 1

Against 'Nubbins'

DENVER, Oct. 7 (UP)—Forecast "Nubbins" Hoffman was in a Denver hospital today for a diagnosis and checkup in preparation for a serious kidney operation, but attendants reported he did not seem too worried about the 1000-to-1 odds against him.

The six-year-old, whose home is in Cheyenne, Wyo., won out over similar odds in 1944, when it was thought he would not live for Christmas. He celebrated the day with toys from well-wishers throughout the nation in November.

Nubbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hoffman, entered the hospital yesterday afternoon, after begging successfully for a trip to Denver's zoo and a lunch downtown. He didn't want to go to the hospital and asked his mother for just a few more hours' before he was checked in, carrying an armful of picture books and a model racer.

Doctors said that this week's operation would be the first of two—both delicate, but necessary to save him from death within two years.

His father was to return here today, after an earlier trip to make a "deposit" in a Denver blood bank, which may be drawn on during Nubbins' operation.

Inside WASHINGTON

Eisenhower for President | Sullivan Persuades Truman
Move Nearing Boom Stage | To Make Political Speech

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The ground-swell of "Eisenhower for president" sentiment shows signs of developing to boom proportions within the next few months.

GOP leaders are watching the course of events closely, and already there are indications that factional leaders within the Republican ranks are showing signs of willingness to climb on any bandwagon which might bring the ex-Allied commander in Europe into the GOP convention as the top contender for the presidential nomination.

Although Eisenhower is an unknown factor politically, his personal vote-getting appeal is such as to swing convention sentiment to the belief that he may be the best candidate to outpace President Truman for the White House post in next year's campaign.

Some GOP leaders privately view the Eisenhower ground-swell as possibly causing a repetition of the Willie nomination in 1940, when popular sentiment and demand upset the pre-convention dopesters.

A deadlock between Taft and Dewey, they reason, could cause a decisive rush to Eisenhower. Meanwhile, as the campaigning continues, he is the only potential nominee who has ample, plausible reasons for keeping his views on national and international issues to himself.

In this position, he can adopt any GOP platform without fear that his previous stand on vital issues might come back to plague him during the post-convention race.

● TRUMAN FOR PRESIDENT—In the other political camp, it took a lot of persuading by the Democratic national committee to get President Truman to consent to delivering a political address to the Democratic Women's Clubs Oct. 8.

Mr. Truman, encouraged by his rising popularity spiral in the Gallup and other polls, was of the opinion that he would like to let the record speak for itself. He felt that he would gain more political ground by concentrating on foreign affairs, the possibility of a special session of Congress and the administration in general.

However, Gael Sullivan, Democratic executive director, prevailed upon the chief executive to make the political broadcast. Sullivan said that it also would be a spur toward achieving the $50,000 campaign fund goal the Democratic women have set.

Much of what Mr. Truman says next month will depend on whether Ohio's Senator Taft has announced that he will seek the 1948 Republican nomination.

Taft has departed on a journey through the west, which has all the fanfare of a full-fledged political campaign. At its end he is expected to make public his decision about 1948.

If Taft tosses his hat in the ring, the president has plenty of ammunition ready. He more than once has castigated Taft over the radio on the legislative record of the 80th Congress.

Look for Mr. Truman to unlimber his heaviest verbal artillery on Taft if the Ohioan has by Oct. 8 said he will seek the GOP nomination at the Philadelphia convention next year.

● LABOR IN 1948—The labor unions are looking to 1948 with a thought in mind which proves disturbing to both the Democrats and the Republicans.

The Taft-Hartley labor control act, as many labor leaders correctly forecast, has greatly stimulated sentiment for a merger of the American Federation of Labor and the CIO.

A number of big unions now are "beating the drums" for labor unity, but with a new purpose in mind other than the advantages that might accrue to trade unionism. The new goal is formation of a third political party.

Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes of the powerful CIO-United Automobile Workers union, recently explained: "We must start moving in the direction of united labor action by all groups within the labor movement."

"We must start moving in the direction of forming a progressive political party," Addes added. "The first steps are organic unity (of the AFL and the CIO) and the building of a political action committee in each local union and in every community in America."

LEGLESS SINCE 1945, when he was run over by a train, 13-year-old Claude Decure of St. Aignon, France, unwraps his new limbs, which, complete with shoes, socks and polish, arrive as gift from United States organization, "American Aid to France." (International Previously, Anderson and Indianapolis alternated in getting the award for this section's first two tournaments. But due to the fact that the Fairview fieldhouse accommodates thousands of fans more than any other available gymnasium, the commissioner's office decided on the Hoosier capital again this year.

Sectional play will get underway Feb. 25. The basketball campaign will be climaxed with the finals on the night of March 20.

"Our Business Is Different," for instance...

