Mrs. Alva Pryor Died Saturday

Mrs. Alva M. Pryor, 66, Greencastle, Route 4, passed away in the Putnam County Hospital at 6:55 p. m. Saturday where she had been a patient since September 29.

She was the wife of Charles E. Pryor.

The body was taken to the Harrison Funeral Home in Royal Center, Indiana.

Sisters Killed In Auto Crash

Mrs. John B. Williams of the Vincennes community received word Sunday night of the tragic death of two of her sisters, Mrs. Valmette Adams of Pinellas Park, Florida and Mrs. Alice Newland of R. R., Clinton, Indiana, victims of a head-on crash.

The two women were en route to the home of Mrs. Newland from the funeral home in Dana, Indiana, where services for their nephew, Maynard Allen, will be held today.

Tragedy has stalked this family in the last two weeks—because within 36 hours after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Adams from their Florida home for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dusenberry of Mooresville, Mr. Adams was dead of a cerebral hemorrhage.

This double tragedy Sunday evening made the fourth death from the family of Mrs. Williams within the past two weeks.

Mrs. Newland leaves a husband surviving besides three sisters, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Katharine Allen, the mother of Maynard, of the Newport area, and Mrs. Dusenberry, together with Don Stokes of Clinton and Robert Stokes of Newport, brothers of the decedents.

Services for the two are pending at the First Funeral Home in Clinton.

Coatesville Man Dies In Hospital

COMMERCIAL ART SHOW AT DPU

The originators of Dial soap's "Really Great" slogan, Foote, Cone and Belding, Chicago advertising agency, contributed this large commercial illustration to DePauw University's commercial art exhibition which opened Sunday in the Art Center. Art department head A. Reid Winesy holds the illustration which depicts a sequence in the actual development of the advertisements. An introductory gallery talk was given Sunday at 2:30 p. m. by Professor William Meehan.

Choir To Sing At Lafayette

The 25-voice choir of the Greencastle First Baptist Church has been invited to sing at the state meeting of Indiana Baptist Convention Churches in Lafayette.

Appearing before the Baptist assembly Tuesday evening, the local choral group will present two numbers, "My Heart Is Glad" and "The Earth Is the Lord's."

Organized nine years ago, the Greencastle Baptist choir is directed by Mrs. Mace Aker, a former public school music teacher. Organist is Miss Linda Baumunk, a Greencastle High School senior.

The annual sessions of the Indiana Baptist Convention opens today in the First Baptist Church in Lafayette and will continue through Wednesday. Included on the program will be outstanding speakers from the American Baptist Convention, the Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches and the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society.

Among the delegates who will be attending the state Baptist meeting will be the Rev. Stanley D. Nicol, who recently became minister of the Greencastle First Baptist Church.

Traffic Toll 22

By United Press International

Indiana recorded its second most deadly weekend of motor travel this year today with 22 persons killed, including nine in four accidents.

That raised the 1964 traffic death toll to at least 1,042 compared with 989 a year ago and 10 full days ahead of the post-war record pace set in 1963.

Three teenagers, Mike Young, 16, Manchester; Joe Siebolt, 14, Roann; and William Siegfried, 17, Wabash, were killed in the worst accident of the 54-hour period when their car hit a tree Saturday.

Two sisters, Alice Newland, 52, Clinton, and Zolnette Adams, 63, Pinellas Park, Fla., were killed in a two-car collision west of Clinton Sunday.

Rebecca Cockrill, 19, Bowling Green, and Thelma Schlegel, 60, Clay City, were killed Sunday on Indiana 59 south of Brazil in a three-car pileup.

The first multi-fatality accident of the period killed Delbert Moier, 22, and Lorin Barnes, 24, Madison, on Indiana 56 east of Madison Friday night.

Four of the victims were small children, 4-year-old Shannon Walters, Indianapolis, fatally injured Saturday when hit by a car while crossing a Hoosier capital street; 4-year-old Lisa Calvert, Vincennes, killed in a four-car wreck Saturday near Bicknell; Dee Cary, 7, Three Rivers, Mich., fatally injured Saturday in a car that hit a bridge near Anderson, and 6-year-old Brian Alexander, Centerville, Sunday when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car near his home.

The Sunday victims included David A. Voyles, 84, Lafayette, fatally injured when he apparently drove through a red light into the path of another car in Lafayette; James Wiegman, 20, a Butler University student from Forest Park, Ill., fatally injured when he lost control of his car on an Indianapolis street, and Mrs. Edna Ullery, 44, Rochester, killed when her car ran off a Fulton County road near her hometown.

The other weekend victims were Mrs. Grace Owen, South Bend; Phillip Austin, 21, Spencer; Shelby Laxson, 28, Huntsville, Ala.; Thomas M. Epperson, 21, Bloomington; Barbara Rose Hulan, 31, Vincennes, and Anna P. Talbott, 79, Lafayette.

Zenor To Speak

Carl A. Zenor, Executive Director, Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Friends of the Greencastle-Putnam County Library, Wednesday, October 14. Mr. Zenor will talk about "Putnam County in the Civil War." This is the title of his Master Thesis which he wrote during his graduate work at DePauw University. His undergraduate work was completed at DePauw also.

Mr. Zenor has been president of the Indianapolis Civil War Round Table and Chairman of the Indiana Civil War Centennial Commission, and is currently serving as his present post of Executive Director of the Indiana Civil War Centennial and Sesquicentennial Commissions. He is recognized as an authority on Indiana's part in the Civil War.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Service Building's Community Room of the Lone Star Cement Plant at Limestone.

