Delta Kappa Gamma Held Meeting

Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma opened its fall activities with a carry-in dinner at the home of Mrs. Joe Davidson, Coatesville, on October 3. Following the bountiful meal Mrs. Wanda Gibbs presided over the business meeting. "Changing Patterns in Other Cultures" will be the theme for the 1964-65 programs. Mrs. Minnie Mae Rightsell announced special speakers who will contribute to this challenging program. Mrs. Edna Boyd presented four areas of consideration for the Personal Growth and Services Program which will include participation in Books U S A, and individual personal growth program through a members book library, a free will donation for the national scholarship fund and the Books for Asians.

The research program of last year covering a resume of dropouts in Putnam County under the guidance of Mrs. June Irwin has become the model for the state research program and is being included in all mail distributed by Dr.

Martha Cornich to the research chairmen of all the chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma in Indiana, was announced by Mrs. Merle Eggers, present chairman of the research committee. The topic for research this year will be "What is being done toward education of retarded children?"

Special recognition has been given to an active member of Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. It has been announced that Miss Audrey Beatty has been selected to the Who's Who among alumni of South Dakota State University. Miss Beatty has served the Epsilon Chapter in various offices and as President, 1956-60. Miss Pauline Biddle, State Executive Secretary, will be a special guest and speaker at the November meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Percy Masten.

Bible Thought

It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because His compassion fail not. Lamentations 3:22.

The fact that a Holy God does not strike dead the railing atheist proves just one thing—not that there is no God—but that the God who is—is merciful far beyond our power of comprehension.

Eagle Halfback On Injured List

PHILADELPHIA UPI — Halfback Timmy Brown, the Philadelphia Eagles' leading ground gainer, will be out of the lineup "indefinitely" because of a thigh injury, the club announced Monday.

Brown underwent "minor and corrective" surgery at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital for the injury, sustained during a 35-20 loss in the Washington Redskins Sunday. Dr. James E. Nixon, team physician, said the injury had hemorrhaged. He said Brown was "resting comfortably."

Case Argued In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON UPI — Attorneys for the states of Alabama and Mississippi argued before the Supreme Court today to uphold convictions that could put several civil rights leaders behind bars.

The Alabama attorneys were defending the convictions of 11 persons, including four top aides of the Rev. Martin Luther King, for sitting at a traditionally all-white lunch counter in a Montgomery bus terminal during the 1961 "freedom rider" campaign.

Mississippi was asking the high court to uphold the conviction and six-month sentence given Aaron Henry, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People NAACP, on a morals charge.

Louis H. Pollak, attorney for the Alabama defendants, opened his presentation Monday. He told of how they were arrested after being accompanied to the terminal by National Guard troops.

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The question of whether a man is as well-qualified as a woman to serve as superintendent of a correctional or penal institution for women will again face the 1965 Indiana Legislature.

Indiana Department of Correction Commissioner Arthur Campbell says a bill already has been written which would amend existing legislation so that either a man or a woman may be named as superintendent of the Indiana Girls School or the Indiana Women's Prison. At present the law specifies the superintendent of these two institutions must be a woman.

Campbell said he was confident the bill will get a better reception than did similar proposed legislation in 1963. It died in committee.

He pointed to the present situation at the Indiana Girls School as an example.

Currently James McCart, veteran penal and correctional administrator, is acting head of the school, and its legal woman superintendent, Mrs. Frieda Lyda, is hospitalized under doctor's orders to take a rest following a major riot and a series of incidents at the school.

Campbell said Mrs. Lyda is recuperating at St. Vincent's Hospital. But he added that her doctor had ordered "a complete rest" for her and that it was possible she might not return during the balance of Governor Welsh's term.

Mrs. Lyda, a 45-year-old widow, undertook the difficult job of heading the girls' school July 16, 1962, and dedicated herself to a 24-hour-a-day schedule in trying to change the understaffed and under-financed school into a rehabilitative institution.

She came to the job with little background in penal or correctional work but with an impressive career in education. "We were fortunate to get her," Campbell said.

The changes which Mrs. Lyda sought unsuccessfully to make may yet be achieved, thanks to the chaotic events which led to her hospitalization. A riot at the school Sept. 10 took 63 law officers to quell and has been followed by tensions which still exist, according to McCart. "We are a long way from having the institution we want here," he added.

A nine-member legislative committee and a Marion County grand jury are making investigations at the school and from them may come some improvements. Campbell said some of the legislative committee members have told him they would back permissive legislation allowing either a man or a woman to be named as superintendent or both women's institutions.

