BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED BY CITY COUNCIL

VOTE TO BUY ADDITIONAL FIRE HOSE TUESDAY EVENING

The city council held its second regular meeting Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. with all members present, including Mayor Crawley and Clerk Boddy. Following the reading and adoption of the minutes of the first regular meeting, the council got down to routine business.

Robert Dean, chairman of the finance committee again read the list of claims which had been filed, totalling $857.68 and the same were passed by a unanimous vote.

Councilman Ensign said his committee had investigated requests for street lights and it was voted to place one east of Locust on Franklin, east of Jackson on Berry and one on south Indiana as close as possible to the corporate limits.

Other requests for street lights were presented and these will be investigated by the council.

It was voted to install a drain for two blocks from Liberty street to Handy's dairy on the west side of Vine street to care for the water which now flows opening from the south.

It was also voted to buy $40 worth of fire hose, as Chief Lawrence said the present hose is short of the insurance underwriters requirements. It will cost about $1.85 per foot and the sum appropriated in the 1952 budget will buy about 200 feet.

A request for the erection of an ice house at Ohio and Illinois streets, was presented by the Star Ice Co. In as much as the zoning ordinance took this matter out of the hands of the council, this body has no jurisdiction over it and nothing was done about it.

Mayor Crawley also announced that the city now has an oil and gasoline contract running until June and nothing can be done about renewing it until that time.

The rejuvenation of the Planning Commission was discussed again and five members will be named by the mayor, one will come from the council, one from the park board, the president of the Board of Works and the City Engineer will make up the nine man board.

Mayor Crawley announced that the parking meters thus far in January have collected a total of $1,045.85, which is slightly below the normal amount, probably due to the early January weather.

Ordinance No. one was presented by Councilman Stewart. It provides for bond for the city clerk-treasurer for $20,000 on sewage disposal bonds and $40,000 on water redemption funds.

TO PRESENT RECITAL
Dr. Van Denman Thompson, member of DePauw faculty, will present an organ recital this evening at 8 o'clock in the main sanctuary of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church in Indianapolis.

Dr. Thompson is the guest artist for the Indiana chapter of American Guild of Organists and the Indianapolis Choir Directors Guild.

The church choir under the direction of Julius Huehn will take part in the program. Perry Bush, tenor soloist, and Ronald Bush, of this city, are members of the choir.

MAY HEAD DRIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22—(UP)—George Craig, former national commander of the American Legion, is being considered to head a nation-wide campaign among veterans' organizations to secure support for the Eisenhower for president movement, it was reported today.

Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), a leader in the drive to attract political delegates to the general and speaker at yesterday's "Ike" rally here, said Craig is being considered but that no definite announcement can be made at this time.

Craig also has been mentioned as a potential GOP nominee for governor.

New Bids For Garbage, Feb. 4

The city council took up the matter of awarding the garbage contract for the ensuing two years at their regular meeting Monday evening. It was announced that due to circumstances beyond his control, Gen. Hirt had been forced to withdraw his bid of 22 cents per 100 pounds of garbage submitted two weeks ago. This left only one bid, that of Charles Crawley which was for 15.25 per 100 pounds and because of the wide difference in the two bids, it was voted to reject the one bid left and to readvertise.

The specifications will remain the same as in the last bids and new bids will be submitted up to 7:30 p.m. on Monday, February 4, at which time it is hoped to be able to award a contract.

DPU Choral Group To Go On Tour

The DePauw Collegians, an all-student choral group on the DePauw University campus, has planned a five-concert tour between semesters, according to Donald Pfost, its conductor.

The tour will include a concert Monday morning, Jan. 28, at the New Albany high school at 10:30 and a public performance at 8 p.m. at the Silver Creek high school at Sellersburg, a Tuesday morning concert at the Seymour high school, one Wednesday morning at the Paris, Ill., high school, and a Friday concert at the Muncie Central high school.

The choral concert features variety numbers, including selections from such Broadway hits as "Brigadoon," "Oklahoma," and "Porgy and Bess." Pfost, whose home is at Irvington, N.J., is a graduate student in the DePauw School of Music and director of the school's Opera Workshop.