Besides the interesting talk of the evening, our current project, the Bookmobile, will be discussed. All members and interested persons are urged to attend.

Willard E. Silvey, Secretary.

MOSCOW UPI — The Soviet Union launched the world's first multi-manned space ship today with three men aboard, according to Radio Moscow.

Today's Soviet flight climaxes months of unmanned space activity, including the launching of 22 Cosmos research satellites and four electron probes.

The Russians previously have had two people in space at the same time, but not in the same vehicle.

Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich orbited simultaneously in August, 1962, and Valery Bykovsky and Valentina Tereshkova, history's first spacewoman, overlapped their space flights in June, 1963.

Moscow television said the new Soviet space craft will stay aloft at least 24 hours.

Feoktistov's photograph showed him to be a long-faced blond man. Dr. Yegorov's picture was that of a moon-faced man with dark hair.

The space craft is named "Voshkov," which means "Sunrise," or "Dawn."

The Russians call their vehicle a "passenger space ship," indicating their greater emphasis on automatic controls.

The commander has been a mystery man to the Soviet public up to now. He has been known only as Mr. "K."

The Radio Moscow domestic service said the frequencies of the "Voshkov" are: Radio: 143.625 megacycles, 17.365 megacycles and 18.035 megacycles.

Telemetry: 19.9943 megacycles.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the space ship has been put into orbit "close to the prescribed one."

Two-way communications are being maintained with the craft, it said, and the ship's three-man crew reported they "withstood quite well" the launch and the transition to weightlessness.

"All three feel fine," Tass said. All systems on board the "Voshkov" are functioning normally, Tass said, and subsequent reports on the flight will be broadcast by all radio stations of the Soviet Union.

GOP Task Force Raps LBJ's Administration

WASHINGTON UPI — A Republican "task force" has charged that the Johnson administration is endangering U. S. security by failing to conduct nuclear underground tests on weapons systems.

The "peace through preparedness" group headed by former Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, reported to GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater that the administration failure had led to a "critical slippage in our weapons development program."

The panel said that the program of weapons effects testing that had been allowed to "slip alarmingly" during the year since the nuclear test ban treaty was signed.

The Republicans said that Senate ratification of the treaty was predicated upon assurances by the Kennedy administration that four "safeguards" would be carried out. One called for continued nuclear test programs within the limitations of the treaty.

"More than a year has elapsed since ratification of the treaty," the task force report said. "The administration has shown a dangerous reluctance to proceed with the underground test program."

"The most serious deficiency in the execution of the 'safeguards' is in the field of weapons effects testing. There has not been a single weapons effects test conducted since the treaty was signed."

"These inadequacies subject the security of the United States to serious military disadvantages and risks that are not inevitable consequences of the treaty, for they could, with diligence, be avoided."

Ottawa Gives British Queen Warm Welcome

OTTAWA UPI — Queen Elizabeth appears in public to honor Canada's war dead today in the capital where her warm reception was in sharp contrast to the treatment accorded her in French-speaking Quebec.

The Queen planned to lay a wreath at the National War Memorial in a morning ceremony expected to draw a crowd of thousands for the only public appearance of her visit to Ottawa.

After a flight from Quebec City, where she was booed and heckled, the Capital Sunday night gave the British monarch the friendliest greeting she had yet received on her eight-day Canadian tour. A cheering, flag-waving crowd estimated at 25,000 lined the route from the airport in chilly darkness to express its good feeling.

Stringent security measures were in evidence, but police admitted their most difficult problem was traffic control.

After the wreath laying, the Queen and her husband Prince Philip planned to attend a reception for members of Parliament and senators. They were to be guests of honor tonight at a state dinner for 1,000 prominent Canadians.

The Queen flies back to London Tuesday. Prince Philip junks to Mexico and the British West Indies before he returns to England.

West took the ace of spades and led another trump to the ten, thus beginning the best defense. South took the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond in dummy, got back to his hand with the ace of hearts, and ruffed his other diamond.

Having ruffed out those two losers, South looked around for new worlds to conquer. He cashed the king of hearts and gave up a heart trick.

It was a bad day for South. West stepped up with the queen of hearts and returned his last trump, removing the last trump from the dummy. South still had to lose another heart, so that he lost two hearts, a trump and a club. Down one.

South would have made his contract if the six missing hearts were divided 3-3 or if East rather than West had held four hearts. It was a shame. South hinted, that anybody so smart and so handsome could be so consistently unlucky.

HAND IS UNBEATABLE

South should have spent more time thinking and less time moaning. With correct play the hand is unbeatable.

South should begin by leading a low club. When West plays low, declarer puts in dummy's jack to make East win the trick. The idea is to give a club trick to the defender who cannot return a trump.

East returns a heart to the ace, and South leads a club to dummy's ace and ruffs a club.

He takes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, and then ruffs dummy's last club.

This finishes the main job. South ruffs another diamond in dummy, and draws the last trump and cashes the king of hearts. That gives him ten tricks.

Nothing can go wrong with this plan unless West has both the king and queen of clubs. Then West can get in with a club to lead a third trump, but dummy's jack of clubs becomes good to make up for the loss of a ruffing trump.

Mrs. Sallust Hostess To Missionary Society

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Louise Sallust on Oct. 6th.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Ewing Waxler. Roll call was answered by everyone telling the number of Bible chapters they had read in the past month. The Bible book of the month for October is Hebrews.

Business was conducted and many things discussed. The White Cross quota was read by Mrs. Maybelle Rice. It is hoped to have the plate with the church picture and short history on it soon. If interested see Mrs. Francis Padgett or Mrs. Freda Collins.