Sausage with macaroni and cheese
Makes 4 to 6 servings
1 tablespoon of salt
3 quarts of boiling water
2 cups of elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
6 smoked sausages
2 cups grated cheddar cheese (about 1/2 pound)
1 large onion, chopped fine
1 1/2 cups of milk
1 teaspoon of dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon of caraway seed
Add 1 tablespoon of salt to the rapidly boiling water. Gradually add the macaroni so that the water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in a colander.
Split the Eckrich smoked sausage lengthwise and stuff with half the cheese. Combine the macaroni and the rest of the ingredients and mix lightly but thoroughly. Turn into a greased one and one-half quart baking dish, and arrange the stuffed smoked sausages on the top.
Cover and bake in a moderate stage.
ate (350 degree F.) oven 30 minutes. Uncover and continue baking 10 minutes or until the smoked sausages are lightly browned.
Eckrich sausages are pre-cooked so the browning process takes very little time for them to reach the golden and succulent stage.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

It would take an eight-sided person to see all sides of questions and answers presented this day and age. Solomon would be a piker of today. From my point of view, retired and on fixed income received from saving and slaving during my earning years to have it snatched away in high cost of living and taxes to relieve the poverty-stricken in this age of high prosperity. What an over-worked world! I guess President Johnson doesn't want to see anyone around him wearing socks with holes and frayed collars, but we are likely to be without shirts. If they can accomplish such an Utopia, why can't they put things on a more even keel? As the Presidential task is such a time consuming and important job, I feel that the President should stay in the White House and attend to business and not run for another term. They strive so hard "to get in," so should they strive to do something for us prosperous people in these poverty stricken times or we will all be on the same level and his end accomplished, but we won't have fourteen million dollars.

V. L.

Letter To The Editor:

The BANNER's description of the high school footballers' loss to West Vigo was not only depressing but I also feel somewhat insulted to a fine bunch of youngsters, their coaches, and our high school itself. Sure, they lost the game, and, sure, they haven't won a game this season, but — they haven't stopped trying; they didn't quit against West Vigo last Friday night, and I'm positive you will find them out on our field this Friday night doing their best again. It's mighty easy for people like your reporter to "knock" the team, and kick'em when they are down enough as it is, but — there are some of us who are proud of their efforts, their morale, and their courage in the face of adversity, and who will support them just as much as if they were on a 6-game winning streak.

I would be interested in knowing how much your reporter knows about football — from the inside, that is, — that leads him to know West Vigo was no better than the Tiger Cubs and thus permitted him to mastermind their loss. Most particularly, too, does he know that a bruise or a broken thumb is just as painful when received in a losing effort as it is in a winning one — maybe more so. Thus, may I respectfully suggest that these youngsters are our boys; they are representing our school and our town; they need and are entitled to our support, and some of us resent such supercilious, nasty, and discouraging write-ups as that which we saw in Saturday's paper. Perhaps you can find something else for your reporter to do; writeups of athletic events and support of town efforts obviously aren't among his assets.

Sincerely,
Hugh F. Henry

Hold Negro In Woman's Slaying

WASHINGTON UPI — A 25-year-old Negro laborer was being held today for the slaying of a prominent artist who was shot to death on a canal tow-path where she used to walk with Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The victim, Mary Pinchot Meyer, 43, was slain in an apparent robbery attempt shortly before 1 p. m. EDT Monday as she walked along the Chesapeake & Ohio canal in the fashionable Georgetown section of the nation's capital.

Friends said that she had often walked the same path with Mrs. Kennedy when the former First Lady lived in Georgetown.

Within an hour after the slaying, police arrested Raymond Crump Jr. and charged him with homicide. He was arraigned before the U. S. commissioner and ordered held without bail.

Authorities said that Crump had been picked from a police lineup by a truck driver who identified him as a man he had seen standing over the body. The driver said he heard two shots fired.

Set Flood Loss At $10 Million

KINSTON, N. C. UPI — Flood waters from the rain-swollen Neuse River swirled today through parts of eastern North Carolina where early damage estimates totaled $10 million.

But officials hoped that the worst of the flooding, which drove 3,700 persons from their homes, was over.

Gov. Terry Sanford declared a state of emergency in the area Monday and wired President Johnson for federal assistance.

An estimated 2,500 persons were forced from their homes in the Kinston area by late Monday night as the crest of the river rolled through the town and countryside.

At Goldsboro, to the northwest, flood waters continued to fall but 1,200 of the 2,000 persons who left last weekend still were unable to return to their homes.

Red Space Ship Lands Safely

MOSCOW UPI — The Soviet Union's three-man space ship and its three passengers landed safely today after a day in space, it was officially announced.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the huge Voskhod Sunrise space craft landed "at the pre-assigned area after successfully accomplishing the set program of scientific exploration."

All three spacemen — Pilot-commander Col. Vladimir Komarov, 37; scientist Konstantin Feoktistov, 38; and space surgeon Boris Yegorov, 27, are "feeling fine," the agency said.

The Russian "space bus" was the first space ship in history to carry more than one man.

Tass said it was designed to stay up 24 hours. It landed on Russian soil at 10:47 a. m. Moscow time, 3:47 a. m. EDT. This was 24 hours and 17 minutes after it was launched.

It made 16 orbits of the earth.

British Queen Leaves Canada

OTTAWA — UPI — Queen Elizabeth flew back home today, ending the most controversial and tension-packed royal tour in her 12 year reign.

Thousands of persons turned out in a cold rain to give the Queen a sendoff as she rode in her limousine along the nine mile route from the government house to the airport. An estimated 1,200 children at the airport burst into cheers when the Queen arrived at the plane side.