Ronald Williams, a DePauw graduate in 1950 and now a graduate student at Indiana University, is accompanist for the group. During the past summer he was staff accompanist for the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood, Mass., and he has accompanied the Purdue Varsity Glee Club.

Soloists with the Collegians, all DePauw students, are Sally Jant, Paris Ill.; Judy Holman, Evanston, Ill.; Ellen Petroff, Waukegan, Ill.; and Bill Dreyer, Sellersburg.

RUSS DIPLOMATS TO FACE STIFF TRAVEL CURBS

SOVIET OFFICIALS TO GET IRON CURTAIN
TREATMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—(UP)—American officials are drafting a stiff order to restrict the travel of Russian diplomats in this country, it was disclosed today.

The move is designed to counter the new travel limits imposed last week on American and other foreign diplomats in the Soviet Union.

Details have not been worked out yet but administration sources said the American order will be just as tough as the Kremlin's. They predicted the order will be issued soon.

The United States decided against retaliation in 1948 when Moscow clamped some restrictions on foreign travel. Officials are convinced now, however, that Russia should get a dose of its own medicine.

In 1948, the Russians limited travel in the Moscow area to 31 miles and banned any travel to 11 important cities and five of the 16 Soviet Republics.

Last Wednesday, they marked 22 more big cities "off limits" and cut travel in the Moscow area to 25 miles.

U. S. experts are busy trying to figure out how to translate these edicts into equivalent American restrictions. Curtailing Washington area travel is considered simple compared to picking out cities to declare out of bounds.

The formula will be worked out by the State and Defense Departments and other interested agencies.

Pentagon officials are vitally concerned because of the espionage opportunities which unlimited travel offers to Soviet military attaches. They also are anxious to see that American military aides in Russia get as much freedom as possible.

Failure of the State and Defense Departments to agree on a policy was one of the reasons that the United States did not retaliate in 1948. There is said to be a large measure of agreement now, although it may take a while to "coordinate" all details.

3 Trustees Face Impeachment

ROCKPORT, Ind., Jan. 22—(UP)—Impeachment proceedings were expected to be filed today in Spencer Circuit Court against three county trustees accused of forcing teachers to contribute to political funds to hold their jobs.

Named in the charges were Trustees Charles P. Fuller of Carter, F. M. Yearby of Grass and Frank Ayar of Hammond townships. According to law, impeachment charges must be settled within 20 days.

Deputy Prosecutor A. N. Savage said the three men still face criminal charges in connection with the alleged bribes, for which they were indicted and arrested last November.

Charges were preferred following an investigation by the Indiana Teachers' Association of complaints by several teachers that they had been fired for refusing to contribute to the trustees' political campaign funds.

Fuller said he dismissed a teacher because of a decline in enrollment and Yearby and Ayar said they fired teachers to eliminate friction within their schools. All three, free on bond, are expected to plead not guilty.

SMART PIGEON

GARRETT, Ind., Jan. 22—(UP)—A homing pigeon tested its wings today for a return flight to its owner, R. L. Perkins, Middlebury, Conn.

The bird was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital here Sunday when it was pecking at a window attracted a nurse. It had been caught in a storm and its leg was broken. Hospital authorities report it is responding to a treatment and soon will be able to fly again.

NAMES DOCTORS AS 'COMMUNISTS'

APPEARING before the House Un-American Activities committee in Washington, Dr. Louise Light Silver (left) gave the names of ten doctors and dentists she said were members of a Communist medical group in Los Angeles in 1940. She declared the doctors were members of the "medical section" of the Los Angeles party during the "first year or two" of her own membership. She said she started to "drift away" from the party in 1945 as the result of a change in Communist policy. Her husband, Max, is seated next to her. (International)

It's Blackwood For Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. New overcalls four no-trump bid, but opponent's sharp play off in end.

Sometimes when you hold a very long suit and are willing to make a sacrifice bid, it is confusing to your opponents to overcall their four no-trump bid as Mr. New did in today's deal. These tactics don't often pay off, however, when your opponents are fine players.

3 C Pass 4 D Pass

They can still show their aces by using a part of the Blackwood convention designed for just this situation. Or they can double you if they think that is their most profitable action.