The Fall Conference will be Oct. 27th at the Amity Church. The program was given by Mrs. Nell Kersey, a report on the first and second chapters of the study book "The American Baptist With Spanish Accent."

The author, Adam Morales, a young man who accepted Christ and became Rev. Adam Morales, Director of Field Work of the Spanish American Baptist Seminary and Director of Spanish Work for the American Baptist Home Missions Societies, tells interesting things of these people. We will hear more chapters in months to come.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Lola Griffith.

Report Clears U. S. Officials

WASHINGTON UPI — A House subcommittee has found that erstwhile Texas business tycoon Billy Sol Estes got no help from government officials through bribery or political pressure.

But, the subcommittee said in a report released Sunday, the government could have been a lot more conscientious in its handling of the case.

The report by the House government operations subcommittee covered an exhaustive two and one-half year study of most of Estes' activities. It said the government did not lose any money to the Pecos, Tex., boy wonder.

Johnson Pledges
10-Point Program

By United Press International
President Johnson pledged today that if elected his programs will be governed by a 10-point "bill of responsibilities." He said he sometimes thinks Sen. Barry M. Goldwater "is running against the office of president instead of for it."

The President offered the campaign credo and renewed his attack on the Republican presidential nominee as he began the last day of a cross-country campaign swing. He was scheduled to make appearances in six Western states before leaving for Washington late tonight.

Johnson was alone on the presidential hustings today. Goldwater took a day's rest from the campaign at his Phoenix home, where he conferred with aides before setting out on a 10-state tour Tuesday.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK
The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 464 A century ago, a Johnson from the South was seeking enough Democrat votes to elect his running-mate and himself as overseers of the nation. He was, of course, Andrew Johnson of Tennessee, the second of three Johnsons from southern states to be a successful Democrat candidate for vice president.

The first was Richard Mentor Johnson of Kentucky, who became the next in line to Martin van Buren in 1837. Having failed to obtain a majority of the electoral votes for vice president in the election in 1836, the Kentuckian was the first and only candidate to secure the office by action of the Senate. He had served in that body, 1819-1829, in between 10 terms in the House of Representatives. However, he went down to defeat with Van Buren in their campaign for a second term in 1840.

Andrew Johnson, who had been a Democrat member of the House, governor of Tennessee, and senator, was chosen in 1864 as a "War Democrat to give proper recognition to that element in the Union Party"—to use a phrase of Prof. Eugene Roseboom, author of the comprehensive "History of Presidential Elections" (pub. by Macmillan).

Lincoln stayed close to the White House after his nomination in 1864, except for one trip to Baltimore for a speech, while Johnson's role was to seek votes from the regular Democrat nominee, Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan.

The result in November, when Lincoln led his opponent by less than 500,000 in the popular vote, could be attributed to some extent to the influence of Andrew Johnson in the border states of Maryland, Missouri, Kansas and other areas. He could have brought some support to Lincoln from Tennessee, but only partly occupied by Union troops, did not choose electors. (Nor, of course, did 10 other states that had declared their secession from the Union in 1861.)

Subjected to threats for his loyalty to the Union and efforts in behalf of the Lincoln ticket, Johnson wore pistols conspicuously.

DePauw Tigers Outplay Butler But Lose Grid Contest, 9 To 6

DePauw claimed virtually every statistical honor it could Saturday, but its failure to include the scoreboard resulted in a 9-6 Butler victory.

The kicking was another bitter one, coming the heels of successive 14-12, 21-18, 13-6 and 12-6 losses to the apparently invincible—for DePauw—ICC champs.

DePauw led in rushing, 176-74, passing, 87-74, first downs, 15-8, and even watched as Tiger Fullback Bill Alcott single-handedly outrushed Butler's backfield.

Alcott gained 99 yards in 29 rushes, just two plays shy of an eight-year old ICC record. He also carried the ball more times than half dozen backs used by Coach Tony Hinkle, 29-27.

Here's more statistical frustration. DePauw pranced off 72 plays to the 42 mustered by Butler. The difference was the good mileage Butler made of the breaks that came its way, plus holding DePauw twice on crucial fourth down situations, once on the Butler two-yard line and again on its own 15.

Both clubs were unable to move in the first quarter until DePauw fielded a Butler punt on its own 30 midway in the period. Mixing a couple of 12-yard passes from Bruce Mackey to Earl Liebich and Tom Cooper and Alcott and Chuck Byrum's running, DePauw bore down finally to the Butler eight-yard line in 10 plays.

Alcott hit for one and two yard gains to the five, Mackey eked to the four, but then on the tense fourth and goal situation, Bronson Davis was stacked up short on the BU two-yard line.

Butler took three cracks with the ball then booted out to the Bulldogs 34. Here Byrum brought it back to the 29 as the first quarter ended. Nine plays later Alcott knifed into the end zone for a 6-0 DePauw lead with 10:43 left in the first half. Bill Schulz' PAT went wide.

The Tigers appeared to be in the driver's seat again moments later when Butler was forced to punt from the BU 48. Chuck Byrum fumbled the ball on the DePauw five, however and before he could corral it both he and the ball had skittered into the end zone where two Butler players tackled them for a two-point safety with seven minutes left in the half. The half ended two series later on DePauw's 49.

Only 27 plays were run in the third quarter, 20 of them by DePauw, the rest by the opposition. But Butler made use of its chances after forcing DePauw to punt following the second half kickoff.