Barry Is Praised By Eisenhower

GETTYSBURG, Pa. UPI — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday night praised Republican presidential nominee Sen. Barry M. Goldwater as "an honest man, a man of integrity and character and dedicated to this nation."

Eisenhower said "you may disagree with some of the things he said in the past, but you must remember for a long time he was a free-wheeling senator who could not be called to account."

"But now he is trying for the greatest political job in the world. There is nothing flip, there is nothing impulsive, in any drop of blood in his body today."

Yank Released By Kidnapers

CARACAS UPI — Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Smolen of Chandler, Ariz., told newsmen early today he was "relatively well treated" by the Communist kidnapers who held him prisoner for 87 hours over the weekend.

Smolen was released late Monday night in Caracas's El Florida district. He said his captors neither threatened him nor made any move to harm him despite their handouts to news media here saying he might be killed.

Angry Customer

LONDON UPI — Police racing to answer a robbery call at a shop here found an angry snuff customer who had been over-charged two pence.

... AT THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

The President and Vice President are elected not by direct vote of the people but by the Electoral College, as provided for in the Constitution.

When you cast your vote in the presidential election on November 3 you will do so by voting for electors on the slate of one or the other party. Each state has as many electors as it has Senators and Representatives in the Congress, but no member of Congress or federal officeholder shall be an elector. The 50 states, with 100 Senators and 435 Representatives, account for 535 members of the Electoral College, but in 1964, for the first time since passage of the 23rd Amendment to the Constitution giving the District of Columbia three electoral votes, members will number

The Electoral College never meets as a body. Electors meet in their state capitals—this year, December 14. By custom, each elector votes for his party's national nominee; the Constitution does not require him to do so, but exceptions have been rare. Certified and sealed lists of the votes are sent to the President of the U. S. Senate and on January 6, in presence of Senate and House in joint session, he opens the certificates and the votes are counted. The Constitution provides that (1) if no candidate for President has a majority of the House (one vote to each state) chooses one of the three top candidates, and (2) if no candidate for Vice President has a majority the Senate (one vote to each Senator) chooses from the two top candidates.

... AT CONGRESSIONAL RACES.

This year 35 U. S. Senators are to be elected and, of course, all 435 members of the House of Representatives. Two of the Senate races will be special elections to fill unexpired terms of the late Senators Kefauver (R., Tenn.) and Kerr (D., Okla.)

Regular senatorial elections will be held in Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Indiana, Maryland, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Auto Workers' hopes for preserving the historic profit-sharing contract with American Motors were all but dead today with the company and union going into the final stages of bargaining for a new contract for some 26,000 workers.

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman and director of the UAW American Motors department Douglas Fraser agreed the company's economic offer Monday left the two sides relatively close together on a national economic agreement.

But the optimism was clouded by qualifications by both sides. Fraser said the union wanted the profit sharing — or progress sharing — program continued, even though AMC dropped it when it framed the offer along the lines of settlements the union won from the big three.

Cushman, in turn said any national settlement between

AMC and the UAW would be contingent on five demands the company included in the offer that must be agreed to on the local level.

Famous 80-20 Collision Coverage Protects Your Pocketbook Against $40 and $50 Auto Repair Bills

What if you were involved in an auto collision that did 40, 50, or 60 dollars damage to your car. How much of the repair bill would your present auto policy pay?

Company records show that 65% of all collision losses are small . . . less than 75 dollars. That's why Farm Bureau Insurance emphasizes its famous 80-20 collision coverage . . . to protect you against the losses that are not covered in most deductible policies. Here's how our 80-20 protection works:

You pay only 20% of the loss, even if it is only one dollar. Farm Bureau Insurance pays 80% of each loss, up to $200 . . . and 100% of the loss above that. The most you can ever pay on one loss is $40, even if your car is totally demolished.

Here is protection that relieves you of the financial strain of every accident, yet the premium is comparatively low. That's why 84% of our policyholders who carry collision insurance, are protected with this 80-20 collision coverage.

Available through Thrifty McBip®

Auto premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually—or you may use the Thrifty McBip plan which allows you to lump all your Farm Bureau Insurance together, and pay for it in regular monthly payments that are easy on your budget.

Does your present auto policy expire soon? See your Farm Bureau Insurance agent before renewing. He probably can save you money.

Today's hand, constructed by Terence Reese for a 1938 par Contest, was played widely that year in England. In most cases East was allowed to play the hand at four spades, for a score of 620 points.

In a few cases North was enterprising enough to sacrifice at five hearts. It was a wise decision since North had no sure defensive trick of his own, and it was unreasonable to suppose that South could beat four spades singlehanded.

When South did play at five hearts doubled good defense was enough to beat him. East won the first trick with the king of spades and promptly shifted to the queen of clubs. South could take the ace of clubs, but then West was ready to take a club trick when he got in with the ace of diamonds. East-West thus collected 200 points for their pains. Not as good as 620, of course, but a lot better than it might have been.

NOT FAST ENOUGH

In a few cases the shift to clubs didn't come fast enough. East won the trick with the king of spades and returned a trump. South took the ace of trumps and led his singleton diamond. West stepped up with the ace and returned a club, but it was too late. South was with the ace of clubs, got to dummy with a trump to discard a club on the king of diamonds, and ruffed a diamond.