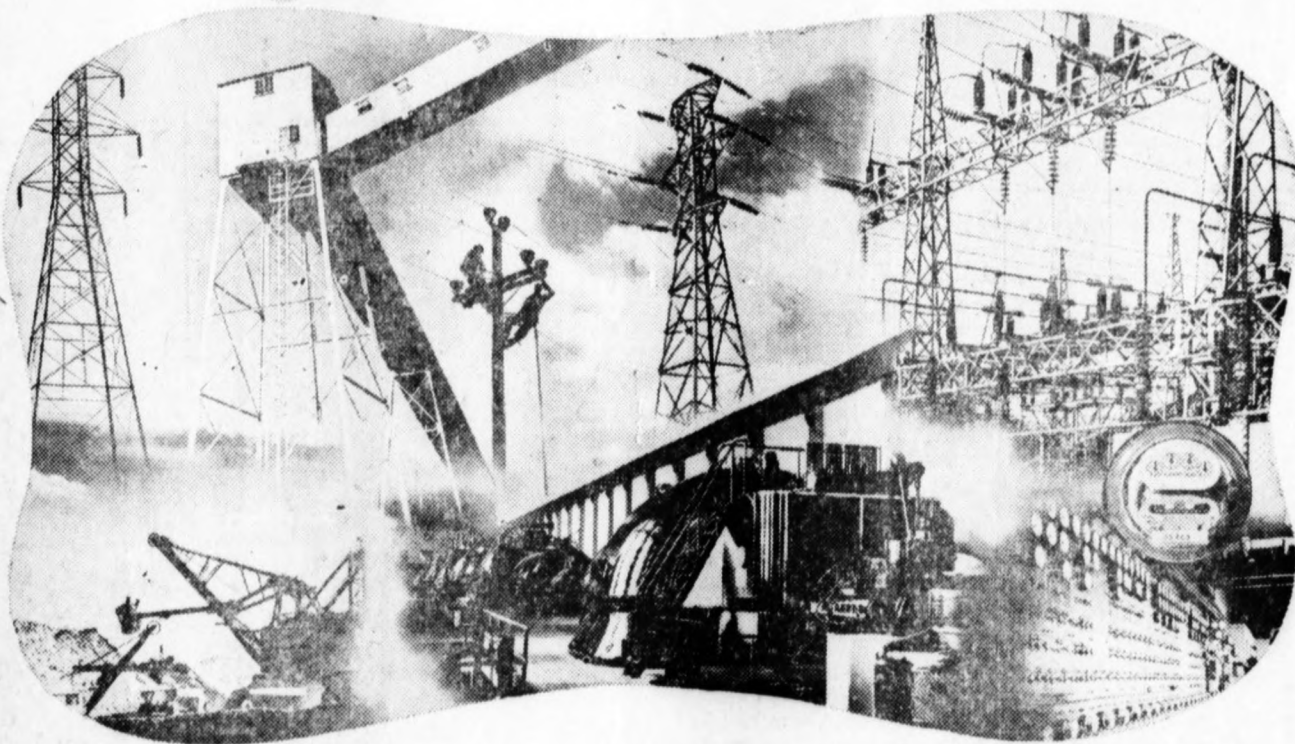

In the Automotive Industry, sales equal total assets every six months.

... and in the Meat Packing Industry, sales equal total assets three times a year.

... while in the Steel Industry, sales equal total assets every twelve months.

But in the POWER INDUSTRY, it takes 4½ years (54 months) for sales to equal assets!

In other words—to obtain one dollar in annual revenue, the car manufacturer or the meat packer invests only fifty cents, or less, in plant facilities. Whereas, the POWER INDUSTRY requires an investment of nearly $5 in plant facilities to develop one dollar of business in a year!

To keep you supplied with all the electricity
you want—when you want it—requires large, complicated and costly generation, transmission and distribution facilities and equipment.

The POWER INDUSTRY must be alert to future requirements, because increased generating facilities can not be added over night.
The INDUSTRY must plan years ahead, and create new facilities to meet the ever-increasing demands for dependable and low-costing electricity, for...

... an abundance of electric power at low rates is a "must" for continued industrial progress... for more production and greater profits on the farm... and for all 'round better living, electrically.

Future Of UN Appears Dismal

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(UP)—The elaborate United Nations, born only two years ago amidst so much hope, sat helpless and dejected today in the middle of a declared no-quarter political war between its two giants—the United States and Soviet Russia.

The "war" actually had been underway for many months. But all pretense had been tossed aside now. The "phony" stage was over.

The lines were clearly drawn except that both sides claimed Italy and France. Those two unhappy countries were the immediate stakes in the conflict. There the first battles between Communism and capitalism will be waged in the coming months.