Reserve quarterback Art Enns' threw for 16 yards to the DePauw 39. Th a quartet of running plays, including a 20-yarder by Joe Purichia, quarterback starter, shoved it to the Tiger six. A 15-yard penalty sent in back to the 21 where Purichia stepped in moments later on a fourth down and 16 situation and popped a TD pass into his end Steve Sadler. Bob Downham made it 9-6 with his PAT kick with 8:50 to play in the third quarter.

DePauw gobbled up the rest of the period, grinding from its own 26 to the Butler 15 in 17 plays. Work horse in the last period was Alcott who carried 10 times. Ironically, it was Alcott, who never lost a yard all day, who was fouled on the Tigers' desperate fourth and two bid on the Butler 15.

Butler subsequently gave the ball over on a punt on the next series and DePauw marched right back down the field for 50 yards. Big play that put the Tigers on the Bulldogs 28 with 5:59 remaining in the game was a catch-me-if-you-can pass that bounced off the hands of its intended receiver, skipped through the grasping hands of a Bulldog, then fell into the arms of towering Tiger end George Tesar who snared it for a 36-yard gain.

After Tesar's circus catch, Alcott and Byrum fruked the ball to the enemy 28. Frustratingly, Mackey hit Byrum on a pass, but lost eight yards on the weird development back to the Butler 36. Gambling it would get the ball back again DePauw punted out of bounds to the Bulldog 15.

The ball changed hands two more times before DePauw got back in the maddening business on its own 32 with 32 seconds to play. Mackey, who completed eight of 12 passes for 87 yards, hit Rick Jordan on the 37, then threw an incomplete one, and finally sailed a desperate bomb down field that was picked off by Butler's Art Beck in a game-ending interception.

This Saturday DePauw opens a two-game home stand, first facing once-beaten Washington (Mo.), 21-0 winner Saturday over Valparaiso, and then St. Joseph's on Oct. 24.

Old Gold Freshmen Battle Indiana State Frosh Today

Seeking win number one, DePauw football team today faces Indiana State College's first year men in a 3 p. m. battle at Terre Haute.

According to DePauw's freshman coach, Sam Chattin, the Tigers will field their best team since 1960 when Dick Dean, Doug Weir and associates made their DePauw debuts.

Certainly Chattin's untested squad will be the largest in recent campaigns. Fifty-nine candidates reported for the opening practice over three weeks ago and 44 are still around bidding for the highly competitive starting spots.

Probable starting quarterback for DePauw will be a second generation Tiger, Eric Lortz, all-East at Raleigh, N. C.; Lortz' father played for the DePauw squad in the early 30's.

Other probable starters will be Joel Fischer, Clinton, and Bruce Montgomery, South Bend (ends); Charles Collip, South Bend, and Dave Lamont, Evansville (tackles); Dan Wiggins, Bloomington, and Wayne Carmignani, Glenview, Ill., (guards); Jerrold Barton, Maywood, Ill. (center); Dan Chidister, Goshen (fullback); and Tim Feemester, Lake Forest, Ill., and Percy Hargrove, Gary (halfbacks).

DePauw's other freshman games are set for Oct. 30 (Ball State-here), and Nov. 6 (Valparaiso-there).

JIM ENSOR READY FOR SERIES

There is no more avid baseball fan in town than two-year-old Jim Ensor, a rabid fan and worshiper of Yogi Berra. Jim is ready for today's start of the series, complete with uniform.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ensor of Whipperwill Drive, Greensboro, N. C. and never misses a chance to watch a game on television and looks forward to action on the sandlot when he is a little older.

Recently Jim was on a shopping trip with his mother and spied an inflated rubber figure of his diamond hero, Berra. He was so carried away that he snatched up a baseman's glove and went into a playing routine.

A photograph happened to be in the store and snapped this picture of Jim as he acted out his make-believe game. Needless to say he attracted an amused audience and was the center of attention until his mother took him from the store.

Plan Workshop For Keglers

A workshop conducted by officials of the American Bowling Congress will highlight the annual Indiana State Bowling Jamboree to be held in Hartford City on Saturday and Sunday, October 17-18.

Don Bergmann, a member of the ABC Rules department at Congress national headquarters in Milwaukee, and Dick MacMaster, Columbus, ABC Midwest field representative, will lead the discussion.

All local association officers in the state have been invited to attend the event which is designed to assist local officers in becoming more familiar with ABC and with their own mutual problems and methods of operation. More than 30 states will hold jamborees this year.

On Saturday, October 17, local association presidents, secretaries and treasurers will meet with officers of the Indiana State Bowling association.

On Sunday, a bowling tournament will be held starting at 9:30 a. m. This will be followed by the workshop which will be held at the 4-H building at the fairgrounds at 2:30 p. m. Bergmann and MacMaster will discuss ABC rules, services, policies and procedures and conduct a suggestion and answer period. Emphasis will be on the role of local association leaders in the American Junior Bowling Congress program which is now under joint sponsorship of ABC and the Woman's International Bowling Congress.

A dinner will be served following the workshop.

Tiger Cross Country Team Splits Saturday Match

A split with a pair of Capitol city cross country foes shoved DePauw's season record to 4-4 Saturday in Indianapolis.

The Tigers nudged Butler 25-32 but lost to Indiana Central 15-49 in a set of double dual cross country contests Saturday morning at Butler University.

Indiana Central's John Jarski captured the four-mile run in a time of 21:02, 77 seconds ahead of DePauw's first placer, Kent Ober.

The Tigers grabbed third through seventh spots in beatiful; Butler, but dropped to finishes of 7-9-10-11-12 in falling to powerful Indiana Central. This Saturday the Tigers will

Ken Boyer's Grand Slam Homer Knots World's Series At 2 - All

New York (UPI)—Ken Boyer's grand slam home run combined with the two-hit relief pitching of Roger Craig and Ron Taylor yesterday to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees and square the World Series at two games each.