The rest was routine. South ruffed a spade in dummy and ruffed another diamond. South then led a trump to dummy to discard his last two clubs on the two good diamonds. Declarer still had a trump to take the last trick scoring his doubled game and the rubber.

TRICK OR TREAT TOTES

Jane Ashley

Finger painting of ordinary paper paint buckets to make trick-or-treat totes is a good Halloween party activity. It's relatively quiet, which mothers appreciate, and the youngsters are happy because they have something to take home.

Children are familiar with the ease of finger painting and fortunately materials needed are inexpensive. Finger paint, paper paint buckets, water, sponges and newspaper, plastic or oil cloth to cover the work surface are all that is required.

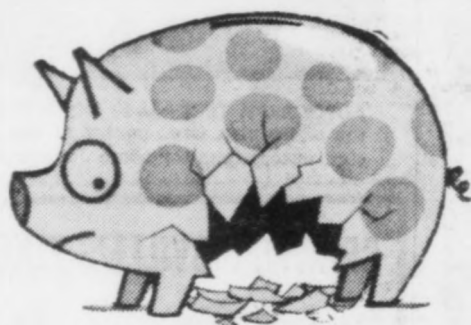

Color the paints Halloween orange and black as well as the blue, green, yellow and red so popular with the under ten year olds.

Finger Paint
1/2 cup corn starch
1 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
1/2 cup soap flakes or detergent
Tempera paint, all-purpose dye, or pure food colors
Mix corn starch with 1/4 cup cold water. Soak gelatin in remaining 1/4 cup water. Add hot water to corn starch mixture, stirring constantly, and cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil and is clear. Remove from heat; blend in softened gelatin. Add soap or detergent; stir until dissolved and mixture is thickened. Divide and color portions as desired. Color brilliantly as colors appear less intense when used. Makes about 3 cups.

MARCH OF EVENTS

RFK HAS PRECEDENCE
IN SEN. RUFUS KING

EARLY BAY STATE MAN
N. Y. SENATE CANDIDATE

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—When Robert Kennedy decided to run for the United States Senate from New York, he had as precedence the example of another Massachusetts resident, one of the most distinguished figures in early American politics.

He was Rufus King, who represented the Bay State in the Continental Congress for three terms and then moved to New York, which chose him as its first U. S. senator.

King was a towering figure, even among the giants of those days. He was held in high esteem by such diverse personalities as Alexander Hamilton and King George III.

Daniel Webster said of King: "You never heard such a speaker. In strength and dignity, and fire; in ease and natural effect and gesture, as well as in manner, he is unequalled." In 1816, he was the Federalist Party's nominee for president against James Monroe.

Interestingly enough, while civil rights is a major issue today, King was the first man to present an anti-slavery resolution in Congress. He did so in 1785, some 78 years before the Emancipation Proclamation. His resolution barring slavery in the Northwest Territory was subsequently incorporated in the Ordinance of 1787.

In the Constitutional Convention, which regarded him as its outstanding orator, King also spoke out against slavery. He lost, but his words were prophetic. He stated: "The Southern states threaten to separate now in case injury shall be done them. There will be no point of time at which they will not be able to say, 'Do us justice or we will separate.'"

In a debate years later, in the Senate, when he again attacked slavery, John Quincy Adams commented that "the great slave holders" in that body "gnawed their lips and clutched their fists as they heard him."

KING WAS BORN in Scarborough, Maine, then a part of Massachusetts, in 1755. As a student at Harvard, he witnessed the Battle of Bunker Hill. He was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1780 and his ability and oratory soon won him prominence in Bay State politics. He served three consecutive one-year terms in the Continental Congress in Trenton, N. J.

In 1788, after marrying a New York girl, Mary Alsop, daughter of a wealthy merchant, he moved to the Empire State and was elected to the New York Assembly. The following year, he was elected to the U. S. Senate.