Two immediate results of the Soviet move will be: 1. A decision by Secretary of State George C. Marshall to present his European economic recovery plan to Congress on political as well as economic grounds; 2. Inevitable failure of the big four to agree on peace treaties for Germany and Austria in London next month and the probable collapse of the big four machinery. But UN delegates alarmed and dismayed at the hopeless outlook for an east-west reconciliation after the new Communist International manifesto against American "imperialism," agreed that the ultimate victim will be the United Nations itself.

These delegates foresaw no immediate collapse of the organization which was created in the closing days of the war as man's latest hope for preventing another war. But paralysis of both the Security Council and the assembly has set in and the UN has become a tool of the two great powers in their ideological struggle.

Conference Of Top Officials

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(UP)—The top American officials in Russia and Germany were scheduled to arrive here today for important conferences on Germany's economic future and our steadily deteriorating relations with Russia.

An army plane was expected to arrive here about noon with Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. ambassador to Moscow, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, and his chief political adviser, Robert D. Murphy.

Clay and Murphy will begin talks tomorrow with British officials concerning Britain's request that the United States take over a larger share of occupation costs in the Anglo-American zones of Germany. The costs now are shared on a 50-50 basis.

Smith has scheduled separate conversations with State department officials over strained diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia in Europe and the United Nations' General Assembly.

Meanwhile, there were other events on the rapidly moving diplomatic and economic front. Some government officials believed the revival of the Communist International, and its avowed aim to wreck the Marshall plan, might boomerang and assure additional congressional support for the multi-billion dollar project. These officials also felt the Communist action might help smooth the way for a special session of congress by Dec. 1 to begin work on a top-gap economic aid to Europe.

Pacific Shipping Tieup Indicated

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—(UP)—CIO Longshoremen threatened today to tie up all Pacific shipping as far as Hawaii unless waterfront employers end a week-long "lookout" at Los Angeles outer harbor stevedoring.

Harry Bridges, leader of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, warned that unless "something is done about the shutdown quickly, it will involve the entire Pacific coast and the entire Pacific Ocean, including travel between the Pacific coast and the Hawaiian Islands."

He demanded that Maritime Arbitrator Arthur C. Miller call on the waterfront employers association to order resumption of work, pending arbitration of the 12-week-old "walking bosses' dispute."

The walking bosses (foremen) had established picket lines around the Luckenbach Steamship Company here and the Los Angeles outer harbor Stevedoring firm to back demands for recognition of the ILWU as their bargaining agent.

Both firms refused to negotiate on grounds that the bosses were supervisory personnel and should not be subject to "rank and file union domination." The waterfront employers then suspended operations in Los Angeles Long Beach and dismissed 115 bosses.

Warning that the tieup "inevitably" would spread Bridges asserted that other members of the union have got to refuse to work the ships diverted from the closed port of Los Angeles, or work and break their own union. We want you, Mr. Miller, to order the port open."

HATCHING EGGS WANTED

We now have a much stronger connection on hatching eggs, being directly connected with all the other Colonial hatcheries, in nine states. When we are not using eggs in Greencastle we can ship them to our southern hatcheries. Up until now no hatchery, in Greencastle, had such a connection.

Not only do we want your hatching eggs, for a longer season than ever before, but we can also use all the good hatching eggs we can get and will appreciate your telling your friends. Through good years and bad years, ever since 1920 (over 25 years ago) Colonial hatcheries have purchased eggs — always paying spot cash for them — over an average of ten months a year for heavy breeds and over six months for Leghorns.

I have done culling and testing work for years and hold an Indiana official culling license for this work. We have moved here, from Bedford, to make Greencastle our permanent home. We will continue to handle feeds and supplies and are adding to our lines. You will always find bargains at our place of business.

I have just had a horrible experience shopping with my wife.

Not for food—I enjoy that. For a hat!

For more than twenty-five years I have absolutely refused to accompany my wife when she went out to buy her clothes. "I know nothing about women's clothes," I always told her. "Your taste is so much better than mine, and furthermore I feel like a darn fool sitting around in women's shops."

It seemed like a good excuse, and for years I got by with it. But some time ago I made a great mistake. Women's hats were getting crazier and crazier all the time, and whenever my wife bought a new hat I either made fun of it or expressed my disgust by dignified silence.

That procedure finally got my wife's goat, and yesterday she delivered her ultimatum: "I am going to buy a hat tomorrow and you are going with me. I am tired of your criticisms, so I am going to buy the hat you select and you will be responsible for it."

Being the master of my house, I surrendered and so today we went on the millinery expedition.

I didn't mind the first five shops. There were hundreds of what milliners and women in general call "hats", and all the prospective buyers seemed to enjoy their safari so much that I sort of entered into the gay spirit of the thing and found it quite stimulating, too.

In these five shops I saw approximately fifty hats that I thought were just right for my wife.

But whenever I said "That's it", she immediately replied, "No it isn't," and we went on and on.