Boyer's homer, only the ninth bases-filled homer in World Series history, came off Al Downing with one out in the sixth inning and wiped out a 3-0 lead which the Yankees had run up in the first inning against 23-year-old Ray Sadecki who did not retire a batter in his second start of the Series.

The big blow was a screeching line drive deep into the left field stands and brought Craig his second World Series triumph. The veteran right-hander, the hard-luck pitcher of the majors, had lost a total of 46 games for the New York Mets in 1962 and 1963, shut out the Yankees with only two hits for five innings before turning over the mound to the 26-year-old, hard-throwing Taylor.

A long home run brought a crowd of 66,312 at Yankee Stadium roaring to its feet and enabled 33-year-old Boyer, the Cardinals' most effective hitter during the season and the major leagues' runner-up, to lead in batting average for the first time in 13 previous trips to the plate during this Series. He also had a costly error yesterday.

The Series must now go back to St. Louis for a sixth and possibly seventh game regardless of which team wins today's fifth contest in New York.

Boyer's dramatic smash climaxed an inning in which the Cardinals suddenly got in Downing—and then got a big break when the Yankees messed up a potential rally-killing force play at second base.

It also placed a large question mark over the head of Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, home run hero of the third game, who hurt two Yankee rallies—once by trying to stretch a single into a double and another time by being picked off second base. Downing, a hard-throwing 13-game winner during the season, held the Cardinals to one hit for five innings but pinch-hitter Carl Warwick opened the sixth with his third pinch-hit single of the Series—tying the World Series mark of three pinch hits in one classic previously shared by Bobby Brown of the 1947 Yankees and Dusty Rhodes of the 1954 New York Giants.

Curt Flood followed with a single to center and Lou Brock flied out, leaving runners at first and second bases and one out. Then came the big break for the Cardinals. Dick Groat hit a medium speed grounder just to the right of second base. Bobby Richardson fielded the ball cleanly but had a difficult shovel-pass-like throw to make for the force. Shortstop Phil Linz, charging into the force, the runner coming down from first, also had a difficult play. The two misfired—the ball trickled loose and the bases were filled.

PUPS TREE CUBS, 26-0

Fighting like cats and dogs, Greencastle's Tiger Cubs and the Bloomington Bulldog Pups clashed head-on in Pee Wee competition Saturday. Playing in the massive IU stadium, the Cubs repeatedly attempted a surging attack only to be stopped by the Pup's solid line and swift tackles. In the above picture, Timmy Lear, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lear, has a little trouble with one of the "swift tackles," and is brought down on the Greencastle 10-yard line. The slightly larger Bloomington team overran the Cubs 26-0. The Cubs' next scheduled game is at New Market October 18th. Photo by Martin Kruse

OHIO TRIPS ILLINI IN BIG TEN SHOWDOWN 26-0—Last gasp for Illinois in the Big Ten showdown at Champaign, Wayne Paulson (21) gets by a diving tackle by Buckeye Gary Miller, returns a punt 15 yards, and then fumbled as OSU recovered with 54 seconds left. Ohio State scored in every period to take over undisputed top spot in the Big Ten and dampen Illinois' Homecoming crowd of 71,227.

FIFTEENTH IN ROW—TEXAS 28; OKLA. 7—Harold Phillips (35) dives over for a touchdown as Texas' Longhorns racked up their 15th win in a row in downing Oklahoma at Dallas, 28-7, before a capacity Cotton Bowl crowd of 75,000. Oklahoma's Eddie McQuarters (64) makes a vain attempt to stop Phillips' drive.

BOYER BONER-BLAST GIVE CARDS FOURTH GAME—In a three-run Yankee first inning of the fourth World Series game at Yankee Stadium, Phil Linz heads safely for third as Cardinal third-baseman Ken Boyer throws the ball past second baseman Dal Maxvill in a rundown. The same Boyer redeemed himself with a grand slam homer in the sixth and the Cards tied the series at two games apiece, 4-3.

Storage Advise For Boat Owners

Pleasure boat owners who lay up their craft during the winter months would do well to give a little thought to the matter now, although several scores of good boating days still lie ahead.

For one thing, anyone planning to store in a reservation.

With the large number of new boats that took to the water this season, boatyard space, already in short supply, is going to be at a premium this fall.

Some boat owners who have the land area available at home like to store their craft there, even boats up to 30 feet. In many instances, the cost of having a firm haul a boat from the water to a backyard and back again in the spring is less than boatyard storage. The owner has the advantage of having his boat at hand for fitting out for next season. A good idea is to check costs with the trucking firms now.

Another possibility for winter moth-balling is wet storage, or storage afloat. In many areas boatyards use hot air pipes run underwater alongside docks to keep the water ice-free and eliminate damage from that source. Here again, it's a good idea to check now on available space.

In areas where ice is less frequent, these de-icing systems are not necessary and many owners prefer wet storage. They point out that the water provides a perfect cradle and planks never dry out. However, a spring haulout usually is necessary for bottom painting and checking underwater fittings.

Many boaters have their own trailers and these are the winter resting places for their craft, usually at home in garages or backyards. Now is a good time to check trailers, touching up rust spots, greasing wheel bearings, inspecting tires.

This is also a good time to check boat cradles to make certain all supports are secure and the year ahead adequate. Poor shoring can spring a boat's hull and the result is poor performance in the years ahead.