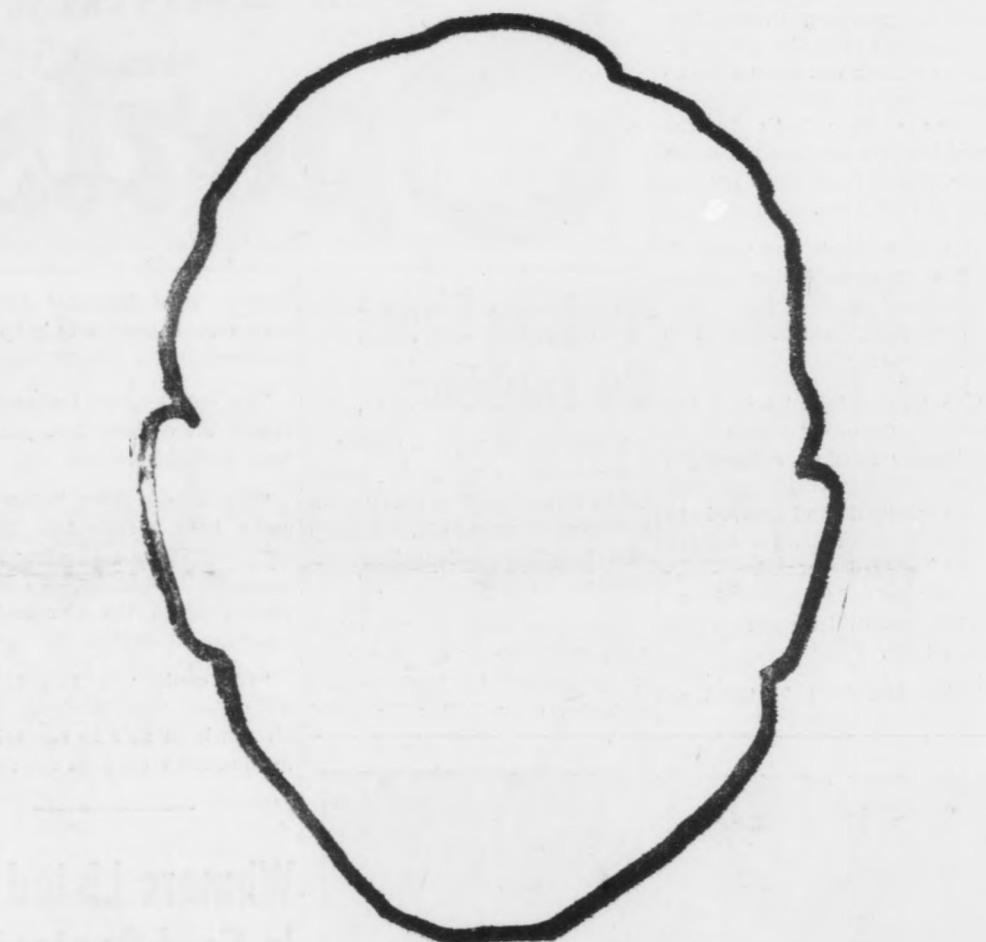

King championed the policies of Hamilton and the latter endorsed him for ambassador to Great Britain, terming him a "man of address, a man of fortune and economy." He served there until 1803 when King George III complimented him for his conduct while at the Court of St. James. It was in this farewell speech that the British monarch referred tactfully to the American Revolution as "the event which separated us."

UPON RETURNING to the United States, King was twice the Federalist Party's nominee for vice president and once for president, in 1816. Unsuccessful, he was again elected to the Senate.

Shortly before his death in 1827 at the age of 72, he again served briefly as ambassador to Great Britain.

A governor of his adopted state, John A. Dix, summed up the feelings of his day when he said of him, "Rufus King responded in all respects to my conception of the old Roman senator, maintaining in his manner the quiet dignity appropriate to the masters of the greatest empire of the ancient world."

Bob Gibson, Tim McCarver Supply Winning Game Punch For Cardinals

NEW YORK UPI — Bob Gibson and Tim McCarver, a pair of throwbacks to the old Gas House Gang days, supplied the pitching and hitting power Monday when the St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Yankees, 5-2, and gained a 3-2 game lead in the World Series.

Most dramatic of the five games of the 1964 classic so far, the 10-inning struggle was won by the Cardinals when the 22-year-old McCarver hit a three-run homer to snap a 2-2 tie in the 10th. The Yankees, only out away from defeat in the ninth, had tied the score on Tom Tresh's two-run homer.

Gibson, a former Harlem Globetrotter basketball player with a low boiling point, struck out 13 batters in his six innings, only two strikeouts short of the single-game mark set by Los Angeles Dodger, left-handed Sandy Koufax in the 1963 series against New York.

Throwing blazing fast balls and sliders with only occasional change-ups, Gibson fanned Clete Boyer and Pitcher Mel Stottlemyre to get out of a second-inning jam and didn't encounter trouble again until Tresh's ninth-inning homer electrified the crowd of 65,633.

Mickey Mantle opened the ninth by reaching first safely on shortstop Dick Groat's error. Gibson struck out Elston Howard and retired Joe Pepitone on a savage liner back to the mound which he knocked down and recovered in time for the play at first base.

But then Tresh, the most effective Yankee hitter during this series, hit the first pitch into the right field bleachers to tie the score.

The Cardinals, who won the National League pennant in cliffhanger fashion, came right back to win in the 10th. Bill White walked and moved to second when Ken Boyer bunted safely toward second. White was trapped off second by Howard but made third safely for a stolen base.

White had to hold third as Groat hit into a force play at second but then came McCarver to tee off on relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen's 7 and 2 pitch and drive it well into the lower right field stands for the game-winning blow.

Gibson started the Cardinals' two-run fifth inning rally against Stottlemyre with a one-out single and both he and Curt Flood were safe when second baseman Bobby Richardson fumbled Flood's grounder. Lou Brock singled home one run and the other scored when White hit into a force out with the Yankees narrowly missing the inning-ending double play at first.

PLAYING TAG—First sacker Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees jumps and stretches to tag the foot of Lou Brock, fleet-footed left fielder for the St. Louis Cardinals who had bunted in the third inning of the fifth game of the World Series, in Yankee Stadium. Brock is out.