By lunchtime we must have visited at least ten of those torture chambers, otherwise known as millinery shops, but there wasn't a single hat, or "chapeau", as the salesladies called it, that suited her. We had our lunch and started out again. Hat after hat was tried on—hats consisting of a piece of wire with a few chicken feathers attached to it and hats that reminded me of wagon wheels that had got stuck in a hayfield—hats from $8.50 to $75—but not a one suited my wife.

When the stores finally closed approximately 100 hats had been inspected, but not one had been bought.

Tomorrow my wife is going out again, this time by herself. "You can't buy anything when a husband comes along," she remarked, as, tired to death, I crawled into bed with my newspaper, to read a story which was headlined "American Husbands Too Kind To Wives."

To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, Freedom, and Democracy.

—From the Preamble to the Constitution of The American Legion

The American Legion youth program is a bulwark of strength to those who would have posterity share in the blessings of the free America that we inherited from the founding fathers.

WE ARE LIVING at a very significant time in America's history. It is a period of war for survival, a period of transition, a period of consolidation, a period of clarification concerning national and international problems. We have received these blessings of liberty from the previous generations that have made our Nation what it is. It is now our opportunity and responsibility to impress the meaning and value of these American principles upon the minds of our people that they will be not only safeguarded but transmitted to posterity clearer and stronger and more meaningful than we received them.

This is the heritage of our generation. The youth of today and the unborn millions of Americans of the future depend upon us.

Prevent FIRE Insulate NOW!

Certainly, the fact that our government has found it necessary to proclaim this week for National Fire Prevention Observance, is evidence that insulation and similarly fire retardant measures are desperately needed . . . . .

Therefore, we feel obligated to re-print this letter . . . .

GREENCASTLE, INDIANA

THE HOME OF SYCAMORE TOP

February 6, 1947

To Whom It May Concern:

On January 29, 1947, R. E. Knoll finished a complete job of insulating our home. Words cannot express how happy we are to have had this work done for several reasons.

First, we are positive we would not have had our home, today, had it not been for the fire-proofness of the insulation Mr. Knoll installed just one week previous. About the middle of the afternoon we detected an odor of burning wood and smoke coming into the house, which we thought was from the fireplace in the dining room. However, near midnight we decided there must be fire inside the wall near the fireplace and called the Greencastle Fire Department for help. When they arrived it was discovered the damage was slight inasmuch as the insulation had held the fire in check and only a very small place, a foot square, was burned.

Previously during very cold weather our living and dining room temperature ranged around 40 degrees, now it is from 70 to 75 degrees without additional firing. The entire house is much more comfortable.

All statements made by Mr. Knoll when selling insulation to us are proving to be true although it was hard for us to believe them at that time. We do not hesitate to say that insulation is the best investment we have ever made.

We wish to say that Mr. Knoll has a very courteous and efficient crew doing his work and we cannot speak too highly of the way they handled our job. We are more than pleased.

Yours very truly,

MR. AND MRS. HARRY COLLINS.

HERE IS A 4-UNIT DIESEL FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVE NOW OPERATED BY 2 MEN (1 ENGINEER AND 1 FIREMAN)

2 BRAKEMEN AND 1 CONDUCTOR COMPLETE THE CREW OF THIS TRAIN [One brakeman usually rides in the locomotive in freight service]

—BUT THE UNION LEADERS WANT 15 EXTRA "SITTERS" ON THIS TRAIN ... 3 ENGINEERS, 3 FIREMEN, 6 BRAKEMEN AND 3 CONDUCTORS ... TO GO ALONG FOR THE RIDE AT FULL PAY!

It's to your interest to know about this proposed feather-bedding!

For sheer feather-bedding, this mock work proposal takes the cake. But it is only one of 44 "rules" demands filed by the leaders of the operating unions.
If all these demands were granted,
they would cost the railroads an added
BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR.

Increased Wages, Too

On top of these "rules" changes, the leaders of the operating unions have filed an additional demand for a wage increase of over 30 per cent. If granted, this would be an added cost to the railroads of $400,000,000 a year.$468,000,000 To Non-Operating EmployeesIn addition to this, an Arbitration Board has just granted a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour to the million employees represented by the 17 non-operating unions. This will cost the railroads $468,000,000 a year.

Where Will The Money Come From?

Where will all the money come from to pay these increases? They total several times as much as the railroads made in 1946 or will make in 1947.In July, the railroads filed an application for increased freight rates to close the gap which then existed between wage and material costs, and railroad revenues. Since then it has been necessary, because of further increases in wages and material costs, to supplement that petition and to ask for an additional freight rate increase. No other course is open.

Railroads Do Not Run For Employees AloneRailroads are operated for the benefit of not one, but several groups—shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public. The interest of all must be served—and that cannot be done unless the railroads can operate efficiently and economically, and unless they are allowed to earn sufficient revenue to provide the kind of transportation service this country MUST HAVE.