Another pre-layup chore that can be gotten out of the way now is a close inspection of the boat's cover. Winter covers often rot out at the seams or develop weak spots that winter winds could turn into huge rips. It's easier to repair these now than wait until the last minute.

A letter-writer who also is obviously a fisherman offers an emergency method for splicing an ignition or other wire aboard a boat when no soldering equipment is available. He writes that he uses a split-shot sinker over the pointed wires, clamping it onto them firmly with a pair of pliers. He follows this with a wrapping of friction tape to provide a safe and dependable connection.

We have found it is good practice to check outboard fuel tanks once or twice a season for foreign matter such as sand, rust scale, grass, water droplets, etc. These invariably get into tanks via dirty funnels and fuel pump nozzles, condensation, dirty caps or caps left off. Sometimes this foreign matter can be poured out with a small amount of fuel left in the tank. Also, by using a siphon and expending a small amount of fuel, you can "vacuum clean" the tank by moving the siphon hose back and fourth across the bottom of the tank.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Doctor, I'd Like To Know—

MY FIVE-year-old granddaughter contracted purpura after measles. What causes purpura and does it leave any after-effects?

Dr. Coleman

Mrs. L. J., Illinois: Dear Mrs. J.: Purpura is a blood disorder which is characterized by tiny pinpoint blood-red spots beneath the skin and the mucous membrane lining of the mouth. These are called petechiae.

This condition is almost always identified with a decrease in an important element in the blood called platelets.

The causes of purpura are many and varied. Some cases of purpura are transient; others are more serious. This condition sometimes occurs as a "side-effect" of certain viral or bacterial infections, like measles or meningitis.

The likelihood is that the purpura your grandchild had was a temporary condition incidental to her case of measles, and will probably leave no after-effects.

Our 16-year-old daughter had a plastic operation on her nose five months ago. Since then her menstrual periods have become very irregular. She seems to suffer from complete exhaustion after the slightest activity. Can this be due to the operation?

Mrs. J. M., Rhode Island: Dear Mrs. M.: An operation of any kind can temporarily upset the physical and emotional equilibrium of a patient.

A plastic operation may be accompanied by a particularly high degree of emotional strain because patients often build up such great hopes and expectations about the results. It is natural for a person of any age to be emotionally affected by the decision to change her appearance.

The menstrual cycle is frequently irregular even under completely normal conditions. It is entirely conceivable that your daughter's operation and the anxiety connected with it may have temporarily disturbed the normal pattern of her menstrual cycle. Consult your physician. He can offer reassurance. In many instances specific medications can be used to re-establish regularity.

We are discussing venereal disease with our teenage children. Can you tell me how syphilis is spread? Can a young child pick up this disease?

Mr. M. T., Ontario: Dear Mr. T.: You are wise to educate your children about this disease. Too few people realize that syphilis is still a vast threat to health, even in this age of wonder drugs.

Syphilis is spread by intimate body contact. Children most definitely can acquire it, too. Even babies can be born with congenital syphilis.

Every public health agency all over the world will gladly supply excellent educational material about this disease and its prevention.

While Dr. Coleman cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

MAIL THIS APPLICATION TODAY—BE SURE TO INCLUDE CHECK OR MONEY ORDER
This special enrollment expires at midnight, October 20, 1964. Prepare your application carefully and completely, and be sure to check whether you want single membership or family membership. (Family membership includes spouse and unmarried children through age 19.) Mail your check or money order for one month's fee by midnight, October 20, to: Blue Cross-Blue Shield, 110 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis 9, Indiana. Membership becomes effective October 20, 1964.

MONTHLY $12 Room Allowance FEES: $16 Room Allowance

BLUE CROSS WILL PROVIDE:
HOSPITAL SERVICES for in-patients for 30 days, plus half of the cost for an additional 30 days during each Certificate Year as follows:

ROOM AND BOARD—Up to $12 or $16 per day (depending upon the option you choose when you enroll) during the full benefit period and up to $6 or $8 per day during the 50% period.

ANCILLARY, PROFESSIONAL SERVICES—Operating room, delivery room, anesthesia when given by a hospital employee, drugs, dressings, supplies, plaster casts, oxygen therapy, administration of blood and blood plasma, x-ray examinations, laboratory service, pathological services, electrocardiograms, basal metabolism tests, and physical therapy.

OUT-PATIENT SERVICES—Payment for above services in accident cases when provided within 72 hours of accident. Also hospital expenses for outpatient surgery (except oral surgery) physical therapy and removal of casts after hospitalization.

HOME CARE—When a member has received benefits under this Certificate as a bed patient, and is discharged from a hospital and the attending physician prescribes additional care and treatment in connection with the condition for which he was hospitalized, Blue Cross will provide payment of the reasonable charges for the use of the following: Nursing service of a visiting nurse when available through a contracting Visiting Nurse Association; surgical and orthopedic appliances; hospital bed including orthopedic and traction equipment; drugs which can be purchased only on a physician's prescription to the extent of 80% of the reasonable charges, after the member or dependent has expended the sum of $10 for such drugs.

Benefits commence on the day of discharge from the hospital and continue for a period of time equal to four times the number of "unused days of full benefits" which are available. For example, if you were hospitalized for ten days, you would have 20 days left that Certificate Year, which, multiplied by four, would give you 80 days of home care. Half days cannot be used for Home Care.

BLUE SHIELD WILL PROVIDE:
SURGICAL SERVICES—Surgical allowances according to the Standard Schedule up to $200 for operative and cutting procedures for the treatment of diseases, injuries, fractures and dislocations whether the services are rendered in the hospital, in the home or in the physician's office.