Yankees Count On Tradition

NEW YORK UPI — The New York Yankees fly to St. Louis today determined to carry on a tradition 42 years old. It's been that long since they lost two consecutive World Series.

Not since 1921, and '22, when John McGraw led the New York Giants to back-to-back victories over Miller Huggins'

Yanks, have National League teams been unable to stop the Yankees two years running.

The Los Angeles Dodgers defeated New York last year in four straight games.

"We've been down before and come back," freshman Manager Yogi Berra said after Monday's 10th inning 5-2 St. Louis victory gave the Cardinals a 3-2 edge in games.

"We could win two there," he added. The Yankees have always been able to come back in the series, even on the road."

Wabash Valley Council Boy Scouts of America held a Camporee this last weekend at the Fern Cliff Girl Scout Camp. There were more than 175 boys attending the two day outdoor gathering.

What is a Camporee? It is a camping fun for boys. It is many things. It's the thundering of hundreds of feet on the way to an evening campfire. It's the blue smoke from many campfires cooking hamburger, Muttigan, spaghetti, ham and eggs or French toast. It's the air-splitting shout of a hundred voices giving the Boy Scout cheer. It's the ripple of wind-blown flags in the morning sun. It's catching the idea of teamwork in a patrol. It's learning to carry out an order you don't really like. It's the spirit that says, "Our gang is as good as anybody." It's a "Young America" learning self reliance first hand.

There were ten events each troop participated in over the week-end to prove the Boy Scout knowledge and skills. Among these events were fire building with steel and stone, compass reading, rope lashing, tree identification, and spotting errors in a camp area set up the wrong way. By the end of the day the boys had acquired an appetite and shown here are Ronnie Slack and Jack Lundy, Troop 47, Brazil, who, even with the smoke in their eyes felt pretty proud of their culinary achievements. By the way, they had fried chicken, corn, potatoes and meat balls. Photo by Ken Nix

Winners Listed In Ford Contest

Ford Motor Company's Punt, Pass and Kick Contest was held Sunday at the Greencastle Football Field. Sixty boys ranging in ages 8 through 13 competed. The local contest was sponsored by King Morrison Foster.

The winners of the contest in their age group are as follows:

Age 8: 1st, John Orlosky; 2nd, Ross Nattinger; No third place.

Age 9: 1st, Teddy Phillips; 2nd, Gary Lemmink; 3rd, Jerry Shonkwiler.

Age 10: 1st, Danny Ross; 2nd, Neil Nevins; 3rd, Mace Hirt.

Age 11: 1st, Michael Bergen; 2nd, Scott Loring; 3rd, Stephen Crawley.

Age 12: 1st, John Romalia; 2nd, Ricky Bundy; 3rd, Bill Lear.

Age 13: 1st, Charles Knauer; 2nd, Dennis Losin; 3rd, Alvin Stinnett, Jr.

The winners received jackets, footballs, kicking goals and plaques donated by the sponsoring dealership.

This is the third year for the contest and although the turnout was less than the previous year the enthusiasm remained the same.

John Earnshaw, owner of King Morrison Foster Ford Co., of Greencastle, expressed his appreciation to Mike Tzouanakis, principal of the North East School, Ted Phillips, Manager of the IGA Foodliner, Tim Grimes, coach of the Pee Wee Football team, Bo Lear, manager of the Greencastle Little League, and Ned Burkhardt for their assistance in the contest. Maurice Hurst and Louie Ellis, Jr., represented King Morrison Foster.

Card Manager Able To Relax

NEW YORK UPI — "It's got to look good from here. This was a big game."

A smiling Johnny Keane relaxed in the St. Louis clubhouse after the Cardinals wrestled a 5-2, 10-inning victory from the New York Yankees Monday to go one-up in the World Series and reflected on just how important one hit can be.

The hit, of course, was a three-run homer by Tim McCarver in the 10th inning that broke up the game sent St. Louis home needing just one more win to take the series.

"McCarver's been a steady player for us all year and it takes just a hit like this and it can make a great big difference to his career," Keane said. "It just does something special for you. As a matter of fact, it did something for all of us, my career."

This last was a joking reference to the oft-repeated reports that Keane's job as Cardinal manager was up in the air until he pulled out the National League pennant and that he still is not certain of returning to St. Louis as skipper next season.

Club To Meet At Sr. High

Greencastle Quarterback Club members will hold their second huddle of the season tomorrow at 5:15 p. m. in the senior high school cafeteria.

Headlining the dinner meeting, according to program chairman Lloyd Cooper, will be coaches Jerry Chance and Tom Mont, who will recount the fortunes of the Tiger Cubs and Tigers.

Films of a pair of recent games will back up the reports from the two grid mentors. Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, phone 3-4517.

Indians Fate To Be Decided

DALLAS UPI — Friday is the day when the 23-man board of directors meets in Cleveland to decide whether the 1965 American League schedule will feature the Seattle Indians. Oklahoma Indians or Dallas Indians—or again, the Cleveland brand of braves.