Of course, Mr. New would have made it tougher for Mr. Dale and Mrs. Keen if he had jumped to four spades on his first chance to bid. As it was, he let them exchange a lot of information and finally came in with a five spade bid over Mr. Dale's four no-trump.

Made Cue-bid

Now Mrs. Keen had already made a cue-bid in the spade suit, so in replying to her partner's asking bid her correct response would have been five no-trump, showing one ace outside of the spade ace. In other words, when an opponent overcalls at the five range, you pass with no aces, bid one notch higher than the overcall to show one ace, two notches higher to show two aces and so on.

Mrs. Keen decided not to show aces at all. She had already shown her partner first-round spade control, excellent diamond support and a fine hand overall.

If she bid five no-trump at this point to show the ace of hearts, her side would automatically wind up in six diamonds and she was not sure it could be made.

Gave Dale Choice

She therefore gave Mr. Dale a choice. She showed willingness to play against five spades for penalty.

The double suited Mr. Dale.

He had opened the bidding on an absolute minimum and was by no means sure he could take 12 tricks at diamonds. As a matter of fact six diamonds would probably have been down three on the opening of the king of spades.

Against five spades, Mrs. Keen led a small diamond. Mr. Dale won and returned a heart. After cashing three hearts, Mrs. Keen led her fourth card in that suit and Mr. Dale made the good play of ruffing with the nine of spades. Mr. New overruffed with the jack and that was set up two sure spade winners for Mrs. Keen. Down 790 points—a phantom save of gruesome proportions.

CARD OF THANKS

Your kind expression of sympathy and deeds of kindness during the illness and death of Mary M. Gobel is gratefully acknowledged and deeply appreciated. We want to especially thank the ladies of the First Christian church, the Eastern Star, Past Matrons Club, our many neighbors and friends. Also the minister, Rev. Clarence Barr, the singers, the pall bearers and the Whitaker Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle McClure and family.

SCHOOL NEWS

BAINBRIDGE SCHOOL

The regular Band Parents meeting for January will be held Wednesday night, January 23. Plans for contests in the spring will be discussed.

A new tape recorder has arrived at the school. It is being used already in speech work and will be used in connection with various classes in recording talks and music. Its purchase is partially being sponsored by

Bourn and Bothwell, Jefferson township trustee, and James Bourn, Morgan county school superintendent, defending Long, Bourn said Long previously reported having disciplinary trouble with the boys and said Bothwell had ordered Long to "thrash them."

Glen Curtis, Martinsville school superintendent, said, however, he never had any trouble with the boys and regarded them as "anything but incorrigible."

Bourn and Bothwell contend the driver had a right to discipline the children to maintain order on the bus. But Upton charged the beating was "brutal" and left red welts on David's body.

Long said he would not carry the boys again until the parents promise to control the children or the matter is settled in court, where observers believe the case probably will end.

LOOKING ... AT LIFE

BY ERICH BRANDEIS

"Can she bake a Cherry Pie?"
That, according to an editorial
in the Ansonia, Conn., Sentinel, is the standard by which to judge a woman's fitness for marriage.

The editorial then goes into ecstasies about the deliciousness of a real, old-fashioned Connecticut cherry pie, made of luscious fresh cherries.

"Undoubtedly fresh cherries are a trifle more flavorful, but canned or frozen food makes a superb pie," says the editorial.

The paper also remarks that "if more men had more cherry pie more often, we feel some of the contemporary tangled skeins might straighten out."

Can't you imagine, for instance, the United Nations during one of its most strained moments, when tempers are frayed and tongues at their sharpest?

Suddenly Mr. Austin arises and announces that his delegation will serve fresh Connecticut cherry pie to all the other delegations.

The pies are passed around.
In a few moments tempers calm;
tongues, instead of speaking ugly words, lick off the detectable ozone; and pretty soon every international problem is solved to everybody's satisfaction.

Then the vote comes. Who is in favor of a second helping?

And for once the vote is unanimous.

But, by Golly, that isn't what
I wanted to talk about at all.

I wanted to talk about women
and their fitness for marriage.

The cherry pie is only a symbol—unless the Ansonia Sentinel wanted to promote the Connecticut cherry crop.

I really and honestly believe that MAN—the eternal animal that walks on two legs and THINKS—is much more susceptible to cherry pies and roast beef and spare ribs than he is to costume jewelry, lipstick and red fingernails.