ANESTHESIA—When administered in the hospital by a practicing physician other than the operating surgeon or his assistant, paid as follows: $10 for surgical allowances up to $50, and 20% of surgical allowances over $50.

IN-HOSPITAL MEDICAL CARE—After at least 18 consecutive hours as a bed patient in a hospital, provides allowances for medical service in hospitals, not connected with preparation for or after care of surgical or obstetrical cases of up to $10 for the first day, $3 per day for the next 29 days and $1.50 per day for the next 30 days on which a physician makes one or more calls not to exceed 60 days per Certificate Year. Also provides for x-ray service in a physician's office for possible fractures and dislocations, up to $15 per Certificate Year.

OBSTETRICAL SERVICES—Payment for services for conditions of pregnancy is made according to the Standard Schedule.

WAITING PERIODS—Maternity care and obstetrical service will be provided the member or spouse after the family membership has been in effect for 270 consecutive days. Services for tonsillectomies and adenoidectomies will be provided after the membership has been in effect for 180 consecutive days, and for pre-existing conditions after the membership has been in effect for 270 consecutive days.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD DOES NOT PROVIDE:
Hospital or doctor care for rest cures, physical examinations, observation or diagnosis for injuries received on the job and covered by Workmen's Compensation Laws and like laws • blood and blood plasma • ambulance service • care received in a Veterans, Marine or other Federal hospital or from a governmental agency • care for injuries received as a result of war • Visiting Nurse Service for maternity or obstetrical care • care received in a health resort, rest home, custodial institutions, homes for the aged and similar institutions.

RAPS POLICIES—Answering questions at a news conference in Chicago, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Southeast Asia may be lost to the Communists within three years if administration policies are not changed in Viet Nam.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 465 "Of hundreds of orders issued by General Sherman during the Atlanta Campaign, none affected the citizens of Atlanta more intimately and painfully than Special Orders No. 67, which provided for their exile," Franklin M. Garrett, author of "Atlanta and Environs," wrote.

It decreed [see No. 456 in this series], "The city of Atlanta being exclusively required for warlike purposes, will at once be vacated by all except the armies of the United States, and such civilians as may be retained."

From mid-September into October 1864, Atlanta families struggled southward, seeking relatives who would take them in. Some Negro servants accompanied them, but most of the slaves took their chances to the North, within the lines of their liberators. Union forces and civilian authorities had not organized housing and feeding for them, and many of the Negro refugees were thrust into conditions worse than they had left.

STORAGE IS THE EXTRA PLUS you'll get in this pair of hutches from the "Athenia" Collection. The modern design traces its concept to the Greek goddess and suggests the classic architecture of Greek's golden era. The select walnut veneers are finished in a medium brown whose rich beauty is underlined by the antiqued brass finished pulls and ferrules. The Princess chairs are offered in a variety of fabrics and give a choice of fruitwood, mahogany or walnut legs. The self-decked 90" sofa, shown here in a matelasse fabric, is available in a wide variety of fabrics. "Athenia" by Stanley Furniture Co., seating by Burton Upholstery Co., Inc. #43

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking . . .

IS THERE any danger to the eye when the eyelids do not close in Bell's palsy?

Bell's palsy is a paralysis of the face due to injury or disease of the facial nerve. It is usually temporary. Most often the coordination of the facial muscles returns to normal when the nerve heals.

Normally the eyelids operate with a very rapid reflex action to protect the eye from foreign bodies or other irritation. When a

Dr. Coleman paralysis results from Bell's palsy and the eyelids cannot close, the eye is exposed to harm from dirt and drafts. The thin transparent covering of the eye (conjunctiva) becomes less sensitive to particles of dust and dirt that may be deposited on it.

Specially constructed eyeglasses that completely enclose the eye can offer protection without the need for wearing the usual eye patch.

What causes enlargement of the breast in men?

The glandular tissue within the male breast is not unlike that of a female. Sometimes there is an enlargement of the male breast due to some glandular disturbance.

In many instances enlargement of the breast accompanies tremendous overweight. Even after weight loss, the breast may sometimes remain enlarged.

Plastic surgery may be safely and successfully performed on the breast, and can be particularly beneficial in relieving embarrassment about the condition. But first the exact cause of the enlargement must be determined.

What is meant by a hernia of the diaphragm?

This condition is called hiatus hernia.

The diaphragm is a flexible wall of muscle which contracts and relaxes as we breathe in and out. It separates the chest from the abdomen.

The esophagus (tube which carries food from the mouth into the stomach) passes through a small opening in the diaphragm called the hiatus. Sometimes, especially in the elderly, this opening, or hiatus, becomes enlarged and troublesome.

Medication and rigid diet are usually effective in relieving the discomfort of this condition. In some instances surgery is necessary and very successful.

The symptoms of hiatus hernia may be confused with those of gall bladder disease and stomach ulcers. Accurate diagnosis can readily be made by barium X-ray studies of the esophagus and stomach.

What is meant by the "rice diet" for high blood pressure?

For many years a diet composed mainly of rice was a popular treatment for high blood pressure. This diet was designed to reduce salt, cholesterol and weight.

In the past ten years many excellent drugs have been developed which have been very successful in the treatment of high blood pressure. These drugs have brought such gratifying results that the rigid rice diet is now seldom depended on as the only cure for high blood pressure.

While Dr. Coleman cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

AN "EVICTION NOTICE" has been served on British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home (left) by British Labour Party Chairman Harold Wilson (right) to get out of No. 10 Downing Street, the prime minister residence in London. WELL-DRESSED

DALLAS UPI—A dress a month is par for a Texas high school girl — at least so researchers found when they surveyed nearly 500 junior and senior students in Bryan, College Station, Dallas and Fort Worth.