Gabe Paul, president of the Indians, and Board Chairman William Daley wound up their three-day, three-city tour Monday and headed home to prepare for Friday's big decision. Whether the Indians move, Paul said Monday, is simply a question of economics. The team has been losing money for years and cannot afford to do so indefinitely.

But there is a season ticket drive in Cleveland and, with 18 of the 22-man board of directors living in Cleveland, any sort of success might keep the Indians put for at least another season.

DePauw Frosh Gridmen Whip Ind. State, 14-12

A gang of rambunctious DePauw freshmen, a little shy on polish in spots but long on determination and raw talent, whipped Indiana State yesterday afternoon, 14-12, in a rock-em-sock-em headknocker in erner Memorial Stadium.

It was one of DePauw's two talented quarterbacks, Dan Breckenridge from Blue Island, Ill., who put the Tigers in the winning column with a pair of TD aerials, both to backfield mate Tom Miller of Milwaukee.

Breckenridge, who completed 10 of 23 passes for 133 yards, put DePauw ahead in the first quarter with a 10-yard flip to Miller, then pulled the game out of the fire with less than five minutes to play with a fourth-down 16-yard pass to Miller who was standing like a lonesome end in paydirt. The winning tally was set up by a fumble recovery moments before by Dave Emery of Evans-ton, Ill.

Tim Feemster, halfback from Lake Forest, Ill., booted both extra points for what proved to be the winning edge.

In between DePauw's two scores, State's Greg Raymond scored on a two-yard drive just inside the second quarter after a 55-yard drive. The try for extra point failed.

The game was got out ahead early in the third quarter when their Randy Lynch picked off a Breckenridge pass on the State 40-yard touchdown. The attempt for a two-point run failed, setting the stage for the second Breckenridge to Miller pass that erased State's 12-1 margin.

The game, which was the first inter-collegiate combat for both teams, produced 11 fumbles, five by DePauw, and four pass interceptions, two of each team.

DePauw had the better end of it statistically too. The Tigers took first downs, 16-10, passing 133-44, lost rushing 151-121 and won total offense, 254 to 195.

Lamar Hunt of Dallas and T. E. Mercer of Fort Worth, co-owners of the Dallas and Fort Worth minor league teams, took Paul and Daley on both a ground and aerial tour of the 1.8-million population metropolitan area.

Free college, it's envisioned, would take care of the costs of tuition, room, board, books, travel—in fact, everything but the price of a chocolate soda at the Campus Malt Shoppe.

However, with scholarships for all, good, old Subsidize U would have to dream up a new gimmick in order to corral the best football players!

LBJ Elated By Campaign Tour

WASHINGTON UPI—President Johnson returned to the White House today, elated by a 9,998-mile stumping tour which saw him attract record crowds while campaigning on a "peace and prosperity" platform in 14 states.

The President ended his campaign trip in Boise, Idaho, Monday night very hoarse after the week-long trek. He resumes his campaigning in New Jersey Wednesday. Johnson announced plans Monday to campaign in Texas, his home state, this weekend.

At a night rally in Boise, Johnson called his trip "the happiest" anyone has ever had. He said his big crowds — largest ever in some places — reflect the fact that the nation belongs to "responsible Americans." He said it was estimated that he had seen more than 1.5 million people since breakfast at his ranch Monday.

Barry Calls For Space Speedup

TOPEKA, Kan. UPI — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater today demanded "a major re-direction" of U. S. space efforts in light of what he called "the shocking news" about a multi-passenger Soviet orbital flight.

The Republican presidential candidate said this is leveling a broad scale attack on President Johnson as "a part-time President" who is out politicking while "major crises . . . are burning."

Goldwater accused Johnson

of activities ranging from "a political travesty of the Lord's Day" to giving a short 10-minute shrift to Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal in San Francisco Sunday.

Replying to a questionnaire on sneaker wear, a substantial majority of more than 100 podiatrists from 15 states said they themselves wear sneakers, so do their children and, what's more, they're not aware of anyone with normal feet wearing them. The results of the survey were reported at the 52nd annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association.

NEW YORK UPI—Weight-conscious Americans are providing a boon to the soft drink business. A survey by the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute shows consumers of the new dietetic or low-calorie beverages drink more than consumers of regular soft drinks.

The Institute explained that once a person is convinced that use of dietetic drinks eliminates the excess intake of sugar, all restraint is removed. It no longer matters to many, for example, how many drinks are consumed.

Typhoid Control Is A Must

A RECENT severe outbreak of typhoid fever in Scotland immediately mobilized all the protective forces of Public Health officials all over the world.

The international importance of an epidemic of typhoid fever is readily apparent in the light of today's speed of travel. An infectious or contagious disease can virtually be distributed all over the world within 24 hours were it not for the close co-operation of health agencies everywhere.

The epidemic in Scotland was successfully controlled with massive use of the antibiotic chloramphenicol. The source of the infection was traced to canned corned beef that had been imported from South America. It was contaminated with the bacteria Salmonella typhosa.

Set Up Defenses

The United States Public Health officials immediately established rigid rules and defenses at ports of entry. Since persons exposed to typhoid are not required to be quarantined, they were warned and instructed about the recognition of the early symptoms of the disease.