Sometimes when I go to people's houses I wonder how it is that women who are not at all attractive were able to get
with husbands who aren't worth while husbands.

The answer is—cherry pie.

Then I see other women, elegantly dressed, beautifully made up, examples of the art of the hairdresser and costumer,
with husbands who aren't worth
a good gosh-darn.

And where do I usually see those women?

In restaurants, in nightclubs,
on the society pages of the newspapers.

And never, whenever I have seen their pictures or when I have seen them in person, have I seen an honest-to-goodness, home-made piece of home-baked cherry pie in their company.

The editorial ends like this:

"There is nothing unduly difficult or complicated about it, although the cook must be amiable, philosophic, unhurried, and have an artist's discrimination."

Which, I suppose, applies both to cherry pie and marriages.

P. U. Caravan On State Tour

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 22—(INS)—Purdue University's Livestock and Meat Caravan will visit four counties of western and southwestern Indiana this week, the second week of its 1952 tour.

The Caravan was at Rockville today and will be in Sullivan
Wednesday, Vincennes Thursday and Bloomfield. Last week the exhibit attracted more than 1,700 farmers in central and north central counties, with stops
at Indianapolis, Frankfort, Muncie, Farmington and Sweetser.

The Caravan consists of 12
displays on livestock production, diseases and marketing problems and meat cookery. Accompanying the exhibits are Purdue extension specialists in animals husbandry, agronomy, livestock marketing, poultry, veterinary medicine, rural health and nutrition.

Surprising Pro-American Support Reported In Several Asiatic Spots

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22—
(UP)—Flying Congressman Peter
F. Mack said today his "round-the-world "Goodwill Flight" convinced him of a surprising pro-American spirit in several Asiatic spots where Communism is eager for control.

The youthful Illinois Democrat, somewhat tattered out after the long over-ocean jaunt from Honolulu to San Francisco, said that he was amazed to find a spirit of friendship in Saigon, Indo-China, and also in Viet Nam.

He said, however, it was in turkey that American prestige reached its highest point.

But Mack said Iran's attitude toward the United States was the most hostile of any country he visited. He blamed a good portion of this feeling on Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

"He is unhappy because we didn't give him any money," Mack said.

He said that even the recent loan granted Iran by the United States probably wouldn't make much difference.

"That may make some change," Mack said. "But not much. There's no question about it, if another premier was to take over our position in Iran would be better."

His long junket proved to him, he said, that the people of Europe "are generally behind us and appreciate our efforts in the past and today to prevent future wars."

Then the vote comes. Who is in favor of a second helping?

And for once the vote is unanimous.

But, by Golly, that isn't what
I wanted to talk about at all.

I wanted to talk about women

Taft Challenges Demo Opponents

BELOIT, Wis., Jan. 22. (UP) — Sen. Robert Taft today promised to beat any presidential nominee the Democrats could put up "if I can guide the campaign" for the Republicans.

And he said he would lead the GOP to victory by avoiding a campaign of "generalities."

The Ohio senator moved into the second day of his 48-hour tour of the dairy state with a half-dozen stops scheduled, including an open house at his Wisconsin headquarters in Madison and a meeting with weekly newspaper editors in Monroe.

His tour is calculated to win Wisconsin's 30 GOP presidential delegates away from Harold Stassen in the April 1 primary.

Taft made his appeal to carry the ball for the Republicans last night at a box lunch attended by 4,000 persons at the Beloit Field House College.

His audience—twice the size that was expected—whooped it up when Taft ripped into the Truman administration on all counts—the Korean war, free spending, "five per centers," and a drift toward a "planned economy."

He also drew cheers for a pat on the back for Wisconsin's own Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

He praised the Wisconsin Republican for raising the issue of Communism in the State Department, although last year Taft said he could not agree with all of the McCarthy's charges.

He appealed to the GOP to give him the reins in this Fall's presidential election, not only as the GOP standard bearer but also as the guiding hand in the shaping of the Republican campaign.

The Republicans, he said, will never get into office "around a curtain of generalities."

Taft accused President Truman of "pure hypocrisy" by campaigning in 1948 for a bipartisan foreign policy then tossing it aside after his re-election.