The survey, made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, showed also that nearly two-thirds, one some occasion of other, felt all-at-ease because they were inappropriately dressed.

SPY TRIAL—John William Butenko, 38, former defense plant electronics engineer, walks to the federal building in Newark, N.J., for a session of his trial on spy conspiracy charges. Reds again.

"PURPLE HEART"—Adlai E. Stevenson, U.N. ambassador, appears on the Northwestern University campus in Evanston, Ill., with a broken finger. He said his finger was broken while breaking up a dog fight. "It's just another result of my efforts in trying to keep the peace," said he.

gas cooking costs only half as much!

... and there are no expensive burner replacements

Gas burners are guaranteed for the life of the range

Gas burners don't burn out and they don't wear out. So you never have to put up with the inconvenience of burners that go bad . . . nor the expense and delay of getting them replaced.

Furthermore, there's no loss of efficiency in a Gas burner. Year after year it delivers the full amount of heat it was built to deliver. There's no fading away, no growing weak from use or age.

Consider, too, the low cost of cooking with Gas—about half the cost of "flameless" cooking. This means you can cook two meals with Gas for the cost of one cooked the "flameless way."

Add it all up and you'll see that Gas is by far the most economical way to cook. It's faster and cleaner, too. No wonder more women are switching to Gas cooking. How about you?

New Facts About Wonder Drugs

THE ANTIBIOTIC wonder drugs were the object of intensive discussion at the International Antibiotics Conference at Prague. Great interest centered about a pioneering discovery. Tissues filled with antibiotics, especially the tetracyclines, were found to give off a brilliant fluorescence when examined under ultraviolet light.

Dr. Coleman

Prior to this discovery, it had been felt that the value of antibiotics depended entirely on their destructive force against bacteria. The new studies show how antibiotics actually penetrate disease tissue.

This technique seems to pave the way for important strides in the diagnosis of disease as well as in its cure. The meeting emphasized that scientists are never content to rest on their laurels. New ideas are tracked down with unswerving diligence, all in the hope that man will benefit by sustained health and greater longevity.

TELLTAL TONGUE

The appearance of the tongue is a quick, and often reliable index of the body's health. Important diagnostic information can be obtained by the careful scrutiny of this important organ.

In scarlet fever, there is an enlargement of tiny buds, recognizable as the "raspberry tongue."

Pernicious anemia, iron and vitamin deficiencies all have their characteristic tongue appearances. Fine tremors of the tongue are important in thyroid disturbances. Fungus infections are readily recognized by the changes they produce on the surface of the tongue. Drugs sometimes produce alterations on the tongue's surface.

A recent study in Ann Arbor, Mich., has shown that furrowed and shrunken tongues are an excellent indication of the body's loss of fluid.

Volunteers For Research

At the University of Michigan Hospital, seven healthy, normal men volunteered to spend three to five days with unusually small amounts of fluid intake. Every one of these patients, after the third day of dehydration, developed characteristic changes in the appearance of the tongue.

From this, the investigators evolved a potential technique for diagnosing the fluid content of the body, and possible kidney impairment.

Every scientific study adds another important spoke in the wheel of the understanding of the total human being.

HYPNOSIS IN ASTHMA

At the Colindale Hospital in London dramatic results have been reported in the control of asthma by hypnosis.

The pilot study has been sufficiently exciting to justify further investigation in England and in America.

These columns are designed to relieve your fears about health through a better understanding of your mind and body. All the hopeful new advances in medicine reported here are known to doctors everywhere.

Your individual medical problems should be handled by your own doctor. He knows you best.

HORACE LINK & CO. & Simmons make an amazing Free Offer on Beautyrest Super Sizes

THIS MONTH ONLY

Buy any Beautyrest Super size mattress-boxspring set and we'll give you absolutely free, a pair of Simmons Bed-stretcher Rails or a Simmons steel frame with casters... worth up to $30!

Simmons Bed-stretcher rails make your present bed longer or longer and wider.

Simmons steel bed frame with casters features Stay-Lock construction.

HERE'S WHY YOU NEED A SUPER SIZE BEAUTYREST

1. You can sleep uncrowded, undisturbed

It's no wonder you're crowded while trying to sleep on an ordinary double bed. Your share is only 27 inches wide... the width of a crib mattress.

Beautyrest Super sizes give today's taller sleepers the stretch-out room they've wanted for so long... up to 54" more sleeping space for unparalleled comfort.

2. Famous Beautyrest construction gives more comfort and better support for every part of your body.

Look at the hammock type of sleep you get from an ordinary mattress with its tied-together coils. Push down on one and they all go down.

Here's why even the heaviest husband can't disturb his wife's rest on a Beautyrest. Independently acting coils provide separate, non-sag support.

Here's your chance to Sleep Bigger, Sleep Better and Save Money, Too!

Come in to our store today and select the Beautyrest Super size that's right for you, the one that's going to give you the best rest a body ever had. But act now, so you'll be able to get your free Bed-stretcher Rails or Bed Frame and save up to $30.00 in the bargain. Choose from these Super size sets:

Long Boy Twin or Full Size. 5 inches longer than standard size bed. Set of mattress & boxspring... $179.00

Queen-Size. 6 inches wider and 5 inches longer than double bed. Set of mattress & boxspring... $199.50

King-Size. 2 feet wider and almost half a foot longer than double bed. Mattress & 2 twin boxsprings... $299.50

As little as $8.00 per month will permit you to enjoy the comfort of a Beautyrest Super Size Set.