Typhoid fever, once a great scourge of mankind, has been controlled and almost eradicated by strict hygiene, absolute control over sewage disposals and relentless inspections of water and milk supplies and of meat and meat products from the hoof to the home.

Still Flourishes

Yet typhoid fever must not be considered a non-existent disease. It still flourishes in many sub-tropical and Asiatic areas.

The United States Public Health Service recommends protective immunization against typhoid fever for travelers going to lands where the disease is still prevalent and uncontrolled.

READERS' RELATED QUESTIONS

Q: Is typhus fever the same as typhoid fever?

A: They are two totally different diseases. Typhoid fever, caused by a bacillus, is transmitted through food, water and milk in poorly sanitized areas.

Typhus fever is caused by tiny organisms called "rickettsias." This disease is transmitted to man by ticks, fleas or mites.

Q: Is there a definite protection against typhoid fever?

A: Besides the pasteurization of milk and the purification of water, rigid and regular inspection of all handlers of food is imperative.

Vaccination against typhoid fever can be effectively accomplished by a series of three doses at intervals of ten days.

Q: Is it safe to drink water anywhere if one has been inoculated against typhoid?

A: Sometimes people who have been vaccinated expose themselves unnecessarily to typhoid fever by consuming water of questionable purity.

Even with complete and sustained immunization, it is possible, although not likely, to contract the disease. It therefore is wiser to exercise caution and use bottled water as an added safety measure.

SET THE SCENE WITH FLANK STEAK AND GRAVY

When it comes to eating, there are countless ways to please a man. Captivate commerce-weary husbands with dinners that are relished and remembered.

A busy-cook's secret is using convenience foods for easy-to-achieve meals. Canned beef gravy has become a pantry shelf favorite.

Eyes will open and palates will tingle when you serve Barbecued Flank Steak. Thick, meaty flank steak is slowly simmered in a perfectly seasoned sauce of canned beef gravy, chili sauce, and mustard.

This delightfully different dish will be especially appreciated on cold, bleak days. Complete the menu with buttered green beans, Waldorf salad, and mocha chiffon cake for dessert. Plenty of hot coffee is a must!

Barbecued Flank Steak

1 flank steak (about 1½ pounds) 1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons flour 1 can (10½ ounces) beef gravy
½ teaspoon salt ¼ cup chili sauce
Dash pepper ½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons shortening 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 clove garlic, minced

Score both sides of steak by making shallow diagonal cuts about ¼-inch apart. With meat hammer, or edge of heavy saucer, pound in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. In skillet, brown steak on both sides in shortening. Add garlic and onion. Combine gravy, chili sauce, and mustard; pour over meat. Cover; cook over low heat for 2 hours. Spoon sauce over steak now and then. Sprinkle with chopped parsley just before serving. (If desired, remove cover during last 20 minutes to thicken gravy.) Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: If electric skillet is used: Brown meat at 400° F.; then lower to 240° F. and cook, covered, about 2 hours.

Steps Taken To Fight Epidemic

FT. ORD, Calif. —UPI—The commanding general of Ft. Ord announced Monday night that additional measures are being taken against meningitis at the Army recruit training camp, where 84 persons have been sickened and 13 have died this year.

In addition, two cases in the San Francisco Bay Area have been directly connected with the post and a third is under investigation. One of the bay area cases was fatal.

Census takers will visit every farm and ranch in the United States during November or December as part of the 1964 Census of Agriculture, conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Census questionnaires will be delivered by mail; the farmer will answer the questions and keep the questionnaire until the census taker calls for it. Answers are confidential and are used only for statistics. From the last Census of Agriculture in 1959 the nation learned that the number of farms had dropped by about 1 million in five years, but farm production had increased.

NORWAY LOCATION
HOLLYWOOD UPI — Producer-director Anthony Mann has received Norwegian government permission to film "The Unknown Battle" on location in that country later this year.

Mrs. Loren Salsman
Hostess To Club

The Jefferson Township Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Loren Salsman Thursday, October 8. It was a masquerade party. The ones not masked did the judging. Pretties, Mrs. Clona Salsman; ugliest, Mrs. Helen Sinclair; most original, Mrs. Doris Keller.

The meeting was then called to order by drawing for door prize and won by Olga Snyder. Salute to the flag and singing the song of the month. Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

Donna Frye reported on Council meeting. There is to be a special interest lesson Nov. 2, Schools in Putnam County; and Nov. 10, What Every Woman Should Know About the Family Car. Donna Frye and Jackie Chastain is to give this lesson.

Donna Frye reported on Achievement Day is Oct. 21. Registration begins at 10 o'clock and everyone to have reservations in by Oct. 15. She stated lunch was $1.28 and 66¢ for children.

Clona Salsman gave the Safety lesson. Linda Dorsett gave the outlook and Gladys Sellers, gardening.

Doris Keller stated she had a reservation for the club to go to Hunt's for Christmas meeting which will be Dec. 10. Dinner will be 12 noon. Each one is to let her know next month if they are going.

The lesson was given by Doris Keller and Geenna Shepard on accessories in the home. The arranging of pictures, pillows, ash trays, vases, novel-
